MISS GRACE E. CULBERT.
Danseuse.

GOVERNOR WALSH WILL ATTEND. Winchester Festival to be One of the Events of the Season.

The Annual Summer Festival of St. Mary's Parish will be held on the grounds of the rectory on Washington street, Saturday, July 3 from 2 to 11 p. m.

A feature of the afternoon will be the program of athletic events, contests for both boys and girls with suitable prizes for the winners, and an exhibition of fancy dancing by the children.

A musical program of exceptional merit will be furnished by Hearn's Orchestra, starting at 7 p. m. until midnight. There will be two main booths with numerous other attractions spread over the extensive lawns, such as mystery booths, fish ponds, and a fete's row with varied sports and amusements.

Amid the pine grove overlooking the lake, a Japanese Tea Pavilion will afford rest to the weary, while a number of charming maidens in Japanese costume will bring food to the hungry. Meanwhile Miss Grace E. Culbert, pupil of Madame Meschetti of the New England Conservatory of Music will perform a Flageolet, Butterfly Dance, and the famous Swan Dance of Mlle. Pavlova. Great interest has been created by the fact that a tug of war will be held in the evening between the Irish National Foresters and the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Following are the names of those who will contest in the Tug of War teams: Irish National Foresters—Timothy Murphy, manager; Eugene Sullivan, John Joseph Hamon, John Hamon, Dennis Doherty. Division 28, A. O. H., John Richards, James Haggerty, John McElhinney, Neil McLaughlin.

At 8 p. m. there will be a baby show. A supper which will be one of the features of the entertainment will be served on the grounds. The Committee in charge of the Japanese Tea Room is composed of Mrs. John O'Connor, Mrs. Sadie Cox and Mrs. O'Connor.

GOV. WALSH.
Invitation Extended to Public to Meet Him.

His excellency Governor David I. Walsh will arrive on the grounds at 5 p. m., remaining until 8 p. m. The Rev. Pastor N. J. Merritt extends a cordial invitation to all citizens of Winchester to attend this public reception, and to meet the Governor.

The Holy Name men of the Parish have arranged a reception letting the dignity of the Chief Executive of this Commonwealth.

The festival is under the direction of the Rev. John W. H. Corbett and Mr. Daniel Lydon, Chairman of the MOVING PICTURES.

Agreement the Scene of Attractive Motion Pictures.

Last Friday evening Winchester had its first motion picture show and judging from the interest taken and the large number of persons present it was thoroughly enjoyed. The pictures were given on the well adapted lawn at Agrement, the handsome estate of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Sanborn, and the proceeds are to be devoted to the proposed Winchester Hospital. The show was announced to commence at 8:30, but the load of the many electric lights scattered over the grounds coupled with the electricity used by the film machine proved too much for the transformer, with the result that it was put out of commission. The electric light company sent men with another transformer, and during the delay the songs were sung by those in attendance and a jolly good time enjoyed. Among the pictures shown were local ones of the June Breakfast, and the dancing at the Greek Fantasia, given last week at the Ginn estate.

Not until nearly eleven o'clock did the show come to an end, and after this many of the people indulged in dancing on the lawn until midnight. Mrs. Sanborn is entitled to a great deal of credit for providing an excellent moving picture show and also adding to the funds for the new hospital building.

SPECIAL BASE BALL NOTICE FOR HOLIDAY GAMES.

There will be no game on Manchester Field Saturday, as we go to Stoneham for the first game of a series with that town. The game starts at 3:15 and cars pass directly by the grounds.

On Monday the 5th, we play a double headed with Wolcott. The game in the morning will be played in Wolcott at 10:15 on Liberty Park. The afternoon game will start at 3 o'clock on Saturday when they will be in Wolcott. There will be extra seats in Wolcott for the game and extra chairs for the afternoon. Seats in Wolcott will be 25c for both men and women. The people that expect to see the game from autos can enter from the Library street entrance and go out in the opposite side of the lot. There will be plenty of auto space. In Winchester autos will not be allowed to enter the grounds but may park along Watkinson road and along the Parkway. The Metropolitan police will have a man on hand to look after things. Also, there will be no one allowed to witness the game from the Railroad side of the fence, as the Railroad Police will allow no trespassing.

THE FLOWER MISSION.

On every Tuesday in July and August, the people of Winchester are asked to send flowers to those who live in the dreary and congested regions of Boston. Many of the other suburbs join in this kindly work of the Flower Mission. The flowers from Winchester are distributed from the North End Mission, after they have been made up into gay bouquets. The Mission chooses those of the North End to whom they shall be sent, and Charles F. Coggeshall, for the responsibility of delivering them. The joy of these children and of others who come to the Mission just for the pleasure of looking at the flowers, help one to understand and the happiness those posies bring. See notice.

BUILDING PERMITS.

The following permits have been issued by the Inspector of Buildings for the week ending July 1: George C. O'Brien of 29 Ridgely road; concrete and wood garage, 17x21 feet, at 8 Manchester road; Charles F. Coggeshall; additions and alterations to the house at the corner of Central Street at Rangleway. This large colonial house is to be cut in halves and by alterations and additions made into two separate dwellings.

William E. Heiges of 6 Madison avenue; addition to present wood frame dwelling 12x25 feet.

Albert A. Hutchinson of 1213 Main street; concrete garage, 12x18 feet, at same address.

FINE ENTERTAINMENT ON 4th.

The entertainment for the children in the Town Hall on the morning of the 5th will be one of the best yet. Included among the list of attractions is a comedy juggler, an acrobatic comedian, a (Robe dancing) clown, and an expert piano player. Other features will be given, and it is anticipated that there will be a large gathering of the children. The show will begin at 10 o'clock sharp.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Of Second Congregational Church Holds Annual Meeting.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Second Congregational Church held its annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Louis Clafin on Reservoir street on June 24th. The same officers who served last year were re-elected. A letter from Miss Carrie Rice, formerly of Winchester, was read, describing her home missionary work in Los Angeles, California. Miss Rice enjoys her work among the foreigners in that city, and as many of the ladies present had known Miss Rice here they were very glad to hear the letter. The secretary gave a very short review of the society's work for the past year. All the meetings have been well attended the average attendance being twenty-one.

One of the oldest members of the Society, Mrs. Thomas S. Hoyt, eighty years of age, was present and read a missionary poem written for the late Rev. Dr. March of Wolcott. The following poem, dedicated to the Society, was also read:

HYMN OF PRAISE.
"Ye Christian Bands, go proclaim,
"Oh ye who know the tidings sweet,
Come lay your trophies at His feet,
Come sound His praises far and near,
Till darkened souls shall Christ receive."

He leads us onward in the fight,
A cloud by day—a fire by night,
His angels guard us from above,
His banner over us is Love."

Oh! give us courage, Lord, we pray,
Renew our strength from day to day,
That we thy message may proclaim,
Thy wonderful love, Thy Princely name.

Dear Lord, Redeemer of us all,
When we Thy death, Thy life recall,
Our hearts anew we pledge to Thee,
Thou Saviour of Gethsemane.

Thus when our earthly course is run,
When we behold the setting sun,
When with the ransomed we shall meet,
Our joy in Thee shall be complete."

Marion Rice Taylor.
Two barrels of clothing and household supplies were sent to a home missionary in North Dakota.

The society has had three speakers during the year: Miss Collins who told of her work among the Sioux Indians, Miss Vaites who described the work among the Greeks of Boston and Lowell and Mrs. Ida Vose Woodbury who gave an address on the home missionary work among the mountaineers and the negroes in the South.

The society has spent in the vicinity of eighty dollars during the year for missionary purposes. One member has died during the year, Miss Jennie Cummings. She was always interested in missions, and although very retiring, yet in her quiet way did a great deal of good.

DID IT RAIN?

Yes. Many belittled the down-pour yesterday morning to be the heaviest continuous rain this town has seen for several years. Commencing before daylight the rain fell in torrents, equalling the heaviest thunder showers, until after 8 P. M. Even then it was no light summer mist, but a steady, heavy rain. Pedestrians who ventured forth during the down-pour were soon drenched, notwithstanding the best of protection.

Practically every place where it was possible to go, the rain was pouring. One of the worst was at the Mt. Vernon street bridge, where the new sewer connection is being made. The water here was so high that it flowed over the walks on both sides and dropped to the river below. It was necessary to lay plank at intervals for pedestrians to cross the place. Other places too numerous to enumerate were flooded so that it was impossible to cross without going over one's shoes.

The water early commenced to rise in the river and by 8 o'clock was running over the new dam in a beautiful cascade, which was the centre of interest to many.

The rain continued during the influence of a strong east wind (north by the new weather vein on the Fire and Police Building) during the day.

NOTICE.

The Playground at the Charin School will open Tuesday afternoon, July 6. There will be a class in canoeing, which will give the older boys a splendid opportunity to learn the trade.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

It is undoubtedly a good thing now and then for every person to fall into a thoroughgoing moral scare about himself, and see all the elements of a Judas Iscariot or a Benedict Arnold lurking in his depths. To a certain extent, the perception is a true one. All of these elements are in him. But it by no means follows that they have begun even to reach the degree of development necessary to make him a callous traitor to his country, and it will do no harm to remember that the rest of the twelve apostles and of the officers of the Revolutionary army never sold out to the devil. What inflammatory action may do with any special ones of these elements, this is the thing to look out and be afraid of. The cold passes by degrees into tubercular consumption, and the little tiff and irritabilities into final fever, hate, so that, before the parties know it, the billing and cooing of early love have given place to a state in which each regards the other as a simple grindstone on which to whet the jagged edge of the temper.

Now, the newspapers furnish a great deal of salutary information as to the logical outcome of suffering any single part of human nature to get unduly inflamed, and these accounts often scare, and ought to scare, people that so far have continued to live very respectable lives. But mere scaring never yet saved any man or woman any more than it even helped them to get rid of a midnight burglar. The fright merely reveals the gravity of the situation, and the response of physical or moral heroism that must spring to the rescue. Scare a husband, a soldier, a cashier half to death, and that is no proof that he will not turn out a brute, a coward, or a thief. House him, however, to love service, integrity, the welfare and happiness of others, and to keep his thoughts highly and holily on such noble ends, and the victory is won for him.

Once in a while we meet a person voyaging through life with a face on which seems to say: "I wish I never had been born!" And those who can interpret expressions think it a pity he ever was born, for he is making a persistent misuse of life. Such a person, like the jam in the pot all covered with mold, is a doubtful proposition. He is sour and the acidity of his own thoughts seem to him unbearable. Many a sweet-faced soul passes such a person every day while they are battling the embarrassments of life and expect to triumph. Perhaps their inheritance was the sugar of life instead of the vinegar. It is more or less likely that we are born sweet or sour; and it is evidence of superiority to overcome the forms in us and put on the smiles. A poor face is a sign of weakness and invites distrust. Light, sound and health are all the vibratory blessings of life, and every man, woman and child in Winchester should strive to catch on to the right vibrations. We must not develop into scare-crows when we were designed to be sons and daughters of God.

An exchange reaching The Spectator, desk over an admirable lot of "don'ts" we must exercise if we want to be loved. Here they are:—

Don't contradict people, even if you're sure you are right.

Don't be inquisitive about the affairs of even your most intimate friend.

Don't underestimate anything because you don't possess it.

Don't believe that everybody else in the world is happier than you.

Don't conclude that you never had any opportunities in life.

Don't believe all the evils you hear.

Don't be rude to your inferiors in social position.

Don't repeat gossip, even if it does interest a crowd.

Don't jeer at anybody's religious belief.

Learn to hide your aches and pains under a pleasant smile. Few care whether you have the canker, headache or rheumatism.

Learn to attend to your own business—a very important point.

Do not try to be anything else but a gentleman or a gentlewoman, and that means one who has consideration for the whole world and whose life is governed by the Golden Rule. "Do unto others as you would be done by."

The Spectator.

BRENNAN-BURKE.

The wedding of Miss Annie E. Burke of Myrtle street and Patrick F. Brennan of Milford, N. H., took place on Sunday evening at St. Mary's rectory, Rev. John W. H. Corbett officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Mary E. Burke, her sister, and Frederick Buckley of Milford, N. H., was best man.

After a wedding trip through the White Mountains the couple will make their home in Worcester.

AUTO WENT INTO CANAL.

Winchester Girl in Serious Accident at Turners Falls Sunday.

A serious automobile accident occurred at Turners Falls on Sunday night in which Miss Edna Locke, daughter of George L. Locke of Ridge street, this town, was quite badly injured and two other occupants of the car were killed. The car went over a bank at the side of the road 25 feet high and plunged into a canal along side.

Miss Locke left Winchester Saturday with her fiancé, Mr. Clifford W. Millar of Athol, Principal of the Maynard High School of that city, for a tour. They drove to Athol, where they were joined by Mr. Millar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Millar, and then left on a tour through the Berkshires. When the accident occurred the party were on their way home from Springfield and were returning over the Mohawk trail by way of North Adams.

The accident occurred about midnight. Miss Locke was driving the car, and had just crossed the high suspension bridge which spans the Connecticut River at that place. Considerable construction work was in progress according to reports, and the guard rail of the bridge was missing.

Miss Locke stated that just as she crossed the bridge an approaching auto came into the road, its brilliant search lights blinding her. She evidently believed there was plenty of room, not seeing the bridge rail, and the car went over the bank into 25 ft. of water.

Mr. Millar was drowned, being pinned beneath the car. The son died several times and brought out his mother, the latter passing away about two hours later, in the hospital without regaining consciousness. Both the young man and the young woman were badly injured and shocked, and were taken to the home of Mrs. Brick in Turners Falls.

Grappling irons were secured from Greenfield and the body of Mr. Millar was recovered. The machine is in the hold of the canal.

Friends were notified, and early in the morning an undertaker went to Turners Falls for the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Millar, and brought them to their home. Mr. Millar was planning to take advance work in Columbia University Summer School, and expected to leave after a short visit here with Miss Locke's parents. He was an only child.

Young Mr. Millar is a graduate of Athol High School and of Amherst College and taught at Murdock Academy in Winchendon before becoming the head of the Maynard School.

Word was received Tuesday from Mrs. Brick at whose home the young people were taken, that they were comfortable and are expected to recover completely.

FIRST CASE FROM NEW HOISE.

Monday's Fire Was Insignificant and Easily Extinguished.

The Winchester fire department had its first call of a fire since moving into its new house on Mt. Vernon street June 17th on Monday evening at 4:55. The alarm was rung in from box 14, and probably more people rushed to witness the departure of the apparatus and attended the fire than have done so during any time the past year. The fire was insignificant, being grass on Hill street near the saw mill, and was quickly extinguished.

The new bell sounded very mellow and pleasing as it rung the alarm and the apparatus made good time in getting out of the house.

123 AWARDED TESTIMONIALS.

The Sunday School of St. Mary's Church closed Sunday with special exercises and the presentations of awards to the boys and girls. Rev. Nathaniel J. Merritt, the rector, addressed the teachers and pupils, complimenting them on their excellent work. First testimonials were awarded to 123 boys and girls for perfect attendance at mass and Sunday School as well as perfect marks in lessons and conduct.

Fifteen second testimonials were given. For the past year, 50 special prizes were bestowed for perfect marks. The program also included the singing of Cardinal O'Connell's "Hymn to the Holy Name" and "Hymn to the Holy Cross."

The 40 Hours' Devotion closed Sunday in the church with a solemn high mass, at which Rev. Nathaniel J. Merritt was celebrant, Rev. John W. H. Corbett deacon, Rev. Edward McGuire subdeacon and Clarence Mackey master of ceremonies.

The sewer department made connection this week with the new Metropolitan sewer at the Town Hall on Mt. Vernon street. This connection takes care of practically all of the northern part of the town east of the railroad. The town hall building was also entered in the new sewer at the corner of the old police station quarters.

Numerous streets about town are receiving a coat of Tarsia.

When San Francisco was swept by flames

the Hartford Fire Insurance Company was put to the supreme test of paying out Ten Million Dollars. With its local office and its records swept away, the adjusting and paying of claims was immediately taken up and its indebtedness to 6,000 policy-holders was promptly paid in full.

We represent the Hartford here because it has honorably met and promptly paid every honest loss for over one hundred years. Its name should be on your policy, and we can put it there.

BASEBALL.

Queen Quality Defeated in Quick Game—2 to 0.

By "Mack."

In the quickest game of ball ever played on Manchester Field, Winchester won from the Queen Quality team last Saturday 2 to 0. The pitching was very even on both sides, although Tift used his head to better advantage than Murray. The infielders on both teams had plenty to do, and considering the number of chances the errors were very few. The Queen Quality team is very strong in all departments and have a first class battery in Murray and Sweetland. Both these young players played last season up in the mountains with Bethlehem and won the championship for their team. After the game a number of fans came up and spoke to the writer saying "there is no need going outside of Winchester to see baseball, as the kind of ball our boys are playing is good enough for the most noted fan." And when you come to consider the team and pitchers we have been facing all the season this statement hits the nail on the head. Of course we can not go on forever winning game after game, but the team that beats us will know that they have been in a game. Of course due credit must be given the infield we have; and you fans that have been watching the games throughout the season will agree that it is improved each game, they not only use their hands, but their heads as well. This fellow, Fraiser, on first base is playing great ball and covering lots of ground. And as the days go by the crowd are beginning to notice the playing of Sweeney at third and as the writer told you early in the season that he could deliver the goods, and help us win many a game. Behind the bat McQuinn is showing to better advantage than ever before. He gets the ball away and on a line to second and you will notice there are very few errors.

WINCHESTER C. C. DEFEATED VESPER.

One of the chief events on the calendar of the Winchester Country Club took place Saturday when the Vesper Country Club of Lowell visited the local organization for the annual team match. As usual there was a big field. Winchester defeated the visitors badly, 32 to 8.

Notes.

10 out of 11 and going at a championship gait.

The majority of the crowd were glad to see Bill Cody on the job, but Bill can "blow" a few as well as the rest of the "umps", still no one is perfect.

"Bill" will umpire the game in Stoneham also, as the game is important and we do not want to see a game spoiled for the loss of a competent umpire.

The report from Lexington indicates too much or too little management over there. It is a good half town and should have a good article of ball.

Reading won Saturday from the Standish Club of Dorchester, but had their hands full as the visitors were a strong bunch of players.

Poor Arlington was slaughtered again, this time by the West Roxbury A. A. They had a good crowd of players on their list Saturday, but could not seem to win.

Our great rivals, the All-Woburn, pulled off a great victory from the Calumets in ten innings. Skilton did the pitching for Calumet and reports say he pitched great ball. McMahon seems to be getting back in form again as he pitched great ball all the way.

McMahon will surely need all he has got on the ball when he meets Winchester this year, and from indication he is in for a hot afternoon on the 4th of July.

As most of the "fans" are aware we will go to Stoneham Saturday for the game, and as there will surely be a big crowd on the cars, we would advise an early start. The admission to the field is by ticket, 25c and ladies are admitted for 15c.

"Joe" Fahy has left the team until Labor Day, he has had a chance to take charge of a boys' camp in Maine, and will go there this Thursday, the 1st. "Joe" is a fine ball player and we will miss him from the field, he has had all kinds of offers to play ball, but stuck to his word like a man and played with us throughout the season.

Reports were in circulation during the week that we were going to lose Fraser. But once and for all we want to correct them and say that this young player will be with us for the summer.

We go to Woburn on the 4th for a game in the morning and play a return game on Manchester Field in the afternoon. The game in Woburn will start at 10:30 a. m. and the one in the afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Do not be misled by any reports about this player and that one, as we will have one regular line-up in the field except right field and pitcher, and we wish to state right here that we will have a pitcher that will be able to fill the bill, also an outfield that can cover ground and hit the ball.

Now in conclusion I want to tell you baseball people a story to show you what kind of managers the Clubs have got to contend with. The Calumet Club, from whom there is no better crowd to deal with in this section, had arranged a double header with Reading for the 4th. The game in the morning to be at Stoneham and the one in the afternoon to be played at Reading. Now in the afternoon, had all the advantage as they must split the receipt 50-50 in Stoneham and take 55 per cent in the afternoon. Well anyway, the Reading manager, resigned and the Association appointed Mr. Horrocks in his place. This manager (?) got in touch with Stoneham and said he could not play the morning game. Well, Stoneham was satisfied to wait on that game, but wanted to play their afternoon game as agreed, but oh no, Mr. Horrocks wanted the game arranged on his own terms, but Stoneham like any decent crowd would have done, refused to have anything more to do with him and called the game off. Such is a sample of the way the thing is being handled in Reading, and if Mr. Horrocks wishes to do any business with Winchester it will have to be in an entirely different way from the way he handled the Stoneham game. At any rate he was never known to bring a team to Reading that he thought could beat his team. It would be well for base ball managers to know what they are up against before they do any business with Reading.

Winchester still retains its reputation as one of the healthiest towns in the State. The death rate for the first six months of the year, ending July 1st was 9.

In discussing the many hand-made lawn about town this week, a well known member of a town department gave the credit for the best looking and best kept piece of grass to Mr. Fred Jones. He gave about here state at the corner of Washington street and the Parkway a certainly worthy of admiration, with extremely thin grass and always well kept.

OPEN LETTER TO MR. WHITNEY.

Winchester, July 1, 1915.
Dear Mr. Whitney:
For several weeks I have awaited with some interest your acknowledgment or denial of responsibility for the contribution to the Star of May 28 signed "Common Sense." The continued silence of so facile a letter-writer as yourself is capable of only one interpretation, namely, that you really were the author of that anonymous communication.

In two minutes of your time and in three lines of print, you can, if in recent, proclaim that fact, or, if guilty, candidly confess that you resorted to the cowardly and contemptible ruse of an anonymous attack. Which is it?

Very truly yours,
Charles E. A. Currier.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

The following cases of contagious diseases have been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending June 30: whooping cough 1, German measles 1, paratuberculosis 2, measles 5.

Do You Realize How Cheap Electricity Really Is?

Do you realize that Electricity is one of the few necessities the cost of which is constantly decreasing? Electricity is now so cheap that every home can afford it, not only for lighting but for the many other comforts and conveniences which it provides. ANTI-SUFFRAGE MEETING.

An interesting and appreciative audience listened to Mr. Charles L. Underhill of Somerville, Tuesday evening last, in the High School Assembly Hall. His subject was "The Inexpediency of Woman Suffrage" and he had as text the article in last week's Star entitled "Majority Suffrage" in which the assertion is made that the liquor interests are opposed to the rights of the Anti-Suffrage organization.

"It is hard," he said "to reconcile the opposition with the fact that two States which were carried for suffrage last November are the 'Union' States in the Union."

That in Virginia the only "dry" territory at the present time is the Indian reservations where the sale of liquor is forbidden by Federal law.

In Nebraska a number of dry counties voted against suffrage while Fremont, a wet city, voted for it.

Colorado has adopted State prohibition; but Denver and other cities still have the open saloon in defiance of the law.

On Thursday evening Mrs. John Cullen of Middlesex street gave a barn dance in the Irish National Forester's Hall in aid of the Church summer festival. The event proved a good success, a large gathering of people being present to enjoy a good time and music was furnished by Mr. Riley's orchestra. Various prizes were distributed for prize dances.

The judges were Mr. Robert Sullivan, Mrs. Richard Glendon, Margaret Kerrigan, Mr. Macgure and Mrs. Kennedy took first prizes in the Irish Breakdown and Mr. Lally and Mrs. Foley took second prizes. First prize was tobacco and a pipe, and a chair was the lady's prizes. Second prize was a necklace and a vase. The prize waltz was won by Mr. and Mrs. Michael Foley. The directors were Michael Foley, floor marshal; assistant John Cullen.

Balance of the law. "It is worse than justice," said Mr. Underhill, "to have a law on the statute books if the electorate is not able to enforce it."

In a suffrage parade in one of the Western States permission was refused the W. C. T. U. organization to march, as the suffragists were afraid it would be a noisy affair. The speaker said that at one time on seeing quite an assembly of people on a street corner, he stopped, his machine to investigate. He found that Miss Margaret Foley was addressing an audience of women and at that moment she was saying, "Don't be afraid, boys, we won't take away your beer."

Mr. Underhill brought out many telling points relative to the inexpediency of woman suffrage and answered very satisfactorily all questions put to him.

Judge G. L. Littlefield also presided.

On Thursday evening Mrs. John Cullen of Middlesex street gave a barn dance in the Irish National Forester's Hall in aid of the Church summer festival. The event proved a good success, a large gathering of people being present to enjoy a good time and music was furnished by Mr. Riley's orchestra. Various prizes were distributed for prize dances.

The judges were Mr. Robert Sullivan, Mrs. Richard Glendon, Margaret Kerrigan, Mr. Macgure and Mrs. Kennedy took first prizes in the Irish Breakdown and Mr. Lally and Mrs. Foley took second prizes. First prize was tobacco and a pipe, and a chair was the lady's prizes. Second prize was a necklace and a vase. The prize waltz was won by Mr. and Mrs. Michael Foley. The directors were Michael Foley, floor marshal; assistant John Cullen.

New Teachers.

Miss Laura M. Sanborn, Clerk in the office of the Superintendent of Schools has been appointed Secretary to the Director of the Fogg Museum in Cambridge. Miss Sanborn has been in our school system for the last five years and will be greatly missed. Her successor, Miss Florence D. Mandell, is a resident of Northampton, a graduate of Mt. Holyoke and of Simmons College.

Miss Marion K. Hoyt, teacher of French in the High School has resigned to marry Mr. J. R. Hildbrand of Washington, D. C. Her classes will be taken by Mr. Howard F. Dunham, Instructor of French in Dartmouth College. Mr. Dunham graduated from Dartmouth College and studied in France and Germany. He has taught in Ohio State University and at Dartmouth.

Mr. Lewis C. Newton, head of the Commercial Department of the High School, has been appointed to the Commercial Department of East Boston High School. His place is taken by Mr. Harry C. Northrop, present Vice-principal in Thibideau Commercial College, Fall River. Mr. Northrop's home is in Lynn. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and of Bardett Business College in Lynn.

The work in cooking and sewing has increased to such an extent it has been found necessary to engage an assistant in Miss Anna A. Kloss. Miss Kloss graduates this year from Simmons College. Her home is in Worcester. She has had several years' experience in teaching and has been assisting in our High School for the past school year.

At the Wadleigh Grammar School, Miss Mollie R. Felton of Northampton, will have charge of a new sixth grade. Miss Felton is a teacher of several years' experience. She comes to us from North Adams Normal School where she has been spending the present year in advanced study. It will be noted that the School Committee have decided to introduce Spanish in the High School. Mr. Thompson, who will have the class, is an accomplished linguist. He taught Spanish in Brown University and during the year just ending has been taking work in Spanish in Boston University.

To fill the two eighth grade vacancies in the Wadleigh Grammar, Miss Mary J. Hills was transferred from the seventh grade and Miss Mary H. Barr from the sixth grade of the Washington School.

At the Washington School Miss Dorothy M. Ayer has been transferred from the second and third grades to be Principal with grade five. The sixth grades have been taken out of the Washington and Wyman schools and will hereafter be located in the Wadleigh and Prince.

The teachers marked as being on permanent tenure were so elected in accordance with the provisions of the following law:

Acts of 1914, Chapter 711.

An Act relative to the tenure of office of teachers and Superintendents of the public schools.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The school committee of a city or town, in electing a teacher or superintendent who has served in the public schools of its city or town for the three previous consecutive years, shall employ such teacher or superintendent to serve at the discretion of the school committee, subject to the provisions of section two of this act.

Section 2. The school committee may dismiss any teacher or superintendent from employment by a two-thirds vote of the whole committee, and such teacher or superintendent shall not receive any compensation for service rendered after such dismissal; provided, that a teacher or superintendent employed to serve at the discretion of the school committee as provided in section one of this act, shall not be dismissed unless, at least thirty days prior to the meeting, exclusive of customary vacation periods, at which the committee votes upon the question of his dismissal, he shall have been given notice of the intention of the school committee to vote upon the question of his dismissal; nor unless he shall have been given, upon his request, a statement by the school committee of the reason for which his dismissal is proposed; nor unless, also, in the case of a teacher, the superintendent of schools shall have given to the school committee his recommendations as to the proposed dismissal.

Section 3. (1) No teacher employed to serve at the discretion of the school committee, as provided in section one of this act, shall suffer a decrease of salary without his consent, except by a general salary revision affecting equally all teachers of the same salary grade in the city or town. (2) A superintendent employed to serve at the discretion of the school committee shall suffer no decrease in salary without his consent, until at least one year after the school committee has voted to reduce his salary.

Section 4. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as limiting the right of a school committee to suspend a teacher or superintendent for immoral conduct or other conduct unbecoming a teacher; and if the teacher or superintendent so suspended is subsequently dismissed because of such conduct, he shall not receive any salary for the period of his suspension.

Section 5. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as limiting the right of a school committee to dismiss a teacher when an actual decrease in the number of pupils in the schools of the city or town renders such a step advisable.

Section 6. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 7. This act shall not apply to superintendents of superintendency unions.

COMPOSER AT PIANO.

Dwight Fiske Compositions Heard in Bandbox Theatre.

The following article, which is of interest to many friends of Mr. Fiske, was recently clipped from a New York paper:

What was announced in the Bandbox Theatre as "an afternoon of songs and interpretative dances" proved to be a matinee devoted largely to the exploitation of compositions by Dwight Fiske, a New Yorker.

Mrs. Charles Taylor Dutton sang two groups of songs, which Fiske accompanied on the piano.

The choreographic features of the entertainment were provided by Miss Bertha Rutten, who gave a shoeless exhibition of dancing while some one fiddled. Sarasate's "Malagena" behind the scenes, the general theme of motion to Joyce's "The Passing of Salome" and took part with her two visible associates in a short selection from the "Tristram of Shanz," described as a "Tristram of Shanz" because of the opportunity it offered for vocal, pianistic and satirical display.

To show that he is not only a composer and a pianist, but also an "improvisator," Dwight Fiske opened the program with an improvisation in which he avoided carefully all reckless navigation into remote tonalities, keeping within safe distance of D minor.

GODDRICH MANAGER IS ENTHUSIASTIC.

Greatest Season the Famous Safety Treads Ever Had.

"Either the people of this country are all using automobiles," said an official of the B. F. Godditch Company, "or the percentage of them are using Godditch Tires." "We have never in the history of the business had anywhere near as many calls for Godditch Safety Treads as we have had this season. Our experience was anticipated in a measure; but it has been surprising, nevertheless."

"It was expected when the Godditch Company announced the general reduction in tire prices that there would be increased demand for these casings, which have always been regarded as the standard by which tire values were measured. However, the desire to have Godditch Tires seems to be so general that we sometimes find it difficult to realize that there are other tires on the market."

"Our sales have thus far been so greatly in excess of those of any other year that we would be able to report a good season's business, even if we did not sell another tire between now and the first of January."

"All this is, of course, very gratifying, but more gratifying still is the fact that Godditch Tires, always highly satisfactory, have never before given better service than they are giving this year. In fact, they have never before been as good as they are now."

"It seems as if the makers of these tires have found out exactly how to produce just the balance in weight and strength that is necessary to give the service that is required."

"But I am not alone in my enthusiasm over Godditch Tires. Every man to whom I have sold a set of Godditch Safety Treads is just as enthusiastic as I am, and with good reason. In addition to retelling the best tires that have ever been made, the purchaser gets Godditch Safety Treads at lower prices than have ever before been charged for standard tires."

"So the satisfaction is complete all around."

A MAKECHIE RECENTAL.

Friends and pupils of the Makechie Violin School gave a largely attended and very enjoyable evening at Riverbank Court, Cambridge, last Monday evening (June 28). Director Ernest Makechie, of 238 Elm street, West Somerville, formerly director of music in Winchester schools, explained in announcing the program that the occasion had been arranged as a means of bringing together parents and school and that it in no way replaced the annual recital which occurs in the autumn. The value of ensemble training, secured by such an orchestra as the school maintains, was insisted upon in the director's brief address.

One of the success stories of the evening was made by Miss Elizabeth Ayer, mezzo contralto of 55 Brattle street, Cambridge, who sang "Where'er you walk," Handel; "Guerriero," Richard Strauss; "The Star," Rogers; and "Lezlie Linday," an old Scottish song. Miss Florence Colby, cellist of Boston, gave an effective selection from Wolf-Ferrari's "Jewels of the Madonna."

Miss Elvira Spaulding, a pupil, was chosen to be artist in the "Simple Aveu" of Thomas M. McKechnie himself was well received after two selections: the Rievre of Vieuxtemps and a Hungarian dance. The program began and ended with performances by the string orchestra: the "Horn March" of Pagni and the "Barcarole" from Offenbach's Tales of Hoffman.

RECITAL.

The piano recital by the Dorchester and Winchester pupils of Miss Sadie F. Bowser was held last Saturday afternoon at Dorchester. A varied program was enjoyed by those present which ranged from the pieces by first year pupils to various selections from Mendelssohn, Handel, Paderewski and others.

Several of the advanced class made an excellent showing of this year's work. Further enjoyment was added to the occasion by a number of songs given by Mr. William L. Bowser, tenor, which were well received as were also two violin and piano selections by Master Hubert and Miss Eleanor Denker. Miss Denker also favored with a pleasing recitation.

BASE BALL.

At the Children's Lawn Fete, which was held on Mrs. Richard Glendon's Estate, 17 Lake street, last week Tuesday, in aid of St. Mary's Parish Festival, the Prince School 6th Grade defeated the Middlesex Street team 14-11.

The early part of the game was rather one-sided and uninteresting as the boys from Middlesex Street were heavier and older than the Prince boys and seemed to have everything their own way. As the Prince boys got started, however, things decidedly interesting for they amply demonstrated the old saying, "A game never won or lost in the last inning is over," and they won in the last five minutes of play, hitting McKeeing freely and placing hits wherever they wished. The features of the game were Kelley's catching, Dunlon's work at 1st, and Sullivan's base-running which was of the spectacular order. Mark Kelley umpired and Geo. Le Due of the town team was an interested spectator. This adds another scalp to the belt of this year's Prince nine, they already having won the League cup and also won a series with the 6th Grade of the Russell School, Arlington.

BASEBALL.

Winchester Beat Its Old Rival in Close Game.

By "Mack."

One more to our already long list of wins, and this time our old rivals, the All-Woburn team, went down before the coming series for champions of Massachusetts. A good many of the crowd said it was a lucky game to win. We fail to see anything lucky about it, as our players refused to throw the game away and kept playing their usual steady game, as the contest proceeded. Of course, baseball is nine-tenths luck and the old occasion is when the other fellow hangs the ball a little harder than your own crowd. Tift did not pitch up to his usual standard, as he gave five bases on balls, almost as many as he gave in a season, and besides he made a couple of errors in the box which helped Woburn towards a run. McMahon pitched first class ball as he always does when facing Winchester, and besides he had the best few behind him that has helped Woburn this season. Outside of the couple of fouls by "Ernie" McDonald in the ninth, the game was free from any damaging errors. Up to the ninth inning McDonald had played good baseball and made some hard pickups, but as in all games, this "break" had to come and we got it, so there is no "luck" coming on our part.

Our new man in right field played a great game both in the field and at the bat; he "caught" out with the crowd at once and as the game progressed he had them all with him. Let us hope he continues in the way he started as he will surely help out some. "Bill" Cady and Frank Hardy, the umpires, did good work and there was no chance for argument on either side. A little explanation of that wild pitch of McMahon when a ball gets by the catcher and strikes the stand it is good for all the bases a runner can make without being put out; if it goes beyond the stand or in the crowd it is good only for the base the runner was going for.

Notes.

11 out of 12. Can you beat it?

The game was a good one as the crowd was uncertain which team would win until the final.

We were all ready to play Stoneham last Saturday, and at one o'clock they said a game would be played. Then at 1:30 the manager called up and said the grounds would not be fit to play on. All our players were here ready for the game.

We do not know what kind of a team they are going to have as most of the players they had engaged are playing on different teams in New England.

There were very few teams that played either Saturday or Monday, as most of the grounds were like swamps.

We have about as quick drying field as there is anywhere, and Monday after the showers a crowd got brooms and shovels and in a couple of hours had the field in pretty fair shape.

No matter what other managers may do, we will always try and play a game if there is any possibility of doing it.

We understand the Minute Boys have changed managers. It is reported that "Bill" Viano, the old time player, has charge of the team.

Henry Matthews pitched for the Newton C. C. Monday and held Watertown K. C. to two hits—pretty good pitching for a school boy.

Reading did not play either Saturday or Monday, also the Calumets were without a game.

We will probably have the Newton C. C. here one week from Saturday, and there is bound to be a battle. They bring a great crowd of rooters with them.

Sergeant Mullen and a squad of blue coats kept the crowd in great order; and while there was plenty to do, there was not a disturbing element in the great crowd.

We go to Woburn for the game next Saturday. It would be well for the Winchester people to get there early as there will be a scarcity of seats after 3 o'clock.

Cady and Hardy will be on hand to umpire. We will have practically the same lineup with probably a few extras on hand. Get up early and look.

COUNTRY CLUB EVENTS.

Three Tournaments Largely Contested Saturday and Monday.

Three events were held at the Winchester Country Club on Saturday and Monday, all contested by large fields. Saturday afternoon's event was a Scotch foursome, best selected one holes, and was won by T. R. Bateman and M. F. Brown with 71 as best net. E. N. Giles and B. K. Stephenson, with a handicap of five, made the best gross figures with 80.

The scores:

E. R. Rooney and E. A. Bradley	96	9	87
A. H. Russell and W. D. Richards	100	22	87
P. L. Hunt and George Nathan	114	26	90

On Monday afternoon a cemetery contest or flag tournament was held with 29 entries. The event was won by T. R. Bateman, 25th yards at the 19th hole. R. L. Smith was second, 22nd yard at the 15th hole.

The afternoon event was mixed foursomes competition, selected nine holes, selected drive, 16th handicap.

Miss Katherine Edgett and Donald M. Belcher won the match with 41 net, 41 gross. The scores were all close.

Do You Realize How Cheap Electricity Really is?

Do you realize that Electricity is one of the few necessities the cost of which is constantly decreasing? Electricity is now so cheap that every home can afford it, not only for lighting but for the many other comforts and conveniences which it provides. Cartoonist Briggs has illustrated a few of these below.

For Instance

At the average rate paid by residential customers, the different kinds of service illustrated below indicate how inexpensive, with normal use, Electricity has become for the conveniences and necessities of everyday life.

Table Lamp  A 50 Candle-power Electric Table Lamp will give a cheerful, healthful and abundant illumination. Cost per hour, 1-2c			Washing Machine  An Electric Washing Machine will do all your washing and wringing — saves time and strength. Cost per month, 10c
Coffee Percolator  An Electric Coffee Percolator will brew delicious coffee right on the dining table every morning. Cost per month, 15c	Flat Iron  Comfortable, convenient and inexpensive, an Electric Flat Iron may be used for 40 minutes for 1c — 15 1/2 hours per month at this low cost per month, 26c	Polishing Motor  Polishing silverware and cutlery is made easy with an Electric Polishing Motor which can be operated as needed, uses little electricity; cost per month, 1c	Pantry Light  Every electric lighted home should have a pantry light — safe, convenient and inexpensive. An abundance of light; cost per month, 9c
Closet Lights  Enjoy the convenience and safety of Electric Light in each closet. A 15-watt lamp, intermittently switched, lights any closet; cost per month, 1c	Curling Iron  An Electric Curling Iron heats quickly and evenly. It gives a clean, safer and more convenient than flame-heated tongs. Cost per month, 1c	Hylo Turn Down Light  A convenient night light for bathroom, bedroom or hall. Gives a low light instantly changed to full brilliancy by pulling a cord. Can be used all night; cost per month, 1c	Hair Drying Comb  Useful, inexpensive — a real boon to every woman. The Hair Drying Comb uses little electricity; cost per month, 1c
Electric Grill  An Electric Grill can be used every day to broil, boil, fry or toast, simply, safely and healthfully. Cost per month, 13c	Porch Light  Keep a 15-watt lamp burning continuously all night on the porch. Useful in summer months, the lamp around the porch burns at this low cost per month, 10c	Sewing Machine Motor  Makes a pleasure of sewing; does all the work — you merely guide it. Starts and stops instantly at will. 1 1/2 hours of operation for eight hours; cost per month, 1c	Heating Pad  An Electric Heating Pad is a great comfort when you are cold. It gives heat continuously — always ready, never breaks. Cost for 6 1/2 hours, 1c
Floor Lamp  Sit where you like. The lamp throws the light on the book, work, or the floor. Cost per hour, 1-4c	Hall Light  A hall may be kept lighted constantly for a dark, ill-lit hall. One on average of 2 hours of light burning at this low cost per night, 1c	Electric Toaster  With an Electric Toaster, toast can be made right on the table. Best taste and appearance; cost per month, 13c	Chafing Dish  Always ready and always safe — electric chafing dish is better than any other. The Electric Chafing Dish can be operated very inexpensively. Cost for 50 minutes, 2c
		Electric Vibrator  An Electric Vibrator may be used to relieve rheumatism and pains at almost no cost. Cost for 40 minutes for 8 hours, 2c	Luminous Radiator  Just thinking for between persons that in an instant — wherever you want it — heat for 40 minutes, 2c

MR. ELDER AND OTHERS ON SUFFRAGE.

At the English Village Festival given in Wellesley, by the Ways and Means Committee of the Massachusetts Suffrage Association, Mr. Samuel J. Elder closed his address on "The Place" with the following words:

"In this moment in the history of the country and of the world, it is most fortunate that women are rapidly becoming participants, not only in the suffering but in the government. It is high time that those who so largely bear the burden of war, should have part in deciding what measures are best adapted to prevent war, and how the force and judgment of the nation may aid in preventing war. No will military enthusiasm will control them, and on the other hand there need be no fear that they will shrink from courageous act and preparation to prevent war."

New York Supreme Court Justice Charles L. Guy recently made an eloquent plea for equal suffrage based on democracy. We give his concluding paragraph:

"If American men believe democracy, if they believe in the women who gave them birth, if they believe in the women who are their comrades and companions in life, who make their homes happy, who make their lives successful, who stand by them faithfully in every emergency of life, they will register their verdict—a verdict that will stand for all time—that in the eyes of an American free man the dignity of womanhood stands side by side and the equal of the dignity of American manhood. Not man above woman, not woman above man, but man and woman side by side, comrades and companions through life's journey, and God over all and for all forever."

At the recent convention of working women in New York, hung a banner with the words, "National Women's Trade Union League, Full Citizenship for Women," and in almost every speech equal suffrage was touched on. Some time ago, the League as a whole, endorsed woman suffrage.

Governor Walsh has definitely announced that he intends to vote "Yes" on the Woman Suffrage Amendment this fall.

Two more Granges, Sumnerville and Wolcott, have put themselves on record as unanimously in favor of this Amendment.

On June 25, at the meeting of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs, the suffragists won out, and passed the following resolution 203-99:

"Whereas, the question of political equality of men and women today is the vital problem under discussion throughout the State of Massachusetts; therefore, be it Resolved, That the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs gives the cause of political equality moral support by recording its earnest belief in the principles of political equality regardless of sex."

In Denmark on June 5, women were given full suffrage on the same terms as men. The new constitution with its provision for equal suffrage was passed by the Diet with but one dissenting vote.

ANTI-SUFFRAGE.

The Antis believe that woman suffrage will not do what is claimed for it when woman is given the ballot. It will not better the condition of working women, neither will it give teachers and others the same pay as men holding similar positions, and what suffragist has yet proposed a scheme, by which when the ballot is given, can proceed effectively to procure these results? What suffragist has yet pointed out exactly how giving woman the ballot will effect better work and better wages?

Do men find it any easier to get work because they have the ballot? If so why are thousands of unemployed calling for work?

The pay of any worker in any industry is primarily determined by what the industry can afford and by the available supply of labor. Men's work and women's work of the same kind should be put side by side and judged simply as work, not as sex work.

The suffrage movement is more than a half century old and has run parallel with the progress of woman which has marked this era. The suffragists declare that most of this progress is due to the woman suffrage movement, which we antis deny because we believe that the principles and the results of this suffrage agitation are at variance with any true advancement either of woman or of the State.

Let us look at some of the alliances of the suffrage movement today. Today suffrage is allied with Coeducation as against woman's higher education in colleges of her own. Today it is allied with "isms" as against tried principles of real worth. Today it is allied with Mormonism as against separation of church and State. Today it is allied with socialism as against representative government. Today it is allied with radical labor movements as against the best organized efforts of wage earning men and women. Today it is allied with economic independence and the co-operative household as against family life and the home.

We Antis believe that the true progress of women and the State does not depend upon these alliances, but upon the same, steady, well-balanced man-made laws which have brought the Old Bay State to the highest place among the States of our country.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

"The Blue Mouse," the three-act farce adapted from the German version by Clyde Fitch, will be the next offering at the Castle Square Theatre next week by the Craig players.

The plot of the piece is screamingly funny. Paulette Divine, known as the Blue Mouse, is engaged by an ambitious young man to pose as his wife and flirt with his amorous old employer. Then the aspirant youth hopes to catch his supposed wife in a compromising situation with his employer and as a reward of his silence he will ask to be made Division Superintendent of the Railroad. Miss Eleanor Gordon has been recruited for a second week and she will play the title role. William P. Carlton, Kate Ryan, Mrs. George Hubbard, Betty Barnicoat, Theodore Friebus and the other favorites of the company will be seen.

HAS BECOME AN EVIL.

Motorists are long suffering and patient to an extraordinary degree. They will stand for poor streets, unnecessary detours through poor roads while construction work is going on, for double taxation and absurd legislation, and for many other restrictions too numerous to mention, but their patience reaches the breaking point when they run into long stretches of tar, covering the entire roadway through which they must pass, and which damages their automobiles to the extent of many dollars annually, and which deprives them of the use of their automobiles while being repainted.

It is no longer a matter of stupidity on the part of contractors and Street Commissioners of cities and towns. It has become so flagrant an evil, that there is good reason for believing that the spreading of tar, in the manner described, is frequently done wantonly, and in many cases in utter disregard of the rights of others.

Our Association and others have in many instances, protested, after the damage was done, but in nearly every instance have received scant courtesy. This evil can and will be remedied. It cannot be done by the combined efforts of our members and their friends, exerting all possible pressure in their immediate locality, by appeals to reason, common sense, justice and fair play, it can be remedied by legislation which will prohibit the spreading of tar on more than one half the surface of the roadway until the other half has been covered by sand.

SAVINGS BANK LIFE INSURANCE.

Mr. H. Bert Knowles of Gloucester, Mass., has been appointed to the position of Educational Secretary by the Trustees of the General Insurance Guaranty Fund. The Legislature this year, following the recommendation of Governor Walsh, authorized an appropriation to spread the knowledge of Savings Bank Life Insurance throughout the State, and it is for this work that Mr. Knowles has been selected.

Mr. Knowles is a railroad man of wide experience, is a lawyer, and was a member of the Massachusetts Legislature in 1911 and 1912.

Since its establishment in 1907 Massachusetts Savings Bank Life Insurance has had a most successful record. Its low cost is unequaled. There are now more than 10,000 policyholders in the State, insured by one or more of the following Savings Banks:

Whitman Savings Bank, Whitman, People's Savings Bank, Boston, Berkshire County Savings Bank, Pittsfield.

City Savings Bank of Pittsfield. Residents of Massachusetts who are between the ages of 18 and 65 years are eligible for this insurance.

In addition to the four banks above named which have established Insurance Departments there are 24 Savings Banks and 10 Trust Companies which have become public agents for these four.

CLAIMS IT WAS UNWISE.

Suffrage Resolution Will Cause Split in Federation.

(From an address before the recent State Federation of Women's Clubs at Marion, by Mrs. W. L. Putnam in opposition to the suffrage resolution).

Ladies: For more than 20 years the Federated Clubs have worked together for the public good with all the strength which union alone can give. As individuals, as clubs even, we must have had different ideals, but where the public welfare was concerned we have followed our country's motto, "E Pluribus Unum," and we have followed it well. For the first time today a resolution is proposed whose mere suggestion instantly divides the women of Massachusetts into opposing camps, fighting each other instead of together fighting evil! Don't deceive yourselves as to the result. Don't say, as many here have said, "We are too big to let a difference of opinion divide us. We are too strong to be divided by differing views." This is not a matter of difference of opinion—we have long worked together happily under that—but, according to the resolution itself, this is a question of giving "moral support" by recording "earnest belief" (I quote the language of the resolution) in a cause which a very large proportion of club members believe to be an injury to the public which they would serve. It is our very business, it is the determination and strength of our Puritan ancestors, which must inevitably under us if this step be taken.

I am speaking neither for nor against woman-suffrage. I am speaking for the life of this great federation of women, 65,000 strong! Were it not for the fact that we are now giving our gathering to record it, "earnest belief" in the opposition to woman's suffrage, and should it pass—do you think that those who are now giving their lives for the cause of woman suffrage would go on working in this federation even as before? Could they give themselves to a cause which they believed to be wrong? No, a thousand times no. Even so it is with those who believe that women are needed in the body politic in a different way, though in no less a degree, than men. They also are too big, too honest, too upright—these women who oppose the suffrage to go on working under a banner which would belie their deepest feelings and beliefs.

One side feels as deeply, believes in its cause as ardently, as does the other, and certain is it that the passage of any resolution for or against woman suffrage will disrupt this federation and will thereby irreparably injure its present great power for good.

For the sake of the women of Massachusetts, for the sake of the children, and for the sake of the old Commonwealth which we all love, I beg of you to consider what you do before it is too late!

CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

Editor of the Star:—

Dear Sir:—
As one of the candidates for the Republican nomination for County Commissioner, will you kindly allow me space in your paper to enter a public and emphatic protest against allowing County employees to circulate nomination papers for the candidates for county offices. It is a fact that the janitors of the county buildings have for circulation the nomination papers of Mr. Williams, the present Commissioner, who is a candidate for a third term, and on the

JOHN L. DYER.

Candidate for County Commissioner.

County's time are boldly soliciting signatures for such papers from persons who call at the county buildings for the transaction of their private business, and from other County employees. The use of the employees and the time of the county in this connection is certainly pernicious and lays the whole board of County Commissioners open to the charge of using county employees for political purpose, a practice which should be studiously avoided if we want to retain the right of the "free dominion."

The head janitor of the Registry and Court House is passing about the Williams papers and sub-janitors are circulating them. Nor is it love of the candidate which prompts such service—that I am positive. Furthermore, it is an imposition on other county employees to put it up to them to sign the nomination paper of "the boss." Under the circumstances one could not expect them to exercise the political freedom to which they are entitled. I am confident that the chairman of the Board, Mr. Gould, for whose ability and integrity I have the highest respect, has no knowledge that this practice is being established and will see that it is discontinued.

In this connection let me say that I am positively in favor of placing certain of the County employees under civil service laws, including the various janitors and other employees of the County buildings. It is a fact that recently in selecting the head janitor of the Registry and Court House, competent men long in the service of the county and deserving the promotion have been passed up and a man without experience in the particular business has been employed. (This is the man who is passing around the Williams nomination papers). Such could be the case if these employees were under the civil service nor could the present Commissioner be using his political activities if his men were under the protection of Civil Service rules. Let county employees attend strictly to the County business.

Yours very truly,
John Lathrop Dyer.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

Board Decides Not to Call a Special Town Meeting.

July 14, 1915.
Pursuant to adjournment of July 12, the Board met at 7:30 p. m. present Messrs. Davidson, Kerr and Sanborn. Mr. Lane of the Park Board was present by invitation.
Mill Pond. After discussion, it was decided to call no special Town Meeting at present on this subject.
Opening Streets, Lakewood road. It appeared that gas service was required for a new house building on this street, that was not to be provided with coal ranges or electricity, and it was voted to reconsider the vote passed by the Board July 12, refusing the petition of the Arlington Gaslight Company to open the street. It was then voted that the Arlington Gaslight Company be and they are hereby granted permission to open Lakewood road for the purpose of having a gas main therein as shown on plan filed with their petition of July 6.

Adjourned at 8:20 p. m.
Frank R. Miller,
Clerk of Selectmen.

PARCEL POST REGULATIONS.

Persons who use the parcel post facilities of the Government should bear in mind that a new rule has gone into effect which must be observed if the packages are to go through the mail. The name of the sender, with street and city address, must be on each package, and the word "from" must precede the name. Instance on the proposition would seem to be a superfluous requirement for a package which also bears the name and address of the party to whom the package is sent, but the third assistant postmaster general says it must go on, and this official is doubtless a very wise man and knows whereof he speaks. Also be careful to not your full name, and not merely your initials, on these packages, or Uncle Sam will positively refuse to carry them for you.

An additional privilege is announced for parcel post senders. They may "stick" sealed letters to the packages paying letter postage on the former and fourth-class postage on the latter. This does not reduce the cost of either letter or package, but it insures the two travelling together. Ordinarily the letter might beat the package to its destination, if sent separately, but if the sender wishes the two to go together the government graciously grants permission to send them in this way.

ATTEMPTED BREAK.

There was an attempted break last Friday evening at the residence of George W. Bailey, No. 13 Fenwick road. According to reports Mr. Alvin Boone noticed a man on the piazza of the house at about quarter of eight. As the residence had been closed for the summer Mr. Boone went to the house and questioned the man. The man stated that the house appeared to have been broken into. He said that he lived on Sanborn street and would notify officer Harrold. As the man was well dressed and appeared to be what he claimed, Mr. Boone did not question the incident, especially as he had said that he had seen a man running from the place, which first called his attention to the break. Mr. Boone later decided to call the police and so if the break was serious, and in so doing found that his friend had neglected to notify officer Harrold. The police visited the house and found that a catch on the cellar door had been forced and that the putty around a pane of glass on one of the piazza windows had been almost all removed. It was while at this work that Mr. Boone had surprised the man. Nothing had been touched inside the house, and all of value had been removed before the family left.

WINCHESTER LAUNDRY FISHING TRIP.

On last Sunday morning the Winchester Laundry employees left for their annual fishing trip in Boston harbor with Capt. Higgins. Fish were plenty during the day and evening, and a fine trip. Charlie Farrar received first prize for the biggest fish and Clyde Dunning and J. Gillon broke even for the prize for the biggest fish. Among those present who enjoyed a good time were: J. Hammond, R. Patterson, R. Smith, L. Smith, J. Fitzgerald, G. Granger, E. Perry, J. Corry, C. Dunning, E. Miller, C. Brady, E. O'Leary, M. Flaherty, W. Callahan, C. Sergeant, C. Farrar, D. Neenan, L. Cahill, H. Dugal, P. Dempsey, O. MacKellench, G. McNelly, J. Gillon, H. Gillon.

Dennis F. Foley of Hill street: wood frame dwelling on Stone avenue, 21 x 30 feet.

THE PROFITS OF NEIGHBORHOOD.

"Get acquainted with your neighbor—you might like him." This, from the letterhead of a Western Village Improvement Association, is excellent advice. What fine things a large personal acquaintance can do for us, provided we are worthy of it. Let us put aside any petty dislike, engendered perhaps by fancied faults in other people, and go out and shake hands with neighbors whom we probably have never really known. Let us talk over our common problems with them; discuss the welfare of our community, the state, the nation, so that we may all have a better understanding of our common hopes and aims. All this pays. Its returns come not alone in the help we can be, one to the other, but in the greater discernment with which our personal business can be conducted, and in the better feeling and progress that follows in a town or city where all are working for the common good.

CHARLES A. CONANT BURIED IN WINCHESTER.

The body of Charles A. Conant, who died last week in Havana, was brought to this town Wednesday, where funeral services were held in the afternoon at the First Congregational Church. Rev. Charles W. Huntington of Waltham was the officiating clergyman. The pall bearers were Hon. Samuel W. McCall, Samuel J. Elder, Alfred S. Hall, Clarence W. Baron of the Boston News Bureau, Robert Lincoln of the Boston Herald and Hamilton S. Conant of Boston. The remains were interred in Wildwood Cemetery.

PLAYGROUND TEAM WINS.

On last Tuesday morning the St. Mary's Junior team was defeated by the Playground boys to the tune of four to two. Both of the teams showed up pretty good, both at the bat and in the field.

BASE BALL NOTICE.

Saturday, on Manchester Field, we play the Newton Club. This team is supposed to be the strongest team in Newton this season, as their record of fifteen wins shows. They have beaten the Minute Boys, Concord Junction and teams of that class, but it remains to be seen what they can do against a team of live players, like Winchester.

Henry Matthews is doing some of the pitching for them, although we do not know whether he will pitch for them Saturday. They bring a crowd with them, so get down early for your seats.

CARD.

Thanks to our kind friends and neighbors for their kind remembrances and beautiful flowers.

Miss Annie Dodd.

IS THIS A HORRIBLE MISTAKE?

Population Increases Seven in Five Years According to Census.

For some years Winchester has taken pride in its growth in population. Houses are being erected in all parts of the town and many families have taken up their residence. And yet statistics which are claimed by many who desire to settle an argument as being absolutely trustworthy show that Winchester has increased its population by seven since the last State census five years ago. What do you think of that? And yet this is true according to the figures given out by the Census bureau at the State House as a result of the State wide census just taken. Five years ago Winchester had a population of 9399, and this year it is given out as 9476—a gain of seven in five years.

Of course there is a mistake somewhere, but these are the official figures. In all probability there is an error of 1000 in population and this will come out later. But the mistake is not to Winchester's advantage.

WILL SPEND SUMMER HERE.

The family of Thomas C. Quinn of New York City are residents for the summer in the house of Prof. William W. Howe, 200 Forest street. Mr. Quinn is a former Boston newspaper man, but for a quarter of a century has been identified with New York journalism, and is now in New York State, Supervisor of Public Records with headquarters at Albany. Both Mr. and Mrs. Quinn are natives of Woburn, Mrs. Quinn being the daughter of Hugh Quinn of Walnut Hill. Mr. Quinn was the contemporary and friend of the late Charles A. Conant, and Mr. Conant was associated with him in the years that Mr. Quinn published the New York Daily News a decade ago.

WHAT THE RAILROADS NEED.

The present difficulties and outlook of American railroads, as some of their presidents see them, are discussed in the June issue of the National Business, the publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central, goes into the situation at length. From a purely railroad standpoint, Mr. Smith declares, the prospects will be determined largely by the attitude of the public toward railroads, with respect to the eliminating of legislation and regulations which are unremunerative to the stockholders and also imposing regulations which are not beneficial to the public as a whole.

Mrs. Peter Sutherland and family of Bruce road are at their summer home in Nahant for the season.

"The railroads need most, just now and for the future," Mr. Smith goes on, "to be correctly understood and appreciated by the people, as the most essential element in the present and future commercial prosperity of this country; and they need to have accorded to them fair, just and reasonable treatment by the public, by legislatures, commissions, and other regulatory bodies, in order that they may expand, develop into efficient methods and improve their service."

"It is believed that the need is appreciated by the great majority of the principal shippers and travelers, but there are many others—and probably a majority of people whose daily affairs are so remote from the details of commerce that they often underestimate control, without knowing or appreciating that in the end they will be vitally injured."

The trolley wire of the Storcham line broke early this morning at the corner of Mr. Vernon and Washington streets.

TIME FOR A CHANGE.

The time is at hand when the rank and file of the Republican party should pause and reflect upon the cause and effect of permitting the political adventurer to have a free hand in converting their party into a political machine to be used for his own personal advancement.

For the past ten years the Republican party has had little or no leadership in the administration of state affairs. The state has been run without any definite or fixed policy. The apparent object of those in charge has been to look out for their own personal interest at the expense of the state and the party they profess to represent. Party responsibility and party fealty are as nothing to the political romancer who is looking out for self only, and here are the results.

In 1905 the actual running expenses of our state totaled $9,019,000, and our state tax was $1,000,000. In 1914, F. and for the same period the state debt increased from $14,225,000, to $30,762,000 in 1914. In addition to these increased burdens of government, there is a contingent debt hanging over the cities and towns of the Metropolitan District amounting to $56,200,000. It is interesting to note that the interest charge this year is a million dollars more than our entire state tax in 1904.

A 91 per cent increase in state expenses and a 116 per cent increase in our state debt within the past nine years, and a prospect that all these figures will be doubled within the next nine years, accounts no doubt for the strong prevailing sentiment throughout the state that a Republican candidate for governor should be selected this fall who is outside of the regime that is responsible for these increased tax burdens.—[Belmont Courier.]

MISUSE OF MILK BOTTLE.

In the Woburn court yesterday morning, Dominick Flowers, a keeper of a variety store on Swanton street, was fined $5 for a violation of the Health Regulations, the specific charge alleging that he sold molasses in a milk bottle. He was defended by Lawyer Fatten of Stoneham and was fined $5, following which he entered an appeal.

His attorney contended that the law reads that a person shall be guilty of such an act when he shall have the custody of the vessel in which the goods are sold. The claim was made in this case that the person buying the goods produced the milk bottle.

MISS ELIZA DODD.

Miss Eliza Dodd died at her home on Mystic avenue, Friday, July 9th. She had been in poor health for the past three years.

Miss Dodd was born in Charlestown, P. E. I., in 1841. She leaves two sisters, Miss Annie Dodd of this town and Mrs. Susan Lane of P. E. I.

The funeral services were held at No. 18 Mystic avenue on Monday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. Orville C. Poland, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and Rev. S. Winchester, pastor of the Baptist Church, officiating. The interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

BAPTIST NEWS.

Miss L. Jennie Crawford and Miss Daisy L. Smith have returned from the Woman's Foreign Mission Summer Conference at Northfield.

Flowers for the Flower Mission should be left at Winchester Station before nine o'clock next Tuesday morning. Miss Alice B. Bonney of our Flower Committee will be in charge.

The pastor returns from Great Chebogue Island on Tuesday next.

MRS. ANNIE NAGLE PASSES AWAY.

Mrs. Annie Nagle, wife of the late John Nagle, an old and respected resident of this town for over forty years passed away suddenly Tuesday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Goffrey, 544 Main street, Woburn. Mrs. Nagle was well known to the older residents of this town where she always made her home up to a few years ago before going to Woburn.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. John Goffrey of Woburn and Mrs. George Elliott of this town.

Funeral services were held this morning with High mass of Requiem at St. Charles Church. Interment was at Calvary Cemetery. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

YORK WOUNDED IN TRENCHES.

According to reports published from Ottawa, Canada, Walter Gordon York, formerly of this town, who is serving in the trenches with the Canadian contingent, has been accidentally wounded. The nature of his wounds are unknown.

George R. McCord, another former Winchester man who has been serving with the Canadians and who was recently promoted to rank of Lieutenant is now doing clerical work and has left the trenches. McCord was for some time in charge of the signal tower in Winchester and it is thought that he is now connected with the wireless service.

A RARE CHANCE.

One of those rare opportunities to secure a building lot in one of the best residential sections of Winchester is now offered. Such an opportunity does not come very often in this town, where centrally located land in an excellent neighborhood can be procured at a reasonable price. This land is located on "Sylvan Road" on Highland avenue, opposite Lawson road and there are 26 building lots, which are to be sold at auction, Monday July 19, and if not all sold on that day the sale will be continued on Tuesday. The terms will be most advantageous. See advertisement on page four for particulars.

A heavy auto truck loaded with crushed stone broke through the Lake street bridge Tuesday night. It was extricated from the hole by Contractor Quigley and a gang of men.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

For those Winchesterites with incomes that enables them to command a little time as their own there is nothing like gardening for one's health. It settles the problem of health itself. It brings not merely bodily exercise, which is the foundation of health, but brings it amid open air and sunshine, and graduates it according to strength and inclination. "If you would be healthy, dare to be as natural as the flowers are."

In recent years there has been a great revival of town yard care. It has become a common thing for the average back yard, which formerly was simply a poorly grassed and more or less littered place, to be transformed into an orderly and beautiful garden, a part of it often devoted to vegetables. A small space given over to the careful cultivation of table wants in the way of chief vegetables will yield a desirable return, and the difference between such vegetables taken from the garden and the kind you get at the store can only be appreciated by those Winchesterites that have experienced it. It takes only a small space, leaving ample room for the cultivation of flowers. There are here in Winchester many instances of men that put in a little work "between times" in cultivating their backyard to supply the mind and spirit as well as the body in lifting them to the true of health.

It is doubtful if there is anything that purifies, soothes and steadies, while it exalts, the spirit as delving in the ground does, and watching the reward of growing things that nature pays as the fruits of such toil.

Once upon a time a minister, who canvassed his parish to find out what the men in it considered essential qualifications for a good wife, discovered that the majority of the men want as wives girls who can provide well for their creature comfort, who can cook and mend stockings and make the house a comfortable home. This may be rated a very material plane upon which to place matrimony, but it is honestly suggestive of what counts in the long run towards happiness. An equal number of women, asked what sort of man make the best husbands, could be depended upon to lay much less stress upon the every day aspect of the situation. If their souls were satisfied, they would trust to the creature-comforts coming naturally. That shows how much shrewder men are in choosing a mate. It probably accounts, too, for the larger number of divorces with women as the libelans—which brings around again to the ever present necessity for the satisfaction of material need on the part of both husband and wife, with relation to the other.

The man who marries to get a cook would in the opinion of The Spectator get his just deserts if he failed to get a good one. The woman who marries to get a "good provider" serves no sympathy if she has mistaken her man. Marrying is more than getting—though that is the side too often looked at with close inspection. If the man who wants a good caretaker in his wife would just stand ready to guarantee himself a good provider and a helpful, sympathetic comrade, and the girl who wants a good provider and kind companion would look to it that she is capable of being a good homemaker, there would be smoother sailing on the sea of matrimony here in Winchester and elsewhere.

A minister once confided to The Spectator that it would be smoother, anyway, if the girls who get married knew more about cooking and house-keeping. Soul-mating, quite evidently doesn't go with him. And so he wants the girls compelled to learn to cook and keep house. "Girls have no right to marry until they know something of the greatest of all sciences—the science of feeding and cooking," he said. This minister takes the matter seriously. He puts the food end of life in first place. He says as though he believes it "People eat to live, not for the fun of it." That's where he's preaching; and that's where he preves he is more of a physiologist and scientist than a humanist. No doubt he is well prepared to dissertate upon the human system's need for fuel and upon the proportionate food values of the various articles of diet, but how much does he know of the eating characteristics of the people? Not much, if he still believes with Socrates that good men eat and drink only to live. If they did, their cooking wives would have a much easier time of it, and the most attractive items on the present bill of fare would sink into obscurity. Not eat for the fun of it? If there was not so much banking on food for fun, there would be less natural difficulty bringing on its preparation.

HARDY—HODNETT.

John P. Hardy, well known in South Boston, and Miss Nellie M. Hodnett of Winchester, were married Sunday afternoon at St. Mary's rectory, by Rev. Fr. John Corlett. Miss Mary Hodnett, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Edward F. Dorney was best man.

The bride wore a gown of blue silk, trimmed with real Irish lace, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore blue chiffon over blue silk and carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

After a short automobile trip a reception was held at the future home of the couple, 22 Mercer street, South Boston, where a wedding dinner was served.

A number of friends of the young couple contributed to a lengthy entertainment during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Hardy received a large number of gifts. They left on a wedding trip after the reception and will be at home at 22 Mercer street, South Boston, after August first.

HAS AGENCY HERE FOR NEW $775 CAR.

C. Earle Arnold of Stoneham, who is well known in the surrounding district, has the agency for this district for the famous Scripps-Booth Auto, concerning which he has an advertisement in today's Star.

Those who have seen Mr. Arnold's Scripps-Booth car about town recently are surprised at its beauty and many features at a price of $775. The car is so constructed, although a roadster, to accommodate three passengers, has the best upholstery, one-man top, double-acting wind shields, electric starter and lighting system; great speed with no vibration, 110-inch wheel base, and weighs 1500 pounds.

There are also many unusual features which are explained in Mr. Arnold's advertisement in today's Star.

BAND CONCERT.

The second band concert will be given Sunday afternoon commencing at 3.30. The music will be furnished by Lafrain's Military Band, one of the leading musical organizations of the State. The program will be as follows:

1. March Dorscht Wiegand
2. Overture Masaniello Auber
3. Waltzes Wine, Women & Song Strauss
4. Humoreske Dvorak
5. Selection from "Bohemian Girl" Balfe
6. Dade's March Wagner
7. Overture Light Cavalry Suppe
8. Waltz Espana Waldteufel
9. Traumeri Schumann
10. Selection from "Sweethearts" Herliet

MR. WHITNEY SELF-CONVICTED.

Editor of the Star—
Mr. Whitney has done the expected. In a single sentence he might have denied the authorship of the letter signed "Common Sense"; he did not do so, and dares not do so, for perfectly obvious reasons. Instead of meeting my challenge squarely and manfully, he uses up more than a column of space in evading and beguiling the issue. His evasion is a confession of guilt, and I do not propose to continue a discussion with a man whose notion of fair dealing is such as his is.

In closing I have one brief statement to add: my showing up of Mr. Whitney's standards and methods and practice has elicited many hearty expressions of approval from some of the best known and most respected men of the town.

Charles F. A. Currier.

MRS. CHARLES W. GRAY.

Elia Willard Gray, widow of Charles W. Gray of Boston, died at Eppling, N. H., on July 7, at the age of eighty-four. Mrs. Gray was for many years a resident of Winchester, and was an active member of the Unitarian Church. She was one of the original members of The Fort-nightly Club, and it was she who suggested the name for the Club.

She leaves a brother, Samuel Willard of Kansas, a daughter, Mrs. Henry Cutter Holt, of Eppling, and five grand children.

The funeral and interment took place at Exeter, N. H., on July 10.

MICHAEL BREEN.

Michael Breen died last Sunday afternoon at his home, 12 Oak street, after a long illness. He was 80 years old, and had lived in Winchester many years. He leaves a wife, three sons, Michael J. John J. of this town, and Jeremiah of Arlington and a daughter, Mrs. Michael Flynn. Funeral services took place at his home Sunday morning at 9. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Montvale.

When San Francisco was swept by flames

the Hartford Fire Insurance Company was put to the supreme test of paying out Ten Million Dollars. With its local office and its records swept away, the adjusting and paying of claims was immediately taken up and its indebtedness to 6,000 policy-holders was promptly paid in full.

We represent the Hartford here because it has honorably met and promptly paid every honest loss for over one hundred years. Its name should be on your policy, and we can put it there.

In Absence

Your friends and your loved ones are only as far away as the nearest telephone.

You like to think of them enjoying themselves at the seashore, in the country or in the mountains, even though the claims of business hold you in town.

Absence need not mean total separation, however. There's a wonderful comfort and pleasure in chatting with them daily by telephone. And the sound of your voice will be hailed with joy.

There will be no toll charge on a Paravox Party Call if you are not connected with the person whose name you have given to the 7261 Operator.

How, and Why,

—the GOODRICH "Fair-List" Propaganda now saves Car-Owners, yearly, over $25,000,000 on Tires

THERE are 1,623,551 Automobiles now State-licensed, and running in the United States. Of these, 1,200,000 are Private Cars, — i. e., exclusive of Trucks, etc.

More than 90% of them, or about 1,080,000, use Pneumatic Tires. Each car will wear out and replace, on average, about one set of Four Tires per year.

Therefore, the interests of each Car-Owner, as well as each Car-Manufacturer, each Car-Dealer, and Salesman, are vitally and personally affected by the price of Tires to Consumers.

Because — Tires and Gasoline are the two big items of consumption in the operation of Motor Cars.

The Owner who used his Car 1,000 Miles less, per year, than he would have done, because of "the high price of Tires and Gasoline," received that much less return from his entire investment in the Car proper.

The potential, or prospective, Car-Owner who fails to buy a Car because of "the high cost of Tires and Gasoline," — he who sells his Car and does not buy again because of "the high cost of Tires and Gasoline," — or he who, for the same reason, stores his Car and does not run it during a considerable part of the year, is a direct loss to —

1st — Automobile Manufacturers as a class,
2d — Automobile Dealers, as a class,
3d — Garage Owners, as a class,
4th — Lubrication & Gasoline Manufacturers, as a class.

But, he is a greater loss to TIRE Manufacturers, and Dealers, as a class, than to any others.

Because, — Gasoline and Lubricants, for instance, can be sold to the Owners of Motor Boats, Stationary, and other Motors. But — Automobile Tires can only be sold, in the ultimate, to the man who OWNS a Car, and who wears out Tires through using it.

EVERY mile that each Automobile runs, means an automatic sale of Tires to replace that mileage with new Tires. But, all the Salesmanship, and all the Advertising, under the Sun, could not increase, by a single TIRE, the total sales of Tires beyond the number of Cars owned by Consumers, and the number of Miles each Consumer runs his Car yearly.

The Market for Tires is therefore limited, inflexibly, to the number of Cars running, and the Mileage which each Owner is inclined to run yearly.

Therefore, we pine that to promote greater Sales, and greater use, of Automobiles, few better incentives can be offered, than markedly-lowered costs, TO CONSUMERS, for Tires and Gasoline.

Just as we recognize that the only legitimate expansion open to the Tire Industry, as a whole, would be due to the sale of more Automobiles each year to Consumers, with a greater average Mileage USE, per year, of each Car by each Owner.

That is why we favor the lowest possible price for Tires — to Consumers, consistent with maintenance of high quality and a fair profit to Dealer and Mfr.

So this, then, is a leading reason why WE initiated, and propagated, that Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement which we publicly announced in the press on Jan. 31, 1915, and which caused practically every Pneumatic Tire Manufacturer in this Country to follow our lead and bring his prices down to a fair level.

THIS is also the reason why some Tire Manufacturers, who could not, or would not, "meet" our BASIC prices for Pneumatic Tires (even though our "Fair-List" Propaganda obliged them to make heavy reductions off their former Lists) might erroneously suppose that "Goodrich" Tires have been cheapened in Quality, as well as in price.

Hence this explanation to the Public, to Car Manufacturers, Dealers, Car-Salesmen, Garages, and Tire Dealers generally, that we deem it "good business" to sell the best Goodrich Tires of fabric construction we have ever made, at the fairest price possible for such quality.

Hence, too, the following TEST offer to Consumers.

—We will cheerfully pay for any Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" Tire, sold since our "Fair-List" price reduction (announced on January 31, 1915), which when cut open shows any reduction in quality, in number of layers of Canvas, in thickness, or quality of Rubber, when compared with any other Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" made by us, and sold at our higher price, current before the Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement.

And this is further to authorize any Tire-User to extend this Offer (at our expense) to any Tire Dealer, or Manufacturer.

We ask Car-Owners, and Tire Consumers, in their own interest, to see that no "implication" of lowered quality in Goodrich Tires goes unchallenged, — just as we have protected their interests, for our own sake, through our "Fair-List" Propaganda.

BECAUSE of that GOODRICH "Fair-List" Propaganda, every Car-Owner who now buys any make of Tire sized 3 1/2 x 5, now saves, on each set of 4 Tires, an average of about $46.27.

—Every Car-Owner who uses 3 1/2 x 4 Tires of any make, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda, an average of about $26.15 per set of 4 Tires.

—Every Car-Owner who uses 20 x 2 1/2 Tires, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda, an average of about $14.70 per set of 4 Tires.

Other sizes in proportion.

The 1,623,551 State-licensed Car-Owners who use Pneumatic Tires now save about 20% of what they last year paid for ANY make and size, whether they be Goodrich or competing brands, — equal to more than $25,000,000 per year.

And, don't forget that this giant saving to Car-Owners was never mentioned to the Public by other Tire Manufacturing Concerns until the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda made it imperative that they extend the Saving to Consumers on their Tires, or lose business to the Goodrich Co.

But, notwithstanding all this, — the fact which should loom largest to TIRE-USEERS is the contrast of 10% to 40% in prices, that still exists between the low price of the best Non-Skid Tires (of fabric construction) that money can buy, or the largest Rubber Factory in the World produce, — to it, GOODRICH Non-Skid Tires, and all other "responsible" Tires in the field.

Then, if you are not already a Goodrich User, do yourself (and us), the justice to buy at least one GOODRICH "Non-Skid" Tire.

Test that out for Quality, Mileage and Resiliency against any other Tire, at any price, which you are now using.

The result of such test will cause you to wonder why you ever paid more for Maximum Quality, Mileage, and Resiliency than the basic price of Goodrich Non-Skid Tires?

CLARK BROTHERS ARRESTED FOR ASSAULT.

The Winchester police made an important arrest when they took into custody last Friday forenoon Philip and Gordon Clark, two brothers living in Woburn, who were charged with robbery and assault.

According to accounts of the affair Miss Margaret Daly, employed in the family of Mr. James Russell of Main street as a domestic, was returning home Thursday night on an electric car from Woburn. When she left the car she was followed by a young man who tried to engage her in conversation. Being unsuccessful he snatched her pocket book and attempted to assault her.

Her screams frightened him away and she ran into the house, where the Russell family were notified and the police informed.

Saturday forenoon Sergt. McCauley visited the room of the A. O. U. in Lyceum Building and arrested Philip Clark for the robbery and attempted assault. Clark resisted the officer and was assisted by his brother Gordon Clark, in attempting to escape.

There was a lively scuffle and for several minutes Sergt. McCauley held the two men. Philip, however, succeeded in breaking away and making a dash for the entrance. In the meantime Chief McIntosh had started for the stairs, and he met Philip on the stairs, taking him into custody after another struggle. Sergt. McCauley had made short work of the other man and the two were taken to the police station.

In the Woburn court Saturday morning Philip Clark was charged with robbery of $1 from Miss Daly and attempted felonious assault and Gordon Clark with assault on an officer. Miss Daly identified Philip Clark as her assailant. The case was continued until this Saturday.

WHY CURTIS GUILD OPPOSED WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

I am from conviction, enforced by careful study and official experience, opposed to woman suffrage. That something is novel and in vogue is no proof that it is right or desirable.

Great popular delusions have been not only nation-wide, but world-wide in the past.

The South Sea Bubble and the worship of Mithras each had its day. The worship of every new thing by the Athenians, moreover, while it did promote intellectual activity, did not promote political common sense, nor leadership in the cause of liberty or morality. If ever common sense and common sense were needed they are today. Conditions call for the brake and not the accelerator.

It is my profound conviction that the imposition upon the controller of the family's private relations of duties which naturally fall upon the one who now controls the family's public relations, far from bettering any existing good would more than double existing evil. The fanatic vote, the hysterical and emotional vote, the vote of the immoral and degenerate would be doubled without one single benefit for the stay-at-home vote would be more than doubled.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

Vacations and Saturday Half Holidays to Town Men Asked For.

The Board met at 7:30 p. m., present Messrs. Davidson, Kerr, Sanborn and Kendall.

Licenses 1915 Garages. An application for a license to maintain a garage at 17 Canal street was received from Geo. W. Potter, Sr., and assigned for hearing July 26.

Licenses 1915 Explosives and Inflammables. An application for a license to keep about 1000 gallons of naphtha in an underground tank at their factory on Canal street, was received from the Haley Patent Leather Company, and assigned for hearing August 2.

Measures of Leather. On the petition of Edward F. Maguire, William M. Haley and Michael J. Sullivan, registered voters of the town, James V. Haley of Winchester, duly certified by the State Commissioner of Weights and Measures, was appointed a Measurer of Leather under the provisions of Chapter 502, Acts of 1913, to serve until June 30, 1916.

Police: Special Officers. John A. Milaugh, 16 Thompson street, applied for appointment as Special Officer. Referred to 1916 Board.

State Aid. Notice was received from Romanus Emerson, Agent of the Commissioner of State Aid and Pensions, that he would hold the regular examination of all State Aid cases on the pay roll of the town on July 21st, and the use of the General Committee Room was ordered given him for the purpose, all state aid beneficiaries to be notified to appear in person.

Licenses 1915 Hawkers and Peddlers. Application for a hawkers and peddlers license was received from Hollbrook & Bickford, Howard street Extension, Reading, Mass., and held without action, it appearing that the petitioners intended to peddle only products of their own raising.

Highway work 1915. A request for repair of High street Extension, by H. L. Cox, was ordered refused for lack of funds.

Board of Survey, Woodside road and Pond street. At eight o'clock a hearing was declared open on petition of C. A. Gleason, Agent, for approval by this Board as a Board of Survey, of a line plan of proposed development of lands comprising about 69 acres adjoining Woodside road and Pond street. The petitioner and his engineer were present, also James Hirtle, Town Engineer, and Messrs. Currier and Rowe of the Planning Board. No appearance in opposition was made. The plan was referred to the Town Engineer for report and recommendation.

Opening Streets 1915. On the petition of the Arlington Gas Light Company, presented July 6, by recommendation of the Town Engineer, it was voted to dispose of the locations asked for as follows:

Easterly side of Cambridge street, from northerly terminus of existing main, extending northerly about 300 feet; location granted subject to the approval of the Massachusetts Highway Commission.

Winthrop street, extend existing main about 75 feet; granted.

Washington street, from end of present main at Clematis street northerly about 1000 feet, granted according to plan as amended by the Town Engineer.

Brookside avenue, as amended by the Town Engineer, recommended to the Company, this being a private way and not being within the province of the Board to prescribe the location.

Lakeview road from present and about 160 feet, refused.

Stratford road, running northerly from existing end about 250 feet, granted provided the construction completes the circuit from Bacon street to Everett avenue.

Highland avenue from existing main at Lebanon street southerly about 325 feet, and in Wilson street from the proposed main easterly about 500 feet, granted, the location in Highland avenue to be about 16 feet from the westerly side line instead of 20 feet as applied for.

Caral street, westerly from Main street, granted as per plan filed.

Water street, westerly from Main street, refused.

Laborers. Mr. Frank T. Morse, Vice President National Federation of State City and Town Employees, appeared for conference on subject of vacations and Saturday half holidays.

Adjourned at 10:25 p. m. to meet Wednesday, July 14, at 7:30 p. m.

Frank R. Miller,
Clerk of Selectmen.

DOHERTY—MCMALE.

A record of the marriage of William M. Doherty of 4 Belmont street, Woburn to Miss Nora McMale of 9 Ridgefield road, has been filed with the Woburn City Clerk. The ceremony was performed June 27, by Rev. F. E. Rogers of St. Mary's Church, Winchester.

CAUGHT WITH LIQUOR.

Officer Rogers arrested John Kerrigan, living near the Woburn line, on Monday night and he was in court Tuesday charged with illegal transportation of liquor. According to testimony, he was carrying at the time of his arrest a suit case filled with 24 half pint bottles of whiskey. He was fined $50 and in default was committed to the House of Correction.

THOMAS E. McDERMOTT.

Thomas E. McDermott, a former resident of this town, died the first of the week at Dorchester. He was well known in Winchester. He leaves a wife, (Miss Katherine O'Connell) and was a son-in-law of Mrs. Margaret Fitzgerald of Swanton street.

The funeral services were held at St. Peter's Church, Meeting House Hill, Dorchester, on Tuesday. The bearers were Messrs. Edward F. Maguire, Benjamin F. Mathews, James McDermott of Dorchester and Frank Hayes of Dorchester. The interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

Miss Mary Young will return to the Castle Square Theatre next Monday in her old part, Zola, in "Baby Mine", which she played last year when Margaret Mayo's farce was produced by the Crair Players.

"Baby Mine" is the tale of a jealous husband and the means his wife takes to get him to return to her. She writes him that he has become a father. His paternal instinct is aroused and he hurries to her bedside. In the meantime Jimmy Jinks, an intimate friend of the couple, and the innocent cause of their parting, is sent about the neighborhood to capture a baby. He gets two, of different sizes, and when the husband arrives he thinks himself the father of the twins. The entrance of another baby presently, complicates the situation still further.

POPULATION OF WINCHESTER.

Comparisons Indicate that State Census was Not Correct.

The following letter, from the Director of the Massachusetts Bureau of Statistics, will be of interest:

Mr. Frank E. Rowe, Secretary, Winchester Planning Board, Winchester, Massachusetts.

Dear Sir:—I am writing to confirm a statement which I understood my stenographer made to you yesterday relative to the population figures for Winchester as given out a few days ago to the press, and to state that these figures are based upon the enumerators' own account of the population returned by them and are subject to verification by this office,—that is to say, the addition of omitted population which may be reported, the elimination of duplicates and clerical errors,—these preliminary figures being in some official.

I beg to assure you that the work of the enumerators is being very carefully checked up to the maps of their respective districts and to the assessors' poll lists, in order that we may be assured that as complete a canvass as possible has been made; and if we find any names on the assessors' lists indicating population at any given addresses for which our enumerators have not returned population, the discrepancies will be carefully investigated.

I do not understand that your assessors take a census of population, but that such figures as they may give out are an estimate based upon the number of assessed polls, but I am not familiar with the method by which the estimate is made. Most assessors' estimates of the population for any given year are, however, based upon the relation found to exist between the number of assessed polls and the total population in the last preceding census year, it being assumed that this relationship is constant; but in nearly every case it is found that when the next census is taken, a new relationship is found to exist and therefore a new basis of estimating must be adopted. Therefore estimates of the population for the current year computed upon the relationship which may have existed between the number of assessed polls and the actual population at the last census, when such estimates are found to exceed the population returned by the enumerators at the current census, cannot of themselves be accepted as evidence of faulty work on the part of the enumerators at the current census.

Any evidence, however, which can be produced indicating that any of our enumerators have failed to exercise all reasonable diligence in making a complete canvass is being given most careful investigation pending the compilation of the official statement of population; and if you have any information indicating carelessness on the part of the enumerators of your town, the same will be made the subject of prompt inquiry by this office, since it is my purpose to exhaust every reasonable means of securing as complete and accurate a count as possible.

Very truly yours,
Charles F. Gettemy, Director.

The recent announcement of the population of Winchester, as determined by the State census of 1915, caused widespread surprise, and raised some doubts as to its accuracy. It seemed incredible that a town had gained only its seven inhabitants in five years. It may, therefore, be well in this connection, to mention some of the reasons for believing that the growth must have been greater than thus indicated.

In 1905 the population was 8242; in 1910, 9309, a gain of 1067; in 1915, as just reported, 9310, an increase of 7.

The school census, of children from 5 to 15 years of age, is taken in September. By five-year periods, on the dates nearest the State census of the entire population, the figures were as follows: September 1904, 1502; in 1909, 1785, a gain of 283; in 1914, 1909, an increase of 128.

The assessors make up their list of polls, of males 20 years of age and upwards, for dates identical with the dates of the State censuses. The number of polls is, as it happens, not precisely announced, but approximately, but the error can be very slight at most. In 1905 there were about 1650 assessed polls; in 1910, about 2300, a gain of 650; in 1915, about 2575, an increase of 275.

The number of dwelling houses in 1905 was 1568; in 1910, 1725, a gain of 157; the assessors' figures for 1915 are not yet available, but in 1914 the numbers were 1910, an increase of 185 in four years; from other sources of information it seems likely that 40 or more houses were added in 1914.

WILL BE A CANDIDATE.

Representative W. F. Prime has decided to be a candidate for Senator in this Senatorial district. He has been promised the support of voters all over the district and the indications are that he will poll a large vote at the primaries.

BAPTIST NEWS.

The Church has been honored with a memorial gift. The new concrete sidewalk leading from the Church to the curbing around the Church grounds, now in process of construction, are the generous gift of Mrs. Charles E. Corey in memory of her father, Deacon Francis Stillman Richardson, who was deacon for a score of years, and rendered faithful, efficient and conspicuous service in the varied activities of the church years ago.

The memory of Deacon Richardson still lingers as a precious heritage among the older members of the Church who knew him. Often in the prayer meetings appreciative words are spoken as a tribute to his saintly life, his earnest testimonies and prayers. And this beautiful memorial gift, which adds much to the beauty of the corner and the Church grounds, is most deeply appreciated by the Church.

The work at present is only partially complete. The grading of the grounds will be done in the fall.

During the next three weeks the union services will be held in this Church. Also there will be a union Sunday School each Sunday at noon. The members and friends of the Church extend a most sincere and hearty welcome to all to worship here through these weeks, and earnestly desire that the house of God may be the gate of Heaven, the place of vision and inspiration to all.

BIRTHS.

A daughter was born on Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. William Laidlaw of 17 Salem street.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Shaw of Harvard street are the parents of a daughter, born at the Winchester Hospital last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Jones of Crested road are the parents of a daughter, born at the Winchester Hospital Sunday.

so that the five-year increase in 1915 was apparently about 225.

The marked gains in school population, in assessed polls, and in the number of dwelling houses are at least presumptive evidence that the announced increase in total population of only seven is incorrect, and that there must have been errors of enumeration or of tabulation. Figures are given for the various aspects of growth from 1905 to 1910 and from 1910 to 1915 for comparative purposes for the two five-year periods.

The checking up of the census enumerators' lists with the assessors' list of polls, as mentioned by Mr. Gettemy, will doubtless throw some light on possible mistakes or omissions. With reference to the estimates of total population made by assessors generally, it may be said, so far as Winchester is concerned, that our assessors in 1910 estimated the population at 9180, which was 129 below the actual population; their estimate for 1915 was 10280, or more than 900 in excess of the State returns. As two of the three present assessors were also on the board in 1910, it is probable that they were as careful in their estimate now as then, and that this fact, together with the other considerations indicated above, may fairly raise the presumption of possible error in the report of the State census bureau.

GRADE CROSSING.

Closing Arguments of Mr. C. F. Dutch, Town Counsel.

The hearing before the Public Service Commission in opposition to the plan proposed by the special commission on the abolition of the grade crossing came to a close Monday afternoon. A bridge at the station was recommended by the special commission and this was vigorously opposed by the town, which objected to closing up Main street in the square, a tunnel under the tracks for foot passengers and a detour of almost a half mile for vehicles. It was also contended that there would be great injury to property in the square, and also much inconvenience to the travelling public, besides marring the centre of the town.

The town's side of the case was very ably handled throughout by Town Counsel Dutch.

The Town requested the Commission to certify that the adoption of the plan proposed by the special commission would not be consistent with public interests. The bulk of the arguments of Charles S. Pierce, Esq., for the Boston & Maine Railroad and of E. O. Burdett, Esq., as counsel for the Bay State Street Railway were directed at confining the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission so that it should not consider the grade crossing plan upon its merits but simply pass on the questions of distributing and conserving the funds made available by the Commonwealth to assist in the elimination of grade crossings. They argued further and asked the Commission to rule that if it has jurisdiction to go into the merits, it must give every reasonable presumption in favor of the report of the special commission and not refuse to certify the plan unless it is palpably and grossly wrong and inconsistent with public interests. Both the Railroad and the Railway urged the Commission to give its approval to the plan unless it is palpably and grossly wrong and inconsistent with public interests. Mr. Burdett suggested, however, that if the Commission did not feel that it could do so, it might go outside of the limitations which he had argued and informally suggest to the parties what it considered to be a fair and adequate plan and endeavor to have this suggestion adopted. Such a plan would be to substantially the plan which the Town has desired, in which case the Commission might bring about some agreement as to what further payment the Town should make to secure its plan. He further stated that he believed the Bay State Street Railway would not only adhere to its former proposition to pay its statutory share of an abolition costing not over $300,000 but would in renewing that proposition pay its share up to a figure which would, considering the present cost of doing such work, be a fair equivalent today. He would further undertake that his client would respond reasonably to any suggestion which might be made by the Public Service Commission for the carrying out of the Town Plan or such other fair and adequate plan as the Commission might recommend. It should be noted that Mr. Pierce, for the Railroad, at a previous hearing said that he could not renew Mr. Tuttle's proposition to contribute to $300,000 and that the most he would say was that the Railroad would contribute toward any plan an amount not exceeding its share of the cost of the plan of the special commission.

The closing argument was made by Town Counsel Dutch. Taking up first the question of the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission, he analyzed the present law in the light of the Commission had of necessity full jurisdiction to go into the merits of the case in order to comply with the statutory requirement that after notice and a hearing it certify not only the financial matters expressly recited in the statute, but also the "adoption of the plan is consistent with the public interests." He pointed out that the Commission had exercised just such jurisdiction in several cases during the last five years and that, as it acted as an administrative and not a judicial body, it was not bound by any presumption in favor of the report of the special commission. He cited similar provisions in other statutes.

He then discussed the standards which the Commission should apply in the exercise of its jurisdiction to determine whether the plan in question is consistent with the public interests and insisted that Winchester did not ask that the matter be decided from its point of view but that it was quite content that the problem be settled as the Commission would settle it if the Commonwealth owned and operated the railroad and railways and the Town. Work should be done right for all time with reference to its appearance, its convenience, as insisted on by court decisions and with reference to rapid and safe transit for all concerned. He argued that by law Winchester is entitled not to a way a commission might consider sufficient for her needs but to a fair equivalent and adequate substitute for its present facilities, whether that substitute be substantially in the same location as the present crossings or within such reasonable radius as the law permits. He referred to evidence of the Town Engineer showing that Winchester Centre and the streets leading to it have reached their present proportions as a result of many expensive widenings and that even now the Town is confronted with the necessity for further highway facilities.

Mr. Dutch then analyzed the various plans which have been suggested. The Town Plan, calling for a depression of the tracks at the present crossings four feet and the raising of a deck bridge in three spans with a width on the East of 100 feet and the West of 145 feet, calls for nothing except strictly grade crossing work. It is admitted that in this form it certainly does not give more than a fair equivalent. The evidence with respect to expense of the Town Plan was then carefully analyzed and counsel admitted that the cost, apart from land damage, should not exceed $100,000 and that the land damages should not exceed $150,000, making an outside total of $250,000. Mr. Dutch then gave figures based on the Railroad's testimony of the cost of abolitions in places such as Western, Waltham, Waverley and Belmont, showing that on a corresponding basis of population and valuation Winchester crossings would justify and expenditure of from $300,000 to $300,000. The metropolitan character of our crossings was then pointed out.

The special commission's plan was then analyzed and clearly shown to be harmful in looks, most inconvenient, entirely inadequate and destructive of rapid and safe transit. It was shown that, while its first cost may be low, the ultimate cost, particularly to the Town and the Commonwealth, would be very great. In conclusion the Town Counsel submitted that the Commission could not possibly certify that the special commission's plan was consistent with the requirements of the law or with the public interests; that in fact, as the Railroad had suggested, the problem is to submit a plan which will give a fair equivalent and adequate substitute, convenient and safe for all kinds of travel and he submitted that in the end the Town Plan alone would be found to fill this bill. The difficulty had been the rank exaggeration of the probable land damages and to check this bug-a-boo he believed that the Town would be willing and would vote to accept an offer by the other parties in interest for the adoption of the Town Plan under an agreement by which the Town would pay the excess of the net cost above $50,000 to the extent that the land damages should exceed $175,000. He explained that he named these figures because the Town should not be asked to assume all of the risk in order to get only what the law entitles it to, and he pointed out that no Town in the Commonwealth had ever been asked to go, or had ever gone, as far as this.

The Commission took the case under advisement and promised as early a decision as it could in view of its other official duties.

BASE BALL NOTICE.

The Calumets of Stoneham will be the attraction here Saturday, July 24th. Stoneham is represented this season by a strong club and while they have only won about one half the games they played, there should be no reason why they will not be able to put up a strong game against us. They have had a great deal of trouble trying to secure a good pitcher, and we understand that at last they are successful in getting one. Charlie Flaherty is doing the catching for them, with Beran of Marlboro on 1st, O'Reilly of New Bedford covers 2b base, Reddington with Fitchburg N. E. League this season at short, Rodgers of Twin-State League on 3rd, Larman of Worcester Academy, Blinn of the Allen School and McBevitt of the Hartford Club of the Eastern League in the outfield. This looks like a combination of good players, and they have the reputation of being good hitters. There will be a crowd from Stoneham and should there be a shower the game will be played if possible.

HOW TO KEEP COOL.

How to keep cool and clean—that is the Summer Problem, but electricity, and especially the Electric Iron, can help you to solve it. Everyone knows that more washing and ironing is done in a week in summer than in a month in winter, and therefore it is the aim of all to get it done as quickly as possible and keep cool while doing it.

The use of an Electric Iron saves time, for it does the work of three is not necessary to tramp back and forth to the stove to change the irons; and it saves fuel, for it eliminates the need of a hot fire in the stove. The ironing does not necessarily have to be done in the kitchen; by merely lengthening the cord it can be carried out on the porch, or even under a shady tree on the lawn. The Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston is now selling an Electric Iron for $25.00, as will be seen from an advertisement on another page of this paper. It is an opportunity no one should miss. An Electric Iron will help to make this summer a cooler, cleaner and more comfortable one for all.

BUILDING PERMITS.

The following permits have been issued by the Inspector of Buildings for the week ending July 22:—

Harold K. Barrows of 319 Highland avenue. Permission to move garage from Fairview terrace to 319 Highland avenue and to make such alterations necessary to comply with the law.

Application has been made by George B. Whitmore for permit to erect a wood frame dwelling on Wedgemere avenue.

APPRECIATION FROM LYNN.

Editor of the Star:—While on my vacation I visited the Town of Winchester, where I have many friends. While there I called upon Chief of Police McIntosh, my good friend, and through his courtesy was shown over the new police station. I think it something grand. I never expected to see Winchester with such a station and police force.

D. OF L. WHIST.

A most enjoyable whist party under the auspices of the charitable committee of Court Santa Maria, Daughters of Isabella, was held at the home of Mrs. T. H. Barrett of 19 Stevens street on Tuesday evening and was largely attended. A social hour followed the whist with vocal and instrumental music, and recitations. The ladies' prizes were awarded as follows: Mrs. Nowell, Miss Mabel Coty, Mrs. J. C. Sullivan, Mrs. Frank Corcoran, Mrs. M. C. Ambrose, Mrs. Murphy and Miss Davidson. The gentlemen's prizes were taken by Mr. Noonan, Mr. Conlon, Mr. C. Ambrose and Mr. Felix J. Carr.

MRS. ELLA E. HAYWARD.

Mrs. Ella E. Hayward, aged 61 years, widow of late Charles L. Hayward, died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William S. Forbes, on Swan road.

Mrs. Hayward was a native of Bangor, Maine, where she resided for the greater part of her life. She was the daughter of Charles W. and Avila (Turner) Gould. During recent years she had made her home in Boston, and her death came after an illness of two months following an operation at the Corey Hill Hospital.

The funeral services will be held from the Forbes residence Sunday forenoon. The remains will be cremated at Mt. Auburn.

Ancient Governments Similar. The Aztecs and the Incas had governments much like those of European nations of the same era. Anthropologists do not consider this an evidence that there existed a prophetic link between the old and the new worlds. Men under similar environments develop similar institutions.

Modern Methods in Philippines. The practice of planting cowpeas on sugar lands between crops to increase the soil fertility is being successfully introduced in the Philippines.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

The habit of being courteous is an asset in the home or in business. There was never a gruff boss, a snarly clerk or a crumby head of a family who wasn't a misfit. Courtesy is as much the sunshine of righteousness as love. A snarly-yow does not look well even in prayer, because in every other attitude of life he is a menace to the peace of mind of all in his environment. A shallow idea exists that discourtesy to menials is a mark of superiority, when it is simply a cause for shame. A courteous demeanor radiates pleasure and attracts profits—it increases friendly relations and even promotes a Winchesterite's income. In the home, the church, the business office, the store, the factory, the street, the ditch, courtesy is recognized as a promoting quality. It is the initial of efficiency in all the walks of life—it is the social sweetness which adds pleasure to all human associations.

The Spectator would emphasize that it is well for the human mind to become awakened to the steps which lead to exercises of every sort—of every nature. We do not go wrong all at once. Intemperance of every sort is gradual. Habit does not grip us like a policeman but weaves its web about us as carefully as a spider traps a fly. There is a little delight which thrills our senses, a slight charm which touches our affections, an appeal to the understanding which we recognize and grant. In response to conscience we hesitate, but our devoted senses prompt us to go on. "There is no harm in it," says Delight, and this is the signal for a halt. When conscience senses danger the Tempter usually whispers "There is no harm in it!" We are not too far gone then to retrace our steps; but we soon shall be if we still follow the Little Delight which thrills our senses. "The chains of habit," says Johnson, "are generally too small to be felt until they are too strong to be broken." It does not do to slumber or sing when we are in peril. Vigilance is the price of freedom from habit as well as freedom from oppressive government.

The angler goes forth to discover the wily trout in the deep pools and shady corners of the brooks and to entice him to partake of something good lapped over a concealed hook, that he may be rolled in moss and pucked away in his creel until he is cleaned and dusted in meal and committed to the frying pan. The trout may regard every angler in rubber boots as a Knave with reason; and we here in Winchester and elsewhere are inclined to regard most of them as belonging to the tribe of Ananias. But is there any true reason why a fisherman should become untruthful? A reputable author says he once knew a truthful fisherman, but he is dead. The Spectator is inclined to think it possible that Isak Walton knew better how to cook fish than he knew how to be about them. When fishermen sit down to swap stories the "whopper" will appear. The biggest story never gets away if the biggest fish does. The Spectator notices that none of the anglers ever attempt to excel the story about Jonah and the whale. We do not know whether St. Peter endorsed that story or not, but we shall assume he did; and as he was a fisherman with a fisherman's failings, and holds the key of the golden gate he may have a kindly regard for the fisherman when they come his way. This is said to be the only hope of Heaven the anglers entertain.

It is an excellent thing to store the mind with treasures for they may be drawn upon when material resources seem to have failed. It is as necessary to accumulate knowledge as to hoard money if you would feel secure. Divine precepts exceed in value anything money can buy; and they afford consolation and keep the light of hope ablaze long after material dependencies have lost their power. Money squares a Winchesterite's bank account; but Divine precepts square his life if he gives heed to them. The only well-balanced life is the one which keeps the mind richer in deposits than the pocket. When a man comes out of business with a large accumulation of selfishness and money he finds himself unbalanced. He loses his mind because he has neglected it, and then weeps because he thinks he is poor when he has accumulated vast wealth for his heirs. Material wealth is always more or less of a snare to ourselves and temptation to others, while spiritual riches give force to prayers, beauty to the imagination and fixity to hope.

Comfortable Bed for Baby. Tables are carried on, or rather in, long pillows by the peasant women in Hungary. A baby is laid on the pillow, the end is lapped over and is usually long enough to come up to the infant's chin. A string is tied around the pillow, holding it close about the youngster, thus making a snug and comfortable little bed.

TRADERS' DAY OUTING.

Plans Underway for Enjoyment by All.

Traders' Day is Wednesday, August 4. Housekeepers take notice, for on that day all of the stores and business houses in Winchester will close and clerks and their friends will enjoy an outing at Canobie Lake.

The committee in charge, divided into three groups, is busy at work on the final arrangements, which it is anticipated, will make the day this year one of the best ever held.

The trip to Canobie Lake will be made by special cars leaving the centre Wednesday morning, and this in itself is well worth enjoying, being one of the most enjoyable trolley rides in this vicinity. A feature this summer will be a free lunch with coffee and tonic. The usual ball game will be held in the morning between the married and single men, the former team to be captained by Christopher Sullivan and the bachelors by John Piccolo. The program of sports will include contests and races for men, ladies and children, and suitable prizes will be given the winners. This feature always attracts lots of fun and is keenly entered into by all.

In addition to the features which are being prepared by the committee, the lake itself offers many attractions with its fine boating, theatre, roller coaster, bowling, skating, etc.

Announcement of the fall teams, the list of sports, time of departure, etc., will be given in next week's Star.

The tickets are 75 cents for adults and 40 cents for children under 13 years of age, and can be obtained at Knight's Drug Store, the Home Market and Sullivan's Barber Shop.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

July 19, 1915.

Board met at 7:30 p. m., all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Messenger of Washington street are mourning the death of a pet squirrel who died Monday. A few weeks ago Mrs. Messenger found a baby squirrel on her grounds with a broken leg. She brought it into the house and by careful feeding, saved it from an untimely end. It soon became quite a pet, had no desire to go out into the world and never seemed more contented than when on Mrs. Messenger's shoulders. Had any person approach her, the squirrel showed its teeth at them. It is thought the heat killed it.

A swarm of bees made things interesting for motorists and others who had occasion to pass up Main street just north of the centre Saturday. Where the bees came from no one seems to know, but they swarmed in the street near Mullen's lunch room. Among those who encountered them to their sorrow was John Tansy, engineer of the steam roller, who was working in the centre. John was stung quite badly about the face and neck. When he had occasion to again pass where the bees were with his roller he opened wide his blower and the escaping steam drove the bees away from the machine. Later, boys attempted to capture the swarm.

When San Francisco was swept by flames

the Hartford Fire Insurance Company was put to the supreme test of paying out Ten Million Dollars. With its local office and its records swept away, the adjusting and paying of claims was immediately taken up and its indebtedness to 6,000 policy-holders was promptly paid in full.

We represent the Hartford here because it has honorably met and promptly paid every honest loss for over one hundred years. Its name should be on your policy, and we can put it there.

The fact that Thaw is now again at liberty is a clear victory for money over justice. But for the riches of the Thaw family he would have disappeared from sight one year ago.

About as many persons are away from town on vacations as usual. And yet, from the bottom of their hearts, if asked, they would say that Winchester affords the most comforts during the summer months, and in fact all the year.

The decline of the hill towns in population seems somewhat checked according to the figures of the census just made public. The advance in population of towns like Ashfield, Heath, Leverett and Shutesbury seems significant. Wendell shows the very heavy loss of 115.

About everywhere in the State the tax rate has gone up this year two or three dollars more than it was last year. The cause for this is the State tax levy which is a million dollars more than last year. The cities and towns have had to raise money to keep rates down, but of what use is this when the State is not inclined to assist.

It cost the town of Wakefield the sum of $127.61 for the recent audit of the accounts of that town made by the State Bureau of Statistics. When this subject came up here in Winchester, it was decided by the citizens that the present system of bookkeeping was fully equal to that of the State Bureau, besides being very close to its system. Furthermore the town looked upon the charges by the State for auditing as being extravagant.

For the many comforts in life that Winchester offers, there is no town in the State that gives so much to inhabitants for taxes paid as she does. Splendid schools, excellent water, the best kept streets in this section, an able fire department, adequate sewers, an up-to-date public library and a watchful police department, all these Winchester has, and no inhabitant would want it otherwise. And yet our tax rate is among the lowest in the State of those towns who make any pretense of providing home comforts.

The hearings before the Public Service Commission on the proposed by the town against the special grade Crossing Commissioners plan of a bridge at the station as an adequate elimination of the present grade crossing, came to an end Monday afternoon after all the evidences and arguments of counsel had been submitted. After a review of the testimony presented at the hearings, the Commission will report. The town's case has been handled admirably by Town Counsel Dutch who has made a study of the matter. The consensus of opinion is that the Public Service Commission will report against the plan of the special commission. We do not see how it could do otherwise than prevent a lasting and great injury to the town. When the whole matter is sifted, it comes down to dollars. If the town is willing to bear the extra expense, if there is any, then it can have what it desires, and that is the preservation of the present lines of travel, with a bridge over the square at the centre of the town and not have the town split in halves.

Serbian Superstition.
On the eve of St. Barbara's day in Serbia it is a custom to boil a small portion of every species of grain in a pot over a woodfire. In the morning the surface of the grain is critically examined, and should it be uneven it is thought a good omen. The grain is then thrown in spoonfuls into a neighbor's street, and if three wishes are asked for, they are always said to be granted.

AS IT IS IN ALBANIA.

A Pitiful Story of a Brave People—A True Narrative.

Rev. C. Telford Erickson, missionary of the American Board to Albania, who was compelled to leave the country temporarily, has made a journey of investigation from Rome to the three coast cities of Albania, Valona, Durazzo and Scutari. He has sent to the Secretaries of the Board, in America, an account of the desperate situation in this state left without ruler or protector, distracted with civil strife and now invaded by the armies of Serbia. Mr. Erickson writes: "As I pass up the road to the city from the boat landing, I notice on the right in an olive grove some thatched shelters, about two dozen of them. The land is low and pools of green-seamed water are all about; perhaps one hundred people are living there. This is half the original number—the other half now resting in the improvised cemetery not far away. An Albanian friend, Islam Bey, is with me. He too had suffered; houses burned, property destroyed, or carried off, animals driven away, family scattered, and he knew how to sympathize. We gathered the little company together, three men, the rest women and children. A few men were in the town trying to pick up an odd job and earn a penny or two; others had been killed by the Greeks before they got away; many died by sheer, deliberate starvation and deprivation. There wasn't enough for all to keep alive and they denied themselves and gave the family what there was. This I ascertained consisted now of a little handful of corn meal, decayed and mouldy, mixed with nettle leaves and stewed in a pot. One grandmother had managed, God only knows how, to get a few pennies to buy wool and is spinning yarn to make a pair of socks to sell—she may make five cents on her transaction. She needs them herself, poor thing, but socks are a luxury in this community."

I cross from the lowland up a hill overlooking the city. It is a beautiful place, high, healthful and clean before seen the clear waters of the bay with ships lying quietly at anchor. Here is a camp of seventeen shelters—surely it will be a delightful contrast now to what I have just seen below in the miasmic lowland; but no sooner do I come within hearing than my ears are tortured with the death wail of another mother. Once heard it can never be forgotten! This mother had just lost her little two year old boy. He couldn't stand the fare of thistle leaves and decayed corn meal and no 'manna fell'.

I pass from the olive grove down into the city. Its narrow, cobbled, rambling streets are swarming with men, an army of unemployed thousands of them, with latent strength enough locked up in their muscles (given a few good meals) to build cities, lay forests, construct railways and highways, extract from the ground its mineral wealth, prepare fields for golden harvests and they have the will and mind and heart to do; and out beyond the city is a land needing all of these and ready richly to reward every effort. This is no 'strife' of discontented workmen, asking higher pay and shorter hours. Pay sufficient to put bread—just corn meal stirred up with water and baked over the coals, bread an American dog would turn up his nose at,—to put enough of that into the mouths of their women and children and themselves to keep them alive,—that is what they want. Here they are moving up and down the streets like a sluggish tide that has lost its way, or like a plague-stricken army, stolid, stunned, helpless.

Groups of them linger by the public ovens, or the vegetable market in the hope that some scrap will fall which they can grab; others slump down in some shady place, often in the cemetery as though hoping Death itself might summon them. There is always a great crowd before the government building where relief is sometimes issued to a few of the most desperate cases, but if they gave to all and all they needed, the supply wouldn't last a week and they must make it last months for all they see.

I turned into some of the refugee quarters within the city—abandoned buildings, garrets with the roofs fallen in and the floor half rotted out. I climbed into such a room on a ladder that only a skilled acrobat should undertake, and there I found eleven people, all women and children. The men were dead. One had been killed while trying to escape with his wife eight months before; she is here now on the eve of childbirth. A girl of fourteen is lying at the point of death over in one corner; her father and mother were both killed by the Greeks before they could get away. Another woman had lost her husband a few days before; she had two little children! What wonder that my friend said to me that marriage here in Albania should be the time of weeping and wailing and not funerals, for it is sadder to bring children into the world for such a fate as awaits them here, than it is to die.

I went to a mosque where eighty-four people were sheltered. Shelves had been built on the sides like an opium den for the people to climb into and sleep; but they were not needed now as there was room on the floor for all, since sixty-four had died during the winter months.

Some men came to my room to talk with me. One had been a judge in his district, honored, respected, a man of position and wealth. Today he was carrying stone for a bit of road construction going on in the city for a few pennies a day. Here is another man who was superintendent of education in his district, with all the marks of a professor and teacher and student; refined, alert, face freshly shaven, nails clean and neatly trimmed, and yet that man and his family were all but literally starving. Here is a man belonging to one of the most distinguished Albanian families; in any land he would be honored as a noble, self-sacrificing patriot; but where he lived, by the irony of European politics, petted, had become a crime and he was among the first to pay the penalty for it. Houses burned, household goods pillaged, his great farm devastated and robbed of all it contained, living or movable. His family is scattered here and there and he is a refugee. He has two splendid sons, thirteen and sixteen years of age whom he longs to send to America to be educated. They loathe to work their way and to study and grow into noble manhood."

The American Board, whose Treasurer is Frank H. Wiggins, 14 Beacon Street, Boston, will be glad to receive and forward to Mr. Erickson for wide relief distribution, any funds which may be entrusted to its care by those who would respond to this trustworthy and terrible story.

HOW TO KEEP WELL.

Do you ever stop to think what it is that makes you ill? There is always a reason for illness. Disappointment is a great breeder of ill health. When something goes decidedly contrary to one's wishes it seems as if a great weight had dropped down through the entire body. A feeling of weight and also of weakness follows quickly after the shock of the disappointment.

A fit of temper has much the same effect. In this case the result is often feverishness, where in the case of disappointment low vitality seems to follow. The treatment for ill health depends upon its cause nearly always. For pain caused by overwork we need rest, and it is necessary to take it. To work until one is tired is no hardship if rest may be had then. To go on working beyond this point causes exhaustion which seriously undermines one's health if continued for any length of time.

Cheerfulness and happiness are necessary to good health. Brooding and worrying over trifles fills the doctor's purse, while it empties that of the person who grieves. Children feel the gloom of worrying parents and are seriously affected by it. Sensitive children have become victims of all manner of nervous diseases through fright and ridicule. Nerving deadens ambition and makes a stupid doll of even a bright child in time.

Half the headaches in the world are caused by worrying and nagging. A persistent effort to keep cheerful and happy cannot be without effect. It will in time become a habit, and when it does ill health will vanish. Not only the ill health of the person chiefly concerned, but of all the immediate family who have been feeling depressed by the gloomy atmosphere. Children who have plenty of fresh air and sunshine, sleep, good food, warm clothing, amusement and cheerful, loving parents cannot help being well and good.

MEANS ASSOCIATION OPPOSED TO WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE.

The Antis are often asked "Why do not the men take up your cause if it is so good?" They do and here is the answer submitted by the Men's Association against Extension of Woman Suffrage.

1. Suffrage as interpreted by the United States Supreme Court is not a natural, inherent, or inalienable right. Were it such, then it should be universal, without limitation or regulation. Such a theory would bar limitations as to age and ability to read and write, and regulations as to enrollment, all of which are admittedly necessary.

2. The fundamental question is whether the further extension of suffrage to women will promote the general welfare.

3. Taxation without representation may be tyrannical, but the taxation of the property of women in Massachusetts is not tyrannical. In our laws relating to taxation, the only distinctions based on sex are in favor of women. Widows and unmarried women above the age of twenty-one have the benefit of exemption from taxation of property to the amount of $500 more than men, and women are not, like men, subject to a poll tax.

Taxation with representation may be tyrannical. If a majority of the voters have but little taxable property, they may be tyrannical to those who have more. Woman suffrage will increase the percentage of those voters having little or no taxable property. The socialist party advocates woman suffrage. Its chief aim is to force an equal division of property. The methods of taxation which would bring about such a result would be tyrannical in the extreme.

4. Will woman suffrage tend to make homes more happy, comfortable, attractive and peaceful or in any way more perfect? Will it tend to strengthen the bond between wife and husband? Will it help mothers to take better care of their children? Will it make children happier or better?

Is it not calculated to bring about just the opposite results? Anything which permanently injures the home cannot be for common good.

5. It is urged that if women voted they could compel employers to give them better wages. Obviously, however, legislation requiring the payment to women of higher wages than those determined by the unwritten but universal law of supply and demand must result in their failure to get employment, unless, indeed, the law goes farther and bars men from competition. There is reason to believe that woman, armed with the ballot, will not be able to protect herself as well as she is now protected by the loyalty of man. An examination of the laws of States in which women vote will show that the ballot has not secured for them advantages superior to those enjoyed in non-woman-suffrage states. If woman should be put by law on exactly the same footing as man, she surely would not be as well off as she is now.

6. The influence of woman, voting, will not be the same as that which she now exercises. It will become more like that of man, and those who appreciate most highly her present influence fear that much will be lost and nothing gained.

7. Will woman suffrage bring about a better administration of the business affairs of a city, or town, or State? There are no legal barriers which prevent a woman from entering into any business which she may select. There are more women than men in this state, and yet, as is well known, for every woman conducting business on her own account there are hundreds of men so engaged. The men of our state have a wider and more intimate knowledge of business affairs than have the women. That women appreciate this is shown by the fact that when they have to entrust the care of their property to others they generally select men rather than women for that purpose. By reason of their comparative lack of experience, necessarily resulting from their natural sphere and environment as distinguished from that of men, the judgment of women as a whole on business affairs cannot be as good and safe as that of men. The administration of public business by men is far from perfect. It will not be improved by increasing the percentage which the uninformed vote bears to the whole. The corrupt politician gets his principal support from the multitude of the well-meaning but misinformed. 8. Civilization depends upon, and advances through division of labor. The power of a vote involves the duty to cast that vote intelligently and effectively. To do this, a citizen must keep himself informed throughout the year as to public men and their changes, and he must do his share toward the adoption of right principles and the selection and election of the best men. This, much, at least, every voter should do. It takes both time and strength and is sometimes very burdensome. This burden, if thrown upon woman, will have less opportunity for, and more difficulty in, keeping herself informed. If woman undertakes it, her present ability to do other work for which she is specially fitted will be impaired. That there should be a division of labor between man and woman is plainly indicated by their functional differences.

9. The heavy and dangerous work of the world is not for women. They should not be called upon or permitted to perform police or military duty. Power and responsibility should go together. The fact that it is man who must enforce the laws, support state policies, and defend our homes is a reason why he alone should have the power to make the laws and determine the policies. Republicanism for results, sobers judgment and conducts the wise action.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a running ear or a deaf ear, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed for ever, and this is what is called a catarrh of the Eustachian tube. $25,000,000 A MONTH SAVED FOR CAR OWNERS.

In an interview, Mr. E. C. Tibbitts, Advertising Director, R. F. Goodrich Co., Akron, Ohio, had the following to say regarding $25,000,000 a month saved for car owners this year.

"There are 1,923,951 automobiles now State-licensed, and running in the United States.

Of these, 1,783,951 are pleasure cars,—i. e., exclusive of trucks, etc.

More than 90 per cent of them, or about 1,605,555, use pneumatic tires.

Each car will wear out and replace, on average, about one set of four tires per year.

Therefore, the interests of each car-owner, as well as each car manufacturer, each car-dealer, and salesman, is vitally and personally affected by the price of tires to consumers.

Because,—tires and gasoline are the two big items of consumption in the operation of motor cars.

The potential, or prospective, car-owner who fails to buy a car because of the high cost of tires and gasoline,—he who sells his car and does not buy again because of "the high cost of tires and gasoline"—or he who, for the same reason, stores his car and does not run it during a considerable part of the year, is a direct loss to—

1st—Automobile manufacturers as a class,

2nd—Automobile dealers, as a class,

3rd—Garage owners, as a class,

4th—Lubrication and gasoline manufacturers, as a class.

But,—he is a greater loss to Tire manufacturers, and dealers, as a class, than to any others.

Because,—

Gasoline and lubricants, for instance, can be sold to the owners of motor boats, stationary, and other motors.

But, automobile tires can only be sold, in the ultimate, to the man who owns a car, and who wears out tires through using it.

Every mile that each automobile runs means an automatic sale of tires to replace that mileage with new tires.

The market for tires is therefore limited, inelastic, to the number of cars running, and the mileage which each owner is induced to run yearly.

Therefore, we opine that to promote greater sales, and greater use, of automobiles, few better incentives can be offered than markedly-lowered cost. To Consumers, for tires and gasoline.

That is why we favor the lowest possible price for tires,—to consumers, consistent with maintenance of high quality and a fair profit to dealer and manufacturer.

So this, then, is a leading reason why we initiated and propagated, that Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement which we publicly announced in the press on Jan. 31, 1915, and which caused practically every pneumatic tire manufacturer in this country to follow our lead and bring his prices down to a fair level.

This is also the reason why some tire manufacturers, who could not, or would not, "meet" our basic prices for pneumatic tires,—even though our "Fair-List" propaganda obliged them to make heavy reductions of their former lists,—might erroneously suppose that "Goodrich" tires have been cheapened in quality, as well as in price.

We will cheerfully pay for any Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" Tire, sold since our "Fair-List" price reduction (announced on January 31, 1915), which when cut open shows any reduction in quality, in number of layers of canvas, in thickness, or quality of rubber, when compared with any other Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" made by us, and sold at our higher prices current before the Goodrich "Fair-List" movement.

And,—this is further to authorize any tire-user to extend this offer (at our expense) to any tire dealer, or manufacturer.

We ask car-owners, and tire consumers, in their own interest, to see that no "implication" of lowered quality in Goodrich tires goes unchallenged,—just as we have protected their interests, for our own sake, through our "Fair-List" propaganda.

Because of that Goodrich "Fair-List" propaganda, every car-owner who now buys any make of tire sized 37x5, now saves, on each set of 4 tires, an average of about $16.27.

—Every car-owner who uses 34x4 tires of any make, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" propaganda, an average of about $26.15 per set of 4 tires.

—Every car-owner who uses 30x 2 1/2 tires, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" propaganda, an average of about $14.70 per set of 4 tires.

But, notwithstanding all this,—the fact which should loom largest to Tire Users is the contrast of 10 per cent to 40 per cent, in prices, that still exists between the low price of the best non-skid tires of fabric construction that money can buy, or the largest rubber factory in the world produce,—to wit, Goodrich Non-Skid Tires,—and all other "responsible" tires in the field.

How, and Why, — —the GOODRICH "Fair-List" Propaganda now saves Car-Owners, yearly, over $25,000,000 on Tires

THERE are 1,923,951 Automobiles now State-licensed, and running in the United States.

Of these, 1,803,951 are Pleasure Cars—i.e., exclusive of Trucks, etc.

More than 99% of them, or about 1,623,555, use Pneumatic Tires.

Each car will wear out and replace, on average, about one Set of Four Tires per year.

Therefore, the interests of each Car-Owner as well as each Car-Manufacturer, each Car-Dealer, and Salesmen, is vitally and personally affected by the price of Tires to Consumers.

Because—Tires and Gasoline are the two big items of consumption in the operation of Motor Cars.

The Owner who used his Car 14,000 Miles less per year, than he would have done, because of "the high-price of Tires and Gasoline," received that much less return from his entire investment in the Car proper.

The potential, or prospective, Car-Owner who fails to buy a Car because of "the high cost of Tires and Gasoline,"—he who sells his Car and does not buy again because of "the high cost of Tires and Gasoline"—or he who, for the same reason, stores his Car and does not run it during a considerable part of the year, is a direct loss to

—1st—Automobile Manufacturers, as a class.

—2d—Automobile Dealers, as a class.

—3d—Garage Owners, as a class.

—4th—Lubrication & Gasoline Manufacturers, as a class.

But,—he is a greater loss to TIRE Manufacturers, and Dealers, as a class, than to any others.

Because—

—Gasoline and Lubricants, for instance, can be sold to the Owners of Motor Boats, Stationary, and other Motors.

But,—Automobile Tires can only be sold, in the ultimate, to the man who OWNS a Car, and who wears out Tires through using it.

So this, then, is a leading reason why WE initiated, and propagated, that Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement, which we publicly announced in the press on Jan. 31, 1915, and which came practically every Pneumatic Tire Manufacturer in this Country to follow our lead and bring his prices down to a fairer level.

THIS is also the reason why some Tire Manufacturers, who could not, or would not, "meet" our BASIC prices for Fair-List Tires (even though our "Fair-List" Propaganda obliged them to make heavy reductions of their former List-Prices) might erroneously suppose that "Goodrich" Tires have been cheapened in Quality, as well as in price.

Hence this explanation (to the Public, to Car-Manufacturers, Dealers, Car-Salesmen, Garages, and Tire Dealers generally) that we deem it "good business" to sell the best Goodrich Tires (of fabric construction) which we ever made, at the fairest price possible for such quality.

Hence, too, the following TEST offer to Consumers,—We will cheerfully pay for any Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" Tire, sold since our "Fair-List" price-reduction (announced on January 31, 1915), which when cut open shows any reduction in quality, in number of layers of Canvas, in thickness, or quality of rubber, when compared with any other Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" made by us, and sold at our higher prices current before the Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement.

And—this is further to authorize any Tire-User to extend this Offer (at our expense) to any Tire Dealer, or Manufacturer.

We ask Car-Owners, and Tire Consumers, in their own interest, to see that no "implication" of lowered quality in Goodrich Tires goes unchallenged—just as we have protected their interests, for our own sake, through our "Fair-List" Propaganda.

BECAUSE of that GOODRICH "Fair-List" Propaganda, every Car-Owner who now buys any make of Tire sized 37 x 5, now saves on each set of 4 Tires, an average of about $16.27.

—Every Car-Owner who uses 34 x 4 Tires, of any make, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda an average of about $26.15 per Set of 4 Tires.

Made as always—

—The same reliable Construction.

—The same dependable Service.

—Nothing whatever taken out of materials or Quality, no matter what reductions in List-Price are ever made.

—Every Car-Owner who uses 30 x 3½ Tires, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda, an average of about $14.70 per Set of 4 Tires.

Other sizes in proportion.

The 1,623,555 State-licensed Car-Owners who use Pneumatic Tires now save about 20% of what they last year paid for ANY make and size, whether they be Goodrich or competing brands,—equal to more than $25,000,000 per year.

And, don't forget that this giant saving to Car-Owners was never mentioned to the Public by other Tire Manufacturing Concerns until the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda made it imperative that they extend the Saving to Consumers on their Tires, or lose business to the Goodrich Co.

But, notwithstanding all this,—the fact which should loom largest to TIRE-USERS is the contrast of 10% to 40% in prices, that still exists between the low price of the best Non-Skid Tires (of fabric construction) that money can buy, or the largest Rubber Factory in the World produce,—to wit, GOODRICH Non-Skid Tires) and all other "responsible" Tires in the field.

Compare prices and see!

Then, if you are not already a Goodrich User, do yourself (and us), the justice to buy at least one GOODRICH "Non-Skid" Tire.

Test that out for Quality, Mileage and Resilience against any other Tire at any price, which you are now using.

The result of such Test will cause you to wonder why you ever paid more for Maximum Quality, Mileage, and Resilience than the Basic price of Goodrich Non-Skid Tires?

THE B. F. GOODRICH CO., Akron, O.

ELECTION LAWS TINKERED TOO MUCH.

Just when we are beginning to understand the working of one election system, the legislature makes a change, and we have another whole system to digest.

Up to the last election, with the party enrollment plan, voters were just about mastering that system when the legislature went off on another tack and abolished party enrollment.

Had the plan then reverted back to the system in vogue before enrollment was introduced, it is probable that we would soon have forgotten the party enrollment system and remembered the old plan. It would have seemed to us that we had been on a vacation and had returned to familiar haunts again.

Instead of that, however, the legislature has inflicted another new plan on us. All of the candidates of every party will be on the same ballot at the primaries. In that respect, the ballot resembles the state election ballot. There is just one difference but that difference is so great that we prophesy that a large percentage of primary ballots next fall will be thrown aside on account of it. That difference is, that a voter can vote for candidates of only one party. If John Smith marks a cross after the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, his ballot is rendered void. He can only vote a straight ticket in the primaries.

He may have some friend running for some office in some other party and he may wish to give that candidate a complimentary vote. The minute he does such an act, his ballot is worthless.

With four or five political parties in the field and with contests in many instances among the score or more candidates to be named by each party, the probability of error in marking ballots is unusually large. It would now appear that this new method is more or less complicated and misleading.

Some few months ago there was a widespread movement on foot for a shorter and simpler ballot. Ballots from other states were exhibited as curiosities because of their length. But what has become of those ballot advocates, that they have permitted this new form to be adopted?

Probably they are already at work planning reforms which may be next adopted by the legislature. After them—what?

America is trying to make citizens. It holds out to them the privilege of self-government but the great political parties seem to be more intent upon passing legislation to confuse the new voter than to give every man an equal right to cast his ballot.

It is about time that the legislature stopped meddling with the election laws and devoted more attention to trying to reduce the tax burdens of the people of this Commonwealth.—[Middletown Mercury.]

KING'S ENGLISH.

The other night at dinner in West Philadelphia a little girl surprised her mother by saying:

"I'm not stuck on this bread."

"Margie," said her mother, reprovingly, "you want to cut that slang out."

"That's a peach of a way of correcting the child," remarked the father.

THE AUGUST STRAND MAGAZINE.

In the August Strand Magazine will be a very timely and interesting article on Mr. David Lloyd George, the first of a very interesting series of great interest to the reading public just now on the British Cabinet Ministers. These articles, as will be seen by the first paper on Lloyd George, will pertain more to the human side of the men who are leading the destinies of England in the great war now waging. They are written by a man very high in British official life, who, however, prefers not to have his name made known. But the articles carry with them the guarantee of The Strand Magazine to be correct and truthful in every respect. Other articles of especial interest include "Some New Discoveries in Natural History," describing a duel of male sticklebacks, by John J. Ward, F. E. S.; "The Art of Mimicry," as told by the leading mimics on the stage. An article rich in adventure has to do with Filming the Head-Hunters, and other articles include "A Confession Book for Artists" and "Gramophone Tricks." In his regular monthly theatrical section, "Masks and Faces," Wendell Phillips Dodge treats of matters of moment on the American stage. This number of The Strand is replete with excellent fiction, including a serial story of peculiar interest entitled "The Great German Plot," by Alan Graham. Morley Roberts contributes a short story, "The Tump and the Tiger," and other short stories include "The Explorers," by H. B. Marriott Watson; "His One Indication," by Stewart Wren; "Sam Bridges Becomes a Soldier," this being the seventh installment of Richard Marsh's splendid series touching on the war; and "The Idle Fellow," a Russian fairy tale. The number is beautifully illustrated and should prove one of the most popular magazines on the stands in August.

NEW GASOLINE LAW.

The new law concerning the sale of gasoline, recently drawn up by the fire prevention commission, will go into effect on August 1. On and after that date, the new law will be rigorously enforced.

The law states that any person may lay, for his own use, one gallon of gasoline without a permit, provided that a safety can is used. One must obtain a permit from the fire chief in order to buy from two to eleven gallons. To store from 11 to 1,100 gallons, permission must be obtained from the board of aldermen, with the fire chief's approval. If one wishes to store over 1,100 gallon of gasoline, he must first obtain a permit from the board of aldermen. This permit must also be signed by the members of the fire prevention commission.

CASES IN THE WOMEN COURT.

As a result of the recent disturbance at the lawn party of the Second Baptist Church on Cross street George W. Davis, janitor of the church, was fined $30 in the Women court Monday morning. The other youths connected with the affair who were fined $10 each were Herbert and James Latham, Ernest Hunt and John Bryan. James Hunt was fined $15. As a result of a statement made by one of the witnesses in the case last week, Henry McHugh and Harry Smith were each fined $10. During the testimony Smith made a statement that he and McHugh had fought for half an hour and Chief McIntosh got out warrants for the

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN POLITICAL QUESTIONS:

Laying aside for the moment all questions of right, you must realize, as practically every one now does, that woman suffrage is only a question of time. It is coming. It has already come in twelve States. The women of Chicago, the second city in the country, can vote for President of the United States. Soon, very soon, women will be voting throughout the country. And that means in your State.

Women today are asking for the help of every man. They want your help. They promise nothing. They threaten nothing. But in the day when equal suffrage comes, will you be known as a man who kept silent when enfranchisement was in the balance, or as a man who spoke up for women, who trusted his mother or his wife with the ballot which he trusts to his fellow men?

Equal suffrage is coming, and it is right that it should come. Will you vote for it and use your influence for it?

SPLENDID SUPPORT OF THE PRESS.

It must be gratifying to the leagues throughout the state to notice the editorial comment in the various Boston papers regarding Suffrage Campaign methods. Not only do the news items reflect Suffrage activity, but we find the following papers all giving Suffrage support in their editorial columns: Boston Post, Boston Globe, Boston American, Boston Herald-Traveler, Boston Journal, Boston Advertiser, Boston Record, and the Christian Science Monitor. The only paper in Boston that is not actively friendly to the cause of Suffrage, is the Transcript, and the Transcript is editorially neutral while its news columns have been for sometime open to Suffrage activities.

Outside of Boston there are upwards of 200 daily and weekly papers that are helping to advance the cause of Equal Suffrage. This is noticeable in the editorial, as well as in the news columns. We feel that it will not be long before practically every editor in the state will see the movement in its right light, and join forces with the great metropolitan editors as represented in the papers that we have named.

Particularly gratifying has been the support of our editorial friends in commenting on the results of the vote at Marion, at the Convention of Women's Clubs. In hardly an instance have the newspapers failed to agree that the vote was a genuine endorsement of Suffrage, so overwhelming that the contention of the Anti-Suffragists that the women of Massachusetts did not want the vote, has been answered for all time.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

There are those here in Winchester and elsewhere who say that pie three times a day is responsible for the dyspepsia of New England, and is part of that common glory which glides our history and irradiates the path of our future. While it is by no means fixed beyond controversy, there is yet reasonable ground for the belief that the Pilgrims brought over pie with them in the Mayflower. Certainly there were mighty portions of venison and also of the fruit, baked in Merry England not long before they went to Holland. The Indians never knew pie; and the Indians who were strong and warlike when the Pilgrims landed are now a weak and vanishing race, whereas the descendants of the Pilgrims possess the land. This coincidence will not be lost to thoughtful minds.

Pie and precedent go together. The men who faced the British at Concord; the men who toiled all night at Bunker Hill and fought all the next day, were pie eaters. There are several allusions to pie in Washington's correspondence. He notes on one occasion that his cook had fallen upon the discovery that apples could be made into pie. Is it not a fair presumption that this secret was imparted to him by some New England soldier? Washington's life guard was largely made up of New Englanders, and was first commanded by a New Englander. He loved pie, and he felt himself safe when encircled by the words of a hundred pie eaters.

New Englanders have developed the West, and have carried the flag and the pie to the Pacific. What was sectional has become national; pie and progress and patriotism are convertible terms.

Instead of dividing society, as Byron did, into the two great classes, the borer and the bored, The Spectator would divide mankind into the people who have sympathetic feelings and those who have not. Nothing could be more plain to any thinking Winchesterite who has studied human nature at all closely, and who himself possesses something of the sensitiveness of perception which enables him to get upon sympathetic terms with other people, than that certain people are not endurable to the faculty at all, and cannot even be made to understand what it is.

Here are two persons, for instance, who are quite equal as to endowments of mind, natural force and character and who have had an equal degree of cultivation. One of them has a gift of meeting people's thoughts and impulses half way, of divining shades of meaning, and of perceiving among the little expressions which do not mean much in themselves, but which are infinitely delightful taken in relation to situations and moods. Such a person is always instinctively reaching out for other people who have the same faculty. But the other person of the supposition to whom The Spectator has put forward is quite deficient in these pretty, nameless qualities. Every sympathetic word or attempt launched at him is simply thrown into the air. We call such a person "matter-of-fact," and yet he is often by no means without a sense of the ridiculous or without positive wit, and very often, indeed, he has the biggest heart in all Winchester.

How are we to account for the difference? We can account for it in no other way than to assume that there are people who are not sympathetic feeling, which cover over their souls just as the exterior perversity flamboyant or antenna of certain spiders cover over their bodies and make them so acutely sensitive that they are the best weather prophets that ever lived. And we must assume that, on the other hand, there are people whose nervous surfaces are as bare of such feelers as the side of Winchester's Town Hall is of strawberry blossoms.

People who have noticed this difference generally are content to call the phenomenon the possession of sympathy or the lack of it. But this word "sympathy" does not tell half the story. The ordinary idea of the meaning of this word, used in this way, is conveyed well enough in Scott's lines where he describes true love as "the secret sympathy,

The silver link, the silken tie,
Which heart to heart, and mind to mind
In body and in soul can bind."

Winchesterites interested in woman suffrage will be interested in a letter appearing in a magazine symposium on the subject of woman suffrage. It suggests interesting possibilities of aesthetic advance through the purifying influence of women voters. Here it is: "I remember going early one year to vote, and being fairly blinded by the tobacco smoke. Two hours later, when I escorted another woman, the policeman asked me if smoke was offensive; two hours later on the same errand I found not a man smoking. If one or two women could work this transformation, imagine what a power of order and beauty a polling place would be if the men only thought that most of their lady friends would drop in during the day. Doubtless there would be flowers and perchance tea and cake. One morning when my early appearance took the attending inspector by surprise, he by surprise that he had not time to wipe the tobacco juice away, he blushed and I blushed, and I went away impressed by the fact that men need women more at polling places than anywhere else. If on election day some of that beautiful influence which is so extolled in press and pulpit and yet exhorted to stay at home like a quarantined disease could be sprinkled over every election booth in the land, politics might lose its old association with adjectives denoting filth and dirt."

A great many people worry unconsciously. They do not understand why they are so tired in the morning, why their sleep was so disturbed and troubled. This mental disturbance is often caused by the habit of taking things too seriously, carrying too great a weight of responsibility. Everywhere we see people who take life too seriously. Most of us here in Winchester or elsewhere are like the motorman, who not only starts and stops the car and tries to keep from running over people, but also feels tremendous anxiety and responsibility about the motive power.

O. S. Mardin has said:—
"One of the most helpful lessons life can impart is that which shows us how to do our work as well as it can be done and then let principle take care of the result. How often have we been amazed to find things come out much better than we anticipated; to find that the great unseen Power that governs our lives through a wilderness of trial and tribulation into the open has guided our life ship through the fogs of difficulties and of sorrow, through storms of hardships and losses, safely into port."

"The pilot does not lose heart when he cannot see his way. He turns to that mysterious compass which sees as plainly in the fog, and guides as faithfully in the tempest, as when the sea is like glass. We are in touch with a Power greater than any compass, greater than any pilot, a Power that can extricate us from the most desperate situation."

FAREWELL DINNER GIVEN.
W. S. TAYLOR.

On Friday, July 23, at Vila Napoli, Nantasket, a farewell dinner was given to Mr. W. S. Taylor by a large party of New England laundry owners in his honor on the occasion of his having accepted charge of one of the departments of the American Laundry Machinery Co. in Cincinnati. This action on the part of his friends and customers was most gratifying to the officers of this great company, whose New England representative, Mr. Taylor, has been for several years and will give him a pleasant memory to carry with him all through life. It certainly was a fine tribute to Mr. Taylor on leaving his old territory to return to his former home under such splendid auspices. A feature of the occasion was the presentation to Mr. Taylor of a handsome sterling silver pitcher, duly inscribed as coming from his friends, the New England laundry owners. An earnest note of the interest taken in this farewell dinner, it can be said that, in some cases, those who attended came from considerable distances, including, besides Halifax, N. S., Portland, Me., New Haven, Conn., and Springfield, Mass. After the dinner had been partaken of, the remainder of the evening was devoted to hearing addresses from some of the laundry owners present. Letters from several who wished to come, also were read, explaining they were unable to do so, including one from Robert M. Burton, president of the company that Mr. Taylor represents. As might be expected, there was considerable jollification as well as the expression of regrets, indulged in, and at a late hour the company vended their way home by automobile or boat.

Winchester Batters Hammer Two Stoneham Pitchers All Over the Field.

By "Mack."

Say you baseball "fans" wouldn't it make you feel sorry for a manager after he went around telling his friends and a few outsiders about what he was going to do to a certain team, and then have the other team turn around and while the ever-lasting daylight out of his two pitchers and give him the surprise of his life? As we said before, wouldn't it make you feel sorry? Yes it would—not. Well, anyway, it seems to be the favorite pastime of managers in this neck of the woods to get a game with Winchester and then proceed to get together a fast bunch of players with some pitchers that is working in a league and then call their team a representative ball team. It may be baseball, but we fail to see it.

Take the game of last Saturday with Stoneham: this crowd as it stood was a good strong crowd of players, and all they needed was a good man to go to a good man as you people that witnessed the game can testify, and besides they got Mr. Skilton, the only Hackensmidt now playing ball to help out in their surprise party. Then they dug up Mr. Pollucci from Brockton to help the other pitcher in case he was needed and as events proved they made no mistake for the first pitcher failed to go the distance. Then in the outfield they had the fleet, Frank Flaherty of Georgetown University; well all told it cost them nearly $60 to put their team on the field, and what was the result? Practically the worst beating their team has received this season. They were so far outclassed that it is almost needless to write about it.

Our own team played a fine game in the field and only one error was made, and that did not come until the ninth inning, no run resulting from the play. At the bat they had the best day that they have seen in a number of games, everyone taking a whack at the ball. Blowers, Ryan and Fraiser, "busting it for fair." That Ryan is some player and that catch he made could not have been handled any better by Speaker or Cobb, while at the bat, there was no use trying to stop his drives. Blowers made one swell pop from the outfield, catching the runner standing up. Wingate played a great game at short and it is a pleasure to watch him cover second and take throws from the catchers of the other fielders. It makes no difference how they come to him, he seems to get them. Tift, as usual, pitched his steady game of ball, letting up in the sixth when he had a lead of 10 runs. While there is no need for a pitcher to work his head off when his team is so far ahead they cannot be beaten, still a shutout looks better, and then again it is really the first game that the players have lattered out for him in a long time.

Notes.

13 out of 15. The strong as well as the weak fall down before us.

It was a great game up to the fifth and then the blow-off came, with a rush that carried the Calumet crowd off their feet.

Warwick, although that was not the name he played under, is the property of the Brockton Colonial League team, and one of the best pitchers in that league.

It was poor judgment taking him out with the score 10 to 0 against him. We were wondering if the manager thought they were going to tie up the score.

"Hack" Skilton can pound the ball for leeches, but was lost at shortstop Saturday, although he has been playing short all season for Milford in the Trolley League.

Frank Flaherty in left is some speed boy, and a grand player. We were surprised that he was not used at 3b base or shortstop, as he is a first class man at either position.

What Stoneham needs is a live baseball man to handle the team for them. It seems to be every man for himself. It seems to us as though "Butch" McDevitt would make a good man for the job, as he has had plenty of experience and is out for everything in sight.

Wolurn handed the Queen Quality a beating Saturday. This evens up for the loss of a game earlier in the season. The reports say it was a hard game, but Frank Hardy handled it in good shape.

The Minute Boys are picking out the "soft" ones. They beat the Dorchester Cubs Saturday 9 to 5. Stanley Lawson of this town does the pitching for the Cubs. Wake up "Bill," are you afraid of your reputation.

Reading had another "soft" one Saturday—the M. J. Lane team of Lawrence. Probably something that did not cost over the carfare.

Wakefield won from Medford. This is the first time we ever knew Medford had a team, although the city is full of good players.

Arlington is still on the winning side. All they needed was to get rid of the dead wood on the team; this they have done, and the result is a winning team.

Oh, by the way, we forgot to include in our reply to Reading last week an acceptance of her challenge to play a series of games, also we would like to state that we do not intend to wait until the N. E. League and every other league is playing before the series take place. We stand ready now to play with our regular team and expect Brockton to do the same. Come on Reading name the time, and we will meet you, but once again we say it must be before the first of September. We do not intend to put our team against a combination of National American, New England and other Leagues, just because some other town is anxious to trim us. Come on Reading!

Reading paper please copy.

SATURDAY'S PLAY AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

The match at the Winchester Country Club Saturday afternoon was a four ball tournament. There was a good field and the event was won by Ralph S. Vinal and P. A. Hendrick with a gross of 80. Three pair tied for the best net at 71. The summary:

FATAL ACCIDENT.

John F. Drake Dies After Being Run Over.

John F. Drake, a well known resident of Cambridge street, died at his home Monday night from injuries received last Saturday when his wagon loaded with hay ran over him. He was thought to be on the road to recovery, but a hemorrhage occurred which caused the end. He was 71 years of age.

Mr. Drake was having with his son in the Edwards field off Cambridge street. Leading the horse up a slight knoll he in some way fell and the loaded wagon passed over his side. He received four broken ribs, bad bruises to one arm and a bad cut on the back of his head. He was taken to his home by a passing automobile and Dr. Arthur L. Brown immediately summoned.

Up to Monday evening it was thought that he had a chance for recovery, but complications set in and he passed away quite suddenly. Mr. Drake was a native of Roxbury, his parents being Durban T. and Priscilla (Taylor) Drake. He is survived by a wife, one son, Leslie, and a daughter, Alice, eight years old.

The funeral services were held from the residence yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

OPIUM SMUGGLERS CAPTURED BY WINCHESTER MAN.

Opium raids on the Steamship Canadian, which netted $10,000 worth of the drug, and resulted in the arrest of four men in Boston and Marlboro, was engineered and successfully carried through by William F. Plummer of 33 Westley street, Winchester, a Custom House Guard. The arrests and seizure of the "dope" were made last Friday morning at Pier 4, East Boston.

Early in the morning, Charles Loie, 32, of 22 Lincoln street, Marlboro, was arrested by United States officers, who earlier in the evening arrested Wong Hen, 34, who conducts a laundry at 9 Lowell street, West End.

When Surveyor of the Port Maynard and other officers visited the laundry at 9 Lowell street they were unable to find the men they sought. A detachment of police officers waited, however, and arrested Wong Hen about 11 o'clock. Then Surveyor Maynard motored to Marlboro, where he arrested Charles Loie.

The Bremen arrested were Harry Smith, 31 and Peter Flemming, 22. The Canadian is tied up at Pier 4, East Boston, and it was through the efforts of Custom House Guard William Plummer that the arrests were made.

When Smith and Flemming were searched 25 boxes of opium were found, totalling in value $9,975.

William F. Plummer has more than once distinguished himself in a similar manner, catching more than a few would-be smugglers. His start in the Customs service was at a position of minor nature, but his alert eye and keen mind applied to his job, brought him more than once to the attention of his superiors. His latest exploit is considered one of the most sensational bits of detective work experienced in the Boston service for some time.

DINNER TO SHERIFF FAIRBAIN.

The complimentary luncheon tendered Sheriff John R. Fairbairn at the Boston City Club, Tuesday noon was a most successful and enjoyable affair. The warmest supporter of the sheriff in his fight for re-nomination could not wish for a more representative gathering. Men prominent in all walks of life were on hand to greet Mr. Fairbairn and assure him of their hearty support. The enthusiasm and confidence shown by those present was most gratifying to the sheriff.

An appetizing luncheon was served in an informal manner and after cigars had been lighted Hon. Samuel J. Elder took the chair and paid a glowing tribute to the sheriff. He was followed by Ex-Congressman Samuel L. Powers of Newton, who in turn gave way to Congressman Frederick W. Dallinger of Cambridge. Ex-Mayor Charles H. Adams of Melrose, Hon. Raoul Beaudreau of Marlboro, and Major Charles S. Dector of Lowell, all of whom spoke in the most eulogistic manner of the sheriff and promised him their hearty support.

The last speaker was Sheriff Fairbairn and he was given an ovation as he arose to speak. The sheriff was brief in his remarks confining himself almost wholly to an informal discussion of his conduct of the office.

A notable feature of the gathering was the large number of young men present. A committee of over 200 representative men from every part of the county was appointed to take charge of and assist in the campaign of Sheriff Fairbairn.

DIRTY MILK BOTTLES.

Bottles left unwhipped by the consumer or collected by dealers when they have not been cleaned are known to be a menace to the public health and are no longer to be tolerated. Many instances of unwhipped bottles being left by housewives and collected by milkmen have come to notice and housewives and dealers both are liable to prosecution for such action.

"A milk bottle should be rinsed out immediately after the milk is removed," said the Physician Mann. "If the milk is allowed to dry on the sides of the bottle and the bottle is allowed to stand, no system of washing used will make it sterile. The bottle should be sterilized."

"Some milk dealers purchase bottles which have laid in the filth and dirt for weeks, give them a wash, which does not kill the germs they contain, and they are then filled with milk and distributed to the consumers."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it is swollen and the sound or vibration cannot pass through it. It is entirely closed, and the hearing is lost. If the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, none can be restored to its normal condition, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. We will refund your money if you do not get cured. Send for our free book, "Deafness Cannot Be Cured," by Dr. J. C. Cheney, A. Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists.

Latin America.

The term Latin America includes all the countries of South America, Central America and Mexico, so called because they were settled and people by Latin races, chiefly Spanish. They all speak the Spanish language in different degrees of purity, except Brazil, where Portuguese is the national language, and Haiti, where French is national. Portuguese and French, however, are classed as Latin languages.

NEWSPAPERS SEE ANTI SUFFRAGE.

Boston Herald Says Anti Suffrage Point When Brewery Men Voted Against Suffrage.

"The anti's scored a point here today, when the State union of the International Brotherhood of Firemen, in convention, voted not to endorse equal suffrage. It is said the action was influenced by the brewery firemen, who wield a powerful influence in the organization."

This is the exact wording of a special dispatch to the Boston Herald of July 21 from its correspondent in New Bedford.

LABOR ENDORSEMENTS.

Woman Suffrage has been very fortunate in having the hearty endorsement of the best class of laboring men. The American Federation of Labor through its great president, Samuel Gompers, has always taken a decided stand in favor of political equality for women. His splendid speech at Haverhill a few weeks ago, in which he heartily endorsed Woman Suffrage, has had a very good effect among all organized labor. Between now and Election Day, every laboring man in the state will have the importance of his vote on the Amendment brought vividly to his attention.

Only one labor organization, so far as we are able to find out, has failed to endorse Equal Suffrage. A resolution was introduced at New Bedford this week at the Convention of Stationary Firemen. The resolution could have carried the convention by a large majority if the friends of Suffrage had desired to force the vote. In this body, however, are a large number of firemen who work in breweries, known as the Brewers' Division of Stationary Firemen. These men are afraid of Votes for Women because they feel that women will endorse state wide prohibition. They asked to have the resolution tabled, and rather than have a prolonged debate on the subject, the resolution was not put to a vote. If any Anti-suffragist in your town claims that this is a victory for Anti-suffrage in the labor ranks, you can say that the resolution was not voted down but was tabled, and that with the exception of the brewery firemen, no organized labor body has ever failed to endorse Suffrage. It is not likely that the Anti-suffragists will make much capital out of the fact that the only friends they have in the labor ranks are identified with the breweries of the state.

FLY CAMPAIGN.

The fly pest says:
"The Boston used to be a joke—The comic weeklies laughed over the adventures of that insect—'The fly in the preserve' was a proverb of life's imperfections generally and the fly was a troublesome but endearing neighbor."

The joke has turned deadly serious. The fly is a bad neighbor and a treacherous foe. He paws in mud and throws on with. The fouled animal refuse is the spit he most considers his home.

From this filth to the food we eat he monopolizes blithely without the least fastidiousness of taste.

"What we do not know does not hurt us," we are told. It is what we do know that hurts us most. If we knew that the fly which just crawled in the milk pitcher carried hand luggage full of typhoid germs, we would dump out the milk with a good grace. We don't know; we drink the milk; and if the typhoid germs do not affect us it is no fault of ours.

"Swat the fly" is a sound slogan, but a sounder slogan is "Swat the filth that breeds the fly." Prevent the breeding, and the fly nuisance will abate itself without our exert.

To abate the fly nuisance everybody must help. It is no more a one-man job than a one city job. The carelessness of one family can undo the efforts of a dozen families.

It may be that the real value of the fly nuisance is to teach us that we are all likely to suffer not only from our own negligence, but from our toleration of the same sort of negligence in others. We are all rescued or all lost together.

SAVINGS BANK LIFE INSURANCE.

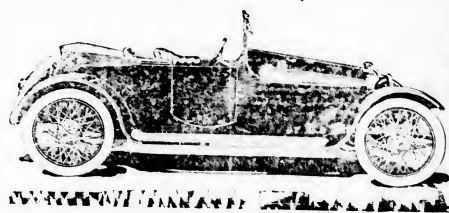

Those who have watched with interest the steady progress of Savings Bank Life Insurance will be glad to learn that the report for the month of June 1915 shows nearly $150,000 of new business written. When it is remembered that no policy can be for more than $100,000, and that about one-third of the policies are for not more than $100, each, this is a very encouraging record as indicating that the wage earners of Massachusetts are gradually coming to appreciate the advantage of buying their insurance through the Savings Banks. The statement of premium income for the month of June shows premiums received by the Insurance Departments of the Banks amounting to nearly sixteen thousand dollars.

News is now received from the Savings Banks that the number of policyholders exceeds ten thousand. This number will doubtless be rapidly increased as the Banks are now prepared to issue insurance on the lives of children down to two years of age.

Warship's "Gunroom."

The "gunroom" of a man-of-war is a cabin where midshipmen, naval cadets and other junior officers pass their time when off duty. It came to be called the gunroom because under the care of the gunner in days gone by.

THAT MARION NOTE.

Was Not the True Expression of Club Women.

The following communication was taken from the Boston Herald agent the recent meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs at Marion. Four of the seven members of the council of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs have signed a circular letter regarding the recent annual meeting, held at Marion, which, although it lacks the signatures of the three other members of the council, nevertheless requires an answer.

It is with great regret that we learn that we were misinformed with regard to the date on which the notice of the suffrage resolution was received by the clubs. We had understood that it was received on June 1, but after careful inquiry we learn that some of the clubs received the notice during the last week in May—some of them a few days earlier—and some not at all.

Had Held Last Meeting. By the time this notice was received the clubs had held their last meetings for the year—the number of clubs which had not done so is so small as to be insignificant as far as the principle involved is concerned. The statement made in the circular, "The object of the federation as defined in the constitution, 'To secure more thorough acquaintance among Women's clubs of Massachusetts and to unify their work along educational, sociological and humanitarian lines,' is entirely misleading, for Art. 3, Sec. 1 defines the kind of work to be undertaken as follows: 'Any woman's club in Massachusetts which is regularly organized with constitution or by-laws with objects unsectarian and non-partisan is eligible to membership in the Federation.' The lack is one. It is moreover difficult, according to their own limited quotation, to see how they expect to 'unify' the work of the Federation by introducing a subject about which the feeling ran so high that no 'educational, sociological and humanitarian' work beyond the perfunctory reading of reports was given a moment's consideration at the annual meeting.

That the convention was made up of 'accredited delegates' remains to be proved, for at least one delegate present and voting at the convention still has in her pocket her ticket as delegate not countersigned by the credentials committee and not asked for at the door. Second Count Taken. The circular states that the 'count on the resolution was taken on a rising vote and verified by the tellers in the usual way.' The tellers disagreed in their count of the vote and a second count was made, but in the interval, owing to the lack of order kept by the presiding officer toward the close of the meeting, many of the members had left the hall immediately after being asked to be counted against the resolution. This second count is the one which was doubted by several delegates, among others an usher who had good reason to know it to be unfair—but though the request for a recount by one person is all that is required, and is never refused in any well-ordered body, the chairman ignored the request and closed the meeting.

It has been stated by a leading member of the executive board that the 'agitation is on the part of outsiders who are not representative of the Federation.' The principal speaker in opposition to the resolution was Mrs. Mulligan, the latest ex-president of the Federation.

Mrs. Mulligan not only spoke against the resolution but also proposed 'that this action being reported to the papers as an expression of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs of 65,000 members.' (We quote from the secretary's record.) The chairman's ruling about the vote could not affect the moral issue involved.

This meeting was an effort on the part of the machine suffragists to capture, at a master stroke, the male vote in November by trying to make men believe that the majority of women want to vote, but the meeting itself was the best argument against woman suffrage ever presented in this state. It was evident that the suffragists were afraid of the vote of the club women if they were fairly notified, just as they were afraid of the women's vote at the polls and killed the Brady bill which called for a referendum of the women as to their wishes in the matter. The attempt to bring the issue by calling this referendum a 'straw vote' is the merest nonsense—the actuating motive in both cases was fear.

Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor, Miss Edith Melvin, Mrs. William Lowell Putnam, July 17, 1915.

But. The attention of the taxi driver was called to a purse lying on the floor of his car. He carefully looked around and then remarked confidentially: "Well, sir, when business is bad I sometimes put it there and leave my door open. The purse is empty, of course, but you have no idea what a number of people jump in for a short drive. I've had five within the last hour, sir."

Rye Grass. Rye grass is believed to be the oldest grass specially raised for forage, having been thus cultivated in England more than two centuries ago.

FAVORITE POEM OF ALICE STONE BLACKWELL.

The Pivotal Question.

Said Joe to Sam, in fierce debate,
Upon the woman question,
"You've answered well all other points,
Now here's my last suggestion:
When woman goes to cast her vote—
Some miles away, it may be—
Who, then, I ask, will stay at home
To rock and tend the baby?"

Said Sam, "I own you've made my case
Appear a little breezy.
Suppose you put this question by,
And ask me something easy.
Yet, since the matter seems to turn
On this, as on its axis,
Just get the one who rocked it when She went to pay her taxes."

Author unknown.

A Counterpoint.
When woman pays her taxes,
The action doth entail
No desertion of the baby,
She may send the check by mail.
And 'tis well if with the ballot
This simple plan prevails,
For we find less legislation Where the votes come through the males.

Author untold.

The average voter hardly realizes the opportunity for the loss of votes which the working out of the abolition of party enrollment will entail at the coming state primary on September 21. Heretofore the primary ballots have been separate pieces of paper for each of the parties entering. The recent verdict of the voters abolishing party enrollment means that the primary ballot will now consist of one piece of paper, with one or two columns segregated for each party. The voter must confine his markings to but one of these parties, for, if he marks for candidates in more than one party, the entire ballot is thrown out.—[Newton Graphic.]

FRATERNAL INSURANCE

There is an urgent need for an interference by the General Court in the methods of assessment insurance by so-called fraternal organizations in which the fraternal part of the insurance end of the affairs is becoming an unknown quantity. The promoters of the affairs are securely entrenched and they care but little what becomes of the rank and file. Pushed as they are, some of them, to meet their legal obligations, instead of increasing the number of assessments at the sums for which they have contracted to carry their members through, the rule-making powers have contrived and are contriving sets of laws regarding assessments evidently intended to "freeze out" the older members, those who have regularly paid their dues for years and have now arrived at the time when they are to old to insure anyone's else and in the course of human events would soon call on the organizations for the benefits that they have for years contributed towards for others.
The Royal Arcanum is a conspicuous example of this class of insurance in which the dues of the older members have been repeatedly increased until in a very large number of cases the older members, men who for a score of years have paid in their dues so that their families might be provided for in case of their death, have had their dues advanced when their earning capacity is seriously impaired and their age prevents their getting other protection until they are no longer able to bear the expense and they are forced out of the organization. A man of 60 finds his dues have advanced from about $40 a year to about $100, and at 65 years of age, when employment at remunerative wages is a serious problem with him, his dues are doubled again. He was leagued into the organization by the most specious statements; he is frozen out by what he looks upon as barefaced robbery. We use the Arcanum only as a type—other similar organizations have gone on or are going the same way. It is time for the law to interfere and protect him; indeed it was time several years ago. The law gives protection to the investor in the so-called "old line" companies; it should do the same for the so-called "fraternal" ones.—Waltham Free-Press.

ONLY A DAD

(Detroit Free Press)
Only a dad, with a tired face
Coming home from the daily race,
Brings a little bit of gold or fame
To show how well he has played the game.
But glad in his heart that his own rejoice
To see him come and to hear his voice.

Only a dad, of a blood of four.
One of ten million men or more.
Paddling along in the daily strife,
Bearing the whips and scorns of life
With never a whisper of pain or hate
For the sake of those who at home await.

Only a dad, neither rich nor proud,
Merely one of the surging crowd,
Tolling, striving, from day to day,
Facing whatever may come his way
Slient, whenever the harsh condemn,
And bearing it all for the love of them.

Only a dad, but he gives his all
To smooth the way for his children small.
Doing, with courage stern and grim,
The deeds that his father did for him.
This is the line that for him I pen,
Only a dad but the best of men.

What Baby Had Seen.

A new baby brother came to the home of little John. In his joy he brought in his pets to show the new arrival. He brought his cat and then his pet chicken, and then standing back he said in triumph, "Now the baby has seen three animals—the cat, the chicken and the stork."

"PRIDE," —that is not Vainglorious

PRIDE in perfecting the Product.
Pride in Achievement won, step by step, through frank and fair means only.

Pride in the maintenance of a high standard of Quality—in a reputation for Reliability. DEPENDABILITY—and "the Square Deal" at all times.

The B. F. Goodrich Co. has been making history in the Rubber Industry, for more than 45 years.

It has always been the Leader!
It has almost never had a "Boom," or the reaction that follows.

It has been Conservative in all its moves—never Experimenting at its Customers' Expense, yet never lagging behind first place in the Profession.

It has been the Pioneer in nearly all great Improvements made in the Working of Rubber.

And, it has grown steadily, surely, as well as stupendously, until the largest Rubber Factory in the World today, is that of The B. F. Goodrich Co., at Akron, O.

The Operations of this Factory require, and utilize, more than 75 Acres of Floor Space, and The B. F. Goodrich Co. frequently employs more than 15,000 people.

NO other Rubber Factory in the World buys so much Crude Rubber, manufacturing as it does more than 900,000,000 lbs. of Rubber Goods yearly.

It buys one-sixth of all the Taxes in the City of Akron, which City has 15 other Rubber Concerns, and more than 100,000 Population.

Some of its "White Anchor" Fire Hose, made 'way back in 1881 (30 years ago), is still doing good service, because of the Precision Principle and Quality Ambition that lie behind all Goodrich Co. products.

Every day in the year, on average, the operations of The B. F. Goodrich Co. result in its receiving more than 30,000 pieces of Mail, and more than 350 Telegrams.

It manufactures 281 Classes of Rubber Goods.

Some of these Classes subdivide into large businesses.

Thus it makes 100 kinds of Rubber Hose, 11 kinds of Rubber Tubing, 8 kinds of Insulated and other Wire, etc.

Every day, on average, The B. F. Goodrich Company Factory manufactures:

- 60 Miles of Insulated Wire.
- 14 Miles of Rubber Hose.
- 5 Miles of Rubber Belting.

Made as always,
—the same reliable Construction,
the same dependable Service—
without anything whatever taken out of Quality, no matter what reductions in List-Price are ever made.

Only 5% Plus for this Best Non-Skid Tire

Note following comparative prices. "A" "B" "C" and "D" represent four Widely-Sold Non-Skid Tires:

Size	Goodrich Safety-Tread	OTHER MAKES
		"A"	"B"	"C"	"D"
30 x 3	$9.45	$10.55	$10.95	$16.35	$18.10
30 x 3 1/2	12.20	13.35	14.20	21.70	23.60
32 x 3 1/2	14.00	15.40	16.30	22.85	25.30
34 x 4	20.35	22.30	23.80	31.15	33.55
36 x 4 1/2	28.70	32.15	33.60	41.85	41.40
37 x 5	33.90	39.60	41.80	49.65	52.05

—12,000 Battery Jars for Electric Cars, etc.

—Conveyor Belts that measure as much as five feet wide and weigh more than 3674 pounds each.

—A Hard Rubber Dept. that alone employs more than 500 men.

All this in addition to its other Departments and the 21 kinds of Rubber Tires it makes exclusive of the "Goodrich Safety-Tread" Auto Tire.

THIS Volume of Rubber Buying, Manufacturing and Selling, with the corresponding reduction of Overhead Expense when divided over so many classes, is what gives to the Goodrich Factory the lowest Cost for Tire Manufacturing of the highest Grade.

The Responsibility to so many lines of Dealers and Consumers, in so many lines of Trade, is what makes it so zealous in guarding the Quality and Value of each Product that bears the Goodrich name—so slow to launch new things until thoroughly tested—so keen to make Success sure and continuous, rather than dramatic and transient.

And of all these Goodrich Products, that which best expresses the measure of our capacity, our Experience and Good-faith is the Goodrich Safety-Tread Tire.

It does this through giving the greatest Mileage and Resilience in the field, at the fairest Cost, per Mile, to Users.

WHEN you Test these Goodrich Safety-Tread Tires, and compare with others of considerably higher price, you will then understand our Pride in Goodrich Standards and Ideals.

A pride which results in Goodrich Tires being made better each year than they have ever been, and improved with each month's output.

The Goodrich Safety-Tread Tire today gives more Mileage than our own (or any other) plain-Tread Tire, with only about 5% more Cost to you than that of our Plain Tread.

This, in line with Goodrich Co. Policy, which is to base its charges only on its low Manufacturing Cost, no matter how much more price could be obtained for the greater efficiency it develops from same materials.

Pride which results in this, concerns YOUR Pocketbook.

GOODRICH FAIR-LISTED TIRES

GOOD IN FLOWER GARDENS

Those having in charge the garden, work of the city schools are also encouraging the building of children's gardens at home. These juvenile efforts may control the whole garden or be confined to a small space only, appropriate prizes having been offered for each, and also for every possible phase of home gardening. This work should engage the serious attention of every parent to the extent of provision for children's gardens in the home premises just as soon as the hardest seasonal rains are over. Several years ago, when personally interested in the starting of school gardens in Los Angeles, the City Beautiful editor reprinted the following good reasons why children should have home gardens, and be encouraged in the work. Nearly everyone of them applies with equal force to school gardens.

1. Wherever it has been tried, the children have been more willing to stay at home and have taken more interest in the home because they love pretty things.
2. They have learned to be neat and regular in their work and to take a personal pride in it, that goes a long way toward keeping them good and happy.
3. It gives light and pleasant exercise in the open air and offers something that can be seen and enjoyed in return for the work.

4. It gives safe companionship.
5. It teaches many things about outdoor life that are worth much more than those learned in the streets.
6. It makes the child feel that he does something for the home, and this is a great safeguard.
7. It gives occupation and relieves much of the restlessness that is so trying to the mother.
8. It gives a feeling of ownership and control that strengthens character.
9. It will give flowers for the house all summer and fall.
10. A flower garden is contagious. It appeals not only to its owner, but to a wide circle of people. In doing so it, neighbors begin to realize that their houses, their lawns, their walks, their doorways, their backyards, are all great gossip that tell tales to every passer-by, and unlike most gossip, they tell the truth.—Los Angeles.

WATCH YOUR WIFE

Keep your eye on your wife. Not to keep some other man from stealing her—for wives worth having are not stealable. But keep her contented, for that will help you to keep cheerful. And to keep her cheerful—for that will keep her pretty. To keep her pretty is to help yourself keep your eyes off other women, a very necessary thing for a married man if he would be happy.

Keep in mind the girl you led to the altar—for your wife is that girl; just as good, just as lovable, just as sincere; just as honest.

Keep in mind also that you were ready to do almost anything to get her—and so you are reminded that it's up to you to make some little sacrifice in order to keep her.

Just keep your eye on your wife and do your share toward making a success of your greatest business undertaking—the business of being a happy married man.

Now is the time to have your car overhauled by competent mechanics. Prices reasonable. Mystic Valley Garage Co. Jan 9, 12

WHY IS BAD AIR.

Air is bad, when it is overheated, when it contains an excess of moisture, and when it is chemically contaminated. This is the conclusion of the New York State Commission on Ventilation, as summarized by Prof. C. E. A. Winslow, Chairman, in the official organ of The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, the Journal of the Outdoor Life.

Professor Winslow shows that while it has been a matter of common belief for a long time that stagnant air was bad for the body, until recently no one knew why this was so. The New York State Commission on Ventilation has definitely proven two counts against bad air, one of them for the first time in history, and will probably prove others later on.

The first indictment against bad air shows that an increase in temperature beyond the normal seventy degrees produces serious derangement of the vaso-motor mechanism of the body, resulting in a rise of temperature, increased pulse, and a lowered blood pressure, with a corresponding decrease in efficiency, both physical and mental. In addition to this, overheating conduces to an undesirable congestion of the mucous membranes of the nose, thus possibly paving the way for colds, sore throats, and attacks of various germ diseases.

The work of the commission also proves that chemical accumulations in the air as a result of air stagnation, bring about a decreased appetite for food, which in turn must have an unfavorable effect on the entire body. In the Commission's experiments, the people living in fresh air ate 4.12 to 13 per cent. more than those living in stagnant air.

"These experiments," says Professor Winslow, "indicate that fresh air is needed at all times, and in all places. While we have chattered our ideas as to what causes bad air, ventilation is just as essential to remove the heat produced by human bodies as it was once thought to be to remove the carbon dioxide produced by human lungs, and it is now proved also to be essential for carrying away chemical products which exert a measurable effect upon the appetite for food. People who live and work in overheated and unventilated rooms are reducing their vitality and rendering themselves an easy prey to all sorts of diseases, such as tuberculosis, pneumonia, grippe, etc."

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

When a business man goes to sleep, people are inclined to let him sleep. Don't imagine the loving public is going to come in and shake you into wakefulness, and stand around while you yawn and rub the cobwebs out of your eyes. The public is too kind-hearted to disturb the sleep of a busy man. Besides, it's too busy to go where other people are wide-awake.

That Winchester storekeeper has a mighty poor sort of business if he hasn't something that somebody wants in the summer time. It may be he will have to be a little quicker of speech to tell them about it, and a little quicker on foot when serving customers. Maybe he will have to perk up in "add" in The Star a bit to catch their eyes, for the public is going at a lively clip just now; but people will look and listen if the storekeepers get their attention, and they will buy, and buy liberally, and at good prices, if they catch their fancy. It's easy to invent for any merchant in Winchester likes it; but don't forget that some other fellow is wide-awake, and is raking in the dollars by judicious advertising in the Star while you slumber.

Winchesterites should live out of doors every moment they can during hot weather.

They should imitate the French and Germans, who close up the winter dining room with the first approach of spring and eat their meals in the open until the frost comes.

A backyard or a veranda can be so arranged that it will be attractive and free from prying eyes.

Have simpler meals and make up by using more fresh milk, fruit and green salads. These will not spoil by being served out of doors.

Sleep in the open whenever you have a chance, either on a balcony or in a tent. That is the way to expel unwelcome microbes and make up for the unhealthy shut-in months of winter.

A college educator has voiced an opinion on ideal education that thinking men and women here in Winchester and elsewhere ought to read with interest. In an article on "Educational Ideals for the Pupils" she says:

"The English language is a marvelous instrument of expression. It falls far short of its possibilities, in the choice of words, in extent and variety of vocabulary, in simplicity and beauty of arrangement, even in pronunciation and inflection. The school has a difficult problem, for, in many instances, the pupils come from homes where the spoken language is a foreign tongue; in many more it is crude and illiterate; and even when it is not, it is not in evidence one of these categories there is little attention given to the manner of speaking.

"The ideal education includes in the appreciation of beauty the beautiful in conduct. American education at heart has a regard for conduct of the highest type, but in its enthusiasm upon what it considers the essentials, truth, honor, integrity, purity, it is sometimes disposed to ignore what it would call convention. The 'defect in fine perceptions,' that is the secret of much in our American life which jars upon our finer natures. The home must bear the heavier responsibility, for it is only by early and constant training that the perceptions will be quick and keen, to avoid bad talking and laughing and unbecoming behavior, and to realize that deference toward those whose age and position demand it, consideration toward all, and the little courtesies, are a part of culture. A touch of countenance and courtesy, grace and grace, in the midst of the hurry and bustle of our modern life, is too much to ask."

A musical gentleman gives The Spectator to understand that even in a community like Winchester there are hundreds of men who are sufferers from functional heart trouble or chronic indigestion, due to lack of proper bodily exercise. Mostly the charge that one is not taking exercise enough is looked upon as an effort. It seems to be generally considered equal to saying that he is lazy or shiftless or something of that sort. But that need not be applied.

It need not necessarily follow that the man or woman who fails to exercise his body is idling his time instead. The chances are he is sticking closely to his special work to an extent sufficient to take all the life out of him, through nerve fatigue. Then he makes the mistake of thinking that he is bodily exhausted and he goes home and keeps still, or takes a drive, or indulges in some mild form of indoor recreation, or goes to a ball game or the theatre, according to the season, when what he needed was a brisk walk in the open, some stirring setting-up movements, a game of baseball with himself in the nine, or some other form of muscle stretching and organ exercise, according to his own fancy.

Of course he will object that he hasn't time for all this; but that is only self-delusion. There is lots of time; the only question is how it shall be used. Part of it must be used for exercise, whether that seems like waste or not. It is not waste. The Winchesterite who cannot keep his patience in the presence of dumb bells, pulley weights, and punch bags will certainly find the lawn mower, rake and hoe, the carpet beater, the coal shovel, furnace shaver, and ash pan much more absorbing. They give exercise a purpose and distract attention from self. They are readily available, one set or another of implements or occupations. They yield a good degree of exercise and they give a man a sense of added value in proportion to his extra usefulness. But there must be recreation and pleasure, too, and some of it also should be made to serve as bodily exercise.

A good variety in the use of time, a balance in the employment of the energies, a firm grasp upon self in all its parts, with power to dictate the safe line of procedure, and there will be less of nervous disorder and premature old age.

A layman suggests to The Spectator that there should be a revival of church discipline, but that a way be found to prevent unnecessary hard feelings among those to whom the discipline is applied. It should be automatic in its operation, therefore, affecting impartially all members who have failed for a period of six months to show a active interest in the concerns of the Church. Said the layman to The Spectator:

"Consider the present situation. Every church has a number of persons who apparently have lost all interest in her efficiency. They do not attend the services; they have no part in the work; give nothing. It does not seem wise to withdraw the hand of fellowship from them, for such action would involve the estrangement of their friends, would send the delinquent away feeling that he had been wronged, and, moreover, would exhaust all the time and energies of the average church."

Two generations ago the New England church seemed to have a sharp watch over its members, and woe to them if they strayed from the straight and narrow way! Nor did this oversight "exhaust all the time and energies" of the church, for in the thirties and forties it was more active, at least in respect to services, than it is now. Those services were better attended than they are today, and the exercise of a severe disciplinary system had the effect of causing those who by careful living were able to maintain their membership unimpaired to prize it more highly.

Probably in innumerable parishes there are record books that would speak eloquently of the constabulary and judicial functions once assumed by the church. One such book in a town not far from Winchester shows that a woman member, seventy years ago, was suspended from membership for "intemperance" and that before the three months had expired she was expelled for "drunkenness." The same yellow-paged volume tells the story of a married couple, both members of the church, who were reported to the church officials as living apart. After a long series of negotiations and repeated church meetings it was decided that, on the evidence presented by the interested parties, the woman should remain under suspension of sentence while the man should be "excommunicated."

The meaning of this old-time discipline and the modern laxity that has succeeded it is that church membership has ceased to be taken as seriously as it used to be. Most churches refuse to exercise any police or judicial control over their members. Gross cases of offense occasionally have to be dealt with, but even these are extremely exceptional. Protection churches appear to regard themselves as voluntary associations of persons who are doing the best they can, or if not their best, as well as could be expected of them. Church officers rarely inquire into the private life of those who are spiritually committed to their charge, at least to the extent of making their individual censures the subject of an ecclesiastical investigation. For better or worse, times have changed, and the churches have changed with them.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Samuel Johnson Symmes, late of Winchester in said County of Middlesex, deceased: Whereas a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to and Court for Probate, by Eunice Frances Symmes, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the thirtieth day of August, A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week for three consecutive weeks, in the Winchester Star, a newspaper published in Winchester, the last publication to be one day, at least, before issuing a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

August 2, 1915.

The Board met at 7:30 p. m. all present.

Licenses 1915 Explosives and Inflammables: Mr. F. S. Snyder applied for license to store gasoline in an underground tank at 550 Highland avenue. Assigned for hearing Aug. 10, 1915.

Licenses 1915 Garages: Applications for licenses of this class were received from J. B. Povear, 7 Sheffield road, and T. Quigley, Jr., 18 Lake street, and assigned for hearing August 23.

Hydrants: By invitation of the Board, Messrs. Barnes and White of the Water and Sewer Board appeared for evidence concerning the condition of the hydrant at the north end of Sheridan circle, and the necessity for more frequent inspections of hydrants being apparent to both boards, the Water and Sewer Board agreed to do what they could in this direction.

Cemetery: The Cemetery Board appeared and asked for the approval of this Board of the expenditure of a portion of the permanent care fund for the purpose of building a fence on the Middlesex street side and a portion of the way on the northwestern side of the cemetery. The expenditure was approved subject to further approval of the estimates and style of fence.

Sewer: Garages: Notice was received from the Metropolitan Water and Sewerage Board that they had passed the following vote on July 21, 1915, namely:

Voted: to notify the cities and towns in the Metropolitan Sewerage District that garages and other establishments connected with the public sewers when gasoline and other dangerous volatile oils are used must be supplied with a suitable trap approved by the Metropolitan Water and Sewerage Board, and that in future no such establishment shall be allowed to connect with the local sewer unless it is provided with a trap approved by the Board.

The matter was referred to the Inspector of Plumbing with request to notify the owners of any garages which connected with the sewers of the provisions of the above vote.

Main and Mt. Vernon Streets: The Chief of Police called attention to the fact that during every heavy rain water comes over the sidewalk in torrents from Brown's Block at the corner of Main and Mt. Vernon streets, particularly at the entrance to Masonic Hall on Mt. Vernon street and at the driveway of a grocery store on Main street. The Clerk was instructed to notify the owner to remedy the condition.

Sidewalks, Nelson Street: The Supt. of Streets reported a request from Mr. Michael Donovan, 58 Nelson street, that the sidewalk in front of his premises be completed. No action being possible at the present season, the request was filed.

Adjourned at 9:55 p. m.

Frank R. Miller, Clerk of Selectmen.

THE BRITISH ISLES.

Blockade Would Require Almost Impossible Sea-Strength.

"A survey of the coast geography of the British Isles shows some things of tremendous interest when considered with reference to the blockade undertaken by the Germans, the first serious blockade ever attempted against the United Kingdom," begins a bulletin just issued by the National Geographic Society, which sketches a few of the difficulties in the way of maintaining an effective blockade of the many-harbored, sea-enclined nation. The bulletin continues:

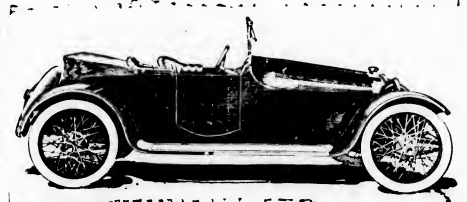

"Great Britain is a land of harbors and highly developed ports. Its foreign commerce clears from more than 120 seaports, that are situated upon every sea washing the islands. To shut off English commerce with other lands would require an almost impossible sea-strength. Moreover, besides its wealth of widely scattered harbors, the United Kingdom has a particularly irregular coastline, which would serve to greatly multiply the dangers of a blockade.

"Broken by rocky headlands, bays, and deeply penetrating inlets of the sea, the English coastline alone stretches for a distance of 2,500 miles. To the south, upon the English Channel, lie the great seaports of Plymouth, Southampton, Portsmouth, Brighton and Dover; to the east, toward the North Sea, are the ports of London, Harwich, Great Yarmouth, Hull and Newcastle; and to the west, toward the Atlantic and the Irish Sea, are Bristol, Cardiff, Swansea, and Liverpool. Hundreds of smaller ports are sprinkled in between these great harbors of world-fame.

"Of these English ports, Liverpool is said to have the best developed harbor in the world; more so, in fact, than any other harbor in the world. It is a natural harbor, and its well-developed harbors all along the way, the United Kingdom presents a problem of extreme difficulty to any power intending to maintain blockade against it."

"Ireland's greatest port, Belfast and Dublin, are situated upon her east coast on the Irish Sea. The restless breaking of a rough Atlantic over the rocky needles of her western coast has retarded the development of commercial harbors there. Limerick, upon the River Shannon, gives Ireland an important Atlantic harbor, while Queenstown is an outlet in the south and Londonderry in the north.

"With its more than 6,000 miles of coastline, and its well-developed harbors all along the way, the United Kingdom presents a problem of extreme difficulty to any power intending to maintain blockade against it."

It takes an unusual car to interest motorists today. The new SCRIPPS-BOOTH LIGHT CAR is an unusual car and revelation to even present Large Car owners.

Its price of $755 is unusual. There is no car with equal merit that sells at such a low price. This includes a smart three passenger body, beautiful upholstery, one-man top double acting wind-shields, electric starting and lighting system.

Its power is unusual for a light car. The cylinders are cast in a block.

SPRING CLEANING

"Dear me!" sighs many a housewife in the month of May, "I've been so long doing my spring cleaning this year, with nothing unusual to show for it! I allowed an advance of one day for each room in the house, including the bathroom. And I've been three weeks. Where does the time go?"

It does not take a good housekeeper, especially if she has a strong, efficient helper, as she should have for work of this sort, so very long to turn out each room and go over every inch of it. The furniture and rugs once removed, pictures taken from the walls, and closet emptied, she can clean the room itself in two or three hours. Ceiling and walls, of course, have to be cleaned down, the floor washed, lighting fixtures gone over, globes and windows washed, baseboard sanded, and in certain rooms there will be left in furniture-mantel or bookcase requiring special attention, and cleaning down the walls generally includes washing all wood trim, window and door frames and the doors themselves.

But—and in this but lies the explanation of slowness in actually finishing up the spring cleaning process—in going over each room in careful detail, many annoying little discoveries are made. For instance, when a rug is taken up to be sent to the cleaners or done in the yard, the binding is found to be ripped, or the fringed edge broken and weakened. But comes the look with pencil attached that should note in every housewife's pocket, "North bedroom rug to be mended," or better still, "North bedroom details to go over," followed by the list for that particular room.

Perhaps the one who is cleaning stands in the middle of the empty room, after all the washing and dusting are concluded. She had forgotten about that door knob on the closet, one of the boys pulled it off, and it was never put back. Things in the closet have had a way of getting extra dusty, because the door could not be tightly closed. And where is the key to this room? Not that its usual occupant has often wanted to lock the room just once in a while for some special personal reason, like Christmas gift time. She remembers, now, in connection with that door, that Aunt Sarah, whose room it happens to be, has often asked for an old-fashioned knocker on the outside, like the one on the paratively little, are so quaint and ornamental, and encourage the children to get over their impulsive way of rushing in upon the elder members of the family. Item four: "Get a knocker for north bedroom."

After noting the missing key, she makes a general shopping entry—"Key Ties." The key can be bought for twenty cents a hundred, and help immeasurably to maintain law and order in the house, particularly if Father can be induced to construct a keyhole covered with hooks, like that in a real estate office. Then, instead of a rattling bunch of confusing keys, all one must carry is the key to the place where the keys are kept.

Aunt Sarah, being of another generation, is somewhat timorous at night, and has always had a chain-bolt on her bedroom door. The housewife, running her eye down the door, mentally decides that, after all, there is something worth while in the idea; a neighbor's house was robbed last winter, but only down stairs, because the housebreakers could not get into the bedrooms. By delaying them at the upper doors, time was gained for telephoning to the police. Item five: "Chain bolts for all second floor rooms."

This suggests another burglar protective device she had seen but forgotten, and a note is made under general shopping. The device is a small flat hinge to be fastened by one of its sides upon the upper sash, four inches above the middle of the window. When this hinge is shut, the lower sash can be raised; when it is open, right-angle fashion, it only permits raising the lower sash the four inches and cannot easily be dislodged.

The bolt on Aunt Sarah's window—notes, is rusty and not a good type. And a moment's examination of the shutter reveals the catches in bad condition. Shutters are needed far more in summer to keep out the glare than in winter, and after a moment's regret that they were not thought of before the room was cleaned, she decides to take them down all over the house and have them brushed and washed in the back yard. Some of them, she discovers later, will even need painting. When the maid comes to help her remove them, one of the rusty, unseasoned hinges breaks off entirely, and occasions another renewal memorandum.

Strange, is it not, how one never notices the stained and disreputable condition of the window-shades till winter is over? In Aunt Sarah's room, perhaps, the dark green shade is good enough, though it needs to be taken down and rolled to tighten the spring. The white one, next to the sash, shows rain marks. A line is started in the note-book under "Shopping," to be scratched out later, because some one has suggested turning the shade. The note is added to that for the broken door-knob among a pile of other odd articles that will need repairing or a tinge. One room during spring cleaning time, ought to be devoted to the reception, in sorted piles, of all miscellaneous objects requiring later attention. To stop and work with them while the actual cleaning is going on is fatal. When all are accumulated, and a list has been kept as indicated, one day may even be devoted to shopping for necessary articles, or material, and then, the cleaning may move on to the next room, ready to work on the necessary refurbishing.

Chairs and other pieces of furniture that need retouching or repairing, should be passed to one side in this way, and done all at one time; unless indeed, the far-sighted mother has already been through the house, once beginning her cleaning, and so complete a list that has been made with the larger pieces. The main difficulty is that until a final turning out is done, many things are overlooked, and have to be renewed later; therefore, time is saved by doing all one kind of work and the shopping incidental to it at one time.

In sure, other than receiving harder wear than that of the ordinary suit, a complete inspection may reveal cracked panes of glass which have been hidden under the shades, faded curtains that need to be dyed; white enamel cribs or beds that in the sanctum of the one who sits up late, who, if covered with dark green silk, would cease to annoy the other members of the household.

Many of the picture frames need attention. The plain, dull-finished brown ones are the most satisfactory in the long run; but even they need to be retouched once in a while. Ordinary shoe-blackening will improve dull black ones, but shiny black frames have to be painted or enameled. Much picture wire can be dispensed with if the new wall pins are used. A homely old mirror in a varnished frame can be made into a charming glass if given three coats of white; bureau of uncertain period and inferior wood, treated in the same way with new handles or knobs on the drawers, will fetch a dull room considerably. One woman who has no bureau at all got her husband to make a broad shelf between her two bedroom windows, just high and wide enough to accommodate beneath it her drop-top sewing machine. She draped the shelf with a pretty bordered scrim, and when the white paneled mirror was brought out of the attic and hung above it, she had a dressing table that served all purposes. Tasks like these fall into the spring routine.

While, among many people, it is still a tradition that all window curtains must come down in the spring, some of us find the utter barrenness of the result a little trying, and in certain second floor rooms finding on the public thoroughfare, curtainless windows are out of the question. The best solution is to have, all the year, simple, loosely hung sill-length draperies that can be used to the sides or drawn together as they are wanted. It is not necessary to have them white. The golden-brown scrim that one housewife used, for example, harmonizes beautifully with a Mission room. Instead of putting the curtains away in the spring, this woman, if they seem a little faded, buys a package of reliable dye and redips them herself.

Portieres have a habit of discoloring in streaks; if they are to be packed away till fall, it is nevertheless a good plan to dye them first, examining them in the height of May sunlight, so that they require no attention the following winter. Between fitting the children out for school, preparing for Christmas and renewed social activities, it is a great deal harder to make time for tasks like these in October than it is in May. Have you ever thought of stenciling with dyes? It can be done, and the porch couch cover and pillow of denim you have planned will be twice as pretty for the simple decorative touch.

If your window shades have to be renewed all over the house, send for samples and catalogues from several well-known houses, and inform yourself as to what constitutes a good shade. Sometimes, a slight difference in investment will mean years more in wear. If your old ones are of good quality, it may be possible to wash them at home or to send them to a laundry; perhaps, with the soiled spots cut off and new hems made, they will do for shorter windows. Coarsely woven Holland shades make substantial drop curtains for pantry shelves, the children's bookshelves and corner corners where wear and simplicity are wanted. They are fine, even if stained, for ironing-board covers.

A special pin is made for screens. When you get out the screens and go over them, reinforce the lower halves of the doors with a heavy netting, and see that on each there is an automatic catch. A self-closing spring, and a ten cent attachment to prevent slamming are no two indispensable comforts. Remove the bathroom key en-

THE best Pneumatic Tire is only as strong as its walkers part.

Strengthening its strongest parts is as useless as putting a fifth wheel on a wagon.

Yet this is often done to provide "Selling-feature" and "Talking Point."

The weakest part of every Pneumatic Tire is its Walls or Sides, not its Tread, its Cotton Fabric or "Stocking," not its Rubber Sole.

No price would be too high to pay for a material that, replacing Cotton in the Walls of Pneumatic Tires, would last as long as the Goodrich Rubber Tread could be made to wear.

Neither Silk, nor Linen, nor any other knocka Fabric yet discovered is so good, for this purpose, as Cotton; and choice long-fibered Cotton is the best material that money can buy for Tire Fabric.

WE use nothing less in Goodrich Tires, and test every foot of it up to 380 lbs. to the Square Inch, before we percolate it with the most adhesive Rubber Compound ever made for this purpose.

We then shape this rubberized Fabric into Tires, with scrupulous care to have the tension on each square inch of fabric precisely the same—that tension being controlled by a machine as sensitive as the eye, and infinitely more precise than the handwork of the most skilled Operative could make it.

To do this work we have the most highly-trained men in the Rubber Industry, trained in the Precision that practice and our 45-year EXPERIENCE make perfect.

Because we know the vital importance of THE BEST in this part of the Tire, and use it there unsparingly.

NO Tire Manufacturer, if he received a price of $200 per Tire, could put better Fabric into the Walls of his Tires, use greater care, more sensitively adjusted Tension devices, or more adhesive Rubber between each layer of fabric.

Consider the possibility of improving the closets before you put their contents back. Of course, you have long since adopted the plan of hanging a central rod from which to suspend the dress hangers. Have you shoe-horns instead of the less substantial pockets. Have you a special cupboard for the children's playthings? And in the children's room are the books low enough for them to reach? You can lay neat strips of strong hooks for very little, and put them up yourself. Down stairs in the coat-closet, they help to keep order.

You can improve an umbrella stand for twenty cents, by using a shallow, square, black baking tin and a cheap towel rack screwed to the wall.

The odd jobs that confront one at cleaning time are innumerable. You have not realized that the clothes-pin bag was no more, but an investigation in the laundry explains why the pins have disappeared so rapidly

Made as always, —the same reliable Construction, the same dependable Service—without anything taken out of Quality, no matter what reductions in List-Price are ever made.

ROYAL ARCADE FISHING TRIP.

Catch Was Good But Some Were Sick and Many Wet.

Avergon, Conn., Royal Arcadia held its annual fishing trip, Wednesday. The party of fifteen left the center at five o'clock on a special car under the care of genial "Tim" Greene and motorman Skidmore. They arrived in Swampscott at half-past six and at seven o'clock embarked on the "Latter Day" Capt. John Haley for the fishing grounds which they reached about ten. Although the wind was quite strong, the water quite rough, it was not serious enough to interfere with the business in hand and about fifteen minutes after their arrival on the grounds, Mr. Charles Hagge, the popular cabinet maker, pulled in the first fish, a pollock. The party, with the exception of a few who succeeded to an attack of seasickness, continued their operations until about half-past one with a dinner of hot chowder, etc., at noon. About half-past one the signal was given to pull up the anchor and the crowd returned, arriving on land about three. The return to Winchester was made in the special car arriving in town about six-thirty. The prize for the largest fish went to Christian Everson, who landed a sixteen pound pollock, and the prize for the most fish went to J. F. Romkey, who caught six large pollock. In all the party landed about five hundred pounds of fish chiefly pollock with a few haddock. It was a day long to be remembered from more points of view than one.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

Some parents here in Winchester and elsewhere who think they love their children are in reality their greatest enemies. They bring out the worst that is in them because they appeal to the worst. They appeal to all that is frail, weak, timid and rebellious in their nature, by coaxing to their self-hood, indulging every whim, no matter how unreasonable or vicious—by doing everything for them instead of allowing them to do things for themselves and thus strengthen their families and power of self-reliance. They are allowed to stay at home from school when they play sick, as so many children do, and are petted and coddled and fussed over, when there is really nothing of the matter with them. If they fall or hurt themselves they are sympathized with and encouraged to cry, by expressions of pity, instead of being taught to bear a little pain or hurt bravely and manfully and not to whimper like a weakling. In a hundred such ways, weak, foolish parents cultivate the selfishness of their children, until they become unbearable; they destroy their courage and self-reliance; make cowards and weaklings of them and pave the way for their destruction. Many men and women have lived to curse in bitterness of heart the weak, criminal indulgence of over- fond parents, who were the primal cause of their ruin. The Spectator would say to the parents of Winchester, do not do for your children what they ought to do for themselves, but help them to help themselves. Do not allow them to trample on the rights of others in order to gratify their own selfish desires. Show them the beauty of the Golden Rule, and insist upon their practicing it in their games, with their playmates and with older people. Teach them to respect the rights of others; and do not forget that they also have rights which should be respected.

It is surprising when a Winchesterite stops to think of it, how many things are left waiting to be done, the owner in this world for a propitious moment which never comes, how many things are among those which we have been intending to do for some time, but which we actually never will do unless something in addition to our good intention paves the way. These postponed achievements are perhaps for the most part not of a spectacular sort. They represent interests in line with those have come in our best-motivated as most worth while. But they lie beyond the border line of the efficiency that we might accomplish. And so they are in reality just as condemning as a more radical lack might become. Sometime, when we get around to it, we are going to make our daily task just a little more distinctive, a bit more diverse, a trifle nearer the ideal we are able to conceive of. But in the meantime our mediocre effort satisfies us, and any hurt which our pride might suffer is soothed by the idea that very soon we are going to take a spurt for the better. Our intention is good, and we deceive ourselves with the notion that we are going to live up to it. There is a whole row of books that a lot of us Winchesterites are going to read at that magic leisure period in the future when we get time. The list is a generally deserv- ing one. And the people we intend to help and the money we are going to save, and the bills we expect to pay more promptly, and the general good will and decent feeling that we are planning to dispense—all these and kindred objects would form a veritable colosseum path- way to almost any distant realm which proverbial wisdom might direct. But they are sure to lead downward instead of up. They cannot get us far on the road to realization so long as they remain at their present status of vague, floating mir- ror-like good intentions.

A genial friend of The Spectator, recently took for his sermon theme "Through the Telephone." "To bring Christ and the telephone to- gether—what a new chapter in our everyday life this would open!" he said. The telephone is a test of our courtesy perhaps more than any other device of civilization. And they not only test us but telephone tempt us. We are tempted to be rude to a stranger over the telephone in a way that we would not dream of in a face to face conversation with any one. The opening sentence over the tele- phone is one of the testing times. How often we hear or speak a sharp word the first moment the connection is made—the "reason" being that there has been a delay or an annoy- ance of some kind in getting the con- nection. "Who is that?" comes or goes stinging over the wire; yet we would not think of speaking that way to a person just entering the room. It will help us if we school ourselves into using the telephone invariably as though the person we are talking to were present in person. When the sharp words of telephone impatience come sharply out of the instrument into our ear, then is our opportunity to show quietness and love and courtesy in an unforced response.

The Spectator.

OBSERVATIONS.

We did well so appreciations last year and this year. In 1913 we were two years ago and jumped over thirty the red dollars, and if there had not been a large increase in valuation the tax rate would have gone up decidedly. If we had not known of the fact, the rate increase last year we would not have ap- preciated. By saving the money for the holidays, because of establish- ing a new record last year we had the corporation and bank taxes of 1914 and 1915, and so the tax had the benefit of about $15,000 that this year did not have. Our had valuation in some respects of the town are too low as they have not been increased for fifteen years.

Here is an act of this year that has great possibilities in it.

[chap. 254.]

An Act Relative To Annual Town Meetings.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows: Section 1. Any town upon its ac- ceptance of this act which holds its annual town meeting on the first Monday of March and which has or has not been divided into voting pre- cincts for voting for all town of- ficers elected by ballot and for vot- ing on the question of granting li- censes for the sale of intoxicating liquors may adjourn the election of such officers and transact at the meeting on the first Monday of March all matters to be considered at the annual town meeting other than the election of town officers and the question of granting licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors. The time and place of holding the ad- journed meeting for the election of officers and for voting on said ques- tion of the granting of licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be stated in the warrant for the an- nual election and said election and the meetings to be held on the first Monday of March and on the second Monday of March and any adjourn- ment thereof shall be regarded as parts of the annual town meeting. At the meeting held on the first Mon- day of March, a moderator may be chosen.

Section 2. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed. [Approved May 27, 1915.]

Of what use are auto warning signs placed parallel with the street? The driver does not see them if at all until opposite and then it is too late. These school children auto warning signs should be placed at right angles to the street.

Speaking of street signs, what has become of the guide board that used to be at the Melford line on Main street? It is about time the Select- men had it replaced. There is a law on guide posts which has stood for over a hundred years and carries a penalty for non-compliance.

Considering our increase of valua- tion so small we did well to hold our tax rate to $18.00, and we must do the same or better next year although with $12,000,000 more debt to pay it will not be easy. Valuation and what you get for the money expended is as important as the tax rate.

The government had better hand- le over that $75,000 for the post office and let us buy the site and erect the building.

John H. Carter.

JAMES FLYNN.

The death occurred on Sunday of Mr. James Flynn, father of Frank J. Flynn, the well known superintend- ent of the Fitchburg Division of the Boston & Maine Railroad. The de- ceased passed away at his home on Tremont street in his 75th year. He had long been a resident of this town. Besides his son, Frank, he is survived by a daughter, Margaret, with whom he made his home. The funeral services were held on Tuesday morning at half-past nine from St. Mary's Church, high mass of requiem being celebrated by Rev. Francis E. Rogers. The pall bearers were Messrs. John Lynch and George D. LeDuc of this town, Bernard H. Hogan and Arthur Sheridan of Stone- ham and Timothy Haney and Pat- rick Flynn of Somerville. The burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Montvale.

Education in Canada.

The Dominion of Canada, the prov- inces and municipalities make such liberal provision for general education that less than seven per cent of the population over five years of age are unable to read and write. The largest single item in the expenditures of Ontario, as well as of its capital city of Toronto is for education. The schoolhouse is recognized as an im- portant factor in the successful col- onization of New Ontario.

LOCAL TRADE RIPPLES.

The local business man finds his pathway not always strewn with thornless roses. In many places the impression has gained a hold in the minds of some that primarily local institutions "charge" all the traffic will bear. This impression is to a degree unjust. The "charge" item may be admitted, but that business men seek to make an unwarranted profit above the cost of doing business, as done in Newton, is an open question, says the Newton Graphic.

Time and again a merchant here and there in the city has attempted to lessen the cost of doing business—mind you not to offer second-rate goods—has affected service savings by modern merchandising to the end that products might reach the customer at a less retail cost. Suffice it to say that it is not known that any of the regular merchants have been permanently successful in their endeavor along the above lines. A few instances of what may be considered the high cost extravaganzas of doing business locally are cited: Very long credits; delivery team calling at one house 10 times in one day; small deliveries; too much trimming on fancy cuts of meat; etc. Such are some of the common customs which the local business man feels his inability to modify and so he must of necessity add to his customer's account percentages, not for goods, but for waste, running errands, etc.

Can a change be made?

Additional ripples have of late been caused in the ruffled local business pool by the activities of certain branch stores—occupying small quarters and employing but one or two clerks—which do business for strictly cash and neither go outside to solicit orders nor deliver goods. Business! Do they do any in Newton? One little store on the South side in charge of a man with a boy to assist, is credibly reported with receipts totaling nearly $200 per week, which is all the more remarkable when it is remembered that many leaders are sold at or low cost. The condition confronting local business is excellently presented below.

The Foxboro Reporter says: "Out West there are many grocery stores where, if a customer carries his own bundles, he or she is given a discount which has been so tempting that large numbers of the business establishments deliver no goods whatever because there is no use for it. From the regular price on their goods they deduct five percent for cash and another five percent for those who carry their packages. This is already spreading rapidly in New England. It has come as near to us as Mansfield and we expect to see something of the kind done in Foxboro before long, whereby the expense attending the delivery of goods, especially in centres, will be eliminated, and the customer who wishes to save money will get the benefit."

We can easily understand that the local trader who is called upon to deliver his goods and then wait from one month to ten for his pay must get much more than the one who sells for cash and is saved the expense of delivery, but certainly the customer who pays spot cash and takes his goods himself should receive substantial discounts. [Bedham Transcript.]

ANTI-SUFFRAGE.

At a suffrage meeting in Boston recently, a prominent Boston lawyer said: "In Massachusetts today woman has the same right in property that man has; the same right to take part in every industrial pursuit that man has. She is permitted under the law today to enter all learned professions, she can enjoy her own income, her own wages, her own property, and has the equal right to control and educate her own children."

Surely then she does not need the vote, as she has already secured equal rights and privileges without it. That she does not want the vote and will not use it is conclusively shown once a year when more than 90 percent of Massachusetts women refuse to vote at school committee. If she does not need it, does not want it, and will not use it, why should it be thrust upon her by a group of professional agitators who keep the subject alive in Massachusetts?

Referring to persistent statements that Senator Elihu Root, long a determined and outspoken opponent of woman suffrage, had in some degree modified his views, the senator has issued an explicit denial of any such change of mind. "On the contrary," he says, "observation and reflection have strongly confirmed the adverse opinion which I expressed twenty years ago."

The adverse opinion was then "I am opposed to the granting of suffrage to women because it would be a loss to women, to all women, to every woman, and because it would be an injury to the state and to every man and every woman in the state."

As the Stars Come Out

By M. D.

THE LIGHTS.

In these baffling and baffling days we must perforce be so gravitated to the necessities of earth that we seem to have little time for aught else. Anything that is not a "paying proposition" must be and is, of course, so that should we do much stargazing we would find the position as unprofitable as it is uncomfortable. And as for "hitching our wagon to a star," that wise old Idealist had nothing to fear of stray Zeppelins, and undoubtedly, he himself would have little to do with wagons or stars if he could have one good spin over a Metropolitan road in a full equipped 1916 Model.

And yet, however bright the lights, or smooth the road, life would be dull indeed if there were not some Venus or other somewhere on its horizon to beckon us on, to lead us where it is our heart's desire to follow.

Who that ever had any ideals in his youthful days does not now and then still catch the glint and gleam of them? Because the first stars which we watch from life's window have shot away into some other part of the heavens, it does not mean that somewhere they are not shining. They have passed along our righteous way and are slowly guiding us on.

so rainy, (yes, even as rainy as our last July) that some one star does not keep beaming through all the sordid years? It may be a purpose, it may be a friend, a wife, or child, but whatever it be, it is the happy star that makes our days worth living, and makes our dreams all bright.

And who does not dream?—I mean day-dreams—and who is so old or so unhandy that he builds no "castles in Spain"? Yes, and so forgets union hours that his castles reach the sky! So let us keep on building until the eventide, for

There aloft the fogs of our days must sometime be resolved into stars, even as the mist of the Milky Way parts into suns.

JUNETIME.

I wonder if always the Junetime Will mean roses and song to me, Will mean children's faces and laughter,

And fair hopes for the days to be?

If not, then, I shall have forgotten All that I love to remember, And in my heart grown dreamless and old,

It will indeed be December.

Examinations of remedial conditions will be held at the High School on Tuesday, September 7, beginning at 9 a. m. General teachers' meeting will occur on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Prince School Building. The regular sessions of the schools will begin on Wednesday, September 8, at 8:30. Attention of parents is called to the importance of having children in school on the first day. Work will begin at noon. Those who enter late will miss lessons which they will be obliged to make up and also hinder the work of other pupils. As it is the school year is short, it being the intention of the School Committee to begin as late as possible in September and close as early as possible in June to avoid the hot weather and give as much time as possible for absence at summer homes.

Miss Jennie P. Clement, teacher of cooking in the High School, has resigned to accept a similar position, with a larger salary in Milton. Miss Margaret L. Robinson, of Reading has been elected to succeed her. Miss Robinson is a graduate of the Household Arts course in Cornell University with recent successful experience in Proctor Academy at Andover, N. H. To the first and second grades of the Washington School Miss Edna M. Hatch of Sanford, Maine, has been appointed. Miss Hatch is a graduate of Farmington, Me. Normal School, with experience at Sanford, Maine. It is believed that both these teachers will be entirely satisfactory.

A BOON TO THE PUBLIC.

"A material reduction in the number of 'eye doctors' throughout the state during the past year is shown by the annual report of the State Board of Registration in optometry for 1914." This decrease the report points out is due to the fact that many of those who formerly were practicing their "profession" as optometrists did not care to attempt to pass the state examination, which in order to continue in their work they were required by law to take.

It is estimated that the number of practicing optometrists has been reduced by six hundred, leaving 874 at present properly qualified to practise optometry. The new law passed in 1912, creating the State Board to investigate this profession, gave all optometrists until June 1, 1914, to qualify by examination.

The report states that a great deal of fraud has been eliminated, and, country fairs, the special happy hunting grounds for fake eye doctors have been pretty thoroughly cleaned up, affording the public a very real and necessary protection from this evil never before known to them.

The Board has particularly endeavored to eliminate methods in practice that are questionable, and which border upon fraud and deceit; also the custom of traveling from house to house, examining eyes and giving hit-or-miss prescriptions.

In accomplishing this, the state has rendered an inestimable service to the public. It casts no reflection on the reliability of capable eye doctors, including optometrists, but protects thousands from the scores of unscrupulous fakers who formerly reaped a harvest at the expense of eye sufferers. There is perhaps no one human ailment that so deserves the most capable and painstaking services of competent doctors as that of the eye. A person may obtain a living minus almost any of the five senses except the eyesight. Here, if anywhere, are darkness and despair synonymous.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

Longfellow founded one of his most beautiful poems, "The Female Martyr" upon the death of a Sister of Mercy in one of our Eastern cities during the prevalence of the Asiatic cholera, while in voluntary attendance upon the sick. Who will not agree with the poet in his declaration that "the earth has not a nobler name than mine shall be."

The Spectator believes it a good thing for mankind that all women are not married. What would become of thousands of wounded soldiers, alike in armies of war and of peace, if there were no people nurses to devote their lives to the care of the sick? Ask any old soldier here in Winchester what he thinks of the "angels of the battlefield" and you will hear stories of pluck, heroism, endurance and patience under the most trying circumstances that will give you a new conception of the nobility of so-called "old maids."

The unmarried woman has abundant opportunity to develop her mind and to shower affectionate attentions upon those in the family circle whom she could not help comfort if she were married and burdened with home responsibilities. At the old homestead, from which her brothers and sisters have departed, she is a great comfort to her parents in their declining years. She will be found also assisting the poor and distressed in her neighborhood. She does not neglect her religious duties, and also gives valuable help when the church and her social circle have entertainments and new enterprises on hand. In the vast field of charitable work her labors, unostentatiously performed, bear rich fruit, of which she never knows or dreams, much less boasts. Thousands of women teachers, nurses and other charitable unassuming women are doing excellent work, according to their means, throughout the land. If they were all married much of the great philanthropic work in the world might be sadly neglected.

It seems to The Spectator that the principal thing the mothers of Winchester and elsewhere need to teach to their children is the need for duty. You see a young man reading his paper with exaggerated attention while in front of him sways an old lady trying to hang on to a strap and her parcels at the same time, and still the youth reads on, apparently profoundly interested, until a pretty young girl enters the car, and then he prances up like lightning to offer his seat. And does the girl jump up to give it to the old lady? Not a bit of it! She keeps it for herself.

Now, we may have been over-enthusiastic about the aged in the old days when "honor thy father and thy mother" meant any kind of a father and a mother, but there is such a thing as individuality and independence carried too far. It is this lovely quality of walking over the globe and the aged who has made the American child and young person the terror and reproach to our civilization. You ought to hear what well-bred people abroad think of this lovely characteristic of our young people, and they blame the older generation for it, and The Spectator thinks very richly, too.

If old age has its drawbacks, its pains and its sad memories, it should have also some compensation, the courtesy and the good will of the rising generation, at least the outward signs of it. No one can expect a child to be naturally polite. On the contrary the ordinary healthy child is naturally rude, but that rudeness may be removed by wise advice or by what is infinitely more valuable, good example. The children of parents who make no effort to teach them respect and courtesy for others never give their father and mother any, and neither do their phantasies. So to the punishment falls where it belongs.

"The Easiness of Death" is the caption of a very absorbing essay The Spectator has just read. How many Winchesterites ever give thought to their impending dissolution? It is as natural to die, it is as inevitable, as to live and as inevitable. Practically all the distress witnessed as taking place in the art of dying is the automatic tissue struggle against dissolution, and is not recognized by the individual who seems to be acutely suffering. Occasionally in the delirium of fever, in uremia and other intoxications, in certain of the brain degenerations witnessed in old age, there is an exhilaration or happy, peaceful calm that precedes the final scene.

Dr. E. L. Keyes writes: "I remember one dear lady, a Swendenborian, who believed that after death one would follow the occupation that had been most congenial in the present life. This lady was especially fond of babies, fondling them and giving them personal care. When she came to die, at the final moment a beautiful smile pervaded her countenance, she beamed in gentle ecstasy, and murmured, 'Now I see the heavenly light; I see a baby.' "Yet nature is not often so lavish with her kindness. Usually everything is dulled, dimmed, so that at the border line between life and death it is often difficult, even impossible, for a certain time, to say whether the soul has fled or not. It was long debated in medical circles whether or not there was a reliable test for death. Indeed, the tissues always survive the departure of the vital spark for a longer or shorter time. A muscle will contract to the electric current for a considerable time after the eye is dull, the intellect a closed book, the soul on its way. The hair grows palpably after death.

"Of course there are some exceptions, and once in a while, so I am told, some one dies really in conscious terror and protest; but I have not seen such a taking off, and I can state emphatically that of the many scores of deaths that I have witnessed, in hospital and out, among the very poor and very wealthy, the young and the old, the pious and the blasphemous, some of which have been very painful to behold, in nearly all of them the main actor at the last moment was not conscious of what was going on. The occasional examples of conscious cheerfulness are the exception, and still more so instances of terminal torture."

How do we measure wealth? With some it is cash value merely. How much is he worth? is a question of real estate and securities. But there are not idiots and insane people in whose name much wealth of this sort is held. We all know men who do not possess but are possessed by money. It is not time, in this age of re-weighted social values, to estimate wealth by responsiveness to the higher external relations? "He is wise," says Zola Gale, in her "Friendship Village Love Story" "who quickens to many kinships." Let The Spectator say that and say "He is rich." For the true wealth is capacity to give and receive on the higher levels of human service and affection. No man is wealthy who despises his neighbor. The hard and selfish isolation of the rich is one of the chief menaces of our civilization. True wealth consists in an unexhausted power of sympathy, comprehension and fellowship.

This was what made our Lord the wealthiest man in Syria, though by his own choice he had not where to lay his head. That was his sorrow over the young man with great possessions—who had the golden gift of leisure and used it to shut himself into a cage. Christ had many friends; this young man few. Christ had an infinite responsiveness; this young man responded "dully" and "stupidly" to the love of his neighbor. Let us remember, however, lest we grow discouraged, that this wealth is a capacity and desire and not yet an untrammelled possibility of enjoyment. Lord Avedary says wisely: "We may have many friends. The limit is not in the heart, but in the leisure." Perhaps The Spectator may best define that wealth which is attainable by every Winchesterite, and best of all, as the possession of a friendly heart.

The Spectator.

CONCERNING THE DIET.

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, says:

"There is one kind of instruction much needed by the American people, which would illustrate better than any other the desirable preventive functions of health officers and boards of health, namely, instruction concerning diet. The ignorance of the American people concerning the enjoyable, healthful and productive use of food is profound, and this ignorance results in immense waste, reduced industrial efficiency, unnecessary ill-health, and shortened life. The ordinary American diet errs gravely in regard to both quantity and quality, particularly in the amount of protein habitually ingested. In the future the activities of boards of health and health officers should be directed constantly to the giving of universal instruction in the normal feeding of both children and adults, and in the nutrition values of the various materials which the markets supply, while not neglecting the protection of the community from unsafe articles of food. Again, a larger proportion of the American people than of any other people needs to be warned by health experts against the destructive effects of luxury and self-indulgence because a larger proportion has the means of living soft, lazy, and unproductive lives. It is interesting to see how much public instruction about diet is now being given by European governments, in order to maintain the efficiency of the peoples under the stress of war. Americans need that sort of instruction all the time, in fat years and in lean years, in good times and bad, and there is nobody to give it with authority except the medical profession and the public health officials."

Our common is a beauty spot and the inhabitants will never listen to its being used for other purposes.

Graveling sidewalks are doing much to make the centre of the town. Tar concrete walks have had their day.

One thing is sure, there are candidates enough for all the offices that Winchester will be called upon to help in this fall.

After all Winchester has been a pretty good place to sojourn in this summer. Base ball, band concerts and numerous other attractions have proven reminders of restfulness.

The Edison Company expect to complete their improvements at the centre of the town by fall. This work will all have to be done over again when the grade crossing is eliminated. But when is problematious.

More posts will be placed with the promise that they will become universal because of their neat appearance and durability.

And to think that Winchester's population has increased only seven in the last five years. This causes a person to be "exclamatory."

The site for the new post office continues to hang fire. Perhaps the government may decide that Winchester does not really desire a government building. One thing that appears to be certain, judging from what is heard from responsible parties, is that the post office authorities are adverse to placing the building on Thompson street.

Voters, as a rule, are slow to give up the services of a faithful and competent public official, and this is more than true in the case of Mr. Hayden of Somerville, Middlesex County's treasurer. He has held this office for many years, and to general satisfaction. A most able accountant, and with his long experience, he makes an ideal treasurer. Winchester has always endorsed Mr. Hayden and will, no doubt, do so at the coming primary. The newspaper fraternity, who are conversant with his work as treasurer of the County, and who have known him personally for many years as the editor of the Somerville Journal, are in a unit in favor of his re-nomination and re-election.

The need of a new hospital building in Winchester, with adequate accommodations, was never more apparent than it was when the injured firemen Tuesday evening were obliged to be placed upon the floor because there were no vacant beds. These were all urgent cases that required the immediate attention of doctors and nurses, and could not be satisfactorily treated at the homes of the injured. But a few thousand dollars are now required to immediately commence the erection of the building, plans for which have been made and accepted and estimates procured. This money should be quickly forthcoming. In this connection attention is called to a communication from Dr. Allen on first page of the Star.

LUTHER B. LYMAN.
ANNOUNCEMENT.

Editor of the Star—
To the voters of Winchester: I take this opportunity to announce that I am a candidate for Representative from the 27th Representative District, comprising the town of Winchester and Wards 3 and 6 in the city of Medford.

I have already quite a political record having served in the City Government of Medford from 1911 to 1915 (inclusive) as Alderman-at-large from Ward 6 and for two years, 1913 and 1914, as chairman of the Republican City Committee, which together with the various Social Organizations, with which I am a member, both local and statewide, give me the advantage of an extensive acquaintance which helps me largely to obtain votes.

Respectfully yours,
Luther B. Lyman,
75 Cape Street,
Medford Hills, Mass.

BOYS ARRESTED FOR FREIGHT CAR THEFTS.

Special officer Bowdoin of the Boston & Maine Railroad, assisted by Officer James P. Donahue of the Winchester police, arrested six young men Wednesday forenoon, all charged with breaking into freight cars at the Stanton street yard. The boys are charged with taking 5 cans of string beans, 5 pairs of shoes and 15 down pairs of silk stockings.

The thefts occurred Monday and Tuesday, six cars being broken into. Those taken into custody by the police included John Brown, Joseph Flynn, Raymond Carroll, Hugh Carroll and Irving Cederburg of Winchester and Harold Penny of Dorchester.

It is charged that several cars were entered between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. on the 16th and 17th, at which time the shoes and beans were taken. When the officers visited the homes of the boys Wednesday they found the stockings. Two pairs of shoes and six boxes of stockings were recovered at Cederburg's home and the remainder at the Carroll home.

The case will come up in the Woburn court tomorrow.

GINN WON MAB TROPHY.

"Ned" Ginn of the Winchester Boat Club, who is attending the national meet of the American Canoe Association at the Thousand Islands, has made quite a reputation at canoe sailing. He came within a narrow margin of winning the sailing trophy from Leo Friede of New York last week and has won the Mab trophy. Tomorrow he will enter the race for the Mystic trophy.

Ginn is sailing his new canoe, the Kabeenun H. He won the first heat from Friede by 40 seconds, lost the second by 20 seconds and stood a good chance of taking the third until close to the finish, when a heavy squall turned all the advantage over to the New Yorker.

RESERVOIRS NEVER SO HIGH.

The Winchester reservoirs were never so high at this season of the year before. They are all full and a considerable amount of water going over all the spillways.

At the North reservoir about 1 inch of water is flowing over the spillway. Between the Middle and South reservoirs about 2 1/2 inches is flowing and at the South reservoir spillway an inch is going over. The rainfall during this month has thus far been 4.55 inches.

Beneficial Fog.
A remarkable fog over Pershing coast is known as the "fogus." It occurs in a region where rain is unknown, and supplies sufficient moisture to support vegetation.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

R. P. Schwerin
On the Seamen's Bill

The American plowmen are interested in sea commerce. It is expensive and likewise humiliating to have to salute a foreign flag every time a farmer wants to ship a bushel of wheat, a bale of cotton or a pound of farm products across the ocean. The American farmer is entitled to the protection of his land in sending his products across the sea, and Congress should give such an arrangement to shipping interests as is necessary to meet foreign competition in ocean commerce. A bill now known as the Seamen's Bill, became a law under the President's signature and Mr. R. P. Schwerin, vice-president of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, was asked to define the law and explain its effect upon American seafaring lines said in part:

The bill provides that ships of any nationality shall be permitted to depart from any port of the United States with a crew of less than seventy-five per centum of which men of the United States are to be the majority. If this law is applied to all nationalities it is able to understand any order given by the officers of such vessel, nor unless forty per centum in the first year, forty-five per centum in the second year, fifty per centum in the third year, fifty-five per centum in the fourth year after the passage of this Act, and thereafter a majority of the crew of such vessel, exclusive of licensed officers and apprentices, are of a rating not less than able seaman.

The overseas trade of the world is competitive, therefore the original cost of the ship and the operation of the ship have to be reckoned with in the keen competition of these rival nations with one another. The Oriental sailor is obedient and competent and is the cheapest sailor in the world. It is therefore a manifest disadvantage to the United States if this law is applied to the trans-Pacific traffic, all would be on the same economic basis, but it works a shade hardship to all the ships of the world, except the Japanese and American ships, and with the latter it works two hardships. With the Japanese, the cost of constructing a ship is no higher than the cost of constructing a Japanese ship, but if they had to provide European crews, while the Japanese operated with Japanese crews, the condition of competition would be such that they could not overcome the handicap and they would be driven out.

But the American ship would have to contend not only with the tremendous increase of cost of wage in the substitution of the European crew for the Chinese crew, but also the greater initial cost of the ship. As the Japanese have now done away with their European officers and Japanese crews, all of whom speak a common language, there is no difficulty for them to comply with all the conditions of the bill and continue their Japanese crews, with Oriental wages.

The law, therefore, instead of protecting the American ship adds another heavy burden, while it places one handicap upon the Japanese ship, but, on the contrary, turns over to the Japanese the traffic of the Pacific Ocean, which the American ship is forced to forego by act of Congress of the United States.

MCCULEY CAPTURED WANTED MAN.

Sergeant Thomas F. McCuley of the Winchester Police Department spent a part of his day off, Monday, keeping watch in the North Station, Boston, for John Foley, who claimed a residence in that city. He was rewarded early in the evening by arresting Foley, who is 27 years old, claiming him with entering the residence of George W. Bailey of 19 Foxwick road on the evening of July 29th.

At that time the man was seen by Mr. Allen Boone of Dover street on the piazza of the Bailey residence, and when questioned by Mr. Boone told him that it looked as though the house had been broken into. He went to notify an officer and never showed up again.

It was felt that Foley was responsible for the break at the Van Tassel house on Elmhill road, having been intimate with a domestic there. In this connection it was thought that he might be the man wanted for the Bailey break also, and following his arrest he was identified by Mr. Boone as the man he had accused.

The Winchester police learned of a quantity of goods pilfered by Foley in Lynn, and on Wednesday Sergeant Mullen visited the shop and returned with about $600 worth of various articles identified by Mr. Van Tassel as having been stolen from his house. When the case comes up Foley will be charged with the theft of $1500 worth of goods from this residence, taken sometime between July 21 and 29.

Foley was also wanted in Woburn on a charge of larceny of 100 bags of flour from Jaquith's store in Woburn, and on this charge he was arrested at Swampscott last Saturday night. He eluded the Swampscott officer by telling him his name was Matthew and that it was his brother John who was wanted. On the pretext of speaking to a young woman of his acquaintance he was allowed by the officer to enter a house there where the young woman lived and made his escape through a window on the other side of the house.

In the Woburn court Tuesday morning Foley's case was continued until tomorrow and he was held under $1000 bonds.

[For the Star-Crossed Cook, Fortnightly.]

The Welfare Committee of New York are teaching the people of the East Side something of the care of foods by having pink carts covered with glass on the streets. A large sign on the cart reads, "For the protection of food from flies and dirt."

We mortals have to sweat and shoo.

The flies from heaven, till dark, cos' 'soah didn't swat the two.

That mouset in the Ark.

The trades people should surely be commended for their hearty cooperation in fighting the flies. Fruits and vegetables are covered and fewer flies are seen. Now let something be done another year, to rid this town of mosquitoes.

TO A MOSQUITO.

As Wordsworth Would Have Warded It

Delirious minstrel, pilgrim of the gloom,

Is it thy aim to sing me to my rest

Or dost thou soar in spirals 'round my room

Intent to settle softly on my chest?

My chest, in which thou soest wilt sink thy bill,

Those quivering wings composed, that music still.

To the last point of patience I endure

Thy tantalizing threat to do me wrong.

And when I fancy I have got thee sure,

My ears mis-guided by thy grating song,

Just where I land my fierce, vindictive swat

Is always on a place where thou art not.

For hours, though I try to go to sleep,

I cannot do it, for the rasping strain

Exasperates me and I wildly keep Attempting thy destruction—all in vain.

Still thou dost jab, and still I fume and fret and fret and fret and fret

But never mind, base bug! I'll get you yet!

POLITICAL GOSSIPS

By Peter Radford.

When one class of people has anything to say, it has become largely the custom to make a political issue out of it instead of a friendly discussion, to print it in a law book instead of a newspaper and to argue it before a jury instead of to settle it in the higher court of Common Sense. As a result, political agitators, political lawyers, political preachers and innumerable women are powerful in politics and dissension, selfishness, intolerance and hysteria run rampant in public affairs, for when the glare of truth and the sunshine of understanding will choke to death.

We have too many so-called interpreters of industry who are incapable of grasping the fundamental principles of business and who at best can only translate gossip and add color to sensational stories. No business can stand upon error and might rules—right or wrong. No industry can thrive upon misunderstanding, for public opinion is more powerful than a King's sword.

When prejudice, suspicion and class hatred prevail, power gravitates into the hands of the weak for demagogues thrive upon dissension and statesmen sicken upon strife.

The remedy lies in eliminating the middleman, the political gossip, and this result can be accomplished by the managers of business sitting down to the hands of the weak for demagogues thrive upon dissension and statesmen sicken upon strife.

FELINE FAMILY HISTORY.

Here are the Facts, Although You May Not Believe Them.

Why should a respectable cat sit on the fence and howl when extracts from its family history read like this: "Throughout the tertiary formations, from the upper eocene onward, there appears a remarkable family of cats, with a dentition still more specialized than that of the feline, the true felines, retaining other skeletal features of a more primitive type of cats. These were the macrorhinodonts, which survived until the pleistocene, both in Europe and in America."

The information was found in a geology student's paper, "The Evolution of the Macrorhinodont Cat." Perhaps you are a little rusty on cat history and you find it difficult to remember. This illuminating bit of information will freshen it in your memory.

"The pleistocene period was the period of the carnivores. The feline included the macrorhinodonts, macrorhinodonts and their allies, besides varieties analogous to the leopard and lynx. In this species appeared the several feline breeds. At the time of the feline christened there appeared also the European wild cat, feline catina. The earliest feline in America was feline illinoensis. It appeared in the middle pleistocene."

WON BY A DOLL.

A Gift That Brought the Rebellious Apaches to Terms.

Major Taylor, United States General, once showed himself an effective peacemaker. He persuaded a band of Apaches to give up their reservation by presenting a doll to a papoose. The Indians were won.

General Taylor had been trying to put these Apaches back on the reserve, but could not catch them without killing them, an action that did not appeal to them. One day his forces captured a papoose and took her to the fort. She was quiet all day, but her black eyes were all over the place. When night came the child broke down and sobbed just as any white woman would.

The fort was in a desert and Major Taylor had an idea. From the children's ward he borrowed a doll that had come to her little girl the previous Christmas. When the young Apache mother saw the doll, she was won by her sobbing and she fell asleep.

When morning came the doll was still clasped tightly in her arms. She placed it all day, and soon it was a part of her own getting a doll to the tribes and her.

Several days passed with no sign of a surrender being made by the tribe, and finally Taylor, in the presence of the tribe, took the doll from the child. When the child reached the tribe with the child grained in her chubby hands it created a sensation among the native Apaches, and her mother took her back to the post with it. She was received in a probable manner and kindly treated and the effect of her visit was such that through her overtures were made with the peace that was followed and the entire band moved back on the reserve. St. Louis Republic.

The Money Tennyson Made.

Lord Tennyson made a great income from his pen. When Stephen A. Cook wrote the publication of the poems in the sixties they agreed upon Tennyson $25,000 a year in respect to the books already issued and pay the poet all profits on new work, less a modest 10 per cent commission. This second item generally meant $30,000 for each new volume. For many years before his death Tennyson drew a steady $50,000 per annum from his publishers.

Just Like His Tooth.

Small Freddie had the toothache one day, and his mother told him the tooth was below and needed to be pulled. A few days later the mother complained of a severe headache. "Mamma," said Freddie wisely, "I'll bet your head is hollow. You ought to go and get it pulled." Chicago News.

A Bad Joke.

"A famous college president declares that there are no new jokes."
"Ah, he does, does he?" grins returned the old order. "Well, he ought to see the husband my niece has just married and brought home to live on a pig." Judge.

A Dampener.

Marion, 15, said that her verses you wrote me, and she seemed pleased. Harry, 10, said: Marion says. He said he was so glad to see you were not a poet.

VARICOSE VEINS.

Their Causes and Effects and the Treatment They Require.

A varicose vein is an enlarged and twisted vein, generally in the leg. It is caused by stagnation of the blood often the patient has a hereditary predisposition to varicose veins or he has a weak heart, with a consequent tendency to sluggish venous circulation.

Anything that interferes with the flow of blood through the veins may bring on an enlargement of the veins. Tight garters and very severe pressure even an often excessive use of shoes. For persons who are obliged to stand for several hours at a time, like policemen, shopmen and domestic servants, it is well to wear light shoes and to avoid heavy clothing.

In the case of varicose veins, especially in the legs, it is often a hereditary disease, and the symptoms are very slight. There is a feeling of weight in the leg and a dull ache toward the end of the day. The veins are removed by the patient, and the veins are removed by the patient, and the veins are removed by the patient.

More serious complications are thrombosis or the clotting of the blood in the veins and phlebitis or inflammation of a vein. Often a form of cancer appears in the skin of the leg, and the patient is obliged to wear a cast.

Varicose veins are very troublesome surgical treatment is advisable, but the milder cases, an inch or more, can be treated by proper bandaging. Youth's Companion.

Varlet and Valet.

"We have only ourselves, or, rather, our forefathers, to blame for the trouble about the pronunciation of 'valet'." says the London chronicler. "If they had stuck to 'valet' there would have been no difficulty. 'Valet' and 'valet' are the same word, meaning originally just a man, the diminutive of 'vassal'.

Indisputable Evidence.

"Say, father," said little Fred, "did you ever have another wife besides mother?"

"Why, certainly not," said the father.

"How do you happen to ask such a question, my boy?"

"Well, father," continued the boy, "I saw in the family Bible that you married Ann Douglas, 1822, and I know that wasn't mother, for her name was Mary Parsons when she was a girl!" Chicago Record Herald.

Not Too Pushing.

"Madam, I must congratulate you on having such a pushing young fellow for a husband."

"Yes, George does very well with the lawn mower, but I have a time with him about the baby carriage." Ruth, Fort American.

Eating and Talking.

"We are eating and talking at the same time. There is no such thing as eating and talking at the same time. There is no such thing as eating and talking at the same time."

Inducing Hypnotic State.

According to Langdon, the hypnotic condition is induced in man by suggestion or by a physical stimulus, but in both cases sensory stimuli may assist. These stimuli may be the light of the eyes, the sound of the voice, the touch of the hand, the smell of the nose, the taste of the tongue, the feeling of the skin, or otherwise.

Romanian Characteristics.

The Romanians are a kind of their folk and a people of their own. One of the most regular of the proverbs is: "The Romanian never dies." The Romanian is anything but arrogant, yet the pride shown in the proverb is exemplified again in the fact that he will not do any domestic service if he can avoid it.

PARCEL POST INJUSTICE.

"The New Haven railway has used the post-office for $172, the damages for being required to carry gold by parcel post service in violation of the law. The packages were not sealed or stamped as required of first class mail. The weight limit was exceeded and the packages were not prepared for inspection."

First Story—What do you think of President Roosevelt's ideas as to a "pledge"?

Second Story—I think that the least we can do to make him an honorary member of our society.

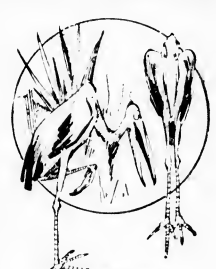

Arranging Flowers.

It is most effective in a tall glass vase. Almost all flowers have great beauty in their stems, hence glass vases are so often the great set beauty when they are out, by showing the stems. Iris should be arranged only with its own foliage. White flowers should always be loosely arranged, and they should be placed by themselves, not in close proximity to the highly cultivated garden sort.

Daily Thought.

I should never have made my success in life if I had not bestowed upon the past thing I have ever undertaken the same attention and care that I have bestowed upon the greatest—Dickens.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

Many people here in Winchester and elsewhere who go into ecstasies over music would be hard pressed if asked to define it, for they are not aware Beethoven regarded it "as the mediator between the spiritual and sensual life." Bovee as man's fourth great material want—food, raiment, shelter, then music," while Luther placed theology before it. It is common to hear the expression "Oh! Music is divine," which correctly applied possibly refers to the music of the spheres. Music has been defined as "the medicine of the breaking heart" and as the "voice of the angels in heaven;" but Coleridge's opinion "the best sort of music is what it should be—sacred; the next best, the military, has fallen to the lot of the devil," and perhaps the tango and rag time confirm Coleridge's opinion with many. If music is heavenly, however, it might be well to have explained how the devil got any part or portion of it. Music seems to be the collection and harmonious arrangement of all natural sounds, and the birds were doubtless the first musicians to thrill the sensibilities of man. The naturalist not only hears the birds, but the waterfalls singing and the trees whispering in the winds.

It is no joke that "a wise man is known by the company he avoids." A Winchesterite's tastes and habits form a perfect diagram of his character and openly contradict his professions. There are too many men here in Winchester and elsewhere pretending to be what they are not, and they do not know why they are held in derision although every one else does. There are mighty few persons who can play a double role successfully. Somehow we find more in the best lived life to criticize than to commend. We cannot seem to walk so straight that we will not call forth censure. No wonder the human tongue is distinguished as the only tool that gets sharper the more it is used. The wise man may also be known by the books and the performances he avoids. "Safety First" is just as appropriate a slogan in memory as in the public square.

The servant question is offering as much of a problem here in Winchester as ever, but it is all the fault of the maid. There is the question of equal treatment. The Spectator might name families where the servant is in others, she has a dark, tilted head, with a wretched, shabby dress.

Bathing rooms should be given to every servant, for the most efficient kind of servant likes to keep as neat as her employer. One good mistress here in Winchester adds to these necessities of life the use of books and magazines, of the sewing machine, occasional tickets to entertainments and gifts of discarded garments. On the other hand, a mistress who is fair to her maid need not stand for the breaking of dishes due to carelessness. These may reasonably be deducted from the wages. Excessive going out of evenings may be curtailed also. The entertainment of friends from the family larder is in no wise to be contemplated and the work should be performed according to the schedule drawn up by the employer. Many a servant woman loses a good servant by neglecting this. This is a great mistake. The rule is for a servant is "broken in" to leave her alone in the performance of her duties and never to keep a maid who shows that she prefers her own way to that of the woman she is working for.

From time to time The Spectator has emphasized the value of fresh air in relation to health. There should be more interest and greater intelligence in this matter of fresh air with reference to its preventative and curative powers in relation to all disease. This ought to impress people with the importance of keeping the air the importance of keeping the air they breathe as free from contamination as possible. Though the multitude cannot escape some knowledge of the open air treatment now generally resorted to in the effort to overcome tuberculosis, yet the mass of the people give evidence by their persistent ignoring of sanitary measures that they fail to understand that fresh air is even far more effective in preventing disease than in curing it. "Fresh air cures" are still scornfully alluded to by those who have failed to learn the lesson nature has sought to teach them, and stale and vitiated air goes on accomplishing its direful effects.

The Spectator wonders that the brilliant results achieved by the open air treatment of tuberculosis has not more impressed the people with the idea that what is capable of effecting its cure is capable of preventing its appearance. Prevention is the goal at which medical and sanitary science aims. But until the conditions of the mode of life of the mass of town dwellers are altered for the better, The Spectator believes there will not be any chance of tuberculosis being abolished. But he is optimistic as to the prospect. He believes the people are learning. He believes that concerted action will come about to improve housing, and that workshops and offices as well as schools will be put under sanitary control, and that there will be even better ventilation of the schools.

MR. WHITNEY'S SCREE.

Jackson, N. H., Aug. 24, 1915.
Editor of the Star—
I sincerely trust Mr. Whitney derived as much pleasure from writing his communication in last week's Star as I got out of reading it. No sane individual (though evidently my "former friend") does not regard me as a scoundrel could take the least offense at the multitudinous objections heaped upon my poor defenceless head. His letter needs no reply; in its contents and in its tone, it is its own best answer. And yet I do try to call attention to one or two features, not by way of controversy, but in order to correct manifestly unintentional slips, for certainly a man of Mr. Whitney's scrupulous regard for truth and honor, a man of his delicate susceptibilities and keenly sensitive conscience, would not purposely devote by the shadow of a hair's breadth from the straight and narrow path of rectitude.

He says, for example, that he has signed all his Star articles. The casual reader might interpret this as meaning that he has signed them all with his own name, and that therefore this is a denial of his authorship of the anonymous article by "Common Sense." No doubt he signs all Star letters, but not all are signed Arthur E. Whitney; to some are appended initials, signatures, and "Common Sense" was one of them. Repeatedly I have charged him with writing that letter; he has not denied the fact, and does not dare to deny it. Soberly, my criticism of his writing that letter was not because of any arguments contained in it, but because he resorted to an anonymous communication, a personal attack, a despicable and cowardly procedure.

I stated above, there is no call for a reply to Mr. Whitney's latest fulminations. I shall not imitate him in his rehearsal of his public spirited services to the town, since I am minded of the ancient proverb, "Let another man praise thee, and not have own mouth;" nor shall I use up further space in pointing out his various mis-statements; nor is my command of English adequate to enable me to fill up two columns with such language as seems to flow so easily from his pen.

In a word, no amount of self-praise on his part, no amount of false statements by him, no amount of his facile fallaciously, can swerve me from my previous announced decision not to continue a discussion of the Kellway plan with a man of his methods and practices.

DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN YOUNG WOMAN.

Annie Marcetritte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Fowler of Stevens street, died at her home on Saturday. The young woman was widely known among Winchester's young people, she having resided here the largest part of her life and being a graduate of Winchester school. Her illness covered a long period of two and a half years, during which her fortitude, cheerfulness and willingness to do for others greatly endeared her to all her associates. Her death was caused by tuberculosis. She was in her 22nd year. Besides her parents she is survived by five younger brothers and one sister.

The funeral services were held from the residence on Monday afternoon at two thirty, being conducted by Rev. Henry E. Dodge, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The services were private and were of a simple nature and were held amid a profusion of flowers sent in memory by many friends. The burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

WINCHESTER MEMBERS ATTENDED OUTING.

A number of members of the Paine Furniture Company of Boston living in this town attended the annual outing of the company which was held at Naugus Head, Marblehead, Saturday afternoon. The base ball game between the Furniture and Eggs and Draperies departments was won by the Furniture, of which Mr. Fred W. Aseltine was captain and pitcher. Mr. Aseltine also finished second in the fat man's race and in the 100 yd. dash. Among the Winchester members who attended besides Mr. Aseltine were Messrs. Joseph T. Clarke, George S. Cabot, G. D. Cabot, Floyd N. Hunkins and A. P. Mackinnon, the latter being one of the managers of the outing.

Telephone By-Paths

Most of the places which can be reached by a toll call are towns and villages where the salesman seldom goes because train service is infrequent. Telephone Service is constant.

Every merchant or jobber has within his grasp, in a minute even so small as fifty miles, an amount of business worth going after by telephone, but as yet unknown to him. That business could be his instead of going to distant mail order houses. He need not travel, for the telephone made or visit can be made at any time.

Traveling salesmen at various junction points along main traveled routes can reach by telephone many small places which otherwise might not be included in their itinerary because of the time and expense involved in a call in person. The Telephone line is direct, and there are practically no unreachable localities.

There will be no charge on a particular party toll call if you are not connected with the person whose name you have given to the toll operator.

Winchester says the census enumerators are away off when they relation for the past five years. Will Winchester stand for a recount?

Sure thing; even if the town has to undertake the work.

Good news! The river and lake heavy rains seem to have actually washed so much water down that they are really quite clean—at least clean enough to contain the first livyears ago.

Mr. Gettany, head of the State Bureau of Statistics, is slow to believe that his enumerators make mistakes. And yet that the count showing Winchester had increased in population but seven in the last five years, indicated decidedly that a cog had slipped somewhere. Such an injury to the town should not be allowed to stand, and he should speedily rectify the glaring mistake.

The Supreme Test.

If a great captain of industry should resolve to lead a better life and never again to utter an untruth, we imagine the supreme test would come when someone timidly asked him if it wasn't possible that the trouble with his business was partially due to the fact that his company was over-capitalized. Columbus (O.) Journal.

"GOERZ."

A Favorite and Picturesque Winter Resort.

"Goerz, an important Austrian railway center toward which a great Italian army is reported to be developing a powerful offensive, is a key position, commercial and military, to the Austrian provinces around the head of the Adriatic," says a statement issued by the National Geographic Society, which continues:
"Goerz is the capital of the Austrian crownland of Goerz and Gradisca, a combination of commercial and military center and of paradise. Goerz is called the Nice of Austria; for its climate is mild, its skies are clear and soft, and its vegetation is luxuriant. This city has become one of the favorite winter resorts in the Dual Monarchy."

"It is about twenty miles from Goerz to the Italian frontier. The place is a center of trunkline railways to the Italian cities of Venice in the southwest and Udine in the northwest, and to the Austrian cities of Trieste in the southeast and Innsbruck in the north. It is about twenty-two miles from the Gulf of Triest and 200 miles by rail southwest of Vienna, and serves as the distributing center for the merchandise needed by the Friuli district. It is upon the main railway line connecting Trieste with the interior, and is about thirty-five miles north of that city."

"The situation of Goerz is a picturesque one, greatly enhanced by the rare pleasure gardens that have been called into being by the winter guests, who have given a season as splendid as that of the American Palm Beach or as that of its Mediterranean neighbor, French Nice.
Goerz has an ancient air, as do most of the cities in southeastern Europe, where the modern civilization of machines, uniformity, monotonous efficiency, and daily rush are tolerated as an element of their life, but by no means allowed to become a background."

"The valley in which the city stands is an extremely fertile one, rich in flowers, fruits and vegetables.
Goerz is built on the left bank of the Luzza river, a strange little river that rises in the heights and zigzags rapidly through the province for a distance of 75 miles to the Adriatic Sea. The worn rocks of the old castle ruins of the Counts of Goerz dominate the city from the hillside.
The castle is now used partly as a barracks and partly as an arsenal.
The cathedral, built in the 11th century, is another interesting monument to the city's past."

"Goerz is the export point for the products of the province. These consist mainly in vegetables, early fruits, canned fruits and wine. A significant part of the fancy fruits that appear on the tables of the Viennese wealthy are supplied from the Friuli district and are handled through Goerz. There are fruit yards, straggled by the steady progress of the port of Trieste, the industries of Goerz, and of the whole Austrian region around the head of the Adriatic, have been surely expanding."

"In population, Goerz is an Italian city, more than two-thirds of its 26, 000 inhabitants being Italian-speaking. A large part of the remainder are Slovenes, and the sprinkling of Hungarians and Germans, the dominant Dual Monarchy races, is an insignificant element. However, at one time it was almost solely populated by Germans, but the Italian and the Slav have pressed north, and the German has been gradually displaced."

DO TRIFLES ANNOY?

What a blessed thing it is that we can forget! Today's troubles look large, but a week hence they will be forgotten and buried out of sight.
Says one writer: "If you would keep a book and daily put down the things that worry you, and see what becomes of them, it would benefit you. You allow a thing to annoy you, just as you allow a fly to settle on you and plague you; and you lose your temper and you justify yourself by being thrown off your balance by causes which you do not trace out. But if you could see what it was that threw you off your balance before breakfast, and put it down in a little book, and follow it up and follow it out, and ascertain what becomes of it, you would see what a fool you were in the matter." The art of forgetting is a blessed art, but the art of overlooking is quite as important. And if you should take time to write down the origin, progress and outcome of a few of your troubles, it would make you so ashamed of the fuss we make over them, that we should be glad to drop such things and bury them at once in eternal forgetfulness. Life is so short to be worn out in petty worries, frettings, hatreds and vexations.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

Peter Radford
On Too Many Lawyers.

When the sheriff cries out "Oh! yes, Oh! yes, the court is now in session," the farmer should tighten the belt around his belly for it is he who pays the cost.
When the lawyer says "May it please the court," the farmer has to shorten the shirts of his children for they must foot the bill and when the legislature announces "The bill enacted," unborn babies may well kick against their prison walls for they may live to pay the penalty.
We have too many laws, too many lawyers and too much government. No man dares to run a business without lawyers to the right of him and lawyers to the left of him.
Expensive litigation and excessive legislation are clogging the wheels of progress. To meet this situation the railroads are oftentimes compelled to take off a train and put on a lawyer, the farmer is oftentimes compelled to sell a steer to pay the lawyers, for the man who dies in the ground usually pays the freight and every article which he buys carries on the price tag court costs and lawyers' fees.

There are in the United States 115,000 lawyers and about twenty thousand courts of various jurisdiction which cost the people of this nation approximately $1,000,000 per annum. It costs more to run the legal affairs in this nation than it does to clothe all the people. It costs more to settle legal disputes than it does to run our educational and religious institutions and care for the health of all the people combined. Less than three per cent of our population are able to employ lawyers to interpret the mass of legal lore that burdens our statute books. The remaining ninety-seven per cent have to take the raw stuff right out of the mill.

We are a government by lawyers and for lawyers. It is they who are responsible for the legislative curiously anomalous, wasteful and business disturbance that infect our statute books, for at the source of most every law is a lawyer. They have in no case lowered the price of the commodity or benefited the people but they have hindered industry and restrained government and have built up their profession until it dominates government, tyrannizes business and terrorizes progress.

There is no more valuable citizen in our land than a patriotic, able, conscientious lawyer, seeking to direct the ship of state through the temporous channels of both century civilization, plotting a business through the legislative billows that dash with maddened fury across its pathway and whose genius can calm the fear and command the confidence of the people.
The integrity of Republics is imperiled not there where the lawyer perils to society than a political lawyer who seeks to prostitute government, stain business with suspicion and arouse distrust in the minds of the people.
Unfortunately the latter class are a strong force in the profession, oftentimes in high places, and unless the better class unite in driving the quacks from their midst an outraged public opinion will administer a rebuke that will humiliate the pride, crush the hope and smash the power of the profession and reduce its accessibility to ashes.

and $5000 in personal property.

Florence M. Bunting has filed a petition in the Probate Court asking to be appointed as administratrix of the estate of her mother, Mrs. Carrie M. Bunting. No valuation of the estate was filed. The petition is returnable at East Cambridge September 15.

The will of Merrill E. Hodgdon who died May 27, 1915 has been allowed.
Mrs. Carrie A. Hodgdon, widow of the deceased, has been appointed as executrix and has given a bond of $10,000. The estate is valued at $8000; $3000 in real estate and $5000 in personal property.

The will of Joseph Shea who died
June 11, 1915, has been allowed.
Mrs. Margaret G. Roderick of Marshfield, a daughter of the deceased, has been appointed as executrix and has given a bond of $4000. The estate is valued at $2000 all in real estate.

The will of Henry C. Nickerson has been filed in the Probate Court.
The will is dated August 4, 1905 and names his wife, Mrs. Dora M. Nickerson of Winchester and Fred M.
Lamson of Brookline as executors.
No valuation of the estate was filed and all of the bequests are private.
The heirs-at-law are Mrs. Dora M.
Nickerson, widow, and Carol M. Nickerson, a daughter; both of Winchester. The will is returnable at East
Cambridge, September 13.

An inventory of the estate of William C. Brown of Winchester who died April 15, 1915, has been filed in the Probate Court. The estate is valued at $600 all in personal property.

When You Have Married a Wife.

When you have married a wife, you would think she were got upon a bill top, and might begin to go down bean easy slope. But you have only an ed coupling to begin marriage. Falling in love and winning love are often difficult tasks to overbearing and rebellious spirits, but to keep in love is also a business of some importance, to which a man and wife must bring kindness and good will.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

SIEDLICE.

The city of Siedlice, recently captured by the German army marching east from Warsaw against Brest Litovsk, is described by the National Geographic Society in a sketch of the geography of Europe's battlefields.

Siedlice, while of little or no industrial or commercial importance, is an important railway junction, which binds the trunkline railways,
Warsaw-Petrograd and Warsaw-Moscow, by a north-and-south line, beginning at the fortress Ostrolenka and ending at Lublin. One of the lines from Siedlice runs south to Lukow, and then turns east through Mozharysk and Bielsk to Brest
Litovsk. On the railway front, Siedlice-Lukow, the German army which captured Warsaw was united to that before which Ivanograd fell.
Lukow was taken by the Ivanograd troops about the same time that the city to the north was won.

Siedlice lies about 50 miles east-southeast of Warsaw. Lukow is twenty miles southwest of Siedlice, while Brest Litovsk is 55 miles from Lukow and 60 miles from the northern city. Siedlice is about 21 miles south of the Warsaw-Petrograd Railroad, and from its junction a main line branches northeast to the important city of Minsk, while another branch runs east, past Brest Litovsk to Gornel, a manufacturing town and an entrepot for agricultural products.
Siedlice is a little larger than the railway junction and in the seat of the government administration at Siedlice. It plays a small part in assembling the agricultural products of the district, and the Ozynskis have embellished the little town with a beautiful palace and well-planned gardens.
The population is about 21,000, of which the Jewish element is more than two-thirds.

For Mending Graniteware.
Graniteware and flint, but several methods have been found to shellac varnish poured over thin pieces in graniteware, and the vessel held over the fire to thoroughly harden the shellac. This greatly lessens the use of the flinty dish. Another way to mend small holes in granite ware is to place the vessel to be mended under a hot stove; put a piece of sealing wax over the hole; melt—not only melt, but the wax. Cool gradually.

OUR VALUABLE ISLANDS

A decade ago the United States furnished fourteen per cent. of the goods imported to the Philippine Islands. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, this country furnished just a little more than one-half the imports. In the first nine months of the war the shipments to those islands have decreased on account of our imports from that direction have increased about fifty per cent. In consequence of the difficulty experienced by the Philippine merchants in finding markets elsewhere, The United States sent in the fiscal year 1914 cotton goods to the value of more than six million dollars to the Philippines. The purchases of iron and steel amounted to a little more than four millions. Other large items were mineral oils, leather, breadstuffs, paper, automobiles, and so on, through a long list. This country sent nearly half a million dollars' worth of lumber to the islands, notwithstanding the existence there of some of the finest forests in the world. Our imports from the Philippines consisted mainly of hemp, sugar, vegetable oils, copra and tobacco. Three years before the Spanish American War the export from the United States to the Philippines amounted to only $19,000 in twelve months. The total is now approaching that amount on every business day of the year.

WILLIAM NOONAN INJURED.

Same Horse Responsible for Two Accidents Within a Week.

While driving on Pond street Tuesday evening, the horse ran away, smashing the gig to which he was hitched, and threw William J. Noonan, son of Patrick Noonan of Canal street, and John Connolly of Wolcott street, cutting and bruising both. Noonan received bad cuts on his chin and cheek and Connolly a cut on his leg. It was necessary to call a physician to dress Noonan's wounds.

The horse was the same animal which was responsible for the accident Saturday afternoon, when Miss Frances Noonan and Connolly were thrown from a buggy in the same vicinity when the animal shied at a passing automobile, running in front of it. At that time the buggy was wrecked and Miss Noonan received a sprained ankle.

Tuesday night's accident occurred on Pond street, the horse bolting without warning and running to Cambridge street where the boys were thrown out. It is a new horse, purchased by Mr. Noonan a few days ago.

16 INNING GAME.

Manchester Field Boys Lost to Cambridge by One Run.

One of the best ball games in years was played on Manchester Field Tuesday afternoon, when the Cambridge Field Playground nine won from the local playground team by a score of 10 to 9. The game abounded in sensational plays and the two teams were very evenly matched, neither being able to gain sufficient headway to make a win. Gallahan, who took a stand in left field after good work at third, stopped five hits by his clever fielding, and McManus, the little short-stop, proved a tiger at the bat. Gibbons was the best hitter for the visitors, and to his good work was due their win in larger measure.

A CHART OF TRUE MANLINESS

"One of the serious needs of the day is the information of the manners of the young," said Walter W. Price, in accepting the presidency of the Staten Island Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

The observation is timely, because of the decadence of good manners observable everywhere, and as fundamental in the admirable character-building work of the Boy Scouts.

It is not altogether the fault of the young that their manners average low, for the deterioration has been gradual through several generations. Their elders must admit, if candid, that their own habits are not, on the whole, marked by the same spirit of gracious courtesy that ruled in the days when they were young. Men and women past middle age, noting how far the elders of today have fallen from the standards of a generation ago, cannot wonder that the youth of today have drifted still further from the habitual practice of good manners.

It is encouraging, therefore, to find men of affairs the country over taking up and supporting a movement that in five years has spread into every state—a movement designed to leaven the rising generation by building up the characters of the youth of today, by mending their manners in the large sense of making them exemplars of a round dozen of truly manly virtues.

There is no one factor more hopeful in the present life of this country, than the alliance of 200,000 lads to the "scout law," which is that a scout must be true, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent. That is a chart of true manliness.—New York Mail.

Are You The Man?

In every concern there are men who hold the important positions and receive the big salaries. Are you one of them? --- If not, start now to prepare yourself for the next promotion.

BUSINESS IS A SCIENCE

Public accountants, office managers, cost accountants, efficiency experts, lawyers, credit men, salesmen, and directors of publicity are the highest paid men in all concerns. The School of Commerce and Finance of the Boston Young Mens Christian Association trains ambitious men for these highly technical positions.

FACTS TO REMEMBER

The School is the third largest in America and was attended by 761 active business men last year, the average age being 28 years. The School is incorporated as a college and grants the degrees of Bachelor of Commercial Science and Master of Commercial Science. The faculty includes technically trained and broadly experienced accountants, teachers, and business executives. Our plant and equipment are noted for their completeness down to the last detail. The results achieved by our graduates have attracted great attention. Your earning capacity begins to increase as soon as you enter the School as hundreds will testify. We fully equip you to hold the most important positions in any line of business. The courses are evening and do not conflict with your employment. A catalog giving complete details is sent upon request. For personal interviews call at down town office. Tremont Building, tel. Haymarket 3149, or at the School, 316 Huntington Avenue. Address all communications regarding the School to Frank Palmer Spear, M.H., Dean, 316 Huntington Avenue, Boston, tel. Back Bay 4400.

SUGAR UNNECESSARY IN CAN.

Being deterred from putting up their usual supply of fruit by the high price of sugar in many parts of the country, the office of information of the Department of Agriculture urges them to think twice before adopting such a course.

This for two reasons. In the first place some fruits are so cheap that they make up for the high price of sugar, and in the next it is quite possible to can without any sugar at all, or with less than is commonly used.

That sugar is not necessary for the preservation of fruit is a fact perfectly well known to all specialists in domestic science, and running without sugar is commonly practiced, even when the cost of that ingredient is no consideration.

Usually it is only the slightly acid fruits that are put in that way, but there is no reason why any fruit should not be so treated, as it is sterilization and sealing that preserves canned foods, and not sugar, unless used in very large quantities. The Department of Agriculture recommends the sugarcane process for apples and peaches.

To can without sugar it is only necessary to proceed in the usual way, using plain water instead of sugar syrup. For peaches the department gives the following directions: "Remove skins from peaches by immersing in boiling water for about one minute and then dipping in cold water. Place whole peaches in glass jars and fill with hot water. Place rubber and top in place and sterilize fifteen minutes in hot-water bath outfits, twelve minutes in water-seal, ten minutes at five pounds steam pressure."

PHASANTS WILL BE PLENTY

Hunt-men in this section will be interested in the announcement made by the State Commission on Fisheries and game that 2000 pheasants are to be loosed in the woods and fields of Massachusetts between now and winter. This amount will be twice the number that was distributed during the previous season.

While the month's open season on pheasants, which last year resulted in a wholesale slaughtering of the birds, will be allowed this Fall again, the commission expresses confidence that there will be no repetition to the pheasant slaughter.

This year's Legislature passed a law prohibiting any alien, except those taxed for property valued at $500 or more, from using a shotgun or rifle in Massachusetts.

The open season on pheasants will be from Oct. 12 to Nov. 12 this year, the same as last. In the meantime, the distribution of pheasants will continue. The birds are being loosed in all parts of the State, but most of them will be placed in counties where to pheasants were released last season—Middlesex, Essex and Worcester.

THE WINCHESTER STAR.

VOL. XXXV. NO. 10.

WINCHESTER, MASS., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1915.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

REPRESENTATIVE SITUATION.

Luther B. Lyman, Candidate for Representative.

To the Republicans of Winchester: At the primaries to be held September 21, the voters will choose between two candidates from Medford and one from Winchester for the Republican nomination as representative from the 27th Middlesex District, composed of Winchester and Wards 3 and 6 of Medford. By a custom, established for twenty years, and never yet violated by either Winchester or Medford, the Republican nomination has alternated between the two places, and as Winchester has now had the representative for the past three years, good faith and justice demand that Medford should be given the nomination this year. The Republican Town Committee of Winchester has already put itself on record to that effect and urges that no candidate from Winchester should receive consideration for the nomination.

Who, then, of the two candidates from Medford should receive the support and votes of the Winchester Republicans? In the first place, a man who, by ability, training, and experience, is qualified and willing to represent the whole district. In the second place, a man who has the support of the Medford Republicans, and thus can come to Winchester and say that he will be the choice of a majority of them, and hence worthy of and entitled to the support of Winchester Republicans, who can safely rely upon the judgment of Medford where the candidates are best known and which is to choose between them.

Without the least disparagement or criticism of any other candidate, these tests are met by Luther B. Lyman of Medford. Mr. Lyman was born 62 years ago in Concord, Mass., and practically all of his life has been spent in Middlesex County, near the district which he desires to represent. For the past thirty-seven years he has lived in Medford, and in the 27th district ever since its formation twenty years ago. Mr. Lyman's father answered President Lincoln's call to arms, being killed in the battle of the Wilderness, in 1864, and upon Mr. Lyman, at the age of nine years, was imposed the necessity of going to work to help support his mother and brother. Ever since that time he has been engaged in the stationery and printing business, and has been very successful, now being a partner in the George E. Crosby Company of Boston, one of Boston's large printing firms.

Mr. Lyman's activities have not been confined to business, but he has taken a prominent part in the civic, social, political and religious affairs of his community, and has a host of friends and supporters on that account. He has been elected without opposition from his Ward—Ward 6,—the largest in the city,—to the Board of Aldermen of Medford, continuously since 1911, serving on important sub-committees, such as Finance, and Fire Department. While chairman of the Committee on Fire Department, he was largely instrumental in motorizing the department. He is also prominent in the Medford Board of Trade and in municipal affairs. He has always been untiring in his work for interests of the Republican party, serving for many years on the Medford Ward and City Committee, and for two years, —1913 and 1914,—he was Chairman of the Republican City Committee. Last year, his efforts as Chairman were crowned with conspicuous success.

His social activities include membership in the leading fraternal, social and military organizations of Medford and Boston. For many years he was connected with the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia, and is now a past officer of the Agent & Honorable Artillery Co., and Treasurer of the National Lawyers.

Mr. Lyman has also taken a leading part in civic affairs, for years having been a member and officer of the West Medford Baptist Society, and having been helpful in all movements for the betterment of the community and for good government.

Not only, then, has Mr. Lyman shown himself well qualified by training, experience and ability to represent the whole district,—Winchester and Medford alike,—at the General Court, but he can depend upon the support of his fellow-citizens of Medford at the primaries, whose respect and liking he has attained by his public-spirited and intelligent and broad-minded handling of civic affairs. Their regard for him is well shown by the fact that he has been returned, without opposition, for five years as alderman-at-large from Ward 6, Medford, which has about twice as many voters as Ward 3,—the other ward in our representative district and the home of the other candidate from Medford,—and he has received numerous assurances of support from his friends in Ward 3, as well, who are among the prominent citizens. Furthermore, Ward 6, although twice as large as Ward 3, has not had a candidate for representative for many years, and there is a feeling in Medford that this year it is fair that the candidate should be nominated from Ward 6 and not from Ward 3.

In view of his record is Mr. Lyman presumptuous in asking for the nomination as representative this year, and should he not receive the support of the Republican voters of Winchester?

Experience and ability have always been considered the criteria by which the selection of our public officials should be made, and Mr. Lyman asks for your support, Mr. Voter, only after judgment by these tests.

H. Barton Nason,
11 Myrtle street,
Winchester, Mass.

REPRESENTATIVE CONTEST.

To the Republicans of Winchester: In view of the contest for the Republican nomination for representative from our district between three candidates,—two from West Medford, and one from Winchester,—the Winchester Republican Town Committee deems it its duty, as representing the interests of the party, to call to the attention of the Republican voters of this town certain facts.

For the past twenty years Winchester, and Wards 3 and 6 of Medford, have constituted a representative district; during all this period by a custom invariably adhered to the representative has been elected alternately from Medford and Winchester, each place having the representative for two years, except in the case of the last two representatives who served for three years each. Medford has never placed a candidate in the field against Winchester when Winchester's turn to nominate the candidate had arrived, but has scrupulously observed perfect good faith.

The representative for the past three years has been from Winchester and we feel that justice demands the next Republican candidate should be from Medford, under this long recognized usage, never yet violated. Therefore the Committee strongly urges upon the Republican voters of Winchester to treat Medford with the same fairness that it has shown Winchester, and to select and nominate at the primaries one of the two candidates from Medford in preference to any candidate from Winchester.

Republican Town Committee by James F. Dwinell, Secretary.

MRS. MARY GLEASON MURPHY.

Mrs. Mary Gleason Murphy, aged 87 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Buckley on Cambridge street, Wednesday. The funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence.

Harry Goldberg of 16 Rose street, Boston, was arrested by the Winchester police yesterday charged with stealing fruit and vegetables from the farm of James W. Russell. His case will come up in the Woburn court tomorrow morning.

REV. MR. MARSHALL WILL PREACH.

The pulpit of the Congregational Church the coming Sunday will be supplied by Rev. Benjamin T. Marshall, D. D., Professor of Biblical History and Literature at Dartmouth College of the Class of 1897. Mr. Maurice F. Brown, 12 Myrtle street, is a member of the same class. Professor Marshall is highly regarded by Dartmouth faculty and students and is much in demand to fill vacant pulpits. The Church is fortunate in securing his services.

Winchester boys are well represented in the student body of Dartmouth and they with their friends will be glad to greet Dr. Marshall.

BUILDING PERMITS.

The following building permits have been issued by the Inspector of Buildings for the week ending Sept. 2:

REAL ESTATE NEWS.

The Edward T. Harrington Co. report having sold by them this week for Mrs. Katherine S. Cummings the property at No. 8 Ravenscroft road comprising stucco dwelling of 10 rooms, garage and about 9546 sq. ft. The purchaser is Mr. Cecil H. Cummings of Somerville who will occupy the premises about Sept. 15th.

The same brokers have also sold for Mr. Charles D. Upton of Boston, lot No. 28 comprising about 11,780 sq. ft. The purchaser is Mr. Cecil Cummings of Somerville who has purchased this lot which adjoins the property purchased by him at No. 8 Ravenscroft road.

The same brokers have also sold for Mrs. Besse C. Taylor the property at No. 7 Warren street comprising frame dwelling of 9 rooms, garage and about 15,570 sq. ft. land. The purchaser is Mrs. Katherine S. Cummings of this town who will occupy the premises about Sept. 15th.

The same brokers have also sold for Mr. Nathaniel G. Hill the attractive new Colonial 10-room dwelling which has just been completed, situated on lot 8 on the Northwest corner of Cabot and Warren streets. The lot comprises about 7289 sq. ft. The purchaser is Mr. G. A. Magill of Somerville who will occupy the premises about September 1st.

The same brokers have leased for Mr. Edward A. Knight of Boston a suite in the Church street house of the Winchester Chambers to Mr. William H. McGill of Newton who will occupy the suite about Sept. 1st.

BASE BALL TOMORROW AND LABOR DAY.

Arlington will be the attraction here tomorrow, and they have been playing consistent ball all summer. They have a great pitcher in Travers and a wonderful catcher in Jesseau, while the rest of the team is made up of young players out for everything in sight. Last Saturday Travers held the Strong Varsity hose team to three hits and struck out 18—pretty good pitching. Game starts at 3:30.

Labor Day Morning.

We go to Lexington and play the Minute Boys, return here for a game in the afternoon. The game in Lexington will take place at 10, and the afternoon game at 3:30. We hope that the largest crowd of rooters that ever followed the team will go over Labor Day as we want all the encouragement possible. The Minute Boys are going to strengthen up their team and it looks as though we were going to have our hands full to beat them. Joe Fahey will probably pitch the game in the morning. We are going to have one or more trucks to carry over as many "fans" as possible. Those desiring seats should get down early as the first come will have the best chance of getting a ride over there. The truck will leave from in front of Connor's Drug Store at 9:15. These games are creating intense interest in Lexington and since the new manager has taken charge there he has had the crowd pulling for him in great shape.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

The Spectator does not think there are as many trolley conductors with short arms as there are passengers with short backbones. If there is a shortage of anything in any community it is the quality which braces a man or woman up when they know they are right, and the intelligent seem to be worse affected than any other class of people. Shrinking before brazenness is too common even here in Winchester. We blazon upon our walls "When you know you are right, go ahead," and then too many of us stand huddled like donkeys to a fence rail. It was Bancroft who pointed out the fact that "the fears of one class of men are not the measure of the rights of some other class." It is because of short backbones that the world of progress is always feeling the need of men. If men were resolute for Right, it never would have been said that "Man is a reasoning rather than a reasonable animal." Some men declare man is not an animal, but is a son of God. The short backbone is not a divine symbol, it wasn't in the plan of God. It is a deformity which proceeds from weakness rather than strength.

GEORGE B. CURRIER.

Winchester Boy Who Has Won Distinction.

FORMER WINCHESTER MAN APPOINTED.

George B. Currier Member of New Rochelle Education Board.

Among the recent appointments made by Mayor Griffing of New Rochelle, N. Y., is that of Mr. George B. Currier, a well known Winchester boy, son of Mr. Charles W. Currier of Somerville, as one of the three members of the Board of Education. Mr. Currier graduated from the Winchester schools and has many friends in this town. For the past five or six years he has made his home in New Rochelle.

The Evening Standard of New Rochelle publishes the following sketch of Mr. Currier's career in connection with the announcement of his appointment:

George Brinton Currier is a native of Somerville, Mass., and is a successful advertising man in New York City. He is 35 years old and received his education in the public schools of Somerville and Winchester, Mass., and in Boston University, class of '90.

He is a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity, Hingham Lodge, No. 8, F. & A. M., this city, and Bethlehem Commandery, No. 34, Mount Vernon. He is a member of a number of local clubs, including the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church, New Rochelle Yacht Club, the City Club and Republican Club. He has lived in New Rochelle since 1909, residing at 30 Pittard avenue.

The selection of Mr. Currier by Mayor Griffing is a tribute to a friendship that extends over a period of more than twenty years and an intimate knowledge possessed by the mayor of Mr. Currier's special qualifications for valuable work on the Board.

PLAYGROUND MEET LABOR DAY.

Residents should not forget the annual field meet and exhibition for the Manchester Field Playground, to be held on the field Monday morning. The events will commence at 9:30. In past years this meet, which is an annual event, has created great interest among the children, as well as being an event of considerable attraction to the elders. The exhibition of basketry, sewing and other work done by the girls and younger children is also of considerable interest to all.

The event will be held under the direction of Instructor Harold D. Leland and his assistant, Miss Lorene B. Reed. The list of events to be run off, for which desirable prizes will be awarded, was published in last week's STAR.

KILLED BY FALL.

Roderick McDonald of Woburn, 15 years old, died at the Mass. General Hospital Saturday afternoon as the result of a fall from the roof of a new house being erected on Edgemoor road. He leaves six children, the eldest of which is 15 years old. His wife died on July 3d after an illness of not a few hours.

Besides his family in Woburn, two brothers, John and Allan, survive him from this town. He had resided in Woburn for the past 24 years.

SCHOOL BEGINS WEDNESDAY.

All parents should take notice that the public schools in town open next Wednesday. The Supt. of Schools has made the request that all children be on hand at the opening to begin the year's work.

On and after June 5th Keller & Hayes' park wagon will leave the centre for a trip through the Middlesex Fells to Spot Pond and return with the three beautiful reservoirs of Winchester. Round trip 50 cents. Leave centre on the hour.

TOWN IMPROVEMENTS.

Editor of the Star.—

While the sidewalk improvements at the Centre are under construction, and no doubt will be a decided improvement, it is a question in the minds of many, whether at this time it would be wise to force upon the property owners this improvement.

In the first place the sidewalkers are complaining of hard times, and the next year leave them to go to pieces for the want of spending a few dollars to keep them in repair. The day should come when the officials and citizens alike could respect note passed in town meeting, instead of paying so little attention to them as they have in the past.

The town has been fortunate in their selection of the present Supervisor of Streets. He has shown a saving more money to some of these boards than they can properly handle and spend. The work on the south side of Waterford road could have well waited, and it further seems that the B. & M. R. R. could well afford to co-operate to have the work carried up to come with their own. As I understand it, the town gave the railroad this strip of land for the mere asking.

Corporations enter town, dig up streets and walks, leave them for a year or so without making any attempt to replace them. There are quite a few improvements that were started last year by the Selectmen on sidewalk construction. They are still unfinished, and are too numerous to mention. Washington street should be finished on the westerly side, from where the work was left off last year, to the end of the Stone property. On the easterly side from the Baptist Church to the Catholic Church. Now these improvements have been promised of handed to the people for a number of years.

It seems it would be the duty of the officials to co-operate with the people and finish the different corners at Wilson, the Stationers.

P. E. Fitzgerald.

[where they have had curbing, to protect the same. What benefit to the laborer is the curbing unless you finish the walks?]

Sometimes the use of land by the masses for a certain number of years makes all the difference in the world who pays the damages, should any person be unfortunate enough to get hurt by their acts.

It is poor policy to use the tax payers' money for building new streets, and the next year leave them to go to pieces for the want of spending a few dollars to keep them in repair. The day should come when the officials and citizens alike could respect note passed in town meeting, instead of paying so little attention to them as they have in the past.

The town has been fortunate in their selection of the present Supervisor of Streets. He has shown a saving more money to some of these boards than they can properly handle and spend. The work on the south side of Waterford road could have well waited, and it further seems that the B. & M. R. R. could well afford to co-operate to have the work carried up to come with their own. As I understand it, the town gave the railroad this strip of land for the mere asking.

Corporations enter town, dig up streets and walks, leave them for a year or so without making any attempt to replace them. There are quite a few improvements that were started last year by the Selectmen on sidewalk construction. They are still unfinished, and are too numerous to mention. Washington street should be finished on the westerly side, from where the work was left off last year, to the end of the Stone property. On the easterly side from the Baptist Church to the Catholic Church. Now these improvements have been promised of handed to the people for a number of years.

It seems it would be the duty of the officials to co-operate with the people and finish the different corners at Wilson, the Stationers.

BASEBALL.

Winchester Easily Defeats Strong Wakefield Team.

By "Mack."

Saturday we entertained about 1000 fans with as fine a ball game as anyone would care to see. Our team came back in great form after the defeat of the previous Saturday, and took sweet revenge out of the Wakefield team. We put three runs over in the first inning by great batting and these proved enough to win the game, although we added three more later for good measure. The first Wakefield goal was to come twice and that was after we had the crowd swayed up and Tift had come around to hit the ball for the batter. Wakefield had their usual strong lineup, and while they are not world beaters in the field they can hit the ball for fair. The only real weak spot on the team is at first base, and that is not so much weakness as awkwardness on the part of the player, but what Walsh loses in the field he more than makes up for in his batting, and he plays a much better game than when he played with Wakefield last season.

Our boys played snappy ball from the time the game started until the last out, and there never was a time when the Wakefield team was at all dangerous. Wakefield brought a great crowd of rooters with them, but they did not have a chance to do much rooting. Manager Dingwell has put a good team and the Wakefield people are with him for the first time in a number of years. We hope he will continue his good work and have a more dangerous team for us to meet another season.

Notes.

16 out of 19. There was an error in the count last week, and some of the rabid fans got after us.

Wingate was the busy man Saturday having 11 chances and accepting 10 of them. Some ball playing.

Frazier batting right handed hammered the ball hard, and was robbed out of a three bagger through a remarkable catch by Holmberg, and this same Holmberg is one of the greatest outfielders in the semi-pro ranks.

Sweeney hit the ball hard also, but in hard luck.

Kolseth is some hitter as the previous Saturday he got a single and home run off Morris, and you fans saw what he could do Saturday.

We may see him in one of the games Labor Day.

We expect to see Joe Fahy in the lineup Saturday and he will probably pitch the morning game in Lexington. He is expected to come home Sept. 1st.

"Dad" Regan, the captain and center field for Wakefield, is one of the oldest and best players on the team. Did you hear him "crabbing" when things did not break right for his team? He made things hot for Morrison after he got caught off second by the quick throw from Tift.

Morrison started an argument with Coady, but Regan wouldn't have it as he knew "Bill" was right on the play.

Stoneham lost a tough game to the Gen. Electric team. An error by the first baseman letting in the winning run in the 9th.

A young pitcher named Walsh worked for Cabinet, and Charlie Flaherty said he was a good one and with any sort of hitting behind him would have won out.

The Minute Boys were beaten by the St. John's Club, but from reports they say the umpire handed them some pretty raw decisions. It is poor business to claim the umpire alibi, but it seems the Minute Boys are alright in this case.

The crowd from Cambridge pulled off about everything to get away with the game and we surmise they succeeded.

After due consideration of all the arguments pro and con, Manager Le Due decided that the majority of fans in this town had seen enough of Wakefield this season and as we have won the series and made a good job of it, he decided to have a new team here for Labor Day. The Minute Boys were very anxious to play here, and as they always bring a good team with them and play a good clean game of ball, he thought it best to book up with them. One game at Lexington in the morning and return here for the afternoon.

While the writer would just as soon see Wakefield as any other team, still he is only one of the very few that cares to see them here, and as manager Le Due is looking the games and responsible for results, we are in perfect accord with his decision to have the Minute Boys here.

The Times seems to make "yours truly" the "goat" for all the excitement. And that reminds us of a little story.

An old colored preacher at an evening prayer meeting wound up his sermon by repeating several times the following question, "And again I say, whose a zwine to be the sheep, and whose a zwine to be the goat?" At last one one in the rear got up and said "Well parson, I'll be the goat. What's the answer?" That is the way in this case, we will be the goat. Now what's the answer?

From the Wakefield Item Friday, Aug. 27: "All over but the cheering. Manager Dingwell, confident his pitcher and heavy hitters can take Winchester measures. Come over and see us put one over on Winchester." But the funny part of it is that Winchester did all the cheering.

The following also is from the Wakefield Item of last week, it speaks for itself, no comment is necessary. A break has occurred in the athletic relations of the locals and the Reading nine as a result of alleged happenings in last Saturday's contest. Mr. Horrocks, while communicating with Mr. Dingwell in an effort to extend the series to five games, took exception to the remark of the latter that should the Wakefields cap the next game in Reading, Mr. Horrocks' team would not draw flies down here on the following Saturday.

Horrocks went up in the air and accused Dingwell of keeping Morris supplied with dry balls while Gill was forced to twirl with wet spheres. The accusation, which is nonsensical, is probably based on the fact that every time the Wakefields took the field, Mr. Dingwell threw out a ball with which the infield practiced while Bennett was adjusting his catching paraphernalia.

The ball was always returned to the bench as Umpire Meloney retained charge of the balls which were in play and refused to allow either team to use them in practice because should a wild throw take place the game would be delayed until the ball was recovered.

Wakefield admires a hard loser because it means a fight to the finish, but a sore loser who makes his discoveries after the game is finished instead of at a time when the game is in progress and the alleged infraction can be proved or disproved, is not held in high esteem in this town. It looks very much like a case of sour grapes.

The Reading Chronicle says "Mack" has been very insulting in his columns towards Reading. Well, "Mack" offers his most sincere apologies for anything that he may have said to injure the feelings of anyone connected with the ball team or any of the fans in Reading. But "Mack" will leave it to readers of the Star in Winchester to judge whether his columns contain anything but what

FROM MY NOTE BOOK.

Yes, I know you haven't time to keep a note-book, but I tell you, you are losing a great deal of pleasure by not doing so. I would as soon go away without a few bills in my "inside pocket" as forget the little dilapidated book wherein I have copied from time to time many sweet bits of poetry and prose. I can turn to its pages promiscuously and ever find cheer, comfort, philosophy and beauty, anything to suit my frame of mind.

Start in keeping one and see how well you will like it. Or perhaps you are like the young lady, and she was somewhat of an intellectual at that, who quite seriously asked me one day if she might look at my "note factory." I noticed, however, that the factory proved interesting enough for her to request a lease on it. These are some of the things she read:—

"I have cough, asthma, and seven other maladies, but am otherwise very well."

"God sends great angels in our sore dismay, but little ones go in and out all day."

"O hyacinth of the western sky—Where the day is flushed with death:

O Sibilant of the watching hills That seem to hold their breath: O heart, heart under this hyacinth sky,

Under a sorrow prolonged and deep—Somewhere the prairies sigh, Sighing their twilight thoughts asleep

Under a hyacinth sky."

"To live in heart's we leave behind is not to die."

"And yet, these souls of ours are fashioned for bottomless soundings. There is no created thing that draws as deep as the soul of man: our life lies straight across the ocean and not along shore, but we are afraid to venture. To and away with you then into the deep soundings, where you belong, O belated soul. Across the ocean of life our way, lie straight to the harbor of the city of gold.

Spread the sails, weigh the anchor, and point the prow for the country that lies the other side of a deep and restless sea. Sooner or later the voyage must be made; let us make it then, while the timber is staunch and the rudder true. With a resolute will at the wheel and the great God himself to furnish the chart, our ship shall weather the wildest gale and find entrance at last to the harbor of peace."

"The heart has reasons of which reason knows nothing."

"If I should die, think only this of me: That there is some corner of a foreign field That is forever England."

"Not days of rest and ease I crave—Oh God of strength, I only ask The blessedness of being brave"

"Whatever the toil, whatever the task"

"I asked her if she wasn't ashamed could be read in the best regulated families. The whole trouble lies in the fact that The Chronicle fails to let the Reading people see what is written. They copy what they see fit and make unnecessary criticism on the story. Anyway you have our apology and if you people connected with the Reading team are so thin skinned as all that—no more criticism from "Mack."

BAPTIST NEWS.

The pastor returns from Jackson, N. H. today, and the services of worship, Bible study and prayer will be resumed on Sunday. At the Sunday morning service a motto for the year will be presented: "Everybody Doing Something for God." In the evening a special service for young people entering upon another year of school or college life will be held, and the sermon will be upon "The Best Way to Begin the School Year."

to get up so late, and she said she was, but that she had rather be ashamed than get up."

"Oh my beloved, to leave these rest-les streets,

To see again the glory of your face,

To watch the sun drop down behind God's hills, And to forget the fever of this place."

"The heart that is honest awake to the flowers, is always the first to be touched by the thorns."

"When Tony died she took with her the sound of laughter into the silent land and all things have seemed more sober since she left."

"Within this temple of myself there is a crowd,

There's one of me that's humble, one that's proud,

One that's broken-hearted at his sins,

One that unrepentant sits and grins; One that loves his neighbor as himself,

One that cares for naught but fame and pelf, From much corroding care should I be free,

If once I could determine which is me."

"The first and worst of all frauds is to cheat oneself."

"I am afraid to love you, Sweet, For Love's ambassador is Loss."

"Rarely is it given in the story of life to those who work greatly or those who love greatly, to gather the fruit of their toil or passion."

"Thou art always with me and all I have is lived."

"I have lived my life And that which I have done Mac He within Himself make pure, And thou, if thou shouldst never see my face again, Pray for my soul, More things are wrought by prayer Than this world dreams of."

"It is well to be humble, the only break, the pure does not break the violet."

"When true hearts are withered And fond eyes are down, Oh who would inhibit

This bleak world alone!"

"One day with life and heart is more than time enough to find a world."

"To ease another's heartache is to forget one's own."

"Those we love are strange, you, stranger than the rest."

"We gave the name of Destiny to all that limits us."

"Not of warmer sunlight Falling through the trees: Fields of gold-white daisies Rippling in the breeze;

Lazy lifting ground-wells, Breaking green as jade

On the blue beaches, Where the shore-birds wade."

"For, what else is there but love, sacred or profane, in all this whole wide world that God had made?"

ARLINGTON THEATRE.

Next Monday afternoon, Labor Day, a special Children's Matinee will be given, consisting of special pictures for children only. In the evening and on Tuesday afternoon and evening the big Metro production "The High Road" with Valli Valli playing the lead will be given. This remarkable series of Metro pictures, the best that is being produced at the present time by the Film Exchanges, has been contracted for by the management of this theatre for every Monday and Tuesday. Each week one of the biggest former legitimate stage stars will appear in the feature picture.

On Wednesday and Thursday the charming Lottie Pickford appears in "The Diamond from the Sky" which has proven to be a second "Million Dollar Mystery."

On Friday afternoon and evening a Mutual masterpiece entitled "The Reward" will be presented. This is an overwrought drama of stage life with its fascinating glamour and temptation pictured with vivid realism.

On Saturday afternoon and evening the "Pathe Weekly" and the "Hazards of Helen" will be the leading features of the programme.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread-d disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages. And that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of this system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. ARNOLD
FLORIST

I Common St.

Entered at the post-office at Winchester, Massachusetts, as second-class matter.

Monday will end the summer vacations.

Be it resolved: That Winchester mosquitoes be barreled and sold to our New England mills to make them hum.

The visiting Governors while here visited the Falls under escort of Commissioner Charles Baxter. This was a privilege never before granted automobilists. There were no closed roads to the Governors. The letting down of this rule gave the visitors a chance to see the best natural reservation in this part of the country, and what they witnessed must have made a deep impression on their minds.

We note with interest, now that the nomination papers have been filed, the exceeding modesty of our sister town of Winchester. Being next to Stoneham the smallest political division of our district, the politicians hope to possess not only the next Governor of the Commonwealth but the Senator for this district and Representative from the District of which it is a part as well, although she has had the Representative for three years. It would have been more like "Fair play" had Winchester people concentrated their effort on the election of Hon. Samuel W. McCall for Governor, and allowed the other honors to go elsewhere for the present year at least.—[Arlington Advocate.]

It is news to the Star to be informed by our Arlington contemporary that Winchester has a candidate for Representative. Who is he?

SUBCOMMITTEES APPOINTED.

Committee of Fifteen Organized Far Work to Consider Town Government.

The Committee of Fifteen, so-called, appointed at the spring town meeting to study and consider the existing forms of town government, and all matters relating to the administration of the prudential affairs of the town, with particular reference to the advisability of making any change or changes in the form thereof, has been divided into the following subcommittees.

Foreign forms of town or city government.—Metcalf, Joslin, Clarke, Parkhurst, Nowell, Russell.

Forms of town and city government in United States outside of Massachusetts.—Harris, Main, Russell, Jr.

Massachusetts forms under enabling statutes, including commission and representative forms.—Snyder, Richards, Pike.

Consolidation of Town departments and other changes in administrative affairs.—Jewett, Foley, Pond.

OPEN TOURNAMENT HERE.

Country Club Will Hold Important Event This Month.

An event of considerable interest to all golfers throughout this section of the State will be the open tournament which the Winchester Country Club is planning to hold on the two days, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 24 and 25.

The tournament will be open to members of clubs belonging to the Mass. Golf Association whose names appear in the state handicap list for 1915. The participants will be allowed to play on the forenoon or afternoon of either day, being required to be off not later than 3:30 p. m.

The list of prizes offered will include the following:
Best gross,
Best net,
Second net,
Best single round of 9 holes,
Best selected nine holes,
Most 4s (including 3s and 2s).
Barton K. Stephenson is handling the tournament, and all entries should be sent to him at the Country Club.

WILLIAM H. McRAE.

William H. McRae, aged 87 years, died at the home of his son, Melvin L. McRae, at No. 15 Vine street, Wednesday morning. His death was due to infirmities of his advanced age, he having been ill for a considerable period. Mr. McRae was a native of Prince Edwards Island. About a year ago he came to this town to make his home with his son, who is his only surviving kin.

The funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and will be conducted by Rev. Orville C. Poland, pastor of the Methodist Church. Friends and relatives are invited. The burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

HIGHWAY WORK SHOWING RESULTS.

The results of the work by the town Highway department, now that the rainy season has somewhat abated, is rapidly showing itself in all sections of the town, and unless the weather conditions continue with another unfavorable period the winter will open with our streets in what is easily the best condition in their history.

Considerable patching has been done this summer, resulting in many of the streets being greatly improved, and in some instances streets which apparently needed rebuilding have been put in such excellent condition that unless one knew to the contrary they might be considered wholly new.

Early in the summer some of the crude oil, or asphalt oil, was used on some streets. This is the oil which produces the rich black mud in wet weather. During the middle of the summer this oil was superseded by Tarvia, which gives much better satisfaction, and the new work now under way is being done with the Tarvia. An excellent example of the Tarvia surfacing is shown on Vine street, which was one of the first streets treated and which has a considerable grade.

North Main street has been patched and oiled, and is materially improved over the previous existing conditions. The work of installing the new surface drainage in this section is complete, with the exception of some of the catch basins. The western end of Wildwood street has been put in better shape, eliminating the water which filled in after rains, and giving a better surface. This section was oiled this week.

Everett avenue, which is being rebuilt from Bacon to Cambridge streets is progressing as rapidly as the weather permits. The section from Cambridge street to Sheffield West was opened this week, and the section from Sheffield West to Sheffield road is now closed. This road is being constructed of Tarvia by the penetration method. The road was previously of gravel construction, and the best of the material being removed for the macadam is receiving a coat of Tarvia. When this is done Sheffield West will be placed in condition for a number of years' wear.

An example of what has been done by patching is well shown on Bacon street between the bridge and Main street. This stretch was in poor condition until well into the summer, but it is now in excellent shape.

South Main street, which was rebuilt this summer by the tar penetration method with Tarvia, together with Bacon street, are probably the two best streets in town today, although Winchester has many others which are the envy of all visitors. The south Main street section furnishes an excellent example of what we are to receive from now on from the best methods used in new construction.

The big catch basin on Waterfield road designed to cure for the water on the east side of the river is now completed, while that which will care for the water on the west side is well under way. The granite-like walk on the south side of Waterfield road is now completed.

The west side of Main street from the bridge to the centre was finished last Saturday and on Monday work was commenced on the east side section, the new curbing being set in place previously.

WAITING ROOM AT THE CENTRE.

The following letter is self-explanatory, but the many persons who are interested are invited to attend.

Public Service Commission,
Boston, Aug. 31, 1915.

Dear Sir:—Upon the petition signed by yourself and other residents of Winchester for the establishment of a waiting room for patrons of the Bay State Street railway in that town, the Commission will give a public hearing at its office, No. 1 Beacon street, Boston, on Wednesday, September 22, 1915, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Very truly yours,
Andrew A. Highlands, Secretary.

CHILDREN'S GARDENS.

An Interesting Exhibition to be Held Sept. 11.

Mrs. Lorence M. Woodside, who has had charge of the children's gardens this summer, under the auspices of the Mothers' Association, has sent out the following letter:

Dear Young Gardeners:— Last spring I told you that the Winchester Mother's Association had promised a good sum of money for prizes to be given to the children who showed the best results in gardening. These prizes will be awarded at a public exhibition of flowers and vegetables from the children's gardens, to be held at the Town Hall, Saturday, September 11.

We want all Winchester boys and girls to bring samples of what they have raised to the exhibition, but only those who are over nine and under fifteen years old will be given prizes. It makes no difference where you got your seeds providing you have cared for your garden while you were at home. Your gardens have been visited during the summer and we know that many of you have had splendid lettuce, radishes, beans, etc., which have been used, and many of your flowers have gone to seed, but it is the same with all other children's gardens, so just bring the best of what you have—no matter what it is, or how little, to the exhibition. It will never again be so easy to win one of the many interesting prizes and you will be very sorry if you do not try.

Now—all together—let's make it a good exhibition. The public is invited to the exhibition.

DUAL REGATTA MONDAY.

Commencing at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon the dual regatta between the members of the Winchester and Medford Boat Clubs will be held on Mystic Lake. The event is the first of its kind ever held on the lake, marking as it does the entrance of a handsome silver cup, two feet in height, presented by President Charles S. Tenney of the Winchester Boat Club. This cup will be raced for by crews from both clubs. It is a perpetual trophy, and will undoubtedly do much to stimulate the war canoe racing on the lake.

Monday being the first race for the cup, the competition naturally runs high, both clubs being very eager to achieve the honor of being its first winner. The war canoe race is unquestionably the most spectacular race in all the canoeing events, ranking with the rowing events. Nine men paddle in each canoe, and the sight of a close finish, with all the crews striving for the lead, is one never to be forgotten.

The list of events to be held Monday includes, besides the war canoe race, a junior tandem, single double blade, tandem single blade, club four, tail end race, mixed tandem, single single blade, heavy scurry, obstacle race, tandem double blade and punt slumping contest. This list, besides including all of the best canoeing features, contains enough novelty events to interest all and attract a large entry list.

The races will begin promptly at 2 o'clock, and commencing at 8 o'clock in the evening there will be a dance at the club house to close the day.

GERLACH-RAMSDALL.

With a quiet home wedding at the residence of the bride's parents, witnessed only by members of the immediate families, Mr. Frank Henry Gerlach, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Gerlach of Everett avenue, a well known canoeist and former officer of the Winchester Boat Club, was married on Wednesday evening to Miss Hope Ethel Ramsdell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis G. Ramsdell of 112 Hudson street, Somerville.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Otis W. Foye at eight o'clock. The wedding party entered the parlors to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Helen Wiley of Somerville, cousin of the bride. Mr. James Smith of Arlington was best man and Miss Gladys Ramsdell, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bride wore a dress of white satin and carried bride's roses. Her bride-maid wore pink chiffon.

At the conclusion of the ceremony and a short reception the couple left for a wedding trip through Canada, where they will visit Montreal and the Thousand Islands. They will make their home in Arlington, where they will be at home to their friends at 15 Draper avenue after November first.

ODD FELLOWS PARADE.

One of the biggest parades in Boston in recent years will be the marching of 10,000 Odd Fellows on Sunday, Sept. 19. A mammoth church service will be held in Mechanics Hall and will be devoted to World Peace and the advancement of Odd Fellowship.

Waterfield Lodge of Winchester will be in the parade, and final arrangements will be made by the lodge next Monday evening. Particulars will be given, and all Odd Fellows are urged to be present.

SPEAKS BEFORE MANY GRANGES.

Mr. W. L. Thick is much sought by Granges to talk on the equal suffrage question. Last week he spoke at the Marshfield Fair; Saturday he speaks before the Orange Grange; at Amesbury Sept. 7; at Ware Sept. 15; at West Boylston Oct. 8; in fact all dates between now and election day are filled. He has spoken previously before the members of twenty-two Granges, all on the suffrage question. At every meeting a resolution endorsing equal suffrage was voted.

WORLD FIGHT FOR PEACE.

Mr. Elder Opposes Mr. Roosevelt's Attack on Peace Societies.

Col. Roosevelt's recent attacks upon the peace societies of Massachusetts and the United States are misrepresentations of facts, declares Samuel J. Elder of this town, a leader in the world's peace movement, in his address last Friday afternoon at the outing of the Old Colony Club at Padanaram.

"A distinguished former President of the United States has of late made vehement, not to say vicious, attacks upon the peace societies of Massachusetts and of the United States," said Mr. Elder. "As president of the peace society and trustee of the peace foundation, I want to say that the time has come for misrepresentation."

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

August 30, 1915.

The Board met at 7:30 p. m., present Mr. E. Davidson, Hayward, Kendall and Sanford.

Election Town Officers: Eben Caldwell, nominated August 27 to be balloted for to March 31, 1916, was elected to that office.

Licenses 1915 Explosives and Inflammables: On the petition of Al-plasma A. Bradstreet, 1 Sheffield road, for a license to store gasoline in an underground tank at the address, a public hearing was ordered to be held September 13, at 8 p. m.

Licenses 1915 Hackney Carriages: The license of John H. Carpenter to maintain a hackney carriage was suspended until further notice.

William J. Murray was given permission to occupy a stand at the center station on Waterfield road until further notice.

Town Hall Engagements 1915: Mrs. A. F. Woodside applied for the free use of the Town Hall in which to exhibit fruit, flowers and vegetables grown by the children of the town. After consideration, the Clerk was instructed to write Mrs. Woodside that the wishes of the town so far as expressed in town meetings had been against granting the free use of the Town Hall except to the schools and the Visiting Nurse Association, and that probably the School Committee would grant the use of a hall in some school building for the exhibition.

Board of Survey, Indian Hill Road: On the recommendation of the Town Engineer, the grade and line plan of Indian Hill road and Sachem road were approved and hearings having been held and advertised according to law, it was Voted, That this Board sitting as a Board of Survey does hereby approve the grade and line plans of certain streets or roads to be located off High street and to be known as Indian Hill road and Sachem road according to a plan made by Edward P. Adams, which plan is hereby ordered filed in the office of the Town Clerk after the signature of this Board shall have been attached to said plan.

Street Across the Pond: A letter was received from the Board of Park Commissioners asking whether the services of the town carpenter could be obtained to lay the flooring and rails on the second bridge on the street across the pond which would soon be placed in position. The assent of the Board was given, and the Park Commissioners asked to communicate with the Supt. of Streets whenever they were ready to do the work.

Town Stables: The Board of Health ordered the Selectmen to construct the house on Linden street owned by the town to the public sewer within twenty days after receipt of the notice, work to be begun within ten days thereafter and the job completed by November first. Referred to the Chairman for estimate of cost.

Pole Locations, Main Street: A letter was received from George H.

Gray, General Supt. of the Bay State St. Ry. Co. of Lynn, referring to the proposed removal of pole 1174 H located in front of building owned by H. W. Brown on Main street, advising that it appeared to be inadvisable to do away with the pole as it carried one-half of the terminal strain of catenary suspension of the trolley, and which would be too much of a load to transfer to the building wall.

Tells Road: Mr. W. H. Corlies asked that the sidewalk abutting his premises on Fells road be put in condition. The Clerk was instructed to reply that there appeared to be not enough money in this year's appropriation to undertake the work.

Adjourned at 9:15 p. m.
Frank R. Miller,
Clerk of Selectmen.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The Castle Square Theatre will open Labor Day matinee with "Common Clay" by Cleves Kincaid, last season's success. John Craig has decorated.

Miss Mary Young and John Craig will take their old roles of Ellen Neal and Judge Filson when the play opens. All the old favorites have been retained in the cast. William P. Carleton will have his original part. Others in the company are: Theodore Frieland, Donald Meek, Betty Barnum, Kate Ryan, Justine Adams, a Wellesley girl, George Ernst, and Robert Capron.

Following "Common Clay," Mr. Craig will present all the New York successes for the remainder of the season.

ROWDIES AT MALDEN BREAK UP THE GAME.

Forest A. C. 12, Albion A. A. 5.

By "Pop."
We went to Malden last Saturday and won again. This is the first game we have played away from home and of course our boys felt gratified that they have another game to their credit. A few of our loyal friends went along to root for us. The game was played on the Ferry street grounds, and one would suppose that there would be some one in control there to see that the rowdy element did not interfere with the games being played.

It was necessary to call the game off at the end of the 5th inning owing to the conduct of an element that is a disgrace to any community. We know that visiting teams playing on any of the grounds in Winchester always get fair treatment and rowdies not allowed to break up ball games.

Our boys put up the brand of ball that is bound to win and they started off by making 3 runs in the second, 3 in the fourth, 1 the fifth and 5 the sixth, a total of 12 which was a plenty. Our short stop, P. McParland had a cool day making 3 runs, a couple of stolen bases and a single in the fifth.

The score:

Barnett 2b	5	1	3	0
J. McParland 2b	1	2	1	0
M. Mann 3b	3	1	0	0
Huntly 1b	2	0	0	0
P. McParland ss	3	1	1	0
W. Toombs p	3	0	0	0
Totals	34	12	11	2

Forest A. C.

Totals	29	5	6	3

3 base hits, Bennett, Mathews, 2 base hits, J. McParland, C. Nicholson. Left on bases, F. A. C. 6, A. A. 2.

A. 2. Double play, C. Nicholson assisted. Struck out by W. Toombs 5, passed 5. Hit by pitcher, H. Toombs 2, P. McParland by Barter. Stolen bases, P. McParland 2, H. H. Toombs, Barter, Farmer. Umpire, Smith.

The Old Timers and the Motorists will play ball Labor Day morning on Forest Field.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

President of the Senate, Candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

From the Farm to President of the Senate.

President Calvin Coolidge of the State Senate, and Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor is in many respects a remarkable figure in State politics.

He is one of the very few quiet and retiring men who have risen to political distinction in this State.

He started in life as a farmer but since then has been Mayor, City Solicitor, Clerk of Courts, and Congressman of Northampton; a member of the House of Representatives for two years and of the State Senate for four years.

The political "pollbooks" who seek votes by a flow of rhetoric, and by long strings of adjectives as different from "Cal" Coolidge, as the Senate President office is from a chicken, as the proverbial chalk and cheese. Mr. Coolidge, however, talks to the point and with a force of logic that wins the man who thinks. His address to the Senate when he was first chosen President is regarded as one of the ablest ever made on that occasion. It has been quoted extensively, and was even recently quoted in Kansas, as displaying a remarkable understanding of the foundation principles of legislation.

President Coolidge wins his political contests because of a remarkable personality, supplemented by a broad sympathy which has won him a legion of friends in all sections of the State. There is something about this unaffected, quiet man who while sunny of disposition and of democratic tendencies always maintains, without offense, the dignity of the office he holds, that induces men to believe and trust him. It was this something that made him stand out when as Chairman of the Legislative committee which finally brought about a settlement of the big Lawrence strike of 1912, he met mill owner and employee on the same ground and helped each to see the other's point of view. It was this same something that caused him to win the Presidency of the Senate in the shortest campaign on record. He was engaged in this campaign less than a week, and secured 91 votes when the Senate was made up of 21 Republicans, 17 Democrats, and 2 Progressives. That was in 1914.

Last January when the Senate convened, every Senator present regardless of party voted for him for president. He is a man of very few words, but his smiles, volume. He has a reputation for "blackouts" and for doing exactly as he agrees to do. An illustration of his brevity of speech and simple directness may be had from his annual address delivered after his re-election to the Presidency of the Senate last January. This is an occasion when the Senate galleries are filled with people. It is the "big day" of the year at the State House. Never before has a newly elected President been able to refrain from making a long drawn out speech. President Coolidge had declared during the previous campaign that the practice of unnecessary tinkering with the statute books and of maintaining long legislative sessions should be stopped. He proceeded to keep his word to the people and to set an example for his colleagues by making a speech forty-two words long. It was the shortest speech of its kind on record. And the Senate followed this lead for it did its work in less time than had any previous Senate in years. And when it did adjourn, every man was his friend despite the fact that some believed radically different from him in politics.

President Coolidge is a lawyer, is married, and has two sons not yet in their teens. He lives in Northampton.

WHAT SIX MEN AND ONE WOMAN THINK.

Dr. William J. Mayo, the noted surgeon of Rochester, Minn., has come out for equal suffrage, after noting the excellent sanitary and public health work done by a civic league of women formed through the efforts of Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane. He says: "It would seem that the best sentiment and the only hard-working consciences are in women, as women appear to be the only ones to do things that are right because they are right."

"No reasonable man or woman regards suffrage as a panacea, but it is one remedial agent in legislative conditions, which react on the social body. It is reasonable to infer that the demand of men and women voters can bring about better conditions than the vote of one sex alone."

It is said that women have no experience in electoral matters. When a boy becomes 21 he has had no experience, yet he is admitted at once to the suffrage. Chief Justice Clark of North Carolina.

No argument has yet been used against the admission of women to suffrage that is not based on one of two grounds: Either it is based on the fears of laid men, who know that the ballot of women will abolish the abuses by which they profit, or it is based on the opposition of good men who are by nature opposed to any change in anything. Chief Justice Clark of North Carolina.

You might as well try to hold back Niagara as to stop woman suffrage. U. S. Representative Raker of California.

The woman suffrage cause is so one with civilization and humanity that I wonder any civilized man can be against it. William Dean Howells.

In the final analysis, the burden of war falls on the woman. They carry the cross, and it is only just that they have some voice in the government which declares a war in which they suffer. Irvin Cobb.

Some women risk their life when ever a soldier is torn into the world. She does her duty over her cradle, and for years she is his quartermaster, and enters his rations. And when that boy grows to a man, shall he say to his mother, "If you want to vote, you must first go and kill some body"? It is a coward's argument!—Lary Stone.

THE SEPTEMBER STRAND.

MAGAZINE.

The Strand Magazine for September makes its low more particularly as an American magazine than ever before. This was foreseen in the appointment last February of Wendell Phillips Hodge, a young American newspaper man, editor, dramatic critic and literary director for David Belasco's important theatrical and dramatic enterprises, as editor of the American edition of this highly entertaining magazine, which in Great Britain is the leading and greatest monthly periodical. In addition to two strikingly American articles of timeliness and interest, "Billy Sunday and His Home-Run Religion" and "Uncle Sam At Work," as told in motion pictures, besides the regular American theatrical feature, "Masks and Faces," every article and short story has a direct appeal to Americans, and of especial interest is an article by Frederick G. Cooke, of the Eastbourne (England) Volunteer Training Corps, on "The Value of Observation in War."

A well-known writer, a Will Traven, Horace Amosley Vachell, Harold Begbie, Alfred Lester, and others, give "The Best War Story I Have Heard," and Alan Graham's powerful serial story, "The Great German Plot," and Richard Marsh's highly amusing and yet very much "to the point" continued story, "Sam Briggs Becomes a Soldier," still remain as strong features. Other unusually fine and interesting stories and articles in this truly "big" number.

WINCHESTER CHILDREN'S FLOWER AND VEGETABLE SHOW.

Every one who possibly can should make an effort to visit the Children's Garden. Exhibition at the Town Hall, between 1 and 8 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and evening. It promises to be far more interesting than any similar exhibition by adults. Do not expect exhibits such as you find at a County Fair, go prepared to be surprised, or any other line of endeavor. This is not saying that many Winchester children have not raised flowers and vegetables as others have done, but for those who have, and this in many cases with almost no help and very little encouragement. A good many boys and girls have supplied their mothers with all the lettuce the family could use, while other mothers were paying as much as ten and twelve cents for heads of lettuce shipped in from New York. Some of the boys and girls who have had splendid gardens will have little to exhibit, because their parents have not been able to get them to plant. In a very few cases, those who have had charge of the work have been unable, this year, to get enough heads of lettuce and beans to plant seed crops. Considering that the work was taken up very late in the year and that there were between five and six hundred gardens to inspect, they did well to visit each child once.

In spite of all difficulties, including winds and rains, the exhibition promises to be far ahead of expectations, and more than worthy of the encouragement of men and women who love all growing things, including children.

PETERS TO RUN ON NOMINATION PAPERS.

Edward M. Peters of West Medford, who has been out for the Republican nomination for the Twenty-seventh District, will run at the election on nomination papers according to a statement made by him yesterday. Mr. Peters' papers were not filed for the primaries, although he received the endorsement of over 100 voters.

According to report of this matter Mr. Peters took his papers to the City Clerk at Medford to have his names certified by the board of Registrars. As the board's decision was in advance of the date of his departure for the military camp at Plattsburgh, N. Y., he left the papers, instructing his brother to call for them and file them.

When Mr. Peters' brother called for the papers he was informed that Mr. Peters had them. Upon Mr. Peters' return after the expiration of the time for filing, the papers had not been filed, it appearing that the papers had been mailed to Mr. Peters' office, where, during his absence, they had been held by his clerk awaiting his return.

He has decided, however, not to run at the primaries on tickets, but to have his name on the regular ballot, running on nomination papers.

POLICE ACTIVE.

Two Arrests. Made Yesterday—Theft And Assault.

Yesterday was a busy day for the Winchester Police force. During the afternoon Sergeant McCauley arrested Philip McDermott, 38 years, for stealing saws from the City Hall, at work on the new residence of Chas. W. Young on Everett avenue on the night of Aug. 11th, and at about 7 in the evening officers O'Leary and Kelley arrested Harry Arnsdott, 28 years, of 15 Irving street, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon on James Carroll, aged 25, of 15 Swanston street, a motorman on the Bay State road. The men became engaged in a quarrel at Holland and Swanston streets and Carroll was cut in the back and left arm.

The saws stolen were recovered. Carroll was attended by Dr. Shea. He is not seriously injured.

SIX CENT FARE ON BAY STATE ROAD.

According to the petition filed with the Public Service Commission by the Bay State Street Railway, this week, patrons of the road travelling from this town to Boston will be required to pay a six cent fare from Winchester centre to Winthrop Square, an additional fare from that point to Boston, making a total of 11 cents to reach the city. A passenger boarding a car at Winchester centre for Boston will be required to pay six cents also. Thus Winthrop passengers will be required to pay 17 cents to go to Boston. From Winchester to North Woburn an additional fare of 2 cents will be charged, provided the passenger asks for a transfer. The same rate will apply to the Arlington road.

BOWLING BEGINS SOON.

Entries Opened for Winter and Mixed Tournaments at Calumet Club.

Entry blanks were sent out this week by the bowling committee of the Calumet Club for the annual tournaments at the club, the winter tournament for the gentlemen and the mixed tournament for the gentlemen and ladies. The bowling will begin this season considerably earlier than on former years, thus giving more room for the usual spring tournament and the special events held through the winter.

The winter tournament will commence on Oct. 10, and the entries will close on Sept. 15th.

The mixed tournament will be made up of the usual 10 individuals, three gentlemen and three ladies. This tournament will commence on Dec. 1st, and the entries will close on Nov. 15th.

An interesting question with regard to the bowling will be settled by vote of those participating. With each entry the bowler is requested to send in his views on enforcement of the foul line rule. This rule has been allowed to go during the more recent tournaments at the club, although enforced in some of the special matches. By each entry giving his opinion on the subject over his signature the committee will be able to make its decision, which will be strictly in accordance with the desire of the majority.

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF WINCHESTER.

I understand that it is the sentiment in Winchester that this year the Representative in the Twenty-seventh District should come from Medford. As the situation now stands, the Medford candidates are President Volpe of the Board of Aldermen, and Alderman Lyman—Mr. Peters having failed to file his papers. The question then arises—Which of the two candidates ought to be nominated?

The candidacy of Mr. Lyman, no doubt, is a great surprise to his friends as well as to the friends of Mr. Volpe. Up to two days before the day set for filing papers, Mr. Lyman was an earnest worker in behalf of Mr. Volpe's candidacy, and among other things, circulated one of Mr. Volpe's nomination papers, unbeknown to Mr. Volpe. Mr. Lyman filed his own nomination papers; his explanation was that he wished to help out Mr. Volpe's candidacy by putting into Mr. Peters' vote in Ward six, that he himself did not care for the office but wished to see Mr. Peters defeated. Mr. Volpe and his friends, upon learning of his candidacy, and his purpose, disapproved of the idea, and even suggested that the candidacy be withdrawn. Now that Mr. Peters is no longer a candidate, Mr. Lyman has apparently abandoned his original purpose and persisted in his candidacy as the sole opponent of Mr. Volpe.

LADIES' TOURNAMENT.

First Fall Match at Country Club Held Tuesday.

The first match for the ladies in the fall schedule at the Winchester Country Club was held on Tuesday afternoon, the event being the best selected nine holes, 1-3 handicap. The play was in charge of Mrs. Addison E. Pike and Mrs. F. L. Hunt of the ladies' committee and drew a large field.

The best score, as well as the best net, was taken by Miss Katherine E. Edgett, 18, of 18 and 16.

The results:

Miss Katherine Edgett	45	2	46
Miss F. L. Hunt	48	2	48
Mrs. George Kelley	48	10	48
Mrs. George Fitch	51	4	50
Mrs. F. E. Edgett	51	4	50
Mrs. Frances Wyman	52	7	51
Mrs. A. J. Hunt	52	7	51
Mrs. A. Miles Holbrook	60	7	53
Mrs. Lane	60	5	54
Mrs. J. W. Russell, Jr.	61	6	55
Mrs. A. J. Hunt	62	12	55
Mrs. Agnes MacDonald	62	12	55
Mrs. Lewis	62	5	56
Mrs. Tully	64	2	56

WORK BEGUN ON RIVER.

Contractor Building Scaus and Dredging Will Commence Soon.

The work of dredging the Abenja River from the main street dam to the Upper Mystic has commenced. Last week the work of dredging the river, which is to be done by the use of heavy machinery, pumps, rails, etc., was started, and men were at once set at work building two large scaus to be used in holding the dredging machinery, derricks, etc. The work will begin at the Waterford road bridge. It is estimated that it will take about three months to complete the job, the river shelving from the shores to a uniform depth of 25 feet at the centre.

STATEMENT OF A HIGH ORDER.

As a part of the campaign against the Winchester candidate for senator, there was circulated, outside of Winchester, a book for another Winchester man for the House, when it was conceded, by practically every Republican in Winchester, that the nomination of this year belonged to the Medford end of the Winchester-Medford district.

I have just been accorded three terms in the House from the Winchester end of the district, and under all the rules of politics and decency, a Medford man should now be chosen.

Simultaneous with the candidacy of the Winchester man for the House this year, there appeared in certain local newspapers in the 6th Senatorial district an article to the effect that Winchester was now "hugged" by the House of Representatives, all being a transparent drive at my candidacy for the Senate, calculated to benefit the Medford senatorial candidate.

I am proud to say that my town could, if the occasion required, furnish worthy candidates for all the places on the ticket, but the exigency does not exist, and as one voter specially interested in honest, squared politics at this time, I desire to repudiate all fake booms propagated by outside influencing agencies.

I note with pleasure that the Republican Town Committee of Winchester also publicly stamped with its disapproval this eleven-hour advance for the House from Winchester.

I referred to the Senate, I promise to devote my energies to work of a different character.

FOURTEEN YEARS OF SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS.

Having completed fourteen successful years of business, I desire to take this valuable space in the Star to reach my many customers and express to them my thanks and appreciation for their support and help. That has enabled me to grow as the Town has grown, and to increase my business in every way.

I will always welcome anyone who is seeking advice and information, as my thirty-nine years of experience in the florist profession enables me to give advice of value to all.

At our store in the future as in the past, very best attention and satisfaction will be given as to stock, delivery and price.

May I ask for a continuance in the future as in the past of your patronage, and show you that we have a first class store to sell to and want your business. If the market is providing the flowers, we will have them for you, out of the town usually being at the point of departure from Winthrop Square. Yours for another successful year.

George F. Arnold,
Florist.

ROWDYISM ON WOBURN CARS.

Editor of the Star:—To anyone who comes from Boston to Winchester on almost any late car from Sullivan Square the question must arise as to whether everything possible is being done to prevent the fights which so frequently take place there and are due to intoxicated men returning from a Boston carouse.

It is sometimes convenient, and necessary for ladies to come home on these cars and the vile language they often have to listen to is a disgrace to the community. The trouble usually starts at the point of departure from Winthrop Square. I have myself witnessed several disgraceful scenes on these cars and have heard of many more. It is to be hoped that peaceably minded passengers prefer to walk, but distances rather than be involved in the humiliations and humiliations which the general misbehavior so frequently take place.

The conditions are unfavorable and should be changed. It is to be hoped that the late cars to Woburn will be used to overcome the unruly by their presence or special arrangements should be made to arrest such disorderly conduct. The late cars are full of rowdyism, and it is hoped that an example of them that the rest will mend their ways.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

The Board met at 7:30 p. m., all present.

Licenses 1915 Explosives and Inflammables: After due notice and hearing, Charles E. Kendall was licensed to keep and store gasolene at Washington street in an underground tank of capacity not to exceed 165 gallons, subject to the approval of the Chief Engineer.

Licenses 1915 Explosives and Inflammables: On the petition of the Winchester Auto Supply Co., 534 Main street, for a license to keep, store, and sell gasolene from an underground tank, capacity about 300 gallons, on lot adjoining, a hearing was ordered to be held September 27, 1915, at 8 p. m.

Licenses 1915 Hackney Carriages: William Harvitz, 115 Franklin street, Boston, asked for a permit to operate a hackney carriage from the center of Woburn to the car line at Forest street and Washington street, and the same was refused.

The Clerk was instructed to write William J. Murray, 607 Main street, holder of a hackney carriage license, that he had been granted a permit to operate a hackney carriage from the center of Woburn to the car line at Forest street and Washington street, and the same was refused.

Street Railway Service: Notice was received from the Public Service Commission, dated September 2, 1915, upon the petition of Whitfield L. Tuck and others for the establishment of a waiting room for the patrons of the Bay State street car in Winchester. The Commission would give a public hearing at its office, 1 Beacon street, Boston, on Wednesday, September 23, at 2:00 p. m. The Clerk was instructed to bring the matter up at the meeting of the Board to be held September 23, 1915.

Licenses 1915 Garages: A list of establishments connected with sewers in Winchester where gasoline and similar materials were used was received from the Metropolitan Water and Sewerage Board with the suggestion that the proper officials in the town be urged to compel the installation of separators at such places immediately. Referred to the Inspector of Plumbing.

A request was received from the Massachusetts Anti-Suffrage Committee for a permit to hold two open air meetings in Winchester at 5 and 7:30 p. m., Saturday, October 2. The Clerk was instructed to require the permit would be necessary for this purpose.

Taxes: A certificate was received from the Assessors of Winchester, dated September 2, 1915, upon the petition of the Board of Health to the poll and estate taxes of the town for the current year showing the total amount to be raised by taxation $24,041.10.

Sidewalk Construction 1915: On the request of Mrs. Margaret Smytheman, of South Street, that the sidewalk of front of her property on Oak street be graded and surfaced with stone, the Board decided that this work could not be done this year.

Town Stable: Mr. Kendall reported that he had investigated the charges which would be required by the order of the Board of Health to erect the horse at the town stable with the public sewer and that it probably could not be done for less than $1000.

Adjourned at 10 p. m.

Clerk of Selectmen.

BAPTIST NEWS.

Mrs. Mary Emma Smith left on Wednesday for Colly College, Waterbury, Conn., where she will be matron of Lutton House, a dormitory for girls. Mrs. Smith was accompanied by Miss Ella F. Butman, formerly of Colly College, who is to be matron of the dormitory.

Mrs. Elizabeth Garland Hall of the Palmyra, N. H., will address the Women's Missionary Society which meets at "The Home" on Kendall street next Tuesday afternoon at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Hall is a gifted speaker. She has seen many years of most successful service in the Dark Continent, and has a wonderful message for her hearers.

Mrs. Agnes M. Crawford of Lynn Hospital, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, returned to her home in Vine street, Wednesday, for further convalescence. This evening the executive committee of the Young People's Society met with the president, Mr. John E. York, in his new home in Roslindale.

BASE BALL.

No game here tomorrow, we go to Arlington for a return game. We will have our regular lineup in the field with the addition of Banes at shortstop. It is not necessary to tell you that the game will be a hot one as Arlington is out to win at all costs, but all we want is an even break and all we wish to wish Arlington good luck. We hope every one that can get over will attend the game. They have got one of the finest stands outside of the big League, and this is always from enough.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The Winchester Mothers' Association will meet in the High School Assembly Hall on Wednesday, Sept. 15th, at 8 o'clock.

Miss Alice Hall, speak on "The Winchester School," and it is hoped there will be a large attendance. A social hour will follow with refreshments.

A PROTEST.

Mr. Theodore P. Wilson,
Editor Winchester Star,
Winchester, Mass.

Dear Sir: As Chairman of Medford's Republican City Committee, an office filled by Senator Fay for six years as no chairman ever or perhaps could be expected to, I feel called upon to protest the recent advertisement of Mr. Prime appearing in the Winchester Star and other papers of the district.

To the items referred to as A. R. C. and D. I can leave it to your fellow-townsmen whether they fit Mr. Prime himself or not. I frankly fail to see where they apply in Senator Fay's case.

Mr. Prime states in his sensational style of advertisement also that Senator Fay has had three successive nominations! Why that is true, but in 1914, he was defeated after his nomination by a split in the Republican Party and yet had the courage to come out the next year when apparently no one cared to run and he deemed the district. Is that to be placed to his discredit?

When I thought of running last year for the House from West Medford, Mr. Prime wrote me claiming that he alone had the right to run as Mr. Fay had three years in the House and that it was understood that Winchester was to have an extra year. This, mind you, in spite of the fact that after Mr. Pond had withdrawn in Mr. Fay's favor and Winchester men had agreed to support Mr. Fay, Mr. Prime came out and announced that he proposed to run thus breaking the understanding, upon which he based his contention.

Replying to his communication after I had looked into the matter, I stated that I felt an obligation did rest upon our end of the district considering the arrangement referred to and that I should not run but his statement that it was not on his (Mr. Prime's) but on Winchester's account as he had done everything he could to become a candidate to defeat this same arrangement. I was not a candidate and Mr. Prime received a third term. Now Mr. Prime comes out with the demand that he be sent to the Senate regardless of what the representative of the district (himself) after having four years in the House, three of them consecutive, has his arguments mental?

Mr. Fay has had two terms in the Senate but they have not been consecutive and to the credit of his district he has served on the most important Senate Committees and has handled the business of the district so exceedingly well as to be commended by all outside as well as inside the district, and has been sought as a candidate on the State ticket. By being thus honored he has honored his constituents. Last year he was appointed by President Coolidge to the position of assistant secretary of the Hon. Curtis Guild, Jr., and this year he headed the delegation appointed to represent the Legislature at the funeral of the late Hon. John D. Long.

This is the last year of the present district. In view of the fact that Mr. Fay redeemed the district last year after the previous year's defeat, when the party was defeated and a Democrat won the seat, Medford would like to see Mr. Fay return this year thus giving him two consecutive terms.

Medford regrets the fact that Winchester should put forth a candidate who would seek to belittle our Senator, who beginning at the bottom of our Committee, has worked patiently and painstakingly to the top and who on account of the excellence of his work has had the unstinted praise of such men as the Hon. Samuel W. McCall, Samuel J. Elder and others of your own town. You are looking as you have a right to look for a splendid vote for the Hon. Samuel W. McCall for Governor from Medford, a city which now has a population of some thirty to thirty-five thousand. Should Winchester's desire, as expressed by her candidates for office, be consummated you would have the Governor, the Senator and the Representative and you would have one city with its big interest to be represented only by a representative from the district on the east side of the town.

It is true Medford has had the Senatorship for four years during this ten year period but the previous ten years she did not once have a Senator. In the previous ten years to that she had the Hon. William B. Lawrence serve her for two years, so that in thirty years she has had the Senatorship but six years.

In view of the fact that Winchester

THE FLY.

Over 98 per cent of the flies in houses are typhoid flies. It is in the United States that the typhoid fly is most numerous. Each of its six legs are supplied with sticky pads. The walking surfaces of these pads are many little hairs which secrete a sticky fluid. On the walking pads are small bristles. Mouth, feet, body and legs are all excellent germ-carriers. The typhoid fly is born in and feeds on human manure and filth. The typhoid fly disappears with the first frost, and reappears in the spring to perpetuate its species. Each female lays 120 eggs in a batch, and during her short life, may lay 1-1000 batches.

The eggs, which hatch in 8 hours, counting 5 days for the larval period, and 5 days for the pupal period, have a total of 10 days for the life of the immature fly.

From 12 to 13 generations of typhoid flies may reach maturity each summer.

If it were not for the fact that only a few of the eggs develop into adults, and that many of the surviving flies die before they can lay eggs, such a plague of flies would result that there would be no room left for man.

The typhoid fly carries and deposits the germs of typhoid fever, cholera, dysentery, diarrhoea in infants, and epidemic typhus. Millions of dollars are spent annually on screening out typhoid flies—prevention of breeding would save the cost of all this vast expenditure. "Get" the typhoid fly now, before he hides away for the winter.

A small ball of flies is just as dangerous as a household of bed-bugs.

Communities must co-operate in exterminating these creatures. Cleanliness is akin to "flylessness."

From Lilla J. Ryan for Civic Committee of Northampton.
Dr. Frederick Moore, Chairman.

ARLINGTON THEATRE.

What would you do if you were a wife with a high standard of morals and your husband should carry on a flirtation with a beautiful woman belonging to a fast social set?

What would you do if you were a husband and your wife should seem to disregard the social law which holds the woman to a stricter account than the man?

On Tuesday another of the famous Metro pictures in five acts will be given. The leading woman in this production is the illustrious dramatic star, Emily Stevens, who plays the part of a redeemed prima donna. The title of the picture is "Lola" and it is of the usual excellent class of all Metro releases under the Metro programme.

On Wednesday and Thursday the leading feature will be "The Diamond from the East." This superb picture has so thoroughly gripped the patrons of this theatre that it needs no further comment.

On Friday and Saturday, the picture has so thoroughly gripped the patrons of this theatre that it needs no further comment.

RICHARD W. GRANT APPOINTED.

Mr. Richard W. Grant, who has held the position as Supervisor of Music in the music department for the past year, has been appointed musical director of the First Congregational Church.

Mr. Karl Oden of Ridgefield road returned home this week after spending the summer at Old Orchard.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

The Spectator wonders how many of his good friends here in Winchester suppose life would be worth living were we compelled to live according to the advice we pass out to other people. We have been advised that it is well enough to listen to advice from a friend a thousand times, but to seek it only once. The only man qualified to give good advice with action is the man who has reaped the consequences of error. We are naturally so suspicious of advice that good observers declare man gives advice by the bushel and takes it by the grain. Most people seeking your advice are fishing for peace. Some people here in Winchester air their opinions, but most people do not think advice needs airing, but pass it out stale and frosty. We all seem to realize that it is safe to lend our ear to the adviser, but that it is not necessary to lend him anything else. The habit of directing often needs for its support a large experience in error.

The "Piper-Piper-posed-a-pecked, pecked-piper" boats have been muffled, and very properly, too. It is only to be regretted that the same treatment cannot be applied to men and women here in Winchester, and elsewhere who insist on making so much noise for this size and importance.

It is amusing to see how many men here in Winchester pause to look at military displays; and they don't do it sincerely, either, though possibly some of them were a scared expression.

What surprise the doctor's valid is how different life seems to him sick from what it did when he called him off well. The average well Winchesterite has not time to make the acquaintance of his constant companion, the spiritual man, but the sick man feels that it is necessary to get a glimpse of the part of him which does not lie in the physical. We do not see because we are so sure of the fact that "there is a natural body and there is a spiritual body" as Paul was when he proclaimed the Truth to the Corinthians. We have to sing about "sweet fields beyond the swelling flood" stand dressed in living green," but we have not a good mental photograph of it because we do not sense that both matter and spirit are substance and have form. It is the life, and as it is the life of the earth, so all is supposed to bear the image of the deity. The invalid's hope abides in his faith in the divine promise: "If ye abide in me and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you."

There are men right here in Winchester who would do well to paste this note in their philosophy in their hats: "Better misplaced confidence than unjust suspicion."

It is a sad fact that there are men in Winchester as elsewhere who cannot seem to realize that a narrow mind often goes with a wide mouth.

The inquiry has been made of The Spectator: "Should a doctor tell the truth?" What is the use? What is the honest opinion of a medical gentleman compared to the look of assurance and wisdom he can put on in the sick room, and the colored deceptions he can leave in a glass for use? What would be the use of de-masading the Truth from the medical man when we whisper with anger if the poultice dare tell it to us. It is better for an invalid to be hypnotized than to be told the truth. The friend who strayed upon him, it is better for his health and we have to fear that any doctor will deny this. If the Truth is what a faithful physician keeps us from knowing and this lack of knowledge does us most good. His words of hope and brown bread pills have saved many a patient, where his honest opinion might have proved fatal. The medical man's prescription answers every purpose without his opinion. We do not want people telling us the Truth for it makes them offensive.

A really clever Winchesterite can get a lot of substantial return for compliments.

The Winchesterite who feels himself great, isn't. A joy-letter is a modern invention designed to cheer up the invalid and it does it. Every one cannot write a joy letter, but those who can should devote a little of their time and mental energy in making pleasing word pictures for the shut-ins. A good book is an inspiring companion, but is cannot make the magnetic impression as written message does. The joy letter is an unexpected caller, and if it finds the invalid in an unexpectant mood, it can wait for the mood to change. Those Winchesterites who have an invalid friend, or a house-bound acquaintance, can discover the great value of this invention by writing words of cheer for them. A great many thus surprised have said "A joy letter is better than medicine." It is always a good letter to the invalid. Little joy letters are better than long joy letters occasionally. Do not have too much to say, but say well what you have in mind. The kindness of such a letter is of itself a healing balm. Just try it.

BIG ENTRY AT COUNTRY CLUB.

Holiday Events of Much Interest and Largely Contested.

The events at the Winchester Country Club over the holiday drew the largest crowd since early spring and were closely contested in all important features. The main event was a 36 hole medal play, opening Saturday afternoon and continuing to Monday noon. There was a large field on both days. Herbert T. Bond won the play, leading in the play Saturday for the first 18 holes, and finishing the entire 36 with a margin. His score Saturday was 82-117-72, and for the 36 holes were 172-22-151. Burton K. Stephenson followed Bond with 184-26-155, he being third in the preliminary round. C. S. Tenney, who finished second on Saturday with 162-26-76, did not play on Monday.

The scores: Saturday—1st 18 holes.

The crowd this afternoon was the largest since last October when a 36 hole play was contested by a good field and resulted in ties for first and second places. Mrs. Katharine E. Edwards and Donald B. Jones and Mrs. George W. Fitch were tied for the best net with 29 each, and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Fayer, G. W. Barta were tied for the second place at 30.

WADSWORTH HOUSE ENTERED.

The police were notified Sunday forenoon that the residence of Lewis L. Wadsworth, 15 Cambridge street, near Mystic Lake, had been entered and a number of articles of value stolen. The list included a Tiffany electric clock, an Edison phonograph and various articles of clothing.

In investigating the affair it was learned that the thieves had gained entrance by forcing a pantry window at the rear. The family is absent. On Saturday night it is said that parties passing on Cambridge street were halted by two men at the entrance to the estate, who said that their auto had run into the stone wall while backing out of the drive. They were requested to aid with their own auto in hauling the disabled machine out onto the road. This was done, it is said, and the two men, after extending their thanks, entered their car, which was damaged, and drove off. It is thought that these men were responsible for the break.

The theft was discovered when Mr. Wadsworth visited the house Sunday. Much of value was not touched by the thieves, the silver, valuable wearing apparel and other goods escaping, either through neglect in ransacking the house or the thieves did not want it.

TRAINS DELAYED MONDAY NIGHT.

Owing to the breaking of a draw-bar on an inland freight train at about 10 o'clock Monday night inward trains were seriously delayed after that hour. The train was made up of about 40 heavily loaded cars. The accident occurred just north of the West Medford station. One of the cars was derailed, but the inward track was tied up until after midnight.

Mrs. Winsome Abbott of Arlington street will enter Vassar this month.

The Winchester station got its share of incoming baggage the first of the week, the amount being the largest handled at any season yet. On Sunday and Monday the number of trucks was so large that the baggage room was filled and they were placed in the waiting room.

It was said that 50,000 Jews visited Winchester last Sunday. The Arlington road ran relay of three and four cars on fifteen minutes during the day and the William line ran double-deckers. So far as was possible the big crowd was divided between the two lines, but the service on the Arlington road was not able to keep during the day to handle the rush, and its patronage in some instances was obliged to wait over two and three days before they could reach abroad. Many of the Jews visited the Cemetery at Mount Pleasant, and automobiles, their long narrow trunk loads as well.

BASE BALL.

Trayers Blows Up and Winchester Wins a Hard Game From Arlington.

By "Mac."

In one of the most exciting games of the season, Winchester defeated Arlington in its home game on Saturday afternoon. Winchester, fielding Arlington, had the game all sewed up with the score 2 to 0 in their half of the 9th. But the old story of baseball happened again; the game is never over until the last man is out held good in this case. The Winchester crowd started rooting, and together with the cheering, Mr. Trayer, our own man in the air so completely, that a Zeppelin could not reach him.

Well, between hits, bases on balls, and a few misplays, we managed to tie the score, and when their part of the tenth arrived the pitch was lacking, and a Trayer's relief to come down on the field, only a question of time when Winchester would win the game. Same old story, hits, bases on balls, and a bit better than the game was over, Winchester winning 2 to 2. There were one or two little things connected with the game that were not down on the program. At the beginning of the game we had six balls to start the game. Well during the game we lost one in the river and three more got out by being fouled, into the river in the rear of the grand-stand. When the 9th inning arrived we had only two balls to use and both were gone, we then had to look for an Arlington pitcher and you "fans" on the field saw what he did to it. If Bill Gandy had been on his job he would have taken the ball back immediately and given him another new one; as the pitcher had no right whatever to dislodge the ball the way he did, he went out his way to do it. When that ball was batted out of bounds it came back on the field and the other new ball was thrown out, as it should have been. The pitcher threw that ball back, but in the meantime a party not connected in any way with the ball team had got the other ball and threw it back. Of course, any one with the least grain of sense knows that a pitcher cannot use a wet ball, and it was never intended for him to use it, so he had to use the new one, and as Tift also had to pitch the same ball we fail to see where Arlington had any kick coming. A leaven team or pitcher will always look for an excuse, and the ball was their ally. Winchester has been playing ball for years under the present manager, and they have yet to get a point to dirty ball to win games, and when that time comes we will give up our finger-hold on the people of Winchester. As for the manager or players were in any way connected with the wet ball episode we fail to see where the criticism comes in. Base ball is a game, and the man or woman with red blood in their veins enjoy to the most when you team is at bat.

The other side of the coin is always willing to put something over on your team and there is no reason why we should not do the same to our friends. Winchester, however, is a people never hear Winchester crying about losing a game and we hate a sore loser worse than a cow-boy hates a horseshoe. Winchester has been a creditable Arlington six days in the week and we are going over there Saturday day to prove it.

just criticism that is all he is worth and we think the team is doing him a favor letting him pitch for them. If Paul Revere ever saw the article of ball he pitched he would never have made the famous ride he did and we would have to more Paul Revere trolley trips. He is a regular baby in the box. Looking for what is not coming to him, and when he did get at anywhere near the plate our players barged it all over the lot. They got 8 smokes and 2 doubles out of him; pretty good pitching, not to say 15 minutes to play the first 2 1/2 innings, but after that the game went along alright and we were home in Winchester again at 1:30, ready for more criticism. We had Mulahy, the Wolfram High second baseman in both games, he played a great game in Lexington in the morning and not one new hit, although he drove the ball hard each time up. The Lexington team did not have a chance in the morning game, but how the pitcher did not for them. You surely got to have it to the Lexington crowd for standing by their team. It is the best ball town we visit as it is the best crowd we see. Winchester went over there, and the Lexington fans return the compliment by letting the same for Winchester. Say it is the good feeling will always continue so.

TELEPHONE NUMBER 29.

THEODORE P. WILSON, Editor and Publisher: WINCHESTER, MASS.

Entered at the post-office at Winchester, Massachusetts, as second-class matter.

There has not been much complaint from street dust this summer.

Midnight automobile riding is not conducive to safety. There are others besides the chauffeur.

Don't blame the local postoffice for delay in receiving mail. Look to the Boston office, the real seat of the trouble.

The voters hardly know whether to take Mr. Foss seriously or not. The best way to overcome this doubt, is to vote for the candidate you know to be sincere.

The poll taxes throughout the State last year amounted to the tidy sum of two million dollars. It will hardly pay to abolish them. Every voter ought to take just pride in paying the two dollar tax. It is worth the privilege.

Because of the complexity of the ballot to be used at the primary, skilled officers will be required, because more than the usual number of invalid ballots probably will be cast, due to the marking of names in more than one column, one column only being allowable.

Philadelphia Inquirer: "A Massachusetts town [Winchester] reports a drop of only seven in population for the past five years. It would be interesting to know whether the small gain is due to an increase in the number of deaths, or a lack of increase in birth." No, neither, but from education, slack work on the part of immigration.

The Bay State Street Railway Company has notified the Public Service Commission of its intention to increase fares from five cents to a six cent basis, and also to modify its "zones" and transfer privileges, also asked that a charge for transfers be allowed, and that increased wages be paid to be borne by the fare payer.

A matter, but who are compelled to face it. If the changes are allowed, they will mean a considerable additional expense to the travelling public.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS.

Among the approaching marriages which will take place this month is that of Miss Lillian May Erskine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Erskine of Linden street, and Mr. William Hugh Walker of Somerville. The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride-to-be on Saturday, September 27.

PRIME FOR SENATOR.

The following article, written by one of Arlington's prominent citizens, the chairman of its Board of Selectmen in 1914, has just been published in the "Arlington Weekly News" and "Arlington Advocate."

It is the business man's, rather than the politician's, estimate of the candidate, and was not the ordinary, paid-for, political advertisement.

A few words concerning the qualifications of Winfield F. Prime of Winchester, Republican candidate for the office of Senator from this district, may not be amiss at this time.

I have known Mr. Prime quite intimately for many years. He was born in Charlestown and lived there until sixteen years ago. He attended the public schools and the Boston University Law School, being admitted to the bar in the year 1886, since which time he has been associated in the practice of law with Hon. Selwyn Z. Foxman in Boston. During the last four years of his school attendance and for five years following, he was employed by his father in a provision business in Charlestown, thus acquiring some information about the real problems of life, as well as knowledge of human nature, hard to acquire, except in the school of experience.

Mr. Prime's neighbors sent him to the Legislature in the year 1890, he, at that time being one of the youngest members of the House. The ward was at that time Democratic, giving Gov. Russell a substantial majority and Charlestown about that time re-elected electing Republicans to office. Mr. Prime removed to Winchester in 1899, where he has since resided in the comfortable home which he erected on Prospect street. He is married and has a son and daughter, the son occupying a no-nonsense position with the "Employers' Liability Company," the daughter being a high school pupil.

In 1912, he was elected to the Massachusetts House of Representatives, where he served in the sessions of 1913, 1914 and 1915 on the leading committee of the Judiciary, Metropolitan Affairs and Federal Relations.

Mr. Prime has been associated with many of the leading fraternal orders since he was twenty-one years of age, contributing his services to their work and to the management of their funds. He is a member of the corporation of the Charlestown Five Cents Savings Bank and the Boston City Club. By industrious habits and fidelity to his trusts, he has acquired a well deserved reputation among all with whom he has become associated.

This senatorial district has never extended more than two terms in the Senate to any candidate. It appears that the Town of Winchester has not had a senatorial candidate for six or seven years, and during that period every other city and town has held the office, Medford holding it for four years.

Under the circumstances, it has seemed to me and to many of our leading citizens that Arlington Republicans should contribute their support to Mr. Prime as the nominee for the Senate from this district."

UNITARIAN PARISH NOTES.

The coming Sunday will be the first Church service after the summer vacation. Besides the regular morning church service there will be a general service of the home day School in Metcalf Hall where the minister will give an address on the Life of Jesus, illustrated with colored stereoscopic slides of pictures by Frank Hall, the noted English painter of Bible scenes.

At the opening of what is practically a new church year it might be well to repeat what perhaps everybody knows that all the churches of Winchester extend a cordial invitation to everybody to enjoy the privileges of their church fellowship.

With the different denominations represented here all should be able to find a congenial church home and a place where they can do their part to advance the Kingdom of God. Will we suppose that there is no church in Winchester who would be willing to live here if there were no churches and yet there must be many in our town who do nothing to keep the churches in existence.

To all who believe in a free church in a free State, the Unitarian church in Winchester extends a hearty welcome.

All parents having children not attending Sunday School elsewhere are urged to bring them to us.

QUANNAPOWITT FAIR.

An unusually strong list of entries has been received by race manager H. A. Brackett, for the 7th annual Quannapowitt Agricultural Association Fair at the old Reading-Wakefield Fair grounds on the last four days of next week—Sept. 15, 16, 17 and 18. Over 150 of the fastest trotters and pacers in the Bay State and the New England racing circuit are entered for the nine mile heat races which are to be held—three each afternoon. Total purses aggregating $2500. A special prize of a chest of 26 pieces of silver will be awarded to the owner of the horse making the fastest time in a single heat during the fair.

The program for the opening afternoon of the racing Wednesday, Sept. 15, includes the 2:16 and 2:30 trot, and the 2:25 pace. On Thursday—Middlesex Day—the 2:19 and 2:30 trot, and the 2:15 pacing event will be held. Friday—Grange's Day—at the fair has the 2:19 and 3:00 pacing classes and the 2:24 trot scheduled. On Saturday—Governor's Day—Gov. David L. Walsh will speak. There will be track games, motorcycle races and base ball in the morning. In the afternoon an inter-district horse racing program has been arranged between the Quannapowitt and the Lynn Driving Clubs.

In connection with the fair which is the big event of the season in the agricultural and grange circles of Middlesex county, the management have offered cash prizes, racing purses, premiums and awards for exhibits amounting to over $1000. On account of the quarantine on cattle due to the recent epidemic of the hoof and mouth disease, the usual cattle and live stock show has been given up this year. In its place a mammoth outdoor poultry show, the largest thing of its kind attempted in Middlesex County, will be held with entries of over 1000 fancy fowl of all varieties for over $500 in cash and premiums.

A special feature of the opening morning of the fair Sept. 15, will be the old-fashioned plowing and pulling matches and the workhouse parade Thursday morning—Middlesex Day. On Saturday morning there will be track athletics and motorcycle races. An interesting feature of the closing hours of the fair will be the old-fashioned auction at the exhibition hall at 5 o'clock.

Besides the track features, the "lany lane midway" the novel side-shows, etc., the high class horticultural and agricultural products exhibit the exhibit by the State Board of Agriculture will be notable. The prize baby's health show contest for gold and silver medals, the farming implements exhibit, the high class vaudeville program including singing by the Student quartet in the open air each afternoon, the daily aerobics flights, balloon ascensions and triple parachute drops, the band concerts and numerous other attractions at the fair, the fair the best yet in Middlesex county for 25th admission.

PLAYGROUND CLOSURES.

Successful Meet Finishes Season on Manchester Field.

With the largest field meet yet held in its history, the playground on Manchester Field closed for the season on Monday morning. Several hundred children and a large number of adults witnessed the sports, which were keenly contested. All events were run off in a most satisfactory manner, without waits or delays. Prizes were given the winners of the first and second places in each event, they being of considerable value to the children and well worth their effort.

The results were as follows: Potato race—1st, Helen Rayport; 2nd, Grace Edwards. 50 yd. race—1st, Clarence Osborne; 2nd, Hugh Macdonald. Running races—1st, Robert Davis; 2nd, John Plummer. Egg and Spoon race—1st, Emily Melanch; 2nd, Anna Loefer. Three-legged race—1st, M. Elphing; 2nd, Hugh Macdonald. 1/2 mile—1st, John Plummer; 2nd, Robert Davis.

Sack race—1st, Edith Flaherty; 2nd, Dorothy Edwards. 100 yd. dash—1st, Clarence Osborne; 2nd, George Waters. Relay race—McCarthy, Cummings, Racoon and Osbourne. The largest point winner was Clarence Osborne. Judges: Clinton L. Rayner, Carl Horton, C. Robinson, starter, James Perinard; Clerk, H. V. Currier of Somerville.

In connection with the sports an exhibition was given of the work done by the girls and younger children during the summer under the direction of Miss Reed. This exhibit included card art work, deftly made of raffia, dried reed, straw work and sweet grass basket. The exhibit attracted considerable attention from the visitors, who gave their opinion that this branch of work was valuable to the children.

Among those who had articles which were on display and among the best in the exhibit were Mary Fitzgibbon, Helen Rayport, Ethelyn Wynn, Margarette Bartsch, Helen Fitzgerald, Molly Mayhew, Florence Richardson, Grace Edwards, Agnes Adams, Emily Melanch, Dorothy Riddle, Harry MacLaughlin, Lillian Gray, Harold Gray, Frank Edwards, Alice McKinnley.

DIED FROM INJURIES.

Woburn Woman Hurt by Fall From Electric Here.

Miss Margaret Herman of Woburn, aged 25 years, died at the Choate Memorial Hospital, Wednesday as the result of injuries received by a fall from an electric car in this town Aug. 29.

The young woman was employed in the family of Mr. Norman L. Cushman, 7 Ridgely street. According to reports of the accident she was returning from a visit to friends in Boston. When she alighted from the car at the corner of Ridgely street and Main street, she fell, sustaining injuries to the back of her head. She was taken to the Cushman residence and attended by a physician.

During the week she appeared to recover somewhat and was able to be about, but at the suggestion of her employer she went to Woburn for a week's rest. There her condition became worse and she was under the consultation of physicians. She was removed to the Choate Hospital, where an operation was performed. She did not regain consciousness and died Wednesday. She leaves a sister, Mary, of this town.

INJURED BY FALLING STONE.

John Sheridan, well known as a prominent member and carter of the Winchester Boat Club, received a bad cut on his arm last Saturday afternoon while passing under the Bacon street bridge in his canoe. Sheridan was paddling to Winchester, and when passing beneath the bridge was struck by a large boulder, a big piece of granite which arches the top of the span. The stone struck his arm and a jagged edge cut an artery. He continued up the river and visited Dr. McCarthy, who dressed the wound. Notwithstanding his injury Sheridan paddled in several of the races at the Winchester Boat Club on Monday and gave a good account of himself.

MEDFORD-WINCHESTER MEET.

Dual Event at Winchester Boat Club Held Monday Afternoon.

The dual canoe meet between the Medford and Winchester canoe clubs was held at the Winchester end of Mystic Lake on the afternoon of Labor Day, the affair being one of the most successful meets held on the lake in recent years. A program of twelve events was run off before a gallery of several hundred canoeists and was largely participated in by members of both clubs.

Interest in the event centered in the war canoe race between boats from the two clubs for the new "Mystic War Canoe Trophy," presented this season by President Charles S. Tenney. This trophy is a handsome one, carrying with it individual cups for the winning crew, the trophy itself being perpetual.

The race for this trophy was won by Winchester, although it is reported that the event will be run over again owing to the two boats fouling as they passed through the gut opposite the Winchester club house. The course for the half mile events was from a point in the big lake, through the gut, with the finish of the Winchester boat. The boats were well distanced at the start, but in order to pass the narrow opening they were obliged to draw together and owing to this not only the war canoe race, but the club four and tandem races resulted in fouls. This bad feature will probably be remedied in future races.

Medford divided the wins with Winchester, winning six of the twelve events. The mixed tandem was won by Jack Sheridan and Miss Rausch, who paddled the race twice owing to the starter calling the crews back after they had been sent away. A feature of the events was the obstacle race, where the canoeist was obliged to paddle a passenger around a neck of land and carry the canoe across before finishing.

War canoe race—Won by Winchester. Sheridan, Little, Ogden, Hight, Radlett, French, Pratt, Little, Tuttle, B. Cobb. Second, Medford: Walking, Perrin, McDonald, Erickson, Bell, Lougee, Coulson, Smith, Hyde.
Junior tandem—Won by L. Cobb and Davis, Winchester.
Single double blades—Won by Walking, Medford. Second, Coulson, Medford.

Tandem single blade—Won by Bell and Lougee, Medford. Second, Hight and Tuttle, Winchester.
Club four—Won by Bell, Perrin, Lougee and Hyde, Medford. Second, Tuttle, Hight, Ogden and B. Cobb, Winchester. Third, Pratt, Little, Radlett and French, Winchester.

Tail end race—Won by Hyde, Medford. Second, Ginn, Winchester.
Mixed tandem—Won by Sheridan and Miss Rausch, Winchester. Second, Bell and Miss McCarthy, Medford.
Single single blade—Won by Sheridan, Winchester. Second, Smith, Medford.

Harry-scurey—Won by Ginn, Winchester. Second, B. Cobb, Winchester.

Obstacle race—Won by Bell, Medford. Second, Lougee, Medford.
Tandem double blades—Won by Perrin and Coulson, Medford. Second, Ginn and Evans, Winchester.

Pull swamping contest—Won by B. Cobb, Winchester. Second, Coulson, Medford.

Mystic challenge trophy—Won by Radlett, Winchester, who challenged Pratt, Winchester.
During the races a concert was given by an orchestra stationed on the roof garden at the club house, and in the evening members of both clubs attended a dance held at Winchester.

SHERIFF FAIRBAIRN.

Has a Record of Faithful Service of Many Years.

The campaign of Sheriff John R. Fairbairn for re-nomination has been in pleasant contrast to that of the aspirants for county offices. The sheriff has maintained a dignity and good nature that has been entirely in keeping with the high office he holds. He has refrained from personalities and has been content to rest up on the record he has made during his 16 years as sheriff of Middlesex county.

No man is better known throughout the county than Mr. Fairbairn. During his long years of service he has come in contact with many thousands of its citizens and it is not surprising that the bounds of truth to say that where the average man makes acquaintances, Mr. Fairbairn has by his unfailing courtesy and kindly consideration made friends.

Mr. Fairbairn was born in Boston on the 26th day of January, 1831, and moved to East Cambridge with his parents in 1837. He received his education in the public schools of Cambridge and in 1851 secured a real estate and insurance office and built up a large and successful business. From early childhood he took an active interest in the affairs of the city and in 1858 he was elected to the common council. For six years he was a member of the Board of Aldermen, three of which he was president.

In October 1881, he was appointed deputy sheriff, in which office he showed that deep fidelity to duty, which has since brought him to the higher honor of sheriff. In 1885 he was appointed court officer, and in June 1896, Master of the House of Correction and keeper of the Jail at Cambridge. In the same year he was appointed special sheriff and upon the death of Henry G. Cushing, the late Governor Wallcut appointed him sheriff to which office he was elected in 1899.

At each succeeding election he has been re-elected by large majorities. During his term of office over eleven hundred persons have been committed to his charge and his humane treatment, coupled with the splendid system maintained by him in both jail and house of correction, has won for him not only the friendship and good will of the community but the commendation of those who for various reasons come in contact with the sheriff and his charges.

ROBBED WHILE PADDLING.

Medford Boat Club Entered While Members Raced at Winchester.

While members of the Medford Boat Club were taking part in the regatta at Winchester on the afternoon of Labor Day, some of the crew of Medford, who have informed the club and middle day this summer entered the annex at the club and stole their paddles, all four were taken away and minor articles, including keys and wearing apparel.

The deductions of this gang of half grown men and boys has been a source of much annoyance at the club. Up to a couple of years ago the dam and its surroundings were patrolled by Medford men, but recently the club has had to depend upon such protection as it could get from Medford and Arlington.

With the opening of the summer last year these kindreds made their appearance, visiting the club in increasing numbers. As nothing was done to stop their swimming and as the club had no money to pay for the club, the club and its members were left with no choice but to depend upon the club for protection.

The steward has been powerless to turn them off the club property, owing to their numbers.
Last season the club was victimized in the theft of the major trophies in the club house, including the silver cup and all the valuable regalia. The club was left with a large bill between the two houses, and it had a large bill of $1,500.00. It is believed that the Medford men who have been stealing the club's property are the same who were seen at the club on Sunday day the week end was stolen from a man's canoe moored in the boat. The men who stole the property of the dam, to dress and undress, notwithstanding its public and the fact that it borders the road to and from the club house. Their actions have been such as to call forth many protests from all persons who have occasion to visit the lake for recreation and enjoyment, and the fact that they are left absolutely unmolested has increased their boldness to such an extent that of late many of the members when alone have been openly insulted. At such times as there are a number of members at the club these insults are not in evidence.

On Monday afternoon a large number of the lockers were broken into and the exact list of stolen articles will probably not be known for several days.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH WINCHESTER?

The census enumerators found the population of Natick to be 10,800. The assessors, operating only a short time afterward, found the population to be 11,250. The executive committee of the Commercial Club called this to the attention of C. E. Gettemy, director of the State Bureau of Statistics, which took the census, and asked that the figures be corrected.

Mr. Gettemy commissioned Inspector Charles E. McCarthy of Natick to make an investigation. Mr. McCarthy checked up a small portion of the center of the town and it was found that there were several residents whose names did not appear on the census lists.

He intended to check up the entire town, and it is predicted that the figures will exceed 11,000 and closely approximate the figures of the assessors.

What's the matter in five years has been as only seven. And yet there has been no such change in the office of the census bureau.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

TWENTY-SEVENTH MIDDLESEX DISTRICT

Republican Nomination

Four Reasons Why Mr. Volpe Should be Nominated

1. A Medford man should be chosen.
2. In January this year, both Mr. Lyman and Mr. Volpe were candidates for President of the Medford Board of Aldermen, and Mr. Volpe was elected by the Good Government members of the Board who knew both candidates intimately, the election being based wholly on merit and ability.
3. Two weeks ago Mr. Lyman stated that he wished to see Mr. Volpe elected and promised to support him.
4. His services to the Party as a member and officer of the Republican City Committee for the past eight years, and to the City of Medford as a member and President of the Board of Aldermen entitles him to the nomination.

CHILDREN'S GARDEN EXHIBIT.

Fine Showing in Town Hall Saturday Drew Large Crowd.

The children's flower and vegetable exhibition, held in the Town Hall last Saturday proved to be the most successful affair of anything in this nature ever held in Winchester. The exhibit culminated the efforts of Mrs. Lillian M. Woodside, who early in the spring took the matter up individually and by much care and time carried it to its successful conclusion. The conclusion, however, is only for this year, for apparently the children's garden will prove a feature of juvenile life in Winchester next summer.

The exhibit was visited by the largest crowd of children and parents seen at a gathering since the school graduations last spring. The exhibit itself completely filled the small Town Hall, being tastefully arranged on prepared tables. In variety and abundance it surpassed the expectations of all. Practically every child in town who has had a garden was represented, either by vegetables or flowers, and the specimens were of exceptional quality.

Mrs. Woodside took this subject up with the school department last spring, and although somewhat skeptical of the outcome, the authorities gave it their approval. Later she received the support of the Mothers' Association, through the efforts of Mrs. Harrison Parker, and it was largely through this body that the exhibition was made possible. Ever since the first announcement, every child who could do so has faithfully tended a garden with the intention of competing for a prize this fall.

To attempt to enumerate the great variety of fruit, vegetables and flowers shown is impossible, but so great was the variety and so excellent the quality, that the four competent judges were hard put to render their decisions. A glance at the list of prize winners following will give ample illustration of what was shown.

Prizes were awarded in every instance when warranted by the exhibit, although a few more prizes for extra effort have yet to be given out. The prizes consisted of cash, garden tools, watering cans, books, vases, cards, etc. Much of the money necessary was furnished by the Mothers' Association, although a considerable sum was donated by Mrs. Woodside herself in accordance with a statement made by her during last winter, when following a series of readings at the First Congregational Church and she was presented with a gift of money, she said she would donate it to a charity or public service. A part of this went to the Morgan Memorial, and the balance to the Children's

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS

OF WINCHESTER—

I read with considerable interest Mr. Lyman's political advertisement in the issue of the 14th of September. I agree with him, when he says "that experience and ability has always been considered the criterion by which the selection of our public officials should be made." The two candidates from Medford for Representative, namely Mr. Volpe and Mr. Lyman, are perhaps strangers to Winchester. I can imagine the difficulty Winchester voters might have in determining which man possesses the latter quality for the office he seeks.

Political advertisements are sometimes exaggerated and misleading and perhaps should be discounted to some extent. The following incident, however, I think will prove conclusively that Mr. Volpe is the better equipped man for the office. Immediately after the majority contest in Medford last December, in which the Good Government Candidate was defeated, interest turned toward the election of the President of the Board of Aldermen. The Good Government Association assigned the ablest man to lead the Board, and it appeared that there were four candidates aspiring for the office, three from the Good Government Party, and one from the opposing side, the three Good Government Candidates being Mr. Volpe, Mr. Lyman and Mr. Conway. In order to eliminate two of the Good Government Candidates, Mr. Volpe, Mr. Lyman and Mr. Conway agreed to call a meeting of all those members of the Board who had committed themselves to vote for one of the three, for the purpose of considering which of the three should be chosen to oppose the candidate from the other side. A meeting was therefore called, being made up of two-thirds of the full membership of the Board. The three candidates were then asked to leave the room and after one-half hour discussion, it was announced that Mr. Volpe was the choice. Being one of the members present, I frankly state that the choice was based wholly upon merit and ability, and made by men who knew Mr. Volpe and Mr. Lyman and their ability perhaps better than any one else, by association with them in the Board of Aldermen.

The proceedings of the Board during the year have demonstrated the wisdom of this choice. Mr. Volpe's friends accordingly have no hesitation in appealing to you to support him on the sole ground of his qualifications for the office.

ARMSTRONG—ELLIOTT.

Miss Lillian May Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Elliott of 24 Grove street, and Mr. Kenneth Potter Armstrong, son of Mrs. Howard B. Armstrong of White Hill, were united in marriage on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents. Owing to the recent death of the groom's father, which occurred last June, the ceremony was made a simple affair and was attended only by intimate friends and members of the two families.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. Frank L. Paradise, pastor of Grace Church, Medford, who performed the ceremony at seven-thirty. This wedding will be the last at which Rev. Mr. Paradise will officiate at in the United States for some time, as he leaves today for Europe, where he will identify himself with war work.

The residence was decorated for the ceremony with palms and cosmos. Mrs. Charles S. Lombard of West Somerville played the wedding march for the entrance of the wedding party to the parlors, where the marriage was performed, the bride appearing especially charming in her wedding dress of ivory satin, trimmed with ermine and embroidered with pearls, and carrying a nosegay of lilies of the valley. She was given in marriage by her

Mr. Carlisle B. Elliott, brother of the bride, was best man, and Miss Marian E. Trott was bridesmaid. She wore a dress of yellow tulle with lace jacket, and carried Wards roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held, the couple being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Armstrong. The ushers were Messrs. Warren Fowler of Medford and Herbert Jones of Boston. At the close of the reception the couple left on an extended wedding trip to the Great Lakes and New York. It is anticipated that they will spend the winter in Washington, D. C., the groom, who is a civil engineer, being a member of the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

FIRE AT PARSONAGE.

A roof fire at the Congregational Parsonage on Main street at through the shingles and into the partitions, doing quite a considerable damage yesterday forenoon. The house was being vacated by Rev. Frank W. Holburn, formerly pastor of the church, and it is thought that the fire was caused by sparks from the chimney, it being reported that various papers and rubbish were burning in the fireplace.

An alarm was sounded from the 25th at the corner of Main and Pleasant streets. The firemen were obliged to open some of the upper partitions to reach the fire inside after extinguishing a brick blaze on the roof.

WINFIELD F. PRIME, CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR.

Voters of Winchester:

For three years you have honored me by electing me as your representative in the Legislature. The two re-nominations and re-elections have come to me without my solicitation. I have given to you and to the State the best service that was in me, not always acting in accord with the views of every individual, but invariably it has been conscientiously and intelligently rendered.

I believe that the acquaintances made and the experience acquired in the House of 1913, 1914 and 1915 should enable me to furnish reasonably efficient service in the Senate of 1916. I have no real or imaginary "claims" to public office, as I have done nothing more than what my oath of office called for, and it is for others to render judgment on past performance.

In addition to an honorable ambition to serve you in the Massachusetts Senate, there is a worthy desire to bring the office to your town and my town—the fairest in the Commonwealth—which has not had the senatorship in sixteen years. In that period, every other one of the four towns and two cities in the district has had the honor, Medford holding it four years.

Heretofore, by common consent, it has been considered the fair thing to practice rotation in office. There is no precedent for giving any man more than two terms. Every living, former Republican senator from this district favors my nomination.

No word in derogation of his character or the services of my opponent has come from me. HE HAS HAD THE CUSTOMARY TWO TERMS AND HE HAS HAD THREE CONSECUTIVE REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS FOR THE OFFICE. HE IS NOW SEEKING A FOURTH NOMINATION. If we were dealing with a candidate possessing specially qualified attributes, precedent should not count.

The disposition of a poor cause has led to the publication in my opponent's column of an alleged endorsement by Mr. McCall, intended clearly to lead the voters to believe that Mr. McCall is supporting Mr. Fay. Mr. McCall's real attitude on this question is shown by the subjoined letter.

Without indulging in any personal reflections, the proposition to which I ask you to subscribe is that no such extraordinary attainments have been displayed by the present incumbent as to warrant a change in a time-honored custom, and I trust I can say with fairness and becoming modesty that, as to training and qualifications for the office, I am his equal.

If I am wrong in these conclusions, I am not entitled to your support.

Dear Mr. Prime:

I just have your favor of the 17th inst., and in reply would say that I have strictly adhered to my attitude as expressed to you early in the summer and have maintained absolute neutrality in the Senatorial contest. I have written no letters and have expressed no opinion upon the pending contest for Senator. Prior to this year I have expressed favorable opinions concerning both Mr. Fay and yourself when you were candidates for office, but this year I have refrained from saying or writing anything.

Yours very truly,

BASE BALL TOMORROW.

Winchester Will Play Strong Queen Quality Team.

Ladies and gentlemen: We have with us tomorrow the famous Queen Quality team. This crowd of ball tossers come from the home of that well known Prohibitionist, Ex-Gov. Foss, but that does not prevent them from putting up a classy article of baseball. They played in Woburn last Saturday and Johnny Murray held the Woburn hitters to one lone single. They were billed from the Woods of North Woburn to Buttoned, as the champion. And of course, anything you see coming from Woburn must be so. It was also stated that they had a much stronger lineup than Winchester has had during the season. Well, be that as it may, we have already beaten them without much trouble and the chances are we will be able to do the same thing when we cross bats tomorrow. The Winchester team as constituted at present will be able to put up a pretty stiff article of ball, and while we are weak in only one position, the manager says that if things do not break right when the game starts he will not hesitate to make a change at once. The game will start at 3:15 and we will have 100 chairs on hand so first come first served is the best we can promise.

UNITARIAN PARISH NOTES.

Saturday afternoon and evening of this week, Mrs. Wm. I. Lawrence, who now lives in Auburndale is to give a sale to raise money toward the purchase of Star Island.

Mrs. Lawrence would be glad to secure contributions to the sale and extends a cordial invitation to the Winchester parish to attend. Their home is at 85 Arlington road and is reached by a Norumbega Park car.

There will be a very important meeting of the Hospitality Committee at Mr. Metcalf's house on Thursday, Sept. 23.

The church has been thoroughly renovated during the summer, and great credit is due to the committee of which Mr. Stillman Williams is the chairman.

At the service Sunday morning Mr. Metcalf will consider the Doctrine of New Testament. Is it Christian or practical.

Those who were not present at the Sunday School sermon last Sunday do not appreciate the beauty and truth to history of Wm. Hode's pictures of the Life of Jesus. The second half of the series will be shown next Sunday.

VOTE FOR MR. VOLPE.

We, the undersigned, feeling that it is Medford's turn to have the Representative from this district, a Medford resident urge the Republican voters of this town to support Mr. Volpe. He is a clean, bright, energetic young man with a great deal of ability. He has served Medford in City politics for the last few years—during the last year as President of the Board of Aldermen. He is the type of self-made citizen of foreign parentage, who should be encouraged by our staunch support.

CORTHELL—CORLEW.

The wedding of Mr. Mark Almy Corthell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Corthell of Wedgemore avenue, and Miss Marion Hastings Corlew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Corlew of Brookline, took place in the Church of the Epiphany on Tuesday noon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Murray W. Dewart, rector of the church, in the presence of the members of the two families.

The edifice and parish house, where the following reception was held, were decorated with golden rods and purple flowers. The music for the ceremony was rendered by Mr. J. Albert Wilson, organist of the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and was attended by her maid of honor, Miss Cora Louise Corthell, sister of the groom. Mr. Edwin L. Corthell, brother of the groom, was best man.

Following the ceremony an informal reception and wedding breakfast was held in the parish house for the wedding party and guests at the conclusion of which Mr. and Mrs. Corthell left on their wedding trip. They will make their home at 211 Harvard avenue, Allston.

SCHOOLS CLOSED BY HEAT.

For the first time the Winchester co-school signal was sounded this week for the extreme heat, schools being closed Wednesday and yesterday afternoon. Practically every town in this vicinity closed its schools following Monday, and there has been some criticism that Winchester schools have been kept open during the morning sessions. Yesterday morning about 75 boys are reported to have left the High School and spent the forenoon in the water at Mystic Lake.

Following a seasonable night on Monday, the temperature rose rapidly Tuesday forenoon until at noon everyone was sweltering. Since then the hot spell has remained with us—as all know. The temperature has ranged in the centre at various heights during the day from 90 to 116. Probably a fair average would place it at 95.

BUILDING PERMITS.

The following permits have been issued by the Inspector of Buildings for the week ending Sept. 16:

John Langens, No. 79 Harvard street: wood frame dwelling, 29 x 26 feet, at 7 Florence street.

Walling Bros.: wood frame shed off Main street (near Symmes grain mill), 24 x 12 feet.

L. J. Laughlin, 18 Cross street: raising roof of factory at same number one story.

Lewis Parkhurst, Oak Knoll: alterations to stable at same address.

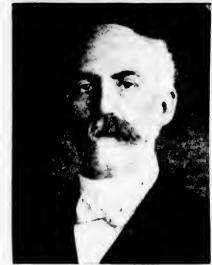

EQUAL SUFFRAGE MEETING.

Open air suffrage meeting on the Common at 7:30, Saturday evening, Sept. 18. Margaret Foley will speak of Winchester Common at 7:30 tomorrow night. Her subject will be "Equal Suffrage," which she will handle of course in her own witty manner. Miss Foley is a native from the Atlantic to the Pacific as a member who is ready at ever fails here. No need to tell people to come, they are already here.

PRIVATE SCHOOL.

Mrs. Emerson's School for girls and boys will open for the ninth year on September 16, 1915. Classes I and II will begin September 23.

Parents who desire information concerning the school may meet the principal by appointment at the school rooms, 29 Ranglee. Tel. 625-W. Winchester. sep19,21

A WHITE-LI and EXPERIENCED TREASURER.

County Treasurer Joseph O. Hayden, who is a candidate for re-nomination at the Republican primaries on September 21, is one of the best known county treasurers of the state. He is always at his post during working hours; his information and advice are at the disposal of all officials and private citizens who have business with the office, and his system of book keeping has set the standard for the county treasurers of the state. The County Controller has directed that the Middlesex system of keeping accounts, which was devised by Mr. Hayden, be installed in all the county treasuries. During Mr. Hayden's incumbency he has handled over $14,000,000 of the county's money, satisfactorily accounting for every cent, and during the last six years he has been absent from his office during business hours but nineteen working days. Everything about his office is modern and every new method and every change that can add to the efficiency of his office is at once adopted.

It is upon the nomination west that Mr. Hayden advocated the retirement of Amos Stone who preceded him after he had completed a service of sixteen years. Mr. Stone served the county of Middlesex thirty-one years and retired absolutely on his own volition. In the following convention Mr. Stone was one of Mr. Hayden's strongest supporters.

Joseph O. Hayden is one of the representative citizens of Middlesex. He lives in Somerville, where he is president of the National Bank and Trust Company and trustee of the Savings Bank. He has been a successful business man in other lines having conducted for many years the Somerville Journal, of which he was the active, moving spirit up to a few years ago. His financial standing is of the best and he enjoys the confidence of all who know him. Exact and accurate on money matters he is a staunch friend, a pleasant companion, genial and courteous to all. By virtue of his character and experience he is entitled to re-nomination.

Be loyal to our townman, Mr. McCall and give him a rousing vote on Tuesday next.

Sarn McCall served us ably in Congress for 20 years. All out next Tuesday and nominate him for Governor this year.

The polls for the primary election will be open from 5:45 a. m. to 2 p. m. It will be necessary to vote before going to Boston.

Winchester did splendidly last fall by casting over 1100 votes for its own candidate for Governor. Every vote may count in next Tuesday's Primary. Let us strive again to give Mr. McCall 1100 votes towards the Republican nomination this year.

It looks as if Edward E. Peters of Medford in this district, was made a victim of sharp politicians who diverted his papers while he was in camp at Plattsbury, thus preventing their being filed at the State House. However, he will run on nomination papers.

In the future it will be possible to secure a receipt for all parcel post packages mailed at any station by the payment of one cent, which will enable the sender to secure a green tag. Heretofore receipts were only given when packages were insured, but the new order of the Postoffice Department at Washington will go into effect at once and will relieve much inconvenience.

Over 26,000 automobiles used the new Wellington Bridge in seven days according to a record recently made. Of this number nearly 2000 were of foreign registration. Another record is to be made showing the ownership of cars to and from various places in order that the apportionment of cost may be more equitably made up. A hearing was held last evening, a fortnight in order to allow for the gathering of more statistics.

How do you like the Star? We have been so busy getting settled in our new building that we have not said much about ourselves in recent months, but we know it will be gratifying to our friends to know that since we moved last April, to the present time, the edition of the Star has increased 255 copies. We feel that this is pretty good considering the season. To print this week's edition of the Star took five reams of paper. It is the largest edition of any paper ever printed and circulated in Winchester.

Considerable criticism has been heard over the recent selling of Highland avenue. It is said that the property of every house in the neighborhood of the street has paid its toll in ruined rugs and floors, to say nothing of other damage. Among the complaints are that the oil was allowed to stand on the road for three hours before it was covered at all, and that then what sand that was put on was insufficient. One resident and his wife had their clothes ruined by a passing automobile splashing the oil on them from one of the puddles; numerous children fell in, and at least one citizen, residing on Cliff street, ruined a suit by a misstep while trying to get across, he falling flat. A horse owned by Seller's Market slipped and fell, also, being badly cut. Another application of sand made this time has remedied the trouble, but we doubt if any more damage has been done by any similar application in town.

FOR MR. PRIME FOR THE SENATE.

The following letter, written by Mr. Edward E. Elder, Progressive Party, in support of the candidate for the Senate from this district in 1915, shows the present attitude of a prominent Progressive.

Sept. 15, 1915.

Winfield F. Prime, Esq.,
Winchester, Mass.

Dear Sir:

You have asked me to state my position in regard to your candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Senator in the Sixth Middlesex district. Such a statement I am pleased to give you.

Although heretofore identified with the Progressive Party, I intend to participate in the Republican primaries next week, because I feel that I can do so doing me of service to the community. As there are no local candidates for nomination by the Progressive Party, I believe that I should support the best of the Republican candidates for nomination.

There are a number of excellent reasons for considering you as entitled to my support on that basis, of which I will mention two. In the first place, after inquiries from mutual colleagues in the General Court of yourself and your opponent—Republican—in whose judgment I place confidence—I am satisfied that by reason of your superior intellectual ability and capacity for efficient public service, the district can be better served by your election. In the second place, considering the local situation, I believe that as the present incumbent has twice enjoyed the honor of representing the Sixth Middlesex Senatorial District, and has had three successive nominations, voters would do well to recognize the fact that many years have passed since a Senator has been elected from Winchester, to represent that district. In this connection I note that prominent citizens of Winchester, yourself included, have publicly advocated the nomination of a Medford man in preference to a citizen of Winchester as nominee in the 27th Middlesex Representative District.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) Edward E. Elder,
76 Ashland street,
Medford, Mass.

MR. VOLPE FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

To the Voters:—
Who shall be our Representative, Mr. Lyman or Mr. Volpe?

Some of my valued friends have signed prepared indorsements of candidates on very slight acquaintance. The Star recently published a long advertisement commending Mr. Lyman, signed by a gentleman who had almost no personal knowledge of him.

I have no long acquaintance with either candidate, but after investigation, I am satisfied that of the two men, Mr. Volpe is the better qualified and more suitable for the responsible duties of our Representative in the legislature. I shall consequently vote for him. It is very important for the District that it have a vigorous, clear, reliable man. The interests are great. Our choice is limited to these two men. I certainly favor Volpe.

I publish this without solicitation, at my own expense.

Mr. Alden Symmes returned home this week after a few weeks at Gloucester.

MR. LYMAN'S ANSWER.

Mr. Theodore P. Wilson,
Editor of the Winchester Star,
Winchester, Mass.

Dear Sir:

In view of the letter appearing in last week's "Star," signed by Mr. Harris of Medford, and supporting Mr. Volpe's candidacy for representative, in which my good faith in running for the legislature against Mr. Volpe is seriously impugned, it may be of interest to you to know that less than two days before this letter appeared in print, Mr. Harris made the statement in my presence, at a meeting of the Medford Republican City Committee, of which he is Chairman, and I a member,—that he would not take a position in support of any candidate for representative prior to the primaries but would confine his activities to working for the nominee of the primaries. As his letter written by him at that time, or within a very few hours thereafter, those who heard his statement at this meeting would like to know how he, who is so ready to attack the good faith of others, squares his actions with his statements.

Furthermore, lest it may be supposed that Mr. Harris was representing the official position of the Medford Republican City Committee, as its Chairman, in writing this letter, the records of the Secretary of the Committee will show that the Committee decided to take no official action in the support of any candidate for any office at the primaries. However, as some of the members of the Committee, in their individual capacity, are my most enthusiastic supporters, I would seem to indicate that, whatever may be Mr. Harris' views, they knowing all the facts as well as he does, hold me guiltless of any bad faith toward Mr. Volpe.

I have nothing to conceal as to the position I held towards Mr. Volpe's candidacy, nor as to the reasons for my becoming a candidate, and I will give the facts, leaving it to your judgment,—and to the judgment of the Winchester voters,—whether my answer to Mr. Harris' charge is frank and convincing. It is a fact that before I entered the field, as a candidate, I favored Mr. Volpe, as between the two candidates already in the field, and that I had taken one of Mr. Volpe's nomination papers for circulation; but I had not made any deal or arrangement with him, whatever, to give him my support, although I understand that such a deal is claimed in a report now being spread. Furthermore, Mr. Volpe had instituted his candidacy without the slightest suggestion, solicitation, or assurance of assistance from me, and when I first learned that he was a candidate, I then rendered him some service, for as between the two candidates, he seemed to me preferable, so when a number of my friends, both from Medford and Winchester, came to me and urged me to become a candidate, on the ground that they were not satisfied with the representative situation and that they felt I should run in the interests of a proper representation of the district, I entered the field, without feeling that I was violating any obligation to Mr. Volpe or any other person, as I was under none and was as free to be a candidate as he.

I believed then, and still believe, that under our direct primary system any suitable person has the right to put his name before the voters for consideration, and that priority in the field is not the test by which candidates are chosen. I further believed that the fact that I would have given Mr. Volpe my continued support and vote, as between the candidates in the field, did not impose upon me a duty to abstain from becoming a candidate.

any more than it imposed such an duty upon any other citizen.

I did not state to Mr. Volpe or to his friends, as alleged in Mr. Harris' letter, nor was any such statement made by any one in my belief, or with my knowledge and consent, that I was making my run to help Mr. Volpe by cutting into Mr. Peter's vote, but on the contrary, since entering the field, I have consistently tried to advance my own candidacy in very proper way confident that my cause was meritorious, and I have left Mr. Volpe and Mr. Peters to look after their own interests likewise, neither giving nor promising them assistance, but on the other hand, circulating statements, about them which are not true. I am willing to have my candidacy judged upon my record and I have not attempted to unjustly impugn the good faith or conduct of any other candidate.

If, then, it is a crime of such enormity as to declare me from the nomination, as contended by Mr. Harris, that I decided upon the earnest solicitation of my friends to start a campaign for representative against a man already in the field, whom I was supporting only as between the then announced candidates, and for whose candidacy I was in no way responsible, then I stand convicted on my own confession. But if, under our system of primaries, it is the privilege of every person of good reputation, as I believe it to be, to go before the voters as a candidate, on his record, even though his candidacy will injure, if not destroy, the chances of someone else who happened to be in the field earlier, then Mr. Harris accuses me of doing exactly what the direct primary law was framed to give me, and every other citizen, the right to do.

In conclusion, I wish to thank you for this opportunity to vindicate myself before the voters of Winchester, for I fear lest some of them may have regarded Mr. Harris' charge with some seriousness, and I wish to pledge myself, if nominated and elected, to represent the whole district,—Winchester and Medford alike,—faithfully, impartially, untriggingly and to the best of my ability.

Very truly yours,
Luther B. Lyman.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

The Winchester Hospital reports for the month of August, 29 patients admitted.

Expenditures for the month: $977.50. Income $897.78. The hospital was practically full during the entire month. Inability to provide comfortable quarters for our injured firemen demonstrates most forcibly the immediate need of a new hospital building.

Miss Gillette is making good in her position as matron. Miss Gallant and Miss Weed having finished their three years of training have left the hospital and are doing private nursing. Miss Olsen, also one of our graduates, leaves in October. Our classes are now full, three new probationers having been received during the month. Donation day will soon be here. Housekeepers will please have it in mind. What you provide for your family in the way of pickles, preserves, etc., will be most acceptable. The committee hopes there will be no falling off in the generous donations of former years.

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF WINCHESTER.

Some of Mr. Lyman's friends are denying the fact that he circulated one of Mr. Volpe's nomination papers, or ever did anything in behalf of Mr. Volpe's candidacy. In order that there may be no question on this point, it can be stated that on file in the office of the Secretary of State are three of Mr. Volpe's nomination papers, one of which is headed by Mr. Lyman's signature. This particular paper is the one referred to in Mr. Harris' letter in the issue of the Star last week as being the paper circulated by Mr. Lyman.

The papers are open to public inspection and may be seen at any time at the office of the Secretary.

THOMAS KELLOUGH.

Mr. Thomas Kellough, aged 82 years, died at his home on Lakeview road last night. He had been ill about a week. The funeral services will be held on Sunday afternoon from the Unitarian church. The interment will be in Woodlawn cemetery.

Mr. Kellough was born in Nova Scotia and was a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, being a member of William Parkman Commandery and Baalhae Lodge of East Boston. He was for many years a successful ship builder, returning from active business about 15 years ago. He had made his home in this town with his family for the past eight years, coming here from East Boston.

He is survived by four sons and two daughters: Miss Eva T. Charles T. Mrs. Albert J. Bonfirth of Brookline, Mrs. Roscoe G. Bicknell of Worcester, Willard P. Lester A. E. Graves of East Boston and Arthur F. of California. One brother and one sister, residing in Chicago, also survive him.

At the last meeting of Winchester Grange there was a visitation by five members of the Metropolitan Past Masters Association. The new Soles were presented to the officers by Deputy John R. Conley of Bedford Grange, and afterwards remarks were made by Past Masters, Sampson, E. G. Graves of East Boston; Bro. Thomas E. Carter of Melford; Deputy Frank Marston of Melrose; and Past Master Frederick M. Symmes of Winchester.

The Grange have a very interesting exhibit at the Reading Fair this week of which full account will be given next week.

Mrs. A. A. Reed, secretary of the Melrose Association, Mr. Albert F. Bicknell and Mrs. J. E. Garland, served the refreshments at the exhibition of the Children's Gardens Saturday.

Miss Etta Hevey left yesterday for Washington, D. C., where she will spend the next two months.

THAT PRIMARY LAW

The Voter Who Does Not Keep His Eye Open Will Lose

Just when we are beginning to understand the working of one election system, the legislature makes a change, and we have another whole system to digest.

Up to the last election, with the party enrollment plan, voters were just about mastering the system when the legislature went off on another tack and abolished party enrollment.

Had the plan then reverted back to the system in vogue before enrollment was introduced, it is probable that we would soon have forgotten the party enrollment system and remembered the old plan. It would have seemed to us that we had been on a vacation and had returned to familiar haunts again.

Instead of that however, the legislature has initiated another new plan on us. All of the candidates of every party will be on the same ballot at the primaries. In that respect, the ballot resembles the state election ballot. There is just one difference but that difference is so great that we venture to prophesy that a large percentage of primary ballots next fall will be thrown aside on account of it. That difference is, that a voter can vote for candidates of only one party. If John Smith marks a cross after the name of the Republican candidate for governor and then marks a cross after the Democrat's candidate for lieutenant governor, his ballot is rendered void. He can only vote a straight ticket in the primaries.

He may have some friend running for some office in some other party and he may wish to give that candidate a complimentary vote. The minute he does such an act, his ballot is worthless.

With four or five political parties in the field and with contests in many instances among the score or more candidates to be named by each party, the probability of error in making ballots is unusually large. It would now appear that this new method is more or less complicated and misleading.

Some few months ago there was a wide-spread movement on foot for a shorter and simpler ballot. Ballots on other states were exhibited as curiosities because of their length. But what has become of those short ballot advocates, that they have permitted this new form to be adopted.

Probably they are already at work planning reforms which may be next adopted by the legislature. After them—what?

America is trying to make a citizen. It holds out to them the privilege of self government but the great political parties seem to be more intent upon passing legislation to confuse the new voter than to give every man an equal right to cast his ballot.

It is about time that the legislature stopped meddling with the election laws and devoted more attention to trying to reduce the tax burdens of the people of this Commonwealth.

ANTI-SUFFRAGE NOTES.

Labor Federations Against Woman Suffrage.

The New Jersey Federation of Labor, at its recent convention in Grand View Hall, Jersey City Heights, went on record as opposed to woman suffrage, the vote being 114 to 36.

The Minnesota State Federation of Labor, at its convention a week or two earlier, voted against woman suffrage nearly two to one, although it had previously endorsed suffrage.

Following so soon after the Mass. Stationary Firemen, at their convention in New Bedford, had refused to endorse suffrage, this action of the two State Federations of Labor is certainly significant. It points to an awakening on the part of labor men to the menace to home and state of the suffrage-feminist movement.

WILL NOT HAVE TO STRIKE TO PROVE WOMAN'S PLACE.

New York Suffragists Find They Only Had to Suggest Staying Home to Dislodge Anti-Suffrage Cornerstone.

The suggestion of a women's strike in New York City accomplished its purpose without making a strike necessary, and the proposal was indefinitely postponed last week. The entire matter was put in the hands of the Publicity Council of the Empire State Campaign Committee. In a published statement the council says:

"It will not, it seems, be necessary to inaugurate the women's day at home demonstration. The point has already gone home. For years every opponent of woman suffrage who wanted to hide his paucity of motives did so with the almost universal 'Woman's place is in the home.' Mr. Taft said it. Mr. Root said it. Mr. Stimson said it. Mr. Wickersham said it. Mr. Nugent said it—everybody, intelligent or ignorant, high or low. It was a huge bluff which frightened a credulous world. Now the bluff has been called. Those who last week were most sentimental in their insistence that woman's place is in the home, this week are most luxurious over the prospect of her staying there for even one day.

"Anti-suffragists have fairly fallen over their own feet in their haste to condemn woman for the proposal to abide by the time-honored anti-precept that woman's place is in the home. In the language of one of them, for 'women to stay in their homes for even one day would be to prove the limit of lawlessness to which suffragists are prepared to go, in order to gain their ends.'"

"This present agitation has won from good friend and unwitting foe alike so telling a tribute to the dignity of woman's labor outside of the home, its far-reaching extent, its tremendous responsibility, its unescapable involvement in production, manufacture and distribution, that it is doubtful if ever again it will be possible to lose sight of woman's great contribution to industry, to comfort, to education, to morals, in her work outside of the home."

WARNS MEASLES WORSE THAN SCARLET FEVER.

Prof. Gunn Sends Message to Mothers of State.

Editor of the Star:

In view of the number of cases of measles in this town, the following warning from the State Health Department as published in a recent issue of a Boston paper may be of value.

Charles A. Barnham,
33 Everett avenue.

Prof. Selkirk M. Gunn of the state health department yesterday issued a warning that measles is a major disease, more serious in Massachusetts than scarlet fever and a number of other afflictions generally thought to be more severe.

About 500 babies die annually in this state from measles, he stated, and many cases of bronchial pneumonia are caused by measles. The latter also often causes permanent injuries to the eyes and ears.

"The message I wish to convey to the mothers of Massachusetts is this," declared Prof. Gunn. "Keep your children away from other children with suspicious coughs and other symptoms of measles. If a child contracts measles, call a doctor, and he should be properly cared for to prevent complications. Do not consider measles as a minor disease."

The first symptoms, as stated by Prof. Gunn, are a dry cough, running at the nose, rash behind the ears and at the back of the neck, and swollen eyes that shut the light. During the current year, an unusually large number of cases of measles have been reported in Massachusetts. In January, there were 1118 cases and the number steadily increased until the return of the month of May showed 4509 cases. Thus far, there have been 1350 cases reported this month.

"The feature of primary importance in the treatment of measles is proper nursing," he stated. "Children should be properly covered, kept scrupulously clean, kept on a diet that may be easily digested, and the eyes should be carefully washed each day."

ELECTRIC STOVE.

It is hard sometimes to understand how a small article can do a multitude of things, but it is possible.

Take for example, the "Thermast" Parastove, which is advertised in another part of this paper. This stove is only six inches in diameter, weighs only 7 1/2 pounds, yet it is almost impossible to enumerate all the uses to which it can be adapted.

Right Paint

means less frequent painting—better looks for a longer time. It means paint made of

HOUSE PAINTER

Perhaps the greatest advantage of this stove is the perfect heat control obtained by having four different heats, ranging from 650 to 150 watts. This makes it practical for almost any purpose. You can not only bring a dish quickly to the boiling point, but can keep it at an even low temperature.

This little stove is not only a household necessity when light or irregular meals are desired, but is practically invaluable for the sick-room. Here its cleanliness and absence from soot or odor makes it possible to prepare broths or any dish for the invalid. It can also be used for preparing hot applications or in sterilizing instruments.

There are many uses for this stove, however, such as heating water in barber shops, heating glue for cabinet makers, bookbinders, etc., and heating irons and shaping hats in shoe-shining shops.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

The Board met at 7:50 p. m., all present.

Primaries 1915: John F. Donaghy reported that he would be unable to attend the Primaries at election of five September 21, and under suspension of the rules, Albert E. Ayer of 11 Sarburn street was appointed to serve as teller for that date in place of Mr. Donaghy.

Licenses 1915 Explosives and Inflammables: After due notice and hearing, Alvin A. Bradstreet, 4 Sheffield road, was granted a license to store gasoline in an underground tank at that address in conformity with the regulations adopted and prescribed by the Fire Prevention Commission of the Metropolitan District for one year from date unless sooner revoked and subject to the approval of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, the fee of $1 having been received.

Licenses 1915 Garages: At 8 p. m. a hearing was declared open in accordance with notice on the petition of J. A. Laraway, agent, for a license for a four car garage to be built at the corner of Eaton and Washington streets. Objection to a public garage was made by Mr. Gorman, representing the Guernsey estate, and by Mrs. Brown, owner of property opposite the location. After the hearing was closed, and it appearing that no plans or specifications had been offered by the petitioner, the petition was laid on the table for further notice.

Police Examinations: Notice was received from the Civil Service Commission that they had ordered a competitive examination of applicants for appointment to the police force in Winchester to be held at the earliest possible date.

Licenses 1915 Intelligence Offices: A petition for a license of this class was received from Anna Berry of 141 Lenox street, Roxbury, location of the office to be on Thompson street. Referred to Committee on Licenses.

Police Department: W. H. Rogers, patrolman in the Police Department, at present on vacation, was granted two months' leave of absence at half pay beginning September 15, 1915.

Sidewalk Repairs, Lawson road: Mr. William C. Newell, 299 Main street, appeared before the Board and asked that the sidewalk in front of the property of the Newell heirs on Lawson road be put in condition. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges.

Perambulation Town Lexington Boundary for a license of this class was received from the Selectmen of the Town of Lexington asking that this Board suggest a date some time the last of October or the first of November for a perambulation of the lines between the two towns, and it was ordered: That the Town Engineer and Messrs. Davidson and Kendall of this Board be and hereby are appointed a committee for the purpose of perambulating the boundary lines lying between this town and the town of Lexington, and that said committee is hereby authorized and instructed to communicate with the proper officials of that town in reference to a communication of the same in connection with some committee appointed therefrom, and on a certain date or dates agreed upon which shall be during the current year perambulate said boundary lines and forthwith report in reference to the accomplishment of the same in proper form to this Board.

Westland avenue: A letter was received from George Adams Woods suggesting that if anything could be done by this Board toward expediting the rough grading of Westland avenue by the abutters it would be appreciated. It appeared after discussion that nothing could be done by the Board, and the letter was filed.

Henry Mathews, son of Mr. Bernard F. Mathews, who enters Worcester Academy this week, should prove a strong addition to the athletic departments of that institution. While in Winchester High, Mathews was prominent in all branches of athletics, being a member of the ball team for four years and captain of this year's team. He achieved considerable fame by putting during the season two no-hit, no-run games. Besides base ball Mathews played foot ball three seasons, being manager last year, and was on the hockey team two winters.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

Home-made advice is just as good as any other brand if we don't take it as calmly; and why it is the most irritating, who can tell? Those nearest to us have in us the greatest interest, and look upon us with the most genuine solicitude—their hope and pray we may be better than they are, and may escape all the pitfalls which have marred their lives. We consider these kindly offices, meddling, do we not? We wish they knew enough to mind their own business, instead of wishing we were capable of properly interpreting their anxious care and sincere warnings. Some people here in Winchester never live long enough to discover home-made advice is usually the best, and worth heeding. The what-I-should-have-done-in-the-past are not subjects for pleasant contemplations. In ignoring good advice many a Winchester has turned himself down.

Librarians jealously guard the treasures entrusted to their care. The preservation of their books is the motive of their existence, and to accomplish that end they take pains to notify the public that any mutilation of a volume lent, no matter how small its intrinsic worth, will be severely dealt with. Mutilation doubtless is meant to include scribbling indeed, it is so defined in some notices which have come to the attention of The Spectator. Notwithstanding the penalty threatened for the violation of library laws, many readers whose propensity for manipulating the lead pencil has overruled their discretion recklessly have jotted down their opinions on the ideas of the author. All these comments are finely pencilled, and indicate that they have been invaluable as literary training, inasmuch as their brevity has constrained the critic to cultivate the quality of precision—a virtue that contrasts favorably with the aimless volubility of the printed page.

Just to what extent the placing of marginal note in the books in the Winchester Public Library has prevailed The Spectator does not know. But as he pointed out in this column about a year ago there are books on the local library shelves which have been scribbled in. There isn't a public library in the country that makes the book that not a volume in its custody is absolutely free from all evidence of library book critics. The other day The Spectator read with considerable interest an article bearing upon this subject. Possibly the following extracts from the article in question will not be out of place here:

"Works of fiction, being more popular with the average reader, have come in for more than their share of marking. In this class of literature the book that has received the hardest knockout blow is 'The Ensign.' Some impatient reader, after rolling through a few intimate paragraphs, has written: 'I have tried seven times to read this book, because I thought I ought to read it, but I can't for the life of me get over Sir Walsingham's leg.' Below this, in a different hand is pencilled: 'Amey.' Admirers of Meredith may construe this latter comment as saying they like, but the natural inference of the subsequent reader is that it too indicates inability on the part of some suffering lover of straight-forward English to wade through or shy past the complex description of that incomparable rather limp.

"George Moore likewise comes in for some hot shot in 'Evelyn Innes,' for a plain spoken New Yorker, who is evidently an open gazer as well as a novel reader, records his impressions thus: 'So Margaret Marryne is the model for that is she? Well! And, again, the obscurity of these notes may put his own construction upon the remark of the amateur critic.

"Dear to the hearts of many a novel reader are the adventures of Mrs. Lecks and Mrs. Aleshine, but that even the doings of these two estimable ladies, as duly chronicled by Mr. Stockton, are disapproved by at least one library habitué is evidenced by the note scribbled on the last page: 'This book is no good.' Mr. Howells also comes in for a few hard raps. 'Ragged Lady' is designated by one inappreciative reader 'the worst book I ever read,' while another, after a painful tussle with 'The Minister's Charge,' takes the liberty of advising the author as to his literary future: 'If this is the best you can do, quit.'

"If dog ears and thumb prints and fervent exclamations are an index to read, heartfelt popularity, then Dickens is still the most widely read author in our libraries today, notwithstanding the annual cry that the pedestal on which he has been enthroned is crumbling away. Miss Alcott's books are also well worn, and the comments expressed as in the case of Dickens, personal affection as well as literary regard. George Eliot's books frequently are underlined, but seldom commented on. An exception is found of 'Middlemarch,' where an emphatic reader delivers the opinion that 'Dorothea is a fool.' Romola also calls forth a protest from another weary plodder, who puts up the wail, 'Oh, but this is dry!'

"Rudyard has the wind taken out of his sails by a scrawl on the fly leaf of Cousin Betty, which reads in this fashion: 'I shall need to be fumigated after this. I shall need to stand outdoors a week, and let the fresh air blow through me.'

"Next to the works of fiction, cook books are chosen as the ground work for the most voluminous commentaries. There is one book in particular whose readers smile when they come to a certain recipe for the marin is written: 'Take Notice—This recipe is no good. It ought to be scratched out. I made a cake by it and it wouldn't raise. It wasn't fit for a dog to eat. M. H.' Who M. H. is other literary patrons never will know, but her advice probably has borne fruit, for it is a courageous housekeeper indeed who will mix a cake that she knows beforehand will not 'raise.'

"Philosophical treatises and metaphysical essays are illustrated with occasional zingy lines, which are no doubt pregnant with meaning to the initiated. Works of this nature however, are too abstruse to be judged readily. The student is their most faithful reader and he tackles them with pencil and notebook, wherein his opinions are duly recorded.

In a small library uptown the poems of Thomas Hood are productive of an attack of lead pencil mania. De Quincey's Confessions bear this explicit marginal note: 'That's all right. He knows what he is talking about. I've been there myself.'

The Spectator once or held of a library book in which several of the sentences marked aroused his wonder. In several instances the passages thus emphasized were to all appearances devoid of special significance, at least to The Spectator, and he found it interesting to speculate on the emotions aroused in the breast of the impulsive lead pencil fiend. Meditations on life, death and immortality touch soft cords in the public breast, and it is hard to find a line pertaining to suicide that does not show traces of a sympathetic pencil. Occasionally these comments decay self-destruction, but as a rule they uphold it, all of which might be taken to indicate that many of the people who gain their mental nutriment from the public library are given to morbid reflections and are likely to take themselves out of the way on short notice. Facts, however, would not sustain this hypothesis, for the majority of the men and women who spend their days in the libraries are keeping a firm grip on life.

PARK SQUARE THEATRE.

If you would enjoy a thoroughly delightful evening's entertainment, don't fail to see 'Twin Beds,' Selaya and Company's energetic comedy, now about to complete the first month of its engagement at the Park Square Theatre, Boston. Not in years has Boston enjoyed such a bright, snappy and breezy comedy. The story is woven around the Hawkins, a young married couple, who reside in an up-to-date New York apartment. The wife possesses the rather displeasing faculty of innocent flirtation. In this manner she has acquired the acquaintance of Signora and Signor Monti, who also live in the house. Signor Monti, who has achieved a grand opera triumph and now singing at $2000 a night, following a struggling career as a cabaret singer at $15 per per, becomes infatuated with Mrs. Hawkins, and as an absolute proof of his profound admiration sings the aria from 'I Pagliacci.' The symptom alarms the Signora and irritates the sensibilities of young Hawkins, who prefers the quiet and loneliness of a real domestic life. How the matter is finally reconciled much to the delight of the Montis, Hawkins, and others is told in three acts replete with wholesome laughter. The play is a positive mirth-provoker even to the most critical playgoer.

Strict and accurate attention are given to all mail orders. The price range from 25 cents to $2.00 and the regular matinees are given on Wednesday and Saturday.

TREMONT TEMPLE.

On next Monday afternoon, September 20th, there will be presented at the Tremont Temple, Boston, pictures of the bloodiest combat of the European war, 'The Battle of Przemysl.' These films were taken under the official sanction of the Austro-Hungarian-German military authorities by operators who were actually in the thick of the battle and risked their lives in the most daring manner so as to obtain intimate, close-up and realistic pictures. Everything is of before and in the event—not afterwards. Beginning with the massive drive through Galicia it follows on showing vivid horror upon horror until the fall of the mighty fortress, Przemysl, (pronounced shem-ee-sil). The actual negatives of the fighting are shown as they were taken in the trenches, in the midst of stirring charges among bursting shells, the storming of the steep heights right to the very walls of the fortress where the dead fall in heaps, and the final piercing of the embankments. All is as it really was—authentic and a most vivid true spectacle of the worst war the world ever knew.

There will be matinees daily at 2:15. Evenings at 8:15. Tickets are priced at 25, 35, and 50 cents, and are now on sale at the box office.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE.

'Neutrality,' is the basic keynote of 'The White Feather,' the great war play, now running at the Plymouth theatre, Boston. The story illustrates a battle of wills between the British War office and a quartet of German spies, aiding a contemplated raid of submarines upon the English coast. As a coincidence, or perhaps a prophecy, the acting fits in closely with some recent events in which the warring nations are involved. The place, however, rests for its success upon its purely dramatic interest, and is just the sort of play that may be thoroughly enjoyed by Germans, French, English and Americans. The opening scene shows the exterior of an English boarding house located on a sea coast. The place is run by Mrs. Sanderson and her son, presumably British loyalists, but in reality spies of the German Government. The piece is being presented with wonderful success in London.

Mail orders for seats are given prompt and careful attention. The scale of prices for this engagement range from 50 cents to $1.50. Thursday and Saturday are the regular matinees. On Thursday $1.00 is the top price for the best orchestra seats.

THE WINCHESTER STAR.

VOL. XXXV. NO. 13

WINCHESTER, MASS., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1915.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

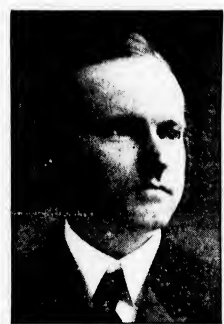

HON. SAMUEL W. MCCALL.
Who will be the next Governor of Massachusetts.

MCCALL NOMINATED.

Largest Vote Since 1912 Polled at Primaries Tuesday.

Much interest was shown in the primaries on Tuesday, this town polling its largest vote since 1912 and giving Hon. Samuel W. McCall a rousing vote for his nomination as the Republican candidate for Governor. The state favored Mr. McCall over Mr. Cushing also, and he becomes the party's candidate for election in November.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

Nominated for Lieut. Governor, will be Mr. McCall's running mate.

Much interest centered in the primaries over the various contests. That of Governor held first place the fight between Mr. McCall and Mr. Cushing being very close, although Mr. McCall carried Winchester by a large margin, 455 to 391. Although there were other contests of considerable interest, those which occupied the attention of local voters centered severely in the race for the Representative and Senatorial nominations.

Mr. McCall's total vote throughout the State was 65,508; Cushing, 60,035; Foss, 5,473. Gov. Walsh had 74,725 votes.

Winchester's candidate for Senator, Rep. Winfield E. Prime, lost to Mr. Fay, the present holder of the office, by 500 votes. Mr. Fay made his vote largely in Medford, beating Prime by 591 votes. Prime carried Winchester and Woburn, with a slight loss in Arlington, Stoneham and Wakefield.

WILTON B. FAY.
Nominated for Senator.

Totals	2738	2148

The Representative fight interested many, although the two leaders in the three cornered contest were from Medford. Thomas M. Vinson of this town also ran, polling a large vote here, it probably being the reason for Mr. Volpe's defeat by Mr. Lyman. The latter only defeated Mr. Volpe by 88 votes in the two Medford wards and by 32 in Winchester.

This vote follows:
	Win.	Ward 3	Ward 6
Lyman	257	78	318
Volpe	221	179	129
Vinson	212	4	12
Total	689	529	228

The Democratic and Progressive tickets were without contests.

A comparison of the vote of the past few years by the three parties is interesting:

	1915	1914	1913	1912
Rep.	731	883	247	755
Dem.	80	119	86	171
Pro.	14	29	38
Total vote	825	1031	371

Some question was raised at the polls owing to Mr. Whitfield L. Tick running on tickets for the Democratic Senatorial nomination, the point at issue being that no party division was made. There appeared to be no foundation for the complaint and Mr. Tick received 7 votes.

The polls opened at 5:45 a. m. and closed at 2 p. m., the result of the vote being announced shortly before five.

The following ballot clerks were in charge: Frank W. McLean, Robert H. Sullivan, Dr. H. Y. Nutter, A. Eugene Ayer, Francis E. Rogers, James D. May, Charles E. Newell, William Adkins, Fred A. Parshley and Elton Caldwell.

The result of the various ballots was as follows:

HIGHWAY NOTES.

What Is Being Done on the Streets of Winchester.

During the past month the Highway Department has been gradually laying off its extra men as the work has progressed and its appropriation been expended. About 25 men have been laid off thus far and the number will be increased with the coming few weeks until only the usual winter permanent force is left.

Everett avenue has been rebuilt with the exception of about 325 feet at the Bacon street end. This has been held up to allow the gas, water and sewer trenches to be dug for the new Clark residence recently staked out.

It is anticipated that the avenue will be completed by the last of this week or the first of next.

In addition to Highland avenue, the centre has been given a coat of Tarvia to place it in condition for the winter. The Tarvia was sprayed on last week and has now set nicely.

Sheffield West and Stratford road have been rebuilt with the material taken from Everett avenue in the course of its construction. The short haul of this material has made this construction possible at a considerable saving in money. The two streets have been given a coat of Tarvia B, and are now in first class condition.

Several of the streets about the centre which are in poor condition are to be spiked up by the road rollers, barrowed, re-crowned and rolled, which will place them in good shape for the winter.

The newly built section of Main street from the centre to the Park street, received a coat of Tarvia yesterday. This section of road is probably as good as any in town, and the increase in traffic is mainly due to out-of-town motor trucks, whose drivers follow the best roads. In connection with the covering of the streets with Tarvia residents should note that the Highway department is sanding the crossings carefully, and should endeavor to cross at those points. A little house sand is also left at the corners and crossings to wipe their feet and avoid tracking as much as possible.

CALLS UNANIMOUSLY.

The Society of the First Congregational Church at its meeting Friday evening last voted unanimously to concur in the action of the Church in extending a call to Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the Trinity Congregational Church, East Orange, N. J., to become pastor with a salary of four thousand dollars and free use of the parsonage with an annual vacation during the months of July and August, with the mutual agreement that the relations may at any time be terminated at the expiration of a three months' notice given by either the pastor or the Church.

The Society appointed the Standing Committee and Mr. Charles T. Main to act with the Church Committee in extending the call to the pastor elect and to arrange all matters pertaining to his coming and to his installation.

W. H. S. NOTES.

At the meeting of the Boys' A. A. this week Francis Locke was re-elected as President. Orlo Clark was elected vice president and Remington Clark was elected as Treasurer.

The Class of 1917 held its class meeting this week electing Miss Rhoda Case, President; Remington Clark, vice President and Stephen Kelley, Treasurer.

The football team is now drilling away to get in form for their first game which comes next Saturday afternoon. The squad is now pretty heavy and this year's team looks like a success.

NEW TRAIN TIME MONDAY.

The new fall schedule of train on the steam road will go into effect on Sunday night. No changes are made except in the middle of the day, although several trains which hitherto run express are now in the regular day class.

Among the changes of interest to patrons are the following:

Edward train—express now runs leaving at 10:02 (express 10:00) and 11:19 replace trains now leaving at 12:55, 10:15 and 11:25; the 12:55 express now stops regularly and the 11:19 train leaves at 5:21.

Outward trains—a new express has been added, leaving Boston Saturdays only at 1:05, arriving at 1:21.

BASE BALL TOMORROW.

Reading and Winchester Will Play Tomorrow Afternoon.

The end of the season is near and after trying all summer to get Reading to play off the "rubber" game Mr. Horrocks has at last consented. Reading is coming down here Saturday to win at any cost. They are going to bring a great crowd of rooters with them and as there is great rivalry between the two towns, the game is going to create more interest than any we have played this season, not excepting Woburn. If you "fans" remember early in the season we predicted that Reading would play off the game but would wait until several of the Leagues would close the season so that they would be able to go out and get players. Now watch tomorrow and see if our prediction does not come true. Mr. Horrocks would more think of putting his regular team against us than he would of joining the German army and anyone that knows George hardly thinks he would do that. Besides his regular lineup would have as much chance of beating us as a snow ball has in Cuba. We hope everyone will get down Saturday as we want all the rooting we can get, but do the rooting in a proper way.

DANCING.

Miss Martha E. Langley, graduate of Gilman Normal School and Castle School of Dancing, will resume her classes in dancing in Waterfield Hall as follows: Beginners' class, Thursday, Oct. 28, at 4 p. m.; Intermediate class, Monday, Oct. 25, at 4 p. m.; Advanced class, Friday, Oct. 29, at 4 p. m.

Miss Langley's matrons for this season include Mrs. E. C. Alexander, Mrs. William J. Green, Mrs. Fred Clark, Mrs. Rufus Clark, Mrs. F. L. Drummond, Mrs. M. Everett Farmer, Mrs. Edwin Harrison, Mrs. E. B. Bright, Mrs. Ralph E. Joslin, Mrs. E. B. Kelley, Mrs. W. A. Lefavour, Mrs. A. C. Lombard, Mrs. Marcus B. May, Mrs. R. L. Palmer, Mrs. L. H. Parkhurst, Mrs. Arthur E. Pecker, Mrs. Charles J. Randall, Mrs. Edward A. Tucker, Mrs. John Watters, Mrs. Wendell M. Weston, Mrs. T. Price Wilson.

MR. PRIME EXTENDS THANKS.

Editor of The Star.
I will think you to give me this opportunity to say to our readers that I am grateful to all my friends in Winchester for the magnificent support given me in the primaries last Tuesday for the office of Senator.

The honor will be mine and I am sure I shall endeavor to live up to the confidence placed in me by my friends.

I am, Sir, very truly,
Winfield E. Prime.

September 22, 1915.

D. OF L. COSTUME PARTY AND RECEPTION.

On account of the torrid spell of last week, which prostrated their expected guest of honorary fame, the Dames of Isabella have put off their Costume Party and Reception to Friday evening, October the first, in order to secure the presence of this high official. Preparations are now in full blast for its reception, and it is hoped that a large and enthusiastic audience may be present in White's Hall that evening. Tickets for this affair may be obtained from the Committee and Chairman Miss Mary Kenney, Westley street.

THE PASSION PLAY AT OBER-AMERGAU.

An interesting general session of the Unitarian Sunday School will be held this coming Sunday at the usual hour, when Mr. Metcalf will tell of his visit to the Passion Play of 1900 and will illustrate it with a beautiful series of colored slides of the Drama as held in 1900.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend. This is the last general session. The regular lessons will begin on the first Sunday in October.

BUILDING PERMITS.

The following permits have been issued by the Board of Building: D. B. Brown, 111, Sheffield road, addition to garage at same address; Abbie M. M. Evans, 16, Chomats street, addition at same address; 4 1/2 15 (15 1/2 15 1/2).

William Cole of 47 Calverton road, application to dwelling at same address.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

Selection to Consult Arlington Board Regarding Through Cars.

Sept. 20, 1915.
The Board met at 7:30 p. m. all present.

Through Car Service Harvard Square: The Clerk was instructed to ask the Arlington Board of Selectmen for a conference at an early date to discuss the possibility of working together upon some plan of tracage at Arlington Center which would permit of cars being run through from Winchester to Harvard Square without change.

Police Examinations: Notice was received from the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission that an examination would be held October 3, 1915, for candidates for appointment as patrolmen in the police service of the town of Winchester.

Jurors: Lewis I. Wadsworth and Wallace V. Plummer were drawn to serve as jurors at the Superior Court for Civil Business to be held at Lowell the first Monday in October. D. W. Pratt and Howard E. Bidwell were drawn to serve as jurors at the session of the Superior Court for Civil Business to be held at Cambridge the first Monday in October.

Police Service: The Clerk was instructed to ask the Overseers of the Poor to pay the bill of Kelley & Hawes dated June first for extra charges incurred in the care of an unidentified man who was killed on the railroad track and buried at the expense of the town.

Mill Pond: The Clerk was instructed to write the Park Commissioners concerning the refuse that was allowed to accumulate on the dam in the Mill Pond and to ask whether some arrangement could be made to keep the dam clear of such obstructions and disfigurements.

Street Railway Service: Messrs. Davidson, Kerr and Hayward agreed to be present if possible at the hearing given by the Public Service Commission on Wednesday, September 22, at 2:30 p. m. on the petition of Whitfield L. Tick and others for the establishment of a waiting room for the patrons of the Bus State St. B. Co. at the center.

MR. LYMAN EXTENDS THANKS.

To the Voters of Winchester.
I wish at this time to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to the voters of Winchester for the loyal support which they gave me at the primaries held September twenty-first, and which helped me secure my nomination for Representative.

I want to assure them that should I be elected to that position in November, I will serve the district faithfully, impartially and to the best of my ability.

Yours very truly,
Luther R. Lyman.

Winfield E. Prime.

BAPTIST NEWS.

The Sunday School supper and rally social takes place this evening. Each class will have its own table. Representatives of other Sunday schools will be present.

Mr. Norris L. Tibbatts, Harvard 15, will sing. The address will be given by Rev. Ferdinand E. Peterson of Boston, Baptist state secretary of Sunday school work.

Next Sunday is rally day in the Sunday School. And in the evening services the delegates of our Young People's Society to the Northfield Conference this summer, Miss L. Jennie Crawford, Miss Daisy I. Smith and Mr. John E. York, will give their reports and impressions of the conferences which they attended.

PLAY HARVARD VARSITY FOR HOSPITAL.

The Winchester base ball team plays its last game next week Saturday with the Harvard Varsity team. The game will be on Manchester Field at 3:15, and as a fitting wind-up to one of the best seasons yet, the proceeds from the game will be donated to the Winchester Hospital. Tickets for the game will be sold about tomorrow, and all are asked, not only to contribute but to attend and witness what promises to be the best game of the season.

WILSON THE STATIONER.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

It is impossible to teach a person what you do not understand yourself. The servant girl problem is made worse by the fact that many employers of servants here in Winchester and elsewhere do not know the limits of service or the burden of it. Many shop problems are created by conceited bosses who were never first class at the bench and who have risen because of something else besides efficiency. Any person in any position under the sun who does not know exactly how a thing should be done, and the best way of doing it, cannot appreciate the intelligence, skill and persistence required to accomplish the work, and are not qualified to speak to people of praise which inspire workers to do their best. Many forms of organized business are simply organized systems of selfishness and tyranny under which wage earners are taught every phase of dishonesty and subjected to daily or hourly humiliation. No system can run right without knowledge in her proper place to get the desired results.

Do you know that a white lie was never known to refuse to act as a udder when a black lie was about to call. Where white lies are common the black lie is no unwelcome guest. Deception is deception whatever color it may be arrayed in; and little lies often do the greatest amount of damage since they go far and no attempt is made to correct them. The white lie is the attractive agent most employed to deceive one's self, hence it really lays the foundation for every other kind of deceit. Only a fool tries to deceive a deceiver, a doctor or a lawyer, and yet these professions keep secret how many fools they meet in the walks of life, although they, as no others, are aware what a tangled web these fools make of life. Anxious only thought he was telling a little lie when he made himself famous, or rather infamous, for all time. The white lie, Peter told before the cock had crowed three could not have been more durable had they been black. Honesty flows the house where white lies are popular; and what is any home in Winchester deprived of honesty?

Every little while The Spectator hears some Winchesterite say what he would do if he only had lots of money. Such talk does not sound good. Not having had money the man does not know what he would do with it. Those who inherit fortune, usually show what unworthy costardines of money they be. Money simply means increased ability and responsibility. Money seldom makes men better neighbors or citizens. If you feel an aspiration to show anybody here in Winchester or elsewhere what you can do to work at it now, for it will take time and energy and fidelity to accomplish it, whatever it is. People who do things make their mark while they are making their money. They are not waiting for someone to provide a fulcrum for their imagined energy. Real energy never waits for someone to push or pull but expends itself to attain its purpose. This feeling of what you would do "if," is a delusion and a snare. You wouldn't do it. This is patent because those who wait for opportunity oftenest get left. What you do today makes yesterday's record for you, and lays the deep foundations for success or failure.

In the opinion of every thinking man and woman here in Winchester there is a sound reason for the present emphasis on enemies. Renewing the race is the big business of life; yet in an age of quick returns it lingers under the disadvantages of being in a slow process. When there are so many things to be done at once, most of which are not particularly worth doing we shrink from thinking three and four generations ahead. To focus the attention of a generation which behaves as if it were going to be last upon earth upon its successors is the chief service of the national conference for race betterment. With the individual recommendation and even with the Society's official program many Winchesterites may die in the future of America must realize that there exists a Society of visionaries to keep before the public the importance of fit marriage and clean parentage. "Without vision the people perish" exactly fits the case.

Dr. Lydia Allen de Villasis, in charge of the Kansas department of hygiene, contributes a real idea to the ever present discussion concerning the birth rate. She says that women do not heed the advice of moralists to bring more children into the world, a fact which everyone has noticed. Advice does not produce offspring. The reason for this lack of response to pleas of "race suicide" is because each woman faces the problem of maternity as an individual not

BASE BALL.

Queen Quality Wins a Loosely Played Game.

By "Mack."

The Queen Quality team visited Winchester for the second time this season and managed to give us the worst beating we have received this year, and at that it was only a 4 to 0 score. When they came here last year in the year we won from them by the score of 2 to 0 with Johnny Murray pitching. Whether Johnny was afraid of his reputation or not he did not care to pitch again, but that did not deter the Masses from going out and getting two of the best left handers in the game to help him out. He used "Doc" Wallace of Holy Cross in the box and had "Bobby" Gill of Boston College on the left, on your team, as they were out to beat Winchester at any cost. The team that played against us Saturday stood the Thomas P. Platt Co. over $100 to put on the field besides the expense of printing 1500 score cards. As for the game it was a good one up to the 5th inning, each side having only two hits apiece. Then came the deluge. The Queen Quality team found their batting eyes and together with some pretty rotten playing by our own team managed to score the 4 runs in the next three innings. Of course any team that can only make 4 hits and get 6 errors out of their system does not deserve to win a game of ball. Sweeney was the chief offender, and he made more errors Saturday than he has made in all the rest of the season. A team has got to give a pitcher something to work on. If our players had gone out and put over a run or two Tift might have been able to hold the other side, but between weak hitting and poor fielding he did not have much chance. We think now, although we were beaten, that we have as good a team as the Queen Quality and they are supposed to be in the class of semi-pro teams in Mass.

The score:

Notes.

19 out of 24, for a winning average of .792, and no "clenons" among all the victories.

The Queen Quality players were out to win and kept up a continual chatter all through the game.

The catcher, Harry Robertson, will probably learn more when he is in the game longer. Although he looks like a giant, he is only 20 years of age. He will make a great catcher if he will only let the umpire do what he is bid and the plate for.

This "Tony" Wallace is a great pitcher and has had several offers from big league teams to join them for a try out, but so far has failed to take them up.

"Dave" Henry, whom Reading had early in the season, won the championship for his team in the Twin State League. Newport having an easy time of it after he joined them.

Reading and Wakefield had a lovely time all the week at the Fair. Each team out doing the other in scoring League players for the games. No way to play baseball isn't it? As I do well had it put all over him at that.

At 11:15 the way we went to help but say that Driscoll, the manager of the Wakefield team, is about the smartest manager we have had to deal with this season.

Woburn paid a visit to Lexington and were beaten 6 to 5 in a hard hitting game. The Lexington team got

A TIDAL WAVE

"stung" on the Woburn crowd as there was less than a car full of "fans" went over and less than $50 was taken in in the field, barely half enough to pay expenses.

The Lexington people were anxious for another game with Winchester and we were willing to play them but we think Bill Viano was satisfied with the win Labor Day and did not want to risk his reputation again.

Manager Viano has got the Mystic Valley League law in his pocket. They are talking of having a League composed of Lexington, Woburn, Arlington, and one or two other near by places. They say "Winchester can come in if it wants to; if not we can build along as best we can."

All we can say is, that no League can beat where you have got to depend on open play grounds for your support, and one team or another will be so strong that there would be no interest in the games after the first month. We think Manager Viano will know more about baseball after he has handled a team a little longer.

It is going to be something awful next season to think how we are going to get along. When Bill Viano and Jim Murray got their Little League going one thing is certain and that is we can get along with Woburn better than Woburn can get along without us, and Murray knows that as well as anyone.

From the Reading Chronicle: "Winchester continues winning—but the answer is 'easy pickings.' They have tight games at that. Manager Lebow and 'Mack' are first rate in selecting teams they ought to beat."

You fans who have watched Winchester play all the season can take the above for what it is worth. If we have had "easy pickings" then no team in the State—and this goes for Reading more than any other—has not had a hard team all the year. We have gone out and got the best there is in the way of teams and practically have played with the same lineup all season and the team is the same one we started the season with except "Buddy" Ryan.

When you strike a crowd that will "sell" for each stuff in a paper as the above from then less said the better. We mostly condemn it to show you what we are other local paper prints besides the Star.

Don't forget we play the last game of the year on Oct. 2 and all proceeds will go to the Hospital.

If any one has a doubt as to the greatest tidal wave which ever swept over this country, being a reality, let him pick up one of the liquor magazines and see the proportions being made by the rum-sellers to combat what they read by acknowledgment to be this very thing. In cities and towns all over the country the question of curbing intoxicating liquor, coming from our land is either being very seriously discussed, or else preliminary work is going on which will bring this result.

Prominent men everywhere are advocating the elimination of liquor from our territory and are using every possible means to drive it out. The sales are dropping from the eyes of those who for years have either advocated it outright or have been silent as to any stringent measures being taken toward crushing this great evil which for years has been the direct or indirect cause of the death of all the crime in this country, and which has today filled our penal institutions, and furnished countless thousands for our insane and other hospitals. In a report sent out by the Wholesale Liquor dealers of the United States, they say: "The events of the last twelve months have created a situation more grave than has ever before confronted our trade. Formerly we were called upon to oppose town and county option. Today we must combat state and nation wide prohibition. Originally our opponents were few and scattered. Today they are many and united."

Everywhere the subject is being canvassed and the guns are being prepared for action, and liquor dealers have good reason to tremble at the signs of the times. Action brings results, and it is action which is doing the business now. People are beginning to see that it is a farce to make one law to protect a man who disposes of something for the ruin of another man, and which is the main incentive for producing crime, and another law to maul the man who by cause of this protection, commits the crime. There isn't a particle of doubt but that if legal liquor selling is one of the very common things now, and that it is one of the abuses of the law most wicked at—Foxboro Reporter.

MARGARET FOLEY.
Suffrage Speaker.

MANY HEARD MISS FOLEY.

Margaret Foley, the great exponent of equal suffrage, spoke to a crowd variously estimated at between 6 and 7 hundred persons at the Winchester Common last Saturday night. The talk opened at 7:30, and Miss Foley handled her subject of "Equal Suffrage" in a most able manner to the evident interest of the crowd. There were no criticisms offered, much to the disappointment of many who know of the speaker's ability to turn such incidents to her advantage. The talk lasted the better part of an hour.

TO SPEAK AT TOWN HALL.

Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale, who it will be remembered, spoke at Town Hall last April will speak there again on September 29, at 8 p. m. Her subject will be "Why We Want to Vote". And there is no one better qualified to give the reasons for this desire. Mrs. Hale is perhaps the most brilliant woman on the American lecture platform today. Her training as an actress combined with her exceptional intellect, sparkling wit and charming personality make her a speaker who completely wins her audience.

The public is cordially invited to this meeting, admission to which is free.

Frances Elder, Pres.
Elsie Wulph, vice-Pres.
Winchester Equal Suffrage League.

MYSTIC VALLEY ROAD EXTENSION.

The extension of the Mystic Valley Parkway from Cradock Bridge down and back at Main street, near Medford square to the Mystic Avenue State Highway, a distance of over a half mile to the south and along the west shore of the Mystic River, is now open for public travel.

The extension forms the connecting link between the Mystic River Boulevard, along the Mystic Lakes and over basin to Medford square, and the Mystic Avenue turnpike road, which connects near Broadway Park, Somerville, with the Fellsway Parkway. The Middlesex Fells Reservation is reached by the Fellsway and connections are made for the North Shore and Revere Beach Reservation at the junction of the Fellsway with the Revere Beach Boulevard, a short distance over the Wellington bridge.

ELBERT HUBBARD

The greatest loss the world has suffered from the European war was the death of Elbert Hubbard. Navies may be sent to the bottom of the sea, cities razed to the ground and the products of farm and factory reduced to ashes; they can be replaced, but the pen of Elbert Hubbard is stilled forever.

His was a "Little Journey" through life but he saw more beauty, usefulness and power than any traveler of his day. He did not have to visit the fountain of genius, climb the mountain tops of achievement or touch the mileposts of progress to stimulate inspiration. His Creator planted in his breast a well spring of human thought that gushed forth from the reservoir of divine power—a gift from the gods. Life flowed through his heart more freely and human emotions stirred his mind more completely than that of any other man of his generation.

He is the greatest literary product of this commercial age, the most masterful ad writer the world ever produced and has contributed more toward understanding and appreciation of industry than any thinker who ever penned a line or uttered a word on this planet. He was the first accurate historian. He was the first to make a well spring of human thought and the most able painter of human nature of the age in which he lived.

The ocean waves may so farle rise to a high sea, the sun of the sea may so farle set, but his influence will live on and on forever and will influence in directing the lives of men and shaping the destinies of nations and the world's taste, much think and a lovely world.

Foss "got his" straight Tuesday. May this be the last of him politically.

We all feel sorry that Mr. Prime failed to be nominated as Senator. Medford is not so generous as Winchester in passing the favors around.

The Progressive party polled only fourteen votes at the Winchester primary Tuesday. They are well-combed back to the Republican ranks.

Only twelve defective ballots were cast at the primary Tuesday, and these were due to faulty marking and not to voting for candidates for more than one political party. Winchester voters are intelligent, and therefore the big blanket ballot was not mystifying to them.

Hon. Samuel W. McCall was handsomely endorsed at the primaries, and his election to the Governorship in November is practically assured. But work in his behalf should not be allowed to cease, as Gov. Walsh is a strong vote getter. He is the strongest and most able man the Republican voters could nominate.

WILLIAM F. LEAHY.
Of Medford who is a candidate for Representative.

CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

William F. Leahy of Ward 3 announced his candidacy Tuesday for Representative in the 25th Middlesex District, which comprises Ward 3 and 4 of Medford. Edward H. Atwood, who was unsupported for the Democratic nomination in that district, at the primaries, will withdraw in favor of Mr. Leahy. Mr. Leahy is a local business man, an attorney, first president of the Medford Board of Trade, past exalted ruler of the Medford Lodge of Elks, and was for many years chairman of the registration of voters. Citizens' nomination papers are being circulated by his friends today.

WINCHESTER GRANGE EXHIBIT.

Winchester Grange made their first exhibit at the Reading Fair, Sept. 15, 16 and 17.

A fine showing for the number of exhibitors was made. The display of vegetables and fancy work were as good as any in the hall, but owing to a lack of fancy products and Arts and Crafts the Grange did not receive one of the largest prizes.

An attractive sign in green and gold letter, Winchester Grange, No. 243, was made by Charles Lawson, a member of the Order.

Paintings, china and brass nails were exhibited, but not sufficient to score in the contest.

Among those having the largest exhibits were F. M. Symmes, Edward Russell, Charles Gustin, George and Walter Harrington. There were small exhibits by many others of fruit and vegetables. Three mammoth squashes growing about a foot apart on one vine attracted much attention, also a tobacco plant in blossom.

The display of Needlework by Mrs. Wm. Hinchley, Miss Ruth Symmes, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Tuck, Miss Shearman and others was as good as any in the hall. Preserves made by Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Gustin, later took prizes at the Winthrop Fair. A fancy cake made by Mrs. George Harrington and decorated in pink and white frosting and lettered "Winchester Grange" was pronounced the best tasting cake by the judges.

Undoubtedly by another year a better showing can be made as the conditions and requirements of the Fair Association will be better understood by the Grange.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

The Board of Health report the following contagious diseases for the week ending Sept. 22: Diphtheria, 3.

Magee PRODUCTS

"It's a Pleasure to Bake with a Magee Range"

ONE movement of the damper throws the entire heat through the special Magee sheet flues, and sends the heat under the six boiling holes and around five sides of the oven. This means a hotter oven and saves your fuel

Magee glass oven doors make it possible to see the condition of your roast or your baking without stooping or opening oven door.

Magee Ranges are equipped with gas ovens and gas broilers, as well as open burners on top of the range.
